"At the present season of the year and during the summer months while vacation days exist, it apparently appears to advantage. When the equanoctial storms and the spring freshets make their visits, the place cannot be reached by man, not to mention little school children. It is safe to say that if the proposed site is selected; that the days during the nine months of the school year, will indeed be many when no sessions will be held for no other reason than the school children will be unable to reach the school house on account of the impassable approaches to the place.

"No one at all familiar with this section can deny this statement unless he be a property owner thereabouts who is interested.

"The Grove street site that was defeated was an ideal spot compared with this one now being urged. All the tommyrot that was said about that proposition in reference to the place being formerly used as a public dump, was only done for selfish motives. Those who had imaginary personal reasons in defeating that location, in many instances did so to show their strength as political factors in borough affairs, and there are many men among this class who acknowledge this fact. Not a few of these individuals now admit that if the same question was again raised, say that they would vote in favor of it.

"The proposed location which the voters are now called upon to decide is an isolated one. It is inaccessible. How the Trustees could stumble into such a place with the intention of erecting a school building thereon seems almost incredible."

CITY JOTTINGS.

—At the Asbury Park Council chambers today, S. S. Swackhamer, of Codington & Swackhamer, is engaged at a special sitting in chancery held there by Judge Atwater as special master. Judge Gilhooly is looking after the interests of the city government of Asbury Park, against whom the action is brought.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

John O'Brien has resigned his position at the Potter Press Company's works.

Loyd Lewis, of West Fifth street, has taken a position at Schenk's ice cream parlor on Liberty street.

Joe Sweeney has resumed his position at the Pond Machine Tool Company's works, after a recent indisposition.

Six men were laid off at the Potter Press Company's plant yesterday; two in the blacksmith shop and four in the chipping room.

John Mayberry, of Rahway, has taken a position with Pond Machine Tool Works here. He was formerly employed by the Public Service Corporation.

John Hess, of North avenue, has resigned his position at the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant to take a similar one at the Campbell Press Company's works.

Pat Bergen, foreman over the crane gang, has resigned his position at the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant. Mr. Bergen will return Monday to his old trade, hod carrying.

Pat McGaulily, of West Fourth street, has resigned his position at the Pond Machine Tool Company's works. Mr. McGaulily has taken a position as trainer at Sheepshead Bay race track. Pat says he can't stand working for "seven and a shave" a week when he can make $3,000 a year training horses.

The recent ten per cent. reduction in the wage scale at the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant will not effect the laboring men. The men threatened to quit work yesterday, and no doubt would have done so had they not received notice that there would be no reduction in their wages. The change effects the machinists only.

The gang in the erecting department at the Potter plant has divided in two, working alternate weeks. This will continue until about June 1. There is plenty of work coming on, but it has not reached the machines. By working the machine hands full time it is expected the work will be ready for the erectors about June 1.

The machine department and the main shop of the Manganese Steel Safe Company's works will meet in a baseball match on the diamond at the rear of the shop this afternoon. There has been great rivalry between these two departments since the baseball season opened. Each member of each team will pay $1 entry fee, which will help defray the expenses of a supper to be served by W. W. Warnock, tonight.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Other Girl," which holds the record for success of all of Augustus Thomas' plays ever presented in New York, is now moving along triumphantly at the New Empire Theatre, New York city, towards the 150th performance. It is drawing capacity audiences and it will probably reach the end of its season at this house with this record of big business still the same. The acting of the piece is of a very high standard as Charles Frohman has put into it a remarkable cast which includes the great comedy sextette, Lionel Barrymore, Joseph Wheelock, Jr., Richard Bennett, Frank Worthing, and Elsie and Drina De Wolfe. This big six has the most delightful presentation of them. Besides the humor of the comedy there is a delightful love story which appeals strongly to women and which is effective in its appeal for the Wednesday and Saturday matinees at the Empire are always crowded.

Undoubtedly the most stupendous and costly amusement resort ever promoted in this country is "Dreamland," at Coney Island, New York. In its plan, scope, and the magnitude of its amusements "Dreamland" has been constructed at a cost of over $3,500,000. The opening date is set for today, when the spacious park with its massive structures and myriad attractions will be completed. "Dreamland" is the conception of ex-Senator William H. Reynolds, a millionaire and a large real estate holder in the borough of Brooklyn, New York. Illuminated at night by 1,000,000 brilliant electric lights on buildings, the tower and avenues, "Dreamland," will present a striking scene of fairyland. The massive tower rises far into the heavens. It is the most conspicuous structure for miles around, and can be seen at a distance of fifty miles. It rises to a height of 375 feet and at night will be brilliantly illuminated by 100,000 powerful electric lights. It is said that the towers at the World's Fair, Chicago, and at the Buffalo Exposition, do not compare with it in architectural beauty.

—Seventy trolley lines are now said to be in operation in this State with a mileage of 980.56. It is said that the gross receipts last year were $9,574,552.48—and the expenditures $5,881,045 87. These figures are furnished by the supplemental report of the State Board of Assessors.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

Courageous Delegate.

It takes more than the ordinary amount of courage to stand up almost alone for conscientious beliefs, as did W. W. Howland and his five followers from Somerset at the State convention on Tuesday. Somerset will be credited with having independent, thoroughly conscientious men as delegates as we know they took their stand from the highest motives. We believe, however, that the objection to Mr. Baird should have been brought before the whole county delegation and some united action decided upon before going into convention. Individual action accomplishes nothing, except to draw the fire of those opposed.—Somerville Unionist-Gazette.

Senator Cross for U. S. Judge.

Senator Joseph Cross is prominently mentioned among those suggested for the appointment to the bench of the United States District Court to succeed Judge Kirkpatrick. The appointment is made by President Roosevelt, and it is believed he will appoint any man who is recommended by both Senators Kean and Dryden. The suggestion that as Senator Cross has another year to serve in the Senate, the interests of Senator Kean might be risked in the election of a new senator from Union county, is not likely to influence Mr. Kean, who has on more than one occasion shown his willingness to sacrifice his own interests when it came to his endorsement of a friend, and there can be no doubt of the warmest support from him if Senator Cross has any desire to secure the honor. His appointment would give the utmost satisfaction. The press of the State speaks in the highest commendation of Senator Cross' qualification.

The Newark Evening News said on Saturday what every New Jerseyman knows: "Senator Cross has the judicial mind, he is an experienced lawyer, he would make an excellent judge. * * * There is no doubt that Senator Cross would prove an able, conscientious and successful incumbent. More than once his character and qualifications have come very near to securing for him a position on the Supreme Court bench. If no other than purely political considerations interfere now, there is little doubt that Senator Cross' name will have the fullest and most respectful consideration, whether he is appointed or not."—Elizabeth Journal.

Freeholders Good Work.

The Board of Freeholders of Union County closed the fiscal year yesterday, and with a record that is worthy a word of commendation. The financial report of County Collector Wood shows that the retiring board leaves in the county treasury a balance of $45,000, which is a larger amount turned over to a new board to begin its housekeeping than has been the case in many years.

This is a remarkable and highly creditable showing, and a proof of the economical and wise administration of the affairs of the county. The freeholders have saved this amount of money despite the fact that the county is under extra expense from the rental of the Zouave armory for a temporary court house, and also other expenditures made necessary in consequence of the building of the new county court house. It has been frequently stated that the erection of a new court house would be a burden on the county and would increase the tax levy every year, but the management of the county has disproved this. The outlook is that the new court house will not at any time prove an appreciable burden, and on the contrary will be the great benefit and desirable improvement hoped for and confidently expected by the most sanguine.

This large balance will be sufficient to make it a certainty that there will needs be no increase of the tax appropriation for the new year. The new board has honored itself in again re-electing J. Frank Hubbard to the position of director, the office he has held for so many years to the satisfaction of the people of the county, and in a manner that has attested his ability and integrity.—Elizabeth Journal.

POLITICAL NOTES.

By the withdrawal of United States District Attorney John B. Vreeland from the contest for the United States district judgeship to succeed the late Andrew Kirkpatrick, it has practically been settled that the appointment shall go to Senator Joseph Cross, of Elizabeth. Mr. Vreeland was strongly supported in his candidacy, but, it is explained, declined to stand in the way of Senator Cross. He has written a letter to United States Senator Kean to that effect and offered his support in behalf of the Union County Senator.

Miss Alice Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson, of Rockview terrace, has been detained by illness for a few weeks at her home.

The colored Republicans thought Rev. Mr. Roundtree, of Trenton, would be pretty good timber for a delegate-at-large to the National convention, but the State committee quartered him.

Inventor Edison, who has himself profited by advertising, is quoted thus: "To let the world know through type who and what you are and what you have that this great world wants is the secret of success, and the printing press is its mightiest machine to that end."—Philadelphia Record.

Another daily newspaper has been launched in New Jersey, the Dover Daily, published at Dover, as its name implies. It starts with the very best wishes of the fraternity throughout the State. Whether it will continue will depend partly upon the people of Dover, and partly upon itself.—New Brunswick Daily Times.

Wonderful brains in that Brunswick man's head.

When a business man without an intimate knowledge of advertising takes space in papers or magazines and conducts his own campaign, he sometimes develops an entirely original style of advertising, eminently suited to his business. If he is a good business man his advertising will seldom be weak. It may be crude. It may lack originality. But it will be strong and sound, giving plain, blunt facts of interest to readers who want his goods. —Printers' Ink.

A proposition to reproduce the famous Passion Play at Asbury Park has been submitted to the Board of Trade of that city. It is to be expected that some strong opposition to the scheme will be made for the idea is repugnant to many Christian people, especially to those who do not approve of theatrical performances. Many a powerful sermon is preached from the stage nowadays and the moral taught is impressed upon the spectator as deeply as that emanating from the pulpit in many instances. Besides, the drama attracts a large number of people who do not go to church and in this way it is doing a good work. The principal objection to the play is that some one impersonates Christ which is naturally viewed as sacrilegious. Those who have taken the part in the Oberammergau production have been saintly men and it is argued that they are not guilty of any profanity.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—F. J. Blatz, Esq., has been appointed guardian of the children of William Ayers, by the Orphans' Court.

—Following a long and severe illness, Former Freeholder Cornelius G. VanCleef, of East Millstone, is able to be out again.

—It is estimated that it will cost a person $20 in admissions to witness everything worth seeing at the St. Louis Exposition. A similar trip at the Chicago fair cost $35.

—A. C. Hoagland, formerly of Park avenue, this city, and recently of Long Branch, has taken a position with S. P. Dunham & Co., Trenton, N. J., where he has taken up his residence.

—Under the supervision of the maintenance of way department a new rail of steel and manganese known as the "manganese" rail is to be given a test. It is claimed to have fifty times the durability of the one now in use.

DESTROYER BLEW UP

Japanese Navy Loses Torpedo Boat No. 48.

PORT ARTHUR IS AGAIN ISOLATED

While Trying to Clear the Channel a Large Mechanical Mine Exploded, Cutting Craft In Two—Seven Killed, Seven Wounded.

LONDON, May 14.—A Mukden dispatch says Pulatien, near Port Adams on the Liaotung peninsula, has again been occupied by the Japanese, and communication with Port Arthur is again cut off.

Advices from Tokyo say the Japanese torpedo boat No. 48 has been blown up while removing mines from Kerr bay, north of Port Dalny. Seven men were killed, and seven were wounded

This is the first warship Japan has lost in the war.

The torpedo boat was lost during a series of bombardments and surveying operations at Talienwan, Ueep and Kerr bays by Admiral Kataoka, commander of the Third squadron. The admiral arrived at Kerr bay early in the morning and detached the cruisers Itsukushima, Nisshin and Miyako, ordering them to bombard the land batteries, while a flotilla of torpedo boats swept the harbor for mines.

A second flotilla of torpedo boats, which had been engaged in guarding Port Arthur the previous night, joined the squadron and began the work of surveying the harbor. The Miyako discovered a company of Russian infantry and a detachment of cavalry on shore and dispersed them.

Two torpedo boats that were reconnoitering and removing mines in the west shore of Kerr bay discovered a telegraph line running along the Takushan peninsula. To destroy it Lieutenant Hotta and four sailors landed and scaled the heights under the protection of the guns of the torpedo boats and cut the line. The Japanese vessels then discovered three bodies of Russian troops, one large and two small ones, whereupon the squadron advanced close to the shore and shelled them.

Torpedo boats Nos. 48 and 49 discovered a large mechanical mine in Kerr bay. Their various attempts to blow it up failed, and it suddenly exploded of itself, cutting No. 48 in two. The torpedo boat sank in seven minutes. The squadron hurried boats to the rescue and picked up the wounded. Three other mines were discovered and exploded.

A Liaoyang dispatch says the advance guard of the First Japanese army has appeared six miles below Lienchenkuan, on the road to Liaoyang. It is not making any further advance, but is erecting strong fortifications. The Japanese movements were made with the greatest care.

Costly Corks For Port Arthur.

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 14.—Advices received from Japan by the steamer Empress of India indicate that the bottling up of the harbor of Port Arthur has cost the Japanese government $1,201,000 for tramp steamers alone, besides enormous sums for ammunition, repairs, etc. Up to the time of the departure of the Empress of India nine tramp steamers had been utilized in the "corking" up process.

Gold From Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—The steamer Doric, which has arrived from the orient, brought $2,250,000 in gold from Japan. On board was E. B. Shaw, son of the secretary of the treasury, who went to the far east some time ago on a government mission. As soon as the Doric dropped anchor Mr. Shaw was taken aboard the Golden Gate and hurried to the Oakland pier, where he caught an overland train. C. A. Willard, justice of the Philippine supreme court, and Judge F. C. Waite, a Manila jurist, were also on board.

An Up to Date Organ.

CHICAGO, May 14. — The $20,000 pipe organ to be placed in the new Theodore Thomas concert hall here will have an electro pneumatic action, with a movable key desk, so connected that the organ may be played from any part of the orchestra or stage. The organ, which is to be directly behind the orchestra, but about ten feet overhead, is so arranged as to allow a most perfect blending of tones with orchestral or other music.

Electric Bolts Caused Panic.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Within a few days of the fatal collision on the Third Avenue Elevated railroad a second one occurred in front of the Ninety-ninth street station, in which a dozen or more persons were slightly injured and many passengers shocked by electric bolts which seemed to shoot through one of the cars. Passengers in both trains were very much frightened and, panic stricken, scrambled to the platform of the station.

Wreath For President Candamo.

LIMA, Peru, May 14.—Among the floral pieces on the catafalque of President Candamo in the Santo Domingo church is a beautiful cross sent by United States Minister Dudley in the name of President Roosevelt, a magnificent wreath from the diplomatic corps and one from President Roca of Argentina.

Pace Was Number Fifteen.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 14.—Steve Pace, a negro, was hanged here for the murder of Jesse Simmons, also a negro, at Smith's mines in 1896. Both men were miners. Pace is the fifteenth murderer hanged by the present sheriff within the last four years.

Dolly Spanker at Morris Park.

NEW YORK, May 14.—There was a large attendance at Morris park, the weather and track conditions were excellent, and some good running was witnessed. The feature of the card, the New Rochelle handicap, seven and a half furlongs, resulted in a good contest. Dolly Spanker, the favorite, won by a short head from Lux Casta, who was five lengths in front of Savable. The Drake-Gates combination bet heavily on Savable, forcing his price down from 2½ to 1 to 2 to 1. The time of the race, 1:33½, is within half a second of the track record. Hamburg Belle, who won the Futurity last year, has broken down after working a very fast trial at Sheepshead Bay.

Injunction at Elm Ridge.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 14.—Injunction beat Glassful, a prohibitive favorite, in a handicap race at a mile and a sixteenth at Elm Ridge in masterful style. There were but three in the field. Sambo never had a chance. During the first three-quarters Injunction and Glassful ran like a team. At the head of the stretch Injunction's head showed in front, and he gradually drew away, winning easily. In the second race Barney Dreyfuss, a 12 to 1 shot, galloped under the wire first.

Marshall Still Leads Chess Players.

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, Pa., May 14.—The twelfth round of the international chess masters' tournament has been played here, and at the conclusion Marshall maintained his lead over the other contestants by virtue of his victory over Delmar. Janowski won his game against Pillsbury, and Lasker also won, beating Teichmann.

Favorite Finished Last.

CHICAGO, May 14.—Not a single favorite won at Worth. Four outsiders and two second choices divided first money. The feature event, a mile handicap, went to Action, neglected in the betting at 8 to 1. Banter, the heavily backed favorite, finished absolutely last.

Racing Under Electric Light.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 14.—Arrangements were completed here to give horse races under electric light at the old exposition grounds track. The racing will start on June 2 and continue during the entire summer.

Kid Sullivan Won at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, May 14.—Kid Sullivan of Washington was awarded the decision over Joe Tipman of this city on points at the expiration of their fifteen round bout before the Eureka Athletic club last night.

Boys Caused $10,000 Fire.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 14.—Fire last night partly destroyed the Coliseum bicycle track in Howard avenue and leveled three large barns belonging to Hugh Plunkett, the general contractor. The loss will be about $10,000. Forty horses and twenty-five trucks were taken from the barns with no time to spare. Boys in the training quarters of the track are supposed to have started the fire by carelessly dropping cigarettes or matches on the dry wood.

Fishers Lose Their Ship.

CHATHAM, Mass., May 14.—The two masted fishing schooner Little Jennie of Provincetown, Captain Mayo, went ashore on the bar off Monomoy Point lighthouse during a dense fog last night, and it is believed she will be a total wreck. Captain Mayo and his crew of six men were taken off by the United States life saving crew at Monomoy point. The fishing gear of the schooner was saved.

Abeel Sentenced to Reformatory.

NEW YORK, May 14.—James Neilson Abeel, who impersonated a Goelet and made love to Miss Eleanor Anderson, a telegraph operator, was sentenced to the Elmira reformatory by Recorder Goff in general sessions. Abeel at the best will have to spend at least fourteen months in the institution. Under the law he cannot serve more than five years.

General Was Too Thankful.

PARIS, May 14.—War Minister Andre signed a decree relieving General Jeannerod of the command of the First army corps, stationed at Lille. This is a result of Jeannerod's order expressing his thanks for the good work of the Sisters of Charity, whose services have been discontinued through orders of the ministry of war.

The Woman Bluffer

She Is as Expert as Her Brother

"BUT I thought bluffing was man's forte."

"You wouldn't think so if you once saw a woman at it," chuckled the man.

"For instance"—

"Well, at the seashore. There the woman bluffer is at her best, and she has every advantage too. What do you know of her private life? She may in reality be Mrs. Harlemflat, subject to the janitor and the push button, or Miss Stenographer on her two weeks' vacation, with her finger ends still blunted by the typewriter, but at the seashore she is that rich Mrs. Blank or Miss Blank, whose father left her half a million, you know, and she strolls around languidly, leading her French bull pup by its chain and digging holes in the ground with her chiffon parasol as if she had nothing more arduous to do in her whole life. She shivers at the carelessness of the chambermaid—she does her own work at home—and she bewails the poorness of the laundry as she extracts from her sleeve a dainty but much yellowed handkerchief which in reality she has washed in her own room and rough dried by sticking it on the window pane. But it is during the afternoon that the woman bluffer usually shines. Two or three times a week her carriage drives up, and she goes out for an airing, chiffon parasol unfurled, dog sitting erect by her side and furbelows carefully spread out where they will show the most. She has all the women acquaintances she wants by merely inviting them in a languid way to 'take a little turn in the carriage with me.'"

"And the reality?"

"Why, the whole outfit is hired, of course. During the dull summer months one can get, if one goes to the right stable, a magnificent turnout, coachman, drab cushions and all, for $125 a month. In the winter it would cost twice or three times as much, but in the summer the swell livery stableman is only too delighted to have his horses in the country and not idle. So just think of the splurge Mrs. Harlemflat makes on the money she has saved during the winter by not hiring a servant!"

"MY CARRIAGE!"

"Well, we are all in greater or lesser ways striving to seem better than we are."

"Yes, and some of the bluffs are rather pitiful too. Take the case of Miss Jones, who comes of awfully good stock, poor girl, but of late has had to scramble for a living. She works in Wiltman's, in the cloak department. Well, one of her old time friends invites her to an evening at home, and there, if you please, she meets a very stunning young man, who, in his turn, is evidently impressed by the very stunning Vere de Vere girl he sees. He asks to be permitted to call some afternoon, and what is there to answer? Of course she has to say yes. He calls three times between half after 4 and 5, and each time she is out. The fourth time the rather shabby landlady of what he is surprised to find is a boarding house informs him, with unnecessary shrillness that 'Miss Jones she works in Wiltman's, and it ain't no use calling on her afternoons.'"

"And the other who bluffs about her social engagements"—

"Yes, and they are mostly pay affairs, and then, too, she is always at Sherry's or the Waldorf-Astoria. But the truth is she simply sits in the palm room and watches the people who really eat and drink and make merry."

"And the women who hire ladies' maids for special occasions, not to speak of actresses who take their cooks to the theater in the capacity of expensive ladies' maids. Cookie likes the excitement and the glitter, and it gives the actress prestige."

"And the women who bluff about their husbands' ability and prospects?"

"Ah, but that often arises from something else than mere bluffing. More often than not the supposed bluffer really proudly believes in the extraordinary ability and brilliant future of dear Tom or Dick, who is perhaps in reality quite ordinary. And just let me tell you a secret—I'm mighty anxious to have just that kind of a sweet little bluffer for my wife!"

VOTE FOR ROOSEVELT

Republicans of Prairie State So Instruct Delegates.

ROBERT R. HITT FOR VICE PRESIDENT

Speaker Cannon Called Convention to Hearken and Keep Order With a Megaphone—Delegates, Cullom, Hopkins, Cannon and Yates.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 14.—"Roosevelt and Hitt!" is the slogan of the Republicans of Illinois, who in convention here have instructed their delegates to Chicago to work for the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt for president and of Robert R. Hitt of Illinois for vice president.

Wild scenes marked the opening of the second session. Speaker Cannon called the convention to order with a great megaphone, through which he announced that unless order was maintained he would adjourn the meeting to the hall of representatives and exclude all except the delegates and representatives of the press.

Judge Elbridge Hanecy, chairman of the committee on credentials, presented a report recommending that the sitting delegates be declared the delegates of the convention. This was adopted, and then on recommendation of the committee on organization the temporary organization was made permanent.

The committee on delegates to the national convention reported as follows:

Delegates at large—Senators Shelby M. Cullom and Albert B. Hopkins, Speaker Joseph G. Cannon and Governor Richard Yates.

Alternates—Lieutenant Governor W. A. Northcott, Hon. Asa Matthews, Paul Morton and Samuel Insull.

Electors at large—Lot Brown and William J. Moxley.

This report was adopted unanimously, and the committee on resolutions then reported through Walter J. Reeves.

The platform gives credit to the money policy of the national administration in assisting to bring about present unexampled prosperity and pledges the party to the maintenance of the gold standard. Loyalty to the protective tariff is reaffirmed. Appropriations are favored to place the navy in point of strength and efficiency in its proper position among the navies of the world. The possession of the Philippine islands gives the United States the right to a voice in the affairs in that part of the world, and the action of Secretary Hay in securing the open door policy of trade in the orient is recognized as the greatest diplomatic achievement of modern times.

The administration of President Roosevelt is praised, and the delegates to the national convention are instructed for him and to use all honorable means to secure the nomination of Congressman Robert R. Hitt of Illinois for vice president.

BRIDE ADOPTED GROOM.

A Novel Legal Expedient of Young Minnesotans to Obtain a License.

LESUEUR, Minn., May 14.—The marriage of Miss Myrtle Thyme and Albert Grayland has occurred here under novel circumstances.

The bridegroom was only twenty years of age, and being an orphan without a guardian he was consequently unable to obtain a license. The bride, though nearly two years younger, was still over eighteen and of lawful age to get married.

Neither wanted to wait for the young man to grow older, so Miss Thyme formally and legally adopted her affianced and then, as his guardian, gave the necessary consent that a marriage license should be issued to him. The document was duly given out, and a justice of the peace married the couple.

Ex-Stock Exchange President Dead.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Alfrederich Smith Hatch, twice president of the New York Stock Exchange and at one period one of the leading financiers in Wall street, is dead at Tarrytown, N. Y., aged seventy-five years. He was a native of Burlington, Vt., and during the civil war was in partnership with Harvey Fisk. The firm had the agency of the government in New York for the $500,000,000 of 5-20 bonds for popular subscription when Secretary Chase found the first resource of borrowing from the large banks had been exhausted.

Stole State and Private Funds.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 14.—Charles Laroussie, the defaulting chancellor of the French legation, who was recently arrested at Salina Cruse while preparing to embark for Central America, has been sentenced in court to two years and eight months' imprisonment. Laroussie, the evidence showed, had not only misused the funds of the legation, but had appropriated to his own use private funds intrusted to his care by the French minister.

Silver Lake Cottages Burned.

PERRY, N. Y., May 14.—Fire started from burning leaves at the Silver Lake assembly grounds and in a short time destroyed sixteen cottages. Firemen from Perry succeeded in saving the auditorium. The chapel was burned. About six acres of the park were burned over, three or four hundred fine shade trees being ruined. The loss is estimated at $35,000.

Russian Troops Beyond Caucasus.

LONDON, May 14.—The Daily Mail publishes a dispatch from Constantinople, according to which Russia is concentrating troops just beyond the Caucasus. The most reliable information, the dispatch says, fixes the present total number of troops at 125,000.

TROOPS FROM INDIA.

English Government Will Re-enforce Expedition to Tibet.

LONDON, May 14.—Dispatches from Simla, India, say that half a battalion of fusileers and half a battalion of naval infantry, with four ten-pounder guns, have been warned to prepare for service in Tibet.

The dispatches from Gyangtse say the Tibetans at Jong have been strongly re-enforced. The newcomers are evidently far more expert with the use of modern weapons than the Tibetans previously encountered and, having obtained the range, are pouring a hot fire into the British, whose position is becoming hourly one of increasing peril.

The greater part of the garrison made a descent upon the Jong monastery and on returning suffered from a hot fire from Jong, the elevation of which enables the Tibetans to pour a plunging fire and adds greatly to the range of their weapons, which have been fairly accurate and effective since the Tibetans got the range of the mission post exactly.

Re-enforcements of small parties have been seen from time to time concentrating by the Shigatse and Lassa roads upon Gyangtse, and the new fortifications at Jong, which are extraordinary both in extent and excellence of construction, are being carried on night and day.

The report that Captain Parr's servants were put to death with barbarity, being slowly cut to pieces, has been confirmed. Sung, a Chinaman who was taken and released, admitted that the Chinese General Ma was responsible for this outrage by deliberate inaction.

Another large gathering of Tibetans is reported in the Rong valley. The mission's communications with the rear are still open.

TROOPS NOT TO BE USED.

Governor Peabody Has Refused to Call Out Soldiers at Election.

DENVER, May 14.—A petition to Governor Peabody and Mayor Wright to order out the national guard to preserve order at the election in this city next Tuesday is being circulated and already has been signed by hundreds of citizens. The petition alleges frauds committed at past elections and contemplated at the coming election, refers to police participation in politics and alleges danger of mob violence.

"No troops will be ordered out except in case of rioting," said Governor Peabody. "Owing to the talk current that troops would be used on election day I have decided to postpone the target practice which was to have been held early next week until after election."

DEAD OR ALIVE.

Sheriff and Posse Will Capture or Shoot Outlaw Dietz.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 14.—George Loth, deputy sheriff, has volunteered to capture the outlaw Dietz, who is holding officers at bay near Hayward, Wis. He expects to get artillery from Madison and dislodge the outlaw without loss of life other than that possibly of Dietz himself.

All the men employed by the Chippeway Lumber and Boom company at the Cameron dam, on the Thornapple river, which Dietz is holding up, have returned, the drive being abandoned. Over 10,000,000 feet of logs are lying high and dry, the dam being kept open by Dietz. Sixty armed men have started out with the deputy sheriff to capture Dietz dead or alive.

Bolt Hits Washington Monument.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Colonel Symons, in charge of public buildings and grounds, has reported to General Mackenzie, chief of engineers, that the Washington monument has been struck by lightning, but was not greatly damaged. The bolt entered at the top of the shaft, burned out the telephone there, passed down the iron framework in the elevator shaft to the lower floor, through the shaft alley to the motor room, where it burned out a relay coil on the switchboard, then passed along the electric cable to the engine room in the boiler house, where it entered the ground.

Stagecoach Held Up by Tramps.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 14.—The stagecoach running between North Creek, Warren county, and Blue Mountain Lake, Hamilton county, is reported to have been held up by three masked men near North River, Warren county. The baggage was ransacked, and Driver Wilcox was relieved of $40. The robbers are believed to be tramps.

Block Goes Up In Smoke.

COUDERSPORT, Pa., May 14.—Fire has destroyed an entire block here. A high wind blew sparks from a bonfire into one of the buildings, and the Farmers' hotel, three grocery stores, a feed store, a music store, a tea store, Knights of Labor hall, a dwelling and four barns were destroyed; loss, $50,000.

Doyle Lost Both Legs.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 14.—Olin P. Doyle, fifty-five years old, of Fall River, Mass., had both legs crushed, which made amputation necessary, as the result of an attempt to board a train at the Cedar Hill station early last evening. Mr. Doyle was on his way from Swarthmore.

Couple's Troubles Are Over.

OLEAN, N. Y., May 14. — Joseph Colles, a laborer, shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide in this city. Unhappy domestic relations were the cause of the tragedy, their affairs having been carried into court recently.

NIPSIC ORDERED OUT

Passing of a Historic Ship of the Old Navy.

A SURVIVOR OF SAMOA DISASTER

Was a Government Built Vessel, Almost the Last Wooden Ship Constructed—Launched In 1879.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The Nipsic, one of the old wooden vessels of the navy, has been ordered out of commission at the Puget sound navy yard, where she has been serving as a receiving ship. This marks the passing of one of the historic vessels of the old navy.

The Nipsic was one of the few government built vessels, being almost the last timber ship constructed for the navy. She was launched in this city in 1879 and saw much service in all quarters of the world. In the great hurricane at Samoa she was the only survivor of the German and American fleets gathered there.

After that experience she was scarcely worth salvage, but as a matter of sentiment the navy department repaired her. She, however, has not been serviceable as a war vessel, and her principal employment has been in the receiving service.

She has been replaced by the cruiser Philadelphia, which it was found would cost too much to put in condition for cruising purposes. The Philadelphia is a protected cruiser of 4,300 tons displacement and not very many years ago was one of the finest ships in the navy.

CHARGED WITH CURSING.

Mayor of Newport News Arrested For Fighting on Street.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., May 14.—Mayor Allan A. Moss, who is a candidate for re-election; William T. Moss, a prominent attorney and brother of the mayor, and Robert W. Perkins, one of the managers of the campaign for Samuel R. Buxton, the mayor's opponent, were arrested here by Chief of Police Thomas M. Johnson and Sergeant Bryan O'Hara for fighting in the street.

Chief Johnson also preferred against himself the charge of cursing and abusing the combatants, having lost his temper while trying to prevent them from renewing the fight after he had stepped in between them. The fight grew out of the mayor calling Perkins to account for alleged malicious slander which, the mayor charges, was being industriously circulated by Perkins for political purposes. Hot words were exchanged, and Perkins struck at W. T. Moss. The mayor then struck Perkins in the face, and the police interfered before further damage could be done.

At King Edward's Court.

LONDON, May 14.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra held the second court of the season at Buckingham palace last night, at which there was an exceptionally large representation of royal personages. Their majesties were accompanied by the Prince and Princess of Wales, Princess Victoria, Prince and Princess Christian and the Duke and Duchess of Connaught. Princess Patricia of Connaught was one of the debutantes. The court was attended by a large number of high officials and members of the diplomatic corps, the latter including Ambassador Choate and Henry White, first secretary of the United States embassy. The American presentations were the Misses Anna T. and Martha R. Phillips of Boston, sisters of Ambassador Choate's secretary; Mrs. Larz Anderson of Washington, wife of the former second secretary of the United States embassy; Mrs. and Miss Ross Winans of Baltimore, Mrs. and Miss Whitridge of New York and Mrs. Frederick Wallingford Whitridge of New York, a daughter of the late Matthew Arnold.

Coroner Says Accidental Death.

NEW YORK, May 14. — That the death of Josephine McCahill, the six-year-old daughter of Mrs. Bridget McCahill of 1841 Third avenue, whose body was found in the chimney of the house adjoining the one in which she lived, was accidental was proved when Coroner's Physician Otto Schultz performed an autopsy at the morgue. According to Coroner Jackson, who has taken personal charge of the investigation since the discovery

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Dunellen baseball team will open the season at High Bridge on Saturday, May 21, with a game with the local team.

This is the probable line-up of the Y. M. C. A. team against the Westfield A. O. U. W. this afternoon: Herman, c; Armstrong, p or rf; Jackson, 1b; Dolliner, 2b; Marsh, 3b; Conover, ss; Hand, lf; Overton, cf. Jacot, rf or lb.

It is reported that Griffin, who plays right field for Alis, intends going with a New York State League club. Manager Johnston has heard of the reported change, but as Griffin has said nothing to him about it he is inclined to doubt the rumor. He is a good pitcher, although a trifle weak at the bat.

John Ramsey, who made a record last year pitching for High Bridge, and who signed this year with the Jersey City Eastern League team, returned to his home at High Bridge, this week and later left for Hartford, Conn., where he will pitch for the team in that town while the Jersey City team is off on a two weeks' trip. Ramsey is one of seven pitchers now being carried by the Jersey City team, but the management has been unable to use him thus far, preferring the services of the older men.

ROD AND GUN.

Proprietor Staats, of the Hotel Kensington, is expected home tomorrow from a successful fishing trip. He is accompanied by Fred Sandford.

ON THE TRACK.

Frank Hedden has purchased two handsome road horses. They are Bismbletonian Bismarcks.

Word From Camden County.

The Plainfield Press in announcing its seventeenth birthday says it is "just as proud of the fact as the average boy is when he dons his first pair of long trousers." And there is just cause for pride in having given Plainfield, for so many years, a creditable and helpful local publication. A newspaper conducted on proper lines grows and matures with the years, and we trust that The Press will gain in strength and wisdom and prosperity as time passes, enriching both itself and the progressive community where it is published.—Camden Post-Telegram.

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., met last night and received one application.

Somerset Council, No. 104, Jr. O. U. A. M., initiated one candidate last night.

One candidate was initiated at the meeting of Miantonomo Tribe last night. An application was received.

Several applications for membership will be received at the meeting of Freedom Castle, No. 42, Knights of the Golden Eagle, Tuesday night.

The regular meeting of Martha Washington Council, No. 23, Daughters of America, will be held in the Babcock building, this evening. Two candidates will be initiated, and other business transacted.

Rt. Rev. Dr. Henry Codman Potter, bishop of New York, in addressing the Knights Templars at Trenton on Ascension Day, said incidently: "Masonry brings out the true brotherhood idea. The order stands for the truest ideals. It does not inquire as to the social standing and a Mason may be a millionaire or a hod carrier. All that Masonry requires is that a man be honest. The highest Masonry brings its members face to face with the pattern man. The real ideal of the Masonry of the future, if it is to be worthy of the heritage of the past, depends on the individual Mason. If we are to realize those ideals every Mason must do his part."

Wants to Raise $500.

At Calvary Baptist church tomorrow evening Rev. Scott Wallace, the pastor, hopes to raise $500. A jubilee rally will be held and two speakers are expected; Rev. E. E. Elliott, of Newark and Rev. Daniel Tucker, of Richmond, Va. The subscription cards for the church fund will be called in at that time.

Red Men's Smoker.

Miantonomo Tribe, I. O. R. M., held an informal smoker last night. After the session cigars and refreshments were passed around, and a jolly pow-wow was held during the discussion of the corn and venison.

Miss Osgood Engaged.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Laura Osgood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O. Osgood, of 17 Myrtle avenue, to Rev. Arthur H. Grant, formerly of Montclair, but now of this city.

Planted Hoof in His Face.

Dr. Dundon was called on yesterday to dress a severe wound caused by a man being kicked in the face by a horse. After having a number of stitches taken in the cut the man left without giving his name.

Another Snake Story.

Snake stories still come in from the outskirts. Spiel Welsh, who is a mighty hunter and teller of tales, reports that he killed a four-foot reptile in South Plainfield. He has had it skinned for stuffing.

Picnic at Washington Rock.

Twenty pupils of the primary department of the Plainfield Seminary are spending the day at Washington Rock. The picnickers are in charge of Miss Jackson and Mlle. Duteit.

Only Girls Invited.

Miss May Dady, of West Fourth street, will hold a picnic next Saturday afternoon. Young men will not be invited. The picnickers will make for Washington Rock.

W. S. Thompson Fined.

Walter S. Thompson, an expressman, was fined $3 in the city court this morning for violating the ordinance covering his business.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

R. G. Dun & Co. Report Improved Conditions In Nearly All Lines.

NEW YORK, May 14.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Seasonable weather has restored normal conditions in many branches of retail trade, but it is not likely that any large percentage of the earlier loss will be recovered, and the improvement has not yet extended to wholesale, jobbing or manufacturing departments, except in special lines. Agricultural progress is rapid under better climatic conditions, and the outlook for winter wheat is brighter than officially indicated on May 1. Planting of spring wheat and minor cereals has progressed rapidly, the corn acreage being enlarged by the abandoned wheat area. It is difficult to find evidences of increased activity in any of the leading industries, however, and there is more idle machinery. Traffic conditions are little changed, railway earnings in the first week falling 7.5 per cent behind last year, and the late opening of lake navigation was further retarded by a strike.

While many features of the business situation make poor comparisons with last year, it is worthy of note that few presidential years have made a better exhibit. Foreign trade at this port for the last week showed a gain of $1,473,540 in imports, while exports decreased slightly. Exports of all farm staples in April were officially reported as only $1,873,460 smaller than last year, gains in cotton, meats and oil almost neutralizing the effect of a heavy loss in breadstuffs. It is probable that the gain in exports of manufactured products will be sufficient to make the month's total compare favorably with 1903. Gold exports have continued heavy on account of the Panama canal payment, but money is still abundant and easy. Stock speculation is very dull, which accounts for the loss of 1.1 per cent in bank exchanges at New York compared with last year, while at other leading cities there was a decrease of 1.9 per cent.

From the downward tendency of cotton it is evident that conservatism has become more popular among speculators, the lesson of the recent collapse being still fresh in memory, and the market evinces a strong disposition to let legitimate conditions of supply and demand determine quotations.

Western receipts of 991,320 bushels of wheat fell far short of the 1,680,612 bushels that arrived in the same week last year, and exports, including flour, were only 962,954 bushels against 3,711,965 a year ago. Receipts of 2,155,505 bushels of corn compare with 2,841,829, and Atlantic coast shipments were only 196,840 bushels against 1,259,968 in 1903.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for May aggregated $1,720,491, of which $472,252 was in manufacturing, $853,222 in trading and $394,917 in other commercial lines. Failures this week numbered 236 in the United States against 196 last year and 23 in Canada compared with 13 a year ago.

Will Hold Canal Purse.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Rear Admiral Albert Sewall Kenny, retired, formerly paymaster general of the navy, it is stated at the navy department, has been selected as treasurer of the Panama canal commission.

ALIS WRESTS VICTORY FROM THE XAVIER A. C.

In Sixth Inning, Home Team Starts a Merry-Go-Round, Bringing in Eleven Runs.

DAVIS' GREAT WORK

PLAINFIELD'S PITCHER STRIKES OUT THIRTEEN MEN.

Lauder, Cregan and Farmer Do Some Heavy Hitting—Final Score Being Seventeen to Three.

What at first looked like defeat for the Alis team was turned into a decisive victory in the game with the Xavier A. C., of New York, at Crescent Oval on Saturday. It was expected that Alis would have a walk-over, but up to the sixth inning "Billy" Lauder's colts were only able to score two runs, while their opponents made one more. The Alis batteries opened in Fourth of July style in the sixth inning and pounded out a total of eleven runs. During that time fifteen men faced Steibeck, who up to the inning held Alis for three insignificant hits.

While Alis was working hard to get the three hits, Davis was touched for six safeties. After that he only allowed one hit. He pitched a great game, fanning out thirteen men, in spite of rather poor support given him. Between Roberts, Cregan and McGeoy, a total of eight errors were made. McGeoy was sent from centre to the initial bag, because Mehler was detained at Columbia College taking examination, and he was not used to the position. Devins, a new man, took care of centre in good style. For six innings Davis and Farmer played the game. After that it was all pie and Alis made runs whenever they wanted to.

Steibeck was hammered for nine singles, including a home run by Lauder, and the best he could do had no effect in stopping the merry-go-round.

Alis made seventeen hits for a total of as many runs, while the Xavier boys only secured three runs, with a total of seven hits. After the game, which was hurriedly brought to a close on account of the cold weather, the visiting team looked like a portion of the Russian army following an engagement with the Japs.

This is a detailed score of the game:

IT'S SPIRITUAL EMACIATION

TO FEED THE SOUL ONCE IN SEVEN DAYS SAYS A MINISTER.

Under the heads of spiritual dietetics, gymnastics and dynamics, Rev. G. M. Shott, of Scotch Plains, discussed the proper and uniform development of the bodily, mental and spiritual functions yesterday at the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. After speaking of the nourishment of the spirit, Rev. Mr. Shott dwelt at some length upon the character of exercise, physical as well as moral.

The minister declared that the habit of feeding the soul once every seven days was conducive to spiritual emaciation. The portion of the spirit which is exercised the most will predominate and it is possible to become the possessor of two separate moral codes which are easier acquired than reconciled. As regards spiritual gymnastics, the speaker made a plea for normal development, saying that the man with an over-trained soul is usually called a crank. Neglect of the mind in favor of physical exercise exclusively, he said, made those who practice it mere brutes.

Mrs. F. M. Ward, contralto of the First Baptist church choir, sang two solos with piano accompaniment by Miss Alberta Waterbury.

OBJECT TO TRANSFER RULE

PASSENGERS KICK AGAINST CHANGING CARS AT RAHWAY JUNCTION.

Persons living in the vicinity of Westfield, Cranford and nearby points, who have occasion to use the cars of the Public Service Corporation late in the evening are objecting strenuously to a new rule which forces them to change cars at Rahway Junction and wait fifteen minutes for another car. The contention is that after the company accepts the fare of a passenger they should be carried to their destination without change, except in case of transfer to another line.

This new rule is similar to the "car ahead" long ago tabooed in New York, and it is claimed that the corporation loses considerable money by it and has been defeated in the courts where suits have been instituted. It is believed that a test case will be made of this rule on the Elizabeth-Plainfield line by residents from Elizabeth, Roselle, Cranford and Garwood of what they contend to be an unjust rule.

WESTFIELD, 9; TO 'PLAINS, 3

IN TWO INNINGS DENMAN'S MEN DO THEIR ONLY SCORING.

Scotch Plains went down to defeat before the crack Westfield team at Recreation Park Saturday afternoon, but not until they had nearly given the Westfield rooters heart failure by piling up three runs in the first inning before Waller settled down. The clean base hit assisted by an error of Barry brought three men across the rubber before the mist cleared away.

In the second and third half of the home team innings Manager Hand's men went to pieces and the home team brought four runs across the plate. This awakened Scotch Plains to action once more and they settled down and played league ball, not another man came across the rubber for Westfield, but the game was lost as Scotch Plains was unable to score, although several times a base hit would have brought one or two runs in but it was not to be.

Outside of the two disastrous innings, "Smiling Jimmy" Montross pitched great ball and had the support been given him at this time Westfield would have been held down. Waller was not at his best and at times was batted freely, but his support at critical stages of the game was bracing to him and helped him out of several holes.

The line-up:

Scotch Plains—Poole, 1b; Williams, 3b; Allen, c; Flannery, cf; Alberts, lf; Cruizus, ss; Enright, 2b; Taylor, rf; Montross, p.

Westfield—Goldberg, lf; Mallin, cf; Conley, 1b; Hickman, ss; Grom, rf; Barry, 3b; Cox, 2b; Burke, c; Waller, p.

The score by innings:
Westfield..... 0 4 5 0 0 0 0 0 x—9

Base on balls—Montross, 3; Waller, 4. Struck out—Montross, 4; Waller, 12. Umpire—Cullum.

PARK GOLF CLUB BEGINS ITS SEASON

Arthur Peck Wins First Honors in the Opening Play for the Presieent's Cup.

RESULT AT HILLSIDE

LOW SCORES IN CONTEST FOR GOLF COMMITTEE CUP.

Miss Maude VanBoskerck Wins First Leg for Women's Cup—Play at Westfield and Cranford.

The opening of the Park Golf Club on Saturday was marked by the first play for the President's and Park Golf Club cups, weekly competition. There was a goodly number of entries and much interest shown in the competitions. The course was pronounced to be in excellent condition and the opening was in every way pleasing to the popular club.

Arthur Peck, with an 81 net, won first honors for the President's cup, handicap event, while the remaining honors were divided between Rev. J. O. McKelvey and Joseph H. Howell, each returning a net score of 86. Peck also won first honors for the other cup, scratch event, returning a gross score of 96, and Rev. J. O. McKelvey won second honors with a 99 net and Charles Reed third honors with a 97 net. The scores for the two cups:

Arthur Peck, 96, 15—81; Rev. J. O. McKelvey, 99, 13—86; Joseph H. Howell, 103, 17—86; T. U. Dudley, Jr., 107, 20—87; Samuel Townsend, 103, 15—88; Herbert S. Rogers, 105, 13—92; Charles A. Reed, 97, 3—94; T. W. Morris, Jr., 108, 7—101.

There was golfing aplenty at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club on Saturday and the course throughout the day was crowded with players. The recent fine weather put the course in fine condition and a trip over it was a pleasure. In the morning there was the first play for the women's handicap cup. Miss Maude VanBoskerck, with a net score of 99, won the first leg on the cup.

The event of the day was the weekly competition for the golf committee cup, there being an unusually large number of contestants. As a rule the scores were low and as will be seen by the list several contestants had their handicaps clipped since their last play by the golf committee. Others are likely to fare likewise if they continue to improve in their game.

G. F. Earl won first honors for the cup with a net score of 78, while R. S. Rowland and J. A. Tompkins finished second and third with net scores of 79 and 80. The scores:

G. F. Earl, 105, 27—78; R. S. Rowland, 83, 4—79; J. A. Tompkins, 95, 15—80; Leighton Calkins, 87, 4—83; Roger F. Murray, 90, 6—84; C. E. Halsted, 90, 6—84; E. E. Iremonger, 102, 16—86; Julius E. Erickson, 98, 11—87; Walter Peterson, 94, 6—88; C. B. Morgan, 97, 98—8; Dr. B. VanD. Hedges, 95, 6—89; S. D. Lounsbery, 95, 6—89; E. B. Shoemaker, 105, 15—90.

An event of the past week was the playoff for the Fourth of July cup of last season, postponed. First Arthur Murphy beat L. L. Tweedy, 6 up and 4 to go, and then Dr. B. VanD. Hedges won the cup by beating Murphy, 8 up and 7 to go.

The active season at the Westfield Golf Club was begun on Saturday with a scratch event, the winners taking sixty, thirty and ten per cent. in golf supplies. The winners were M. Whitlatch, R. I. Townley and A. D. Tuttle. The scores:

M. Whitlatch, 92; R. I. Townley, 99; A. D. Tuttle, 101; J. A. Woodward, 104; E. R. Perkins, 104; S. A. Trevvett, 105; C. M. Tremaine, 112; E. B. Simpson, 114.

In a team match Saturday at the links of the Cranford Golf Club between the home team and a team from the Elizabeth Town and Country Club, the Cranford players were defeated by a score of 16 to 6.

BISHOP IS RETIRED FROM ACTIVE WORK

John H. Vincent is Relieved by General Conference of the M. E. Church.

HIS NOTABLE CAREER

A FOUNDER OF THE CHAUTAUQUA MOVEMENT.

One of the Originators of the Epworth League—Vincent Chapel Named in His Honor—For Sixteen Years a Bishop.

Bishop John H. Vincent, of Zurich, Switzerland, was one of five venerable bishops retired from all active participation in church work by the Methodist General Conference on Saturday in Los Angeles.

Bishop Vincent is well-known to Plainfielders, having been a resident of this city for many years. Vincent chapel, adjoining the First M. E. church, is named for him. For many years he has been a power in Methodism. He inaugurated the Chautauqua movement and was largely instrumental in founding the Epworth League.

The venerable man was born in Tuscaloosa, Ala., February 23, 1832. He was licensed to preach at the age of eighteen years and the same year was made a local preacher. From 1866 to 1888 he was secretary of the Sunday-school work of the church and during his term the circulation of the Sunday-school Journal increased from 16,000 to 150,000.

In 1888 Dr. Vincent was elected a bishop. Since then his work has carried him over a large part of the world. He recently returned from Zurich after a four years' residence there.

EPWORTH LEAGUE HOLDS ANNIVERSARY

Fifteenth Year of Organization is Observed at a Special Service at Monroe Ave.

ITS HISTORY IS TOLD

REV. GEORGE MOONEY GIVES AN INTERESTING SKETCH OF ITS STRENGTH.

The League a Union of Independent Societies — Plainfielder Largely Instrumental in Organizing It —Some Statistics.

Fifteen years of steady growth and development of the Epworth League were celebrated at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church last night. The talk by Rev. George Mooney, the pastor, was full of interest and inspiration.

The Epworth League, as described by Mr. Mooney, was the result of an amalgamation of numberless independent societies, which, while working along practically the same lines, lacked the strength of a united organization.

Speaking of the organization of the League by delegates of the Young People's Methodist Alliance the Oxford League and other kindred organizations in the denomination, he said that the final result of that convention had a special interest for the people of Plainfield who knew Bishop J. H. Vincent. The characteristics of the Oxford League, which the present organization resembles more than any other of its forerunners, were followed at his insistent recommendation.

The act of organizing the League, said Mr. Mooney, created a giant full-grown almost at the outset, as the chief task was to centralize and amalgamate an already existent, if inchoate force.

Some figures were also given in illustration of the strength of the League. The present number of senior chapters is over 21,000; and there are between 8,000 and 9,000 chapters in the junior organization. The total membership is 1,5000,000 in round numbers, and of these 19,500 are in India alone. This is an indication of the wide field occupied by the League.

In the departments of Bible study and evangelization the showing is correspondingly good. There are 1,000 classes for Bible study, and the Morning Watch, an organization the members of which are pledged to prayer and Scripture-reading at the beginning of each day, numbers 5,000 young men and women.

The home mission features and the work of the department of mercy and help were also touched on. The study of missions, said Mr. Mooney, is profitable if for no other reason than the information thus gained about international relations and affairs. Many people who are puzzled to follow understandingly the progress of the present campaign in the Far East would have a good grasp of the situation had they followed the work of the missionaries.

In closing, the pastor mentioned this anniversary occasion as the best possible time for reconsecration in the work, especially as that work is one worthy of the very best that lies in those engaged in it.

On the programme, in addition to the address by the pastor, was announced another address to be given by Clarence A. Titus, president of the Elizabeth District Epworth League. Mr. Titus was ill and could not keep the engagement.

A fifteen minutes' praise service, led by Walter M. McGee, preceded the exercises which included a welcoming speech by William N. Sorter and two anthems by the Heavenly Rest quartette.

Not a Candidate for Alis Team.

Manager George Johnston, of Alis, has received a letter from Edward McLane, pitcher for the Fordham College baseball team, in which he insists that the use of his name as a possible pitcher for Alis be stopped. The report is due to statements made that one McLean would pitch for Alis. The man referred to was plying in the Hudson River League and has no connection with the Fordham College man.

Mrs. Stites Dead.

The death of Mrs. Clara E. Stites, wife of Theodore E. Stites and daughter of John and the late Phebe Giddis, occurred yesterday at her home, 222 Grove street, after a long illness. She was forty-three years old. The funeral services will be held from the late home tomorrow noon at 12 o'clock and at the Mt. Bethel church at 2 o'clock.

CLINTON AVE., 5; REFORMERS, 4

FIFTH INNING BRINGS THE GOODS TO WEST END NINE.

One lucky inning did it all for the Clinton Avenue team in its game against Reform Club Saturday afternoon. The West End players made five runs in the fifth, just one more than the Reformers got in two successful onslaughts.

The Reformers landed for two runs in the fourth and two more in the seventh. Clinton Avenue loosed a volley of drives in the fifth, and nailed five marks before the agony ended.

Bolmer, the Clinton Avenue twist-meister, gave the razzle-dazzle to twelve men, and only six hits were chopped from his delivery. Scott struck out eight men, and ten slambangoes bumped his curves.

Batting order and summary:

Clinton Avenue — Mathews, c; Smalley, ss; Beekman, 2b; Ayers, lf; Gordon, cf; Conole, 1b; VanArsdale, 3b; Manning, rf; Bolmer, p.

Reform Club—McGinley, 3b; Taylor, 2b; Smith, lf; R. Scott, p; D Scott, 1b; O'Loughlin, c; J. Scott, ss; Lawlor, cf; Plesent, rf.

MANDOLIN AND BANJO MUSIC

PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL BOYS ENTERTAIN A LARGE AUDIENCE.

The Plainfield High School Mandolin and Banjo Club gave a charming entertainment in Franklin Hall, Saturday evening. The affair was well attended by members of the school and their friends and every selection on the programme was well received. The first selection by the Mandolin and Banjo Club was "Navajo," which was well rendered and merited the applause which was bestowed.

Leonard Gavett in "ten minutes' of magic" gave a clever exhibition of sleight-of-hand tricks. The "humorist stories" by Walter Waters were very cleverly given. Mr. Waters responding to an encore by giving "A Dutchman's Description of his Lost Dog." A duet entitled "Napoleon March" by Theodore Gavett and Gurth Williams was particularly good. Chester Briggs rendered a mandolin solo "Tommy." Mr. Briggs deserved the storm of applause which he received. Mr. Waters' "Natural History by a Dutchman" caused a great deal of laughter. The "American Club," by the Mandolin and Banjo Club Quartette was also good.

Dancing was enjoyed by a large number at the close of the entertainment. The Mandolin and Banjo Club is composed of Chester Briggs, Theodore Gavett and Monroe Long; mandolins; Gurth Williams and William Briggs, banjos; Herbert Smith, violin, and Irving Martin, piano.

NEW MARKET, 18; O. F. C., 2

PLAINFIELD NINE'S PITCHER TOO WEAK TO HOLD THE SLUGGERS.

The New Market Y. M. A. boys proved, on Saturday afternoon, that they have a fast team by defeating the Orange Field Club team, of this city, by a score of 18 to 2. The game was played at New Market. The feature was the heavy batting of L. Churchill. He made a three-bagger, two two-baggers and a single. Tommy Mack played a good game at short.

Following is the score by innings:
New Market... 2 2 1 1 0 1 10 1 x—18
O. F. C..... 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 — 2

Batteries — Squires and Nelson; Sherwin and Hilliyer.

MRS. HAZARD DEAD.

Daughter of Late Capt. Sayre Died After Long Illness.

Mrs. Russell H. Hazard died at 6 o'clock last night after a severe illness last several months. Mrs. Hazard was a daughter of the late Captain Francis Sayre, of Southampton, L. I. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church and prominent in the work of the Ladies' Guild of the Church of the Heavenly Rest. The funeral will be from her late home, 29 Vine street, North Plainfield, at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon.

Everett College Next.

The Everett College team will probably play Alis on Crescent Oval on Saturday. This team played the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. team on Saturday, winning by a score of 5 to 3. It is said that the college boys have won every game this year.

HERBERT H. BOOTH AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH

He Makes An Address at Epworth League Anniversary Exercises.

SOME MOVING PICTURES

TALKS ON THE EARLY HISTORY OF CHRISTIANITY.

Special Music a Feature—A Large Collection is Received—Geo. Horn Introduces the Speaker.

Marking the end of an active and successful year, the Epworth League, of the First M. E. church, observed its fifteenth anniversary last night. In place of the usual addresses, Herbert Henry Booth, a son of Gen. Booth, the Salvation Army leader, delivered a strikingly illustrated lecture on the Apostolic Era of the Christian Church. There was special music as another feature.

The service was attended by an unusually large congregation. Every seat in nave, transept and gallery was occupied, and the collection, a silver one, was very large.

Before Mr. Booth was introduced, S. H. Tugwell read a review of the society's activeness during the year. It showed that the organization had more than held its own spiritually and temporally, starting the new year strong in membership and with a balance in the treasury.

Following the review, George Horn introduced the lecturer. Mr. Booth explained that his discourse was a pictorial sermon, and was not to be regarded as in any way like a picture show. He believed that as forceful a sermon could be preached by the picture machine as by the voice.

Seven moving pictures, illustrating dramatic incidents of the infant church at Jerusalem and Rome, were shown, besides a number of still views. The moving pictures were intensely interesting, and so lifelike as to be inspiring to a high degree. They included Christ's ride into Jerusalem on the first Palm Sunday, Judas' acceptance of thirty pieces of silver from the high priest, Christ's capture in Gethsemane, St. Stephen's death at the hands of the mob, St. Paul's escape from Jerusalem, a Christian mother's escape from pursuing soldiers, and St. Peter's capture in the catacombs of Rome. The choir sang hymns as each picture proceeded.

DUNELLEN, 13; BRADLEY C., 7

NEW YORK TEAM TROUNCED BY THE MIDDLESEX BOYS.

Captain Smith and his men had a great deal of sport at the expense of the Bradley A. C. nine, of New York, on Saturday afternoon when they won by a score of 13 to 7. "Ike" Ettlinger never let himself out and if he had it is probable that the New Yorkers would have had a large goose-egg at the end of the game. The feature was the all round good work of Giles, Craig and Brown.

The following is the score by innings:
Dunellen..... 8 1 0 2 0 1 0 1 x—13
Bradley ..... 1 1 4 0 0 0 1 0 0—7

Batteries — Ettlinger and Brown; Cook and Alexander.

KEAN FAVORS CROSS, BUT —

SENATOR WANTS UNION COUNTY MAN FOR BENCH, BUT FEARS A CHANGE.

United States Senator John Kean said on Saturday to a reporter that State Senator Joseph Cross was his personal choice for appointment as judge of the United States District Court, made vacant by the death of Andrew Kirkpatrick, but that the exigencies of Union County politics were such that he was not yet ready to join with Senator Dryden in recommending the appointment of Mr. Cross to President Roosevelt.

SNAP SHOTS.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has adopted a new method of paying rebate to passengers riding on limited trains that are late. The rule has been that the company guarantees the prompt arrival of these trains and in case of failure a forfeit of $1 for every hour the train is late is paid to passengers. It has been customary for the passengers to collect the rebate through the general passenger agent's office. Under the new arrangement every passenger on a belated train will be furnished by the conductor with a forfeit check specifying the amount of the forfeit to which he is entitled, somewhat similar to the excess fare check. These checks can be cashed at any ticket office of the company.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

Joe Cannon Doesn't Want Job.

Speaker Cannon notifies everybody that if they don't have a better job to offer him they may as well save their postage stamps. — New Brunswick Home News.

Honest and Trustworthy.

The Public Service Corporation has had spotters upon the trail of dishonest conductors and an arrest in Newark has developed some of the methods resorted to in order to beat the register. The number of conductors who indulge in petty thievery, it is admitted, is comparatively small when compared with the number employed. Considering their work and the temptations to which they are subjected, this admission is in itself a recognition of the trustworthiness and honest of the great majority of the conductors.—Hoboken Observer.

The New Flag Law.

It seems a long time since T. J. Carroll, Assemblyman from Hudson, introduced a flag bill that was a copy of a bill then pending at Albany. In fact most persons have doubtless forgotten the bill and the active effort that Carroll made to get it through during several sessions. Then Edgar Williams fell heir to it and had experience over it. Finally, after something like eight years of strenuous effort the bill was passed. Most of the patriotic organizations, from the G. A. R. down, favored it.

Now these patriotic orders find that they showed more zeal than discretion. They got more into the law than they wanted.

The Evening Journal advised the lawmakers who were interested in the bill that they should limit their objection to the use of the flag for advertising purposes and make it clear that it was desecration of the flag that was prohibited.

The Democratic opposition to the use of the flag in the McKinley and Hobart campaign was at the bottom of the movement in 1897, and the Journal suggested that the practice of attaching the names of political candidates to the outer edge of the flag should be recognized and permitted, but this was objected to and the bill was beaten regularly for a number of years. When it was finally passed and reached the statute book it was cumbered with verbiage and is, no doubt, unconstitutional. Until it is voided by the courts it must be obeyed, and as it stands it will not permit any lettering on the American flag. The G. A. R. posts which have inscriptions painted on their flags will have to leave them in the post rooms on Memorial Day and use flags which have no inscriptions.—Jersey City Journal.

Special Postage Stamps.

The Government has issued a special set of postage stamps, in five denominations, to commemorate the Louisiana Purchase of 1803, although there is no reference to the St. Louis Exposition. Their sale will stop on Dec. 1. The one-cent stamp, green, has the portrait of Robert R. Livingston, United States Minister to France, who conducted the negotiations for the purchase. The two-cent, red, has the portrait of Thomas Jefferson, who was then President of the United States. The three cent, purple, bears the portrait of James Monroe, who, as Special Ambassador to France was associated with Livingston in closing the negotiations. The five-cent, blue, has the portrait of President McKinley, because he approved the acts of Congress officially connecting the Government with the present Exposition. The ten-cent, brown, has an engraving of a United States map showing the territory purchased. The new stamps are of the same shape as the special delivery stamps, 3/8 inches long by 3/4 of an inch wide. They will not be issued in book form. This is the first time that the portrait of Washington has been omitted from any two-cent stamp since the rates for letter postage were reduced on Oct. 1, 1882. The head of Washington was then transferred from the three to the two, changing places with Jackson. —Paterson Daily Press.

Cross and Plainfield.

Senator Cross has not yet been formally offered the appointment as United States District Court judge, to succeed the late Andrew Kirkpatrick, and, therefore, he has neither accepted nor declined it, but there is now every reason to believe that he can have the position if he will accept it, and that he is very carefully and conscientiously considering the whole matter. Senators Kean and Dryden are both warm friends of Senator Cross and their influence will doubtless be exercised in his favor, if he concludes to round out his public life with this distinguished appointment.

Aside from the honors, emoluments and responsibilities of the office itself, however, there is the important factor of Union County politics entering into the question of acceptance, one that naturally has great weight in the mind of such a man as Senator Cross.

LAKE HOUSE NOW OPEN. JOHN H. TIER.

If he becomes the District Court judge he will have to resign as State Senator, and this will necessitate the election of a Senator in Union County next fall, for the unexpired term. Senator Cross has never given a pledge to vote for any man, but his relations to United States Senator Kean have ever been so warm and confidential and he has been so closely and actively allied with the Kean contingent in Union County politics that his vote next year in the Legislature has been considered as certain to be cast for Senator Kean when the latter is a candidate for re-election to the United States Senate.

Would an election for State Senator in Union County this year imperil Senator Kean's chances of re-election? Would the factional fight break out again? Would the Plainfield opponents of Senator Kean dig up the buried hatchets if they did not succeed in nominating one of their own men at the county convention? Undoubtedly Senator Cross is pondering over these questions and asking himself whether it is his duty to accept the new appointment, resign as Senator and throw Union County into a severe contest, or hold on to his present position to the end and avert the possible controversy and contest. — Newark Evening News.

AMUSEMENTS.

An unprecedented novelty in the vaudeville field and one of the biggest moves that has yet been made by F. F. Proctor is the engagement, for the appearance at both of his theatres, Proctor's 23d St., and Proctor's 5th Ave., of Charles Hawtrey, the famous English comedian, who has recently played so successfully in "The Man from Blankley's." Mr. Hawtrey some time ago had arranged to sail for England in time to reappear at the London St. James Theatre with his own company and under his own management in a brilliant revival of "A Message from Mars," but having all next week open he was induced by Mr. Proctor to accept an engagement, which will probably be the most unique ever played in New York vaudeville. Mr. Hawtrey will appear in a one-act comedietta running about thirty minutes, entitled "Time is Money."

Another of Sullivan, Harris & Woods' famous thrillers in the line of good melodrama is announced as the attraction at the Grand, this week. The offering this time is the much discussed play, "Wedded and Parted," which was written by Theodore Kremer, and which has achieved instantaneous success, playing to S. R. O. wherever presented. Sullivan, Harris & Woods are the largest producers of melodrama in the world, and they seem to have the happy faculty of almost invariably selecting dramas for production which meet with the hearty approval of the amusement loving public. It is promised that in this new production they will fully sustain their enviable reputation in this respect.

LITERARY.

A distinguished English critic, recently visiting an American publisher, picked up a copy of Ainslee's, and remarked: "There is one thing to be said about this magazine, and that is, when you see poetry in it it is sure to be real poetry, and not merely a filler." The readers of this very successful publication generally say the same thing about the balance of the contents. The June number for instance, has, as the complete novelette, a charming story by Archibald Eyre, author of "The Trifler." Mr. Eyre's new story is entitled "The Custodian" and, in point of interest, is equal to his best work.

It is by this quality, it seems to me, that New York society must be judged, and must stand or fall. We have here the very best. Be your taste for riches, or brains, or music, or books, or automobiles, or pictures, we have them all in a high degree of excellence. That is why our town is crowded with strangers. But we, or our circumstances, have made all these things difficult of access to the outsiders. That is why the outsider clamors against New York. We are, socially speaking, self-supporting. We often like strangers, but we can never need them. That is why we are called inhospitable. New York's best is very hard to get at and those who have missed it find comfort in telling each other that it does not exist.—From "The Social Side of New York," in the June Ainslee's.

Plainfield, N. J., May 16, 1904.

"If Cross is made judge, will there be trouble in Union County?" is a headline of the Elizabeth Daily Journal. Good idea to get some reliable information this time. During the last campaign the Journal treated the revolt as something insignificant until the returns were in.

Don't hesitate to quote a price simply because you know your competitors are selling the article at the same figure. Remember that the general public are not informed as to the prevailing prices in all the different stores, and if you advertise today certain canned goods at 10 cents a tin, how are they to know that your competitors don't charge 11 cents—or how would they know that the grocer in the next block only charged 9 cents, if he didn't happen to be advertising the same goods on the same day in the same medium?—W. Arthur Lydiatt, in New England grocer.

PITCHER WINS GAME FOR LOCAL AGGREGATION OF BALL TOSSERS.

Bunched hits and the good work done by Pitcher Whitley gave the victory to the Y. M. C. A. nine over the A. O. U. W. combination from Westfield, on the Mrytle avenue grounds Saturday afternoon. The score was 7 to 4.

Whitley unslung a fine chow-chow of twists. He mixed his balls so effectively that eleven batters made the short-cut to the bench. He was especially careful in delivering the goods when men perched on the bases, and his coolness blocked tallies at several stages of the game. Westfield did all her scoring in the second, third and fourth innings.

By the end of the fourth the score was tied, and it was anybody's game until the eighth. Then the Y. M. C. A. men fell on Ortlieb en masse and pulled in three more runs.

MIDDY'S SAD DROWNING.

Philip Brittingham of Wheeling Meets Death at Annapolis, Md.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 16.—Midshipman Philip Brittingham of Wheeling, W. Va., a member of the third class of the Naval academy, has been drowned about two miles off the Naval academy. The young man left the academy dock in a sailing launch with Midshipmen Anderson, Henderson, Towers and Stevenson, all of the third class. The boat was without centerboard or air tanks and, being caught by a strong gust of wind, capsized and sank immediately.

The five young men struggled in the water for about twenty minutes before succor reached them from another academy boat containing several other midshipmen. As the receding sailboat came near oars were thrown to the struggling men, but Midshipman Brittingham was unable to grasp his.

Midshipman C. T. Blackburn, who was in the second boat, plunged overboard and in his heroic attempt to rescue his drowning classmate was dragged under. Both came to the surface, and Midshipman R. R. Stewart bravely went to the assistance of Blackburn. Their combined efforts proved unavailing, and Brittingham sank in seventeen feet of water.

The other four midshipmen were picked up, and the rescuers dived overboard in repeated but unsuccessful efforts to find the body.

SWIFT LYNCH LAW.

Charles Cummings, a Negro, Hanged by Appling Mob.

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 16. — Charley Cummings, a negro, nineteen years old, was taken from jail at Appling, Columbia county, twenty miles from Augusta, shortly after 12 o'clock in the morning and hanged by a mob of seventy-five to 100 masked men. Early last week Cummings entered the room of a young lady living near Appling and attacked her. She managed to cry out, and Cummings fled.

A posse was organized in the neighborhood, and dogs tracked Cummings to his home. He denied all knowledge of the crime, but his shoes, that he had left under the young lady's window in his hurried departure, were produced, and he confessed. Lynching was narrowly averted at the time of the capture. The solicitor general of the Appling judicial circuit court hurried to the settlement where the crime was committed and guaranteed a speedy trial if the negro was not lynched. It was thought everything was satisfactorily arranged, and the early morning hanging was a great surprise.

Vancouver to Be Fortified.

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 16.—Vancouver harbor is to be fortified upon the recommendation of Lord Dundonald, general officer commanding the Canadian military, who inspected the port a few months ago and was struck with its lack of protection in case of war. The necessary guns have been ordered in England and will be delivered in Vancouver this summer. The fortifications will be located on Point Grey and Point Atkinson, the prominent and opposite points of land at the mouth of the harbor. Lord Dundonald says in the event of a war in India Vancouver will be an important base of supplies in transit to the orient.

Sutton's Bicentennial Services.

SUTTON, Mass., May 16.—Union bicentennial services commemorating the grant of land for the settlement of Sutton were held in all the churches and at Memorial hall yesterday. The celebration will continue three days. Tomorrow a monument to General Rufus Putnam, a native of Sutton, of Revolutionary fame, will be dedicated. On that day the principal speakers will be Senator Hoar, Governor Bates and Hon. William I. Mills of Marietta, O., official representative of that state, to speak of General Putnam as the father of Ohio. Secretary of War Taft, who was to speak, will be unable to attend on account of illness.

Body Revolved as a Roller.

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., May 16.—George Read and John Vail returned to South Orange on the last train, which reaches Mountain station at 1:18 o'clock. The train came up on track No. 3. There is a picket fence between tracks 2 and 3, and, not remembering this, Read got off on the wrong side and found himself jammed up against the fence. No one saw his predicament, and the train started. When the cars moved Read's body revolved like a roller between the cars and the fence. When the train had passed he fell to the ground, badly injured, and may die.

Cigarette Set Auto Ablaze.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., May 16.—The local fire department was called out here to extinguish a fire that threatened to destroy the big touring car of A. H. Chadbourne of Philadelphia. The machine had stopped at an automobile station to have the gasoline tank of the machine refilled. While this was being done a spark from a cigarette ignited the gasoline, and immediately the machine was ablaze. The automobile had to be left for repairs after the flames had been extinguished.

Bows Stove In by Ice.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 16.—With her bows stove by ice and her forepeak full of water the Norwegian steamer Verdande, Captain Olsen, from Newcastle, England, April 25, for Quebec, with a cargo of coal, has arrived at Sydney. While on the Newfoundland banks the steamer encountered immense ice fields and had five of her plates crushed. The Verdande passed through twenty-five miles of heavy drift ice.

LATEST RADIUM REPORT.

Capable of Charging Water with Radio-Activity—Opens Up Interesting Possibilities.

The latest marvel reported by the patient and ingenious students who are exploring the mysteries of radium comes from Ann Arbor, where a professor of the University of Michigan has found that by surrounding a little radium with pure water the fluid is soon charged with radio-activity to such an extent that it stops the pain of cancers almost instantly, and it seems to promise the healing of several cases which are being treated with water so energized. Obviously, it is too early to make very positive claims for radium as a curative agency, but the indications are very auspicious.

The certainty is that radium is so different from other substances and other forces that accepted views of the physical world must be revised, and unknown and unmeasured possibilities are larger and more impressive than they seemed not many months since, in the eye of science. What has been learned of radium is simply enough to prove that very little is yet understood of the earth beneath our feet.

We are still only experimenters, touching the dim edges of momentous truths. Every point of vantage gained widens the fields yet to be won.

Here's a New One.

A new swindle is being worked by a pair of strangers in southern Michigan, according to the Auburn (Ind.) Dispatch. A stranger appears on the road apparently searching for a lost valuable diamond ring, but leaves after getting some responsible person interested, offering $100 for the return of the ring. Soon after his departure a tramp appears and picks up what appears to be the missing ring. The person who has been offered $100 reward for its return sees an opportunity to make a stake by giving the tramp a liberal sum for it, but fails to find the owner. He then consults a diamond expert and learns that the sparkler is worth about 15 cents.

A Japanese Holiday.

Most of the people one meets on the Japanese New Year day are carrying a squashed salmon, with a piece of paper tied round its waist by a paper string which holds a little gold paper kite. That kite means that the thing is a present and has not to be paid for. Those who are not carrying crushed salmon or taking up the street in giving correct New Year's salutations are playing battledore and shuttlecock.

MIGRATE LIKE THE BIRDS.

Educational Institution in the North Allows Its Students to Study in the Sunny South.

Competition is so keen and educational opportunities so numerous that all sorts of inducements are held out by the various institutions to win students to their respective ranks, but it has remained for one of the foremost universities of the north to formula a plan whereby students may work under continually sunny conditions, says the New York Herald.

Under this system students may receive credit for work accomplished in a small institution in the far south, the same as if done in the large northern university. So that a student matriculating in the fall quarter in the north may spend the winter quarter in the sunny south and then return for the spring quarter to the north, migrating with the birds, as it were.

The same method holds with some of the instructors. Even the catalogue of the southern university advises students to furnish themselves with fishing tackle and guns, as outdoor sports are most heartily encouraged. Is not this making education come easy?

HUGE SEA PIE.

Formed a Tempting Dinner for Sixty Men at Yarmouth and Weighed 168 Pounds.

The fishing town of Yarmouth, which originated the sprat banquet, and the bloater feast, reestablished its title to gastronomic renown recently by a sea pie dinner. Sixty men dined sumptuously off a giant pie weighing 168 pounds.

It was a four-decker, the keel of which was laid with beef bones, the triple bulk-headings were of short crust, the bunkers were filled with beefsteak and ox kidneys, and the holds stowed with meat and vegetables. The hull, of short crust, took a stone and a half of flour, and the vegetables comprised onions, carrots, turnips and potatoes.

Three expert carvers were engaged in dividing the immense confection, which took nine hours to boil, and which was served steaming hot.

After it was served to the 60 men who sat down to it the remains were distributed among the poor.

DUNELLEN.

A large number of boroughites had a scare and a run all for nothing on Saturday afternoon when the fire bell was sounded. There were about 250 spectators at the ball game and they all made a grand rush for the fire which proved to be at the home of John Blaine on Grove street, the shingle roof having caught fire from the sparks of a passing locomotive. Firemen Apgar and Dodwell rushed up a ladder and before the hose could be connected with the hydrant they had the fire under control, and then there was another grand rush, but this time it was for the ball grounds instead of a fire.

It's splendid for chapped hands and skin; sore, blistered and perspiring feet; sun burns, etc. Also excellent to use after shaving.

JAP SHIP TORPEDOED

Russians Claim Naval Success at Talienwan Bay.

NAPHTHA LAUNCH ATTACKED CRUISER

Flames Enveloped War Vessel After Explosion—Towed Out by Sister Ship—Chinese Irregulars Giving Russians Trouble.

LONDON, May 16. — Advices from Liaoyang says the Russian fleet has scored its first distinct naval success of the war by torpedoing and crippling, though not the sinking, of an armored Japanese cruiser in Talienwan bay.

The Russian attack was carefully planned and carried out while the Japanese squadron was concentrated outside Dalny devoting its whole attention to Talienwan bay.

The attacking vessel was not a regular torpedo boat, but was only a small naphtha launch in command of a young naval officer, who had with him three jackies. The launch mounted a small machine gun and carried three torpedoes.

When darkness fell, the launch crept out of Port Arthur, hugging the shore, with no lights aboard and no glow from the engines to betray her presence. It was late when the launch gained the outer line of the Japanese squadron. She slipped through the torpedo boat pickets, and, selecting the nearest warship, a big armored cruiser, she stole toward her and succeeded in exploding against her side a single torpedo. A deafening roar followed the explosion, which echoed far ashore. Immediately flames enveloped the cruiser, which evidently was badly crippled.

The crew of the cruiser was seen to be fighting the fire, which they at last succeeded in extinguishing. A sister ship took the damaged vessel in tow and disappeared to the southeast.

The launch escaped the hot fire directed against her by the Japanese ships; but, being unable to return to Port Arthur or to get into Dalny, she was beached not far from Dalny.

Only a few of the higher officers were aware of the plan, the success of which depended upon secrecy. The achievement raised the spirits of the Russians afloat and ashore, and the young naval officer who was the hero of the exploit was feted and recommended for the Cross of St. George.

The Russians, apprehending that the presence of a Japanese squadron meant an attempt to capture Dalny, blew up the piers and quietly evacuated the place.

Two thousand Japanese have reoccupied the road to Sanchilipu, again cutting off Port Arthur. A strong force is advancing against Polandien.

Major General Karkevitch reports that the Chinese attacked his outposts on the Fengwangcheng road leading to Saimatsi and that a strong band of Chinese brigands has been sighted near the station at Yantai.

General Pflug telegraphs that, according to reports of patrols and missionaries, the Chinese at Tapadziatsi, 160 miles northwest of Mukden and just outside the Russian sphere of influence, are preparing to rise against the Russians and Christians generally.

Advices from St. Petersburg say the emperor has received the following report from Viceroy Alexeieff:

"I beg respectfully to communicate to your majesty a report from Rear Admiral Wittsoeft on the state of affairs at Port Arthur. The report was brought by an express runner from Dachichao station on the eve of the second interruption of communications by the enemy. It follows:

"The enemy's squadron, composed of ironclads, cruisers and torpedo boats, has appeared off Port Arthur and continues to blockade without undertaking active operations.

"The work of repairing the ironclads Cezarevitch and Retvizan is proceeding with unabated energy and with every success.

"During an examination of the roadstead and fairway at the spot where the battleship Pobieda was damaged by a mine we found one of the enemy's defense mines, which had been exploded by the force of the hurricane.

"A detachment of nearly a thousand Japanese has advanced seven miles north of Polandien. Another detachment of 300 infantry and half a squadron of cavalry has also advanced by a flanking movement to Wafantien.

"The troops guarding the frontier are slowly retiring northward, holding the enemy.

"On Friday a force of 300 Chinese bandits attacked the mine at Yantai. The bandits were repelled by a sotnia of the frontier guards and a company of infantry, losing thirty men. They retired in the direction of Liaoyang and a detachment of chasseurs was sent in pursuit.

"Measures are being taken to clear this district of Chinese bandits.

"The enemy's scouts have appeared about nineteen miles southeast of Maotien pass.

"All is quiet on the road from Siuyen to the pass.

"A reconnoissance to Chingtaitsze did not discover any considerable number of the enemy.

"The enemy's advance guard has reached Touintsou, on the road between Fengwangcheng and Liaoyang. Our two sotnias of Cossacks retired toward the village of Kantsaendiantig."

Our Cruiser on Guard at Chefu.

CHEFU, May 15.—The United States cruiser New Orleans, with Rear Admiral Stirling on board, has arrived here from Shanghai. The cruiser is at Chefu in accordance with a recent order from Washington to Rear Admiral Cooper, commander in chief of the Asiatic squadron. Owing to the danger threatening Newchwang from hordes of bandits, who are awaiting the departure of the Russians to begin depredations, it was deemed advisable to protect American and other foreign interests until the Japanese arrive. In view of the previous order that no ships should come north of Shanghai the movement of the New Orleans is considered significant here. One interpretation of the arrival of the cruiser is that the United States will insist upon the neutrality of Newchwang when the Russians evacuate that place.

CHINESE BANDITS ARE ALLIES.

Two Japanese Officers Retaken In Outlaws' Camp.

LIAOYANG, May 15.—Chinese bandits are becoming bolder and are causing considerable trouble to the Russian outposts. A swarm of the bandits have attacked the coal mines on the branch line east of Yantai station, ten miles north of Liaoyang. The mines, which supply the whole railroad, were guarded by 200 riflemen and 100 Cossacks. In a fierce fight the Russians repelled the bandits and then charged them, the bandits fleeing to the hills and to three neighboring villages. The troops surrounded the villages and demanded the surrender of the bandits. The surrender was at first refused, but fearing that the Russians would destroy their homes the villagers finally revealed the hiding places of the fugitives. The bandits fought with the desperation of entrapped rats, and fifty of them were speared and killed. The Russians suffered no loss.

Among seventeen prisoners taken by the troops were two Japanese officers who had escaped from the Russians. One of the bandits taken prisoner confessed that the bandits had been hired by the Japanese, whom they were supplying with information.

CHINESE NEUTRALITY.

Dynasty Would Jeopardize the Throne by Assisting Japan.

BERLIN, May 16.—The German foreign office has been informed that China will not venture to infringe the neutrality as, owing to the distinct intimation from all the powers, the dynasty would be jeopardized by such infringement.

It is believed that Japan would be embarrassed by the open assistance of China, since Europe would hold Japan responsible for the consequences. The German foreign office claims, it is said, to have inspired the United States to propose the neutralization of China.

What Victory For Japan Means.

CHICAGO, May 16.—All the states of the middle west, especially Indiana, Missouri, Texas, Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee, were represented at the first session of the twenty-fourth annual convention of the Cumberland Presbyterian Missionary Women's societies, which has opened here. The annual sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. W. L. Darby of Kirksville, Mo., who spoke on "The Greatest War In the World." The speaker declared that a victory for Japan would mean more for Christianity and civilization, because her strides in civilization are longer and surer than those of Russia. The unexpected military power displayed by Japan, he declared, was indirectly the fruit of the civilization that has crept into the little empire through the efforts of American missionaries.

Dr. Wentz Did Not Impugn Jury.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 16. — A special from Bristol, Tenn., says: "The coroner's jury which rendered a verdict of accidental shooting in the case of Edward L. Wentz, whose dead body was found in Wise county, Va., several days ago, has received a reply from Dr. Wentz regarding an alleged charge made in relation to the finding of the body. Dr. Wentz makes due apology to the jury, declaring that he did not use such terms as were credited to him in some newspaper dispatches. Dr. Wentz was credited with intimating that the verdict was intended to shield the murderers of his son, who were friends of the jury. None stand better in Wise county than the men who served on the Wentz jury of inquiry."

Bold Break For Liberty.

ROANOKE, Va., May 16.—At Abington, Va., when Jailer Newton entered the Washington county jail to release a prisoner whose term had expired he was seized by three other prisoners and knocked down. One of the assailants, a negro, held Newton while another negro and a white man escaped. The third man released his grasp on the jailer and made a dash for liberty, but Newton regained his feet and fired at the man as he was going down the stairs. The bullet took effect in the negro's head, making a dangerous wound. All the men were later recaptured.

Smallpox In Leominster.

LEOMINSTER, Mass., May 16.—The fourth case of smallpox in two weeks was noted in Leominster when Alida Sicard, four years old, was taken to the pesthouse from a block at the corner of White and Spruce streets. The shirt factory of Cluett, Peabody & Co., where more than 300 are employed, has been fumigated, as one of the smallpox victims now in the pesthouse had been employed there. The board of health is fearful of an extensive epidemic.

New Triple Alliance.

BELGRADE, Servia, May 16.—King Peter of Servia and Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria have met at Nish. Political circles expect that the meeting of the two rulers will result in a new triple alliance, that of Servia, Bulgaria and Montenegro, for the purpose of safeguarding the Balkan states against foreign invasion.

CHILDREN IN APARTMENTS.

How They Beguile the Time In Their Awfully Cramped Quarters.

"Hello! Oh, hello! Oh, I say, I didn't know it was you, Tom! It isn't Tom? You will do just as well? Oh, what do you think us telephone girls are like anyway? What was I going to say to Tom? Well, if you want to be so smart, I was going to hint it was about time he took me to the theater again. Why can't you? Oh, well, the idea! I don't care if I have a sweet voice. Ring off! Ring off! Well, then, call me up in another hour. Perhaps I'll tell you what I think."

This airy persiflage and much more of the same variety of coy flirtation your little Mary hears as she hangs around the telephone operator's booth, watching with fascinated eyes that pert young person as she chews gum and answers the impatient rings of the people in the hotel—when she gets ready, and not before.

And why should little Mary be hanging around the said booth, absorbing knowledge before her time like a thirsty little sponge? Oh, because poor little Mary is an apartment house child and must romp and play where she can and not where it is best for her. Upstairs in the tiny two room and bath luxury of a suit father and mother are entertaining a couple of callers, and they have told little Mary to run along and play.

And where is little James? I'm afraid James will have trouble later on. At present he is luxuriating in a smutty face, not to speak of incrusted hands and clothes, and he is learning to run the furnace from his dear friend the engineer downstairs.

And what about Tom? Oh, Tom and Jack—Jack is the angel faced son of the angel faced little widow on the tenth floor—are running or trying to run the elevator in spite of the frantic efforts of the elevator man, who puts them off at every floor only to have them spring back again before he can close the doors.

And that's about child life in one of the big apartment hotels, varied by pink sashes and blue bows for the little girls in the evening and ridiculous stiff juvenile evening dress for the small men. And they go parading sedately through the parlors, a very good take-off of their elders.

But by day the chambermaid, the elevator man, the telephone girl, the engineer and even the ashman are their boon companions in the long intervals when nurse is doing lady's maid's work for mother and mother herself is far too busy (?) to attend to them. MABEL CREIGHTON.

THE SUMMER COTTAGE.

How to Furnish Its Living Room In an Attractive Manner.

The summer cottage often has but one large ground floor room, which serves the general purpose of "living room."

It contains a desk, easy chairs, a big fireplace and a table on which if desired the meals can be served.

The illustration gives a very fair idea of a room of this sort. The walls are plastered in a greenish gray tone, and the woodwork is of pine stained and varnished. The fireplace is of brick, with brass andirons. Over the fireplace there is a wide shelf, which contains odds and ends of china.

The desk is of oak, and so are the tables and chairs. A note of color is brought in by the framed prints on the walls and also by the carpet, which is a deep red. R. DE LA BAUME.

CONVENTION ENDED

Great Gathering of Y. M. C. A. of North America at Buffalo.

ORGANIZATION ENCIRCLES THE EARTH

Miss Helen Gould Read Day Lesson. Foreign Work Was Evening Topic—China, India, Brazil and Mexico Heard From.

BUFFALO, May 16.—Two mass meetings, one for women and the other for men, services in several churches and an evening meeting at City Convention hall yesterday ended the thirty-fifth international convention of the Y. M. C. A. of North America. The mass meeting for women was held at Central Presbyterian church. Miss Helen M. Gould read the lesson of the day. W. M. Danner, general secretary of the association's health farm at Denver, told of the benefits of the health farm, where young men in search of health are helped to pass the time in pleasant companionship. John F. Moore, railroad secretary of the international committee, described the dangers, moral and physical, which beset railroad men and the work of the Y. M. C. A. in offsetting those dangers.

W. B. Miller, army and navy secretary, told about some of the work in his department, and at the close of his address several bluejackets from the U. S. S. Massachusetts came upon the stage and spoke for themselves.

Each was emphatic in praise of the influence of the Y. M. C. A. Frederick B. Smith, the evangelist, addressed the men at Convention hall.

"Foreign Work" was the topic for consideration at the evening meeting at City Convention hall. The subject was presented by the following secretaries of the international committee: F. S. Brockman of China, Galen M. Fisher of Japan, E. C. Carter of India, G. Sherwood Eddy of India, George Benton Smith of India, Myron A. Clark of Brazil and G. I. Babcock of Mexico.

BALTIMORE SURPRISED.

Mayor McLane Slyly Weds at the National Capital.

BALTIMORE, May 16.—Robert M. McLane, mayor of Baltimore, who was highly praised for his pluck and ability in grasping the situation at the time of Baltimore's great peril, has surprised his official associates and friends by slipping over to Washington and getting married. The bride, formerly Miss Lusby and the widow of Dr. John Van Bibber, is one of the most beautiful women in Baltimore.

For years she has been a leader in society here and at Narragansett Pier during the season. The mayor is about thirty-six and the bride forty-two years of age. The mayor belongs to a prominent family. His uncle, the late Robert McLane, was minister to France, Democratic floor leader of the house and governor of Maryland.

For a long time the mayor had been attentive to Mrs. Van Bibber, but their engagement had not been announced, and society is as much surprised as are the mayor's official associates.

Even Acting Mayor Timanus had no idea of the real cause for the mayor's absence and was greatly surprised to learn of the marriage. He supposed the mayor was in New York on business.

Baptist Convention Opens.

CLEVELAND, O., May 16.—The annual convention of the Baptists from all the northern states has opened here and will continue until Tuesday, May 24. The gathering is one of the most important and largely attended religious conventions ever held. The headquarters are at the Euclid Avenue Baptist church, and mass meetings are also held at the Grays' armory. Two thousand persons are attending the public sessions. The convention will be given up to the reports and discussions of the several organizations within the church proper—namely, Women's Home Mission society, Missionary union, Publication society, general committee on Christian stewardship, Historical society, Young People's union, Home Mission society. The annual missionary sermon will be delivered by T. J. Villiers, D. D., of Indiana.

Kaiser Sends Francis Best Wishes.

ST. LOUIS, May 16.—The following cablegram written in the first person by Emperor William of Germany has been received by President Francis of the St. Louis fair: "It gives me great satisfaction to hear by your kind telegram that the German section of the international exhibition has been finished in time and that my commissioner general and all his staff have shown themselves alive to the great importance of their task. Accept my best wishes for the success of your great world's fair, which I am sure will contribute to the strengthening of international peace through the facilities it offers to the competing nations for mutual study." The cable was in answer to one sent by President Francis after an inspection of the German educational exhibit.

Holy War Against Britain.

GYANGTSE, Tibet, May 16.—The country in front of the mission is in a ferment. The lamas, like the mullahs on the Patuan frontier, are going from valley to valley preaching a holy war. Two thousand Khamba warriors are marching to join the army in the Gyangtse fort. The bombardment of the British camp continues. The Tibetans have found the range of every building in the camp, but the British are all well under cover, and communications with the rear are still open.

Weather Probabilities.

Fair and warmer; northwest winds.

SPRINGFIELD DEADLOCK.

Indications Point to Another Day of Useless Balloting.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 16.—Indications look toward another day of fruitless balloting before the gubernatorial deadlock in the Republican state convention is broken. It is quite possible that a break will come early, but the developments do not justify any such prediction. It is known definitely that desperate efforts are being made to take from the Yates column enough delegates to nominate Lowden on an early ballot. It is reported that the Will county delegation will go to Lowden on the first ballot. This, however, although emanating from a Will county delegate, is received skeptically. After the failure of the attempted stampede to Lowden, started by DeKalb county, it is thought probable that Lowden will not permit any of the counties which he may secure to vote for him until he feels confident of having enough to nominate, for the moment Yates' counties begin going to Lowden the remaining Yates men may be expected to go to Deneen or the Deneen men will go to Yates. There is now no probability that a "dark horse" will be chosen. The choice is generally regarded as being between Yates, Lowden and Deneen.

CHAINED TO EARTH.

Cleveland Fell an Easy Victim to the Highlanders.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Farewell to Lajoie and his unfortunate baseball outfit. The Highlanders put a hardwood polish on Rhoades' curves at American League park, and the visitors were rolled in the dust to the merry tune of 10 to 1. Their humiliation was accomplished before a crowd of fully 12,000 enthusiasts, the greatest gathering since the opening day.

Griffith's men were all sand and gumption, and they didn't scare for a little bit, even when it looked for a time as if the mighty Chesbro was about to go soaring into the empyrean. Jim McGuire chained him to earth, however, and the big fellow improved steadily right down to the satisfactory finish.

Norman Elberfield, who fielded his position like a cat around a rat's nest and batted like a whirlwind, was the bright particular star of the New York team. The crowd was with him to a man, and the game little short fielder ought to have played bareheaded, so frequently was he required to remove his cap.

Thoney, too, was a hero, the youngster pulling Chesbro out of about the meanest nerve racking experience a pitcher can face.

Heavy Hitting Won.

CINCINNATI, May 16.—In the presence of 21,000 people the Cincinnatis defeated the New Yorks in their last game of the present series. The heavy hitting of the locals was responsible for their overwhelming victory. Taylor was relieved by Milligan in the latter half of the second inning. Hertes and Kelley were put out of the game for disputing decisions. McGraw and Schlei being their respective successors. Score, 13 to 2.

Chicago Downs the Quakers.

CHICAGO, May 16.—A base on balls, followed by two singles and a double, scored three of the locals' runs and two singles and an error their last one. Philadelphia's only runs were the result of an error and two singles. Brown's pitching was excellent, and both Evers and Tinker pulled off some sensational plays. Score, 4 to 2.

Harvard Had an Easy Victory.

PHILADELPHIA, May 16. — Pennsylvania's inability to hit Clarkson's delivery gave Harvard an easy victory. Devlin, who did the twirling for the home team, was batted all over the field, and his support was ragged, while Clarkson was backed up in splendid style. Score, 11 to 8.

Close Battle at Fair City.

ST. LOUIS, May 16.—St. Louis lost the final game of the series with Boston by a score of 1 to 0. A feature was the pitching battle between McFarland and Fisher.

Buffalo, 6; Newark, 4.

NEWARK, N. J., May 16.—In a close game here Buffalo defeated the local team by a score of 6 to 4.

Hung Beside the Bells.

CHICAGO, May 16.—The dead body of a man dangling at the end of a rope in the belfry of the Emmanuel Baptist church here was the grewsome sight that met the eyes of the congregation as they assembled for the morning's service yesterday. In one of the pockets of the dead man's coat a memorandum book was found bearing the name and address of William Johnson, 2233 Webster avenue, Pittsburg. Written on a fly leaf of the book were the following words: "Well, I see that nothing but my death will satisfy the outraged public. Therefore I will give it, but I will be my own executioner."

Tube Workers to Strike.

SOMERVILLE, Mass., May 16.—The 600 employees of the American Tube works of this city will strike tomorrow morning unless the company concedes the recently made demand for an increase of a dollar a week in their wages. This action was decided upon at a meeting of the men. A request for the advance was made on May 2 and formally refused by the company. The men are members of local union No. 5 of the International Association of Tube Workers of America.

Moody and Party at Port Eads.

PORT EADS, La., May 16.—The United States dispatch boat Dolphin, with Secretary Moody and party on board, has arrived from Mobile.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,

14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

Niagara, Lockport and Ontario Power Company Out.

GOVERNOR ODELL GIVES REASONS WHY

Beauty of Niagara Cascade In Danger—Summarized History of Corporation Since 1894 Showed Benefits Problematical.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 16.—Governor Odell last night gave out his memorandum explaining his disapproval of the bill of Assemblyman Thompson extending the time for beginning work by and also enlarging the scope and powers of the Niagara, Lockport and Ontario Power company. The veto was fully expected.

In his memorandum the governor says that, while the bill is desired by the immediate locality concerned, he is convinced that throughout the state it is almost universally disapproved. He summarizes the history of the corporation since 1894, when the company was chartered by special act "to furnish pure and wholesome water for domestic purposes to the city of Lockport as well as to generate and sell electricity in the counties of Niagara, Orleans and Erie," and remarks that the time in which work was to have begun has about elapsed "without advantage having been taken of the valuable rights conferred by the original act." It is now proposed, he points out, to eliminate the water supply feature and extend to all the counties of the state the right to sell electric and hydraulic power, with very broad powers of condemnation and few restrictions or safeguards and without in any way exacting compensation. There is nothing, he says, to prevent the sale of this charter to a competing company, and therefore competition is not assured. "The benefits are problematical."

"The plea that other corporations are enjoying similar privileges to those which this bill seeks to bestow is no justification," the governor says, "for the continuance of policies which dissipate the rights of either the state or the municipality. That governmental policy which does not respect the expressed will of our citizens in relation to both safeguarding their rights and exacting compensation for them is sure to meet with just criticism and disapproval. That these privileges are valuable is beyond question, and that the state has the right to demand a proper recompense for them, therefore, should never be lost sight of. That this proposed act does not take cognizance of these facts makes it, in my mind, undesirable legislation."

Governor Odell calls attention then to the widespread solicitude expressed in protests from all over the Union as to peril to the beauty of Niagara falls. On the question of threatened danger to the falls, he says, there is wide difference of opinion. "If the result, however, would be less harmful," says the governor, "than those who seek for the preservation of the falls believe, it certainly would lead or rather be an excuse for other companies that would in the end produce the results which are feared. However much we may discount and deprecate the interference of the sentimental with the practical in life, we cannot get away from the fact that this sentiment is not one of retrogression, but of constant progression in civilized life. There is due to it, therefore, the same consideration which should be given to all practical affairs of life. This seems to me to be a second and fully as important a reason for objection to approval of this measure.

"The legislature should protect the falls rather than increase the menace to which I have referred by restricting those corporations which are already in possession by compelling the removal of obstructions and unsightly structures which mar the beauty of Niagara."

Governor Odell has signed the Smith bill prohibiting New York city from taking water from Wappinger and Fishkill creeks in Dutchess county.

In a statement which the governor has issued giving his reasons he says he is willing to call an extra session of the legislature to meet the water situation for New York city. The governor first recites the provisions under which New York city is authorized to condemn land and water rights in the various counties of the state.

He shows that the effect in Dutchess county of such proceedings would be to destroy manufacturing establishments in Wappinger Falls and Fishkill, which support directly and indirectly a population of about 14,000 inhabitants.

FOREIGN WARES IN CHINA.

Asiatics Are No Longer Content with the Simple Surroundings of Their Ancestors.

The Chinese peasant is no longer content to burn bean oil, says Arthur Judson Brown, in the Century; he wants kerosene. In scores of humble Laos homes I saw American lamps costing 20 rupees apiece, and a magistrate proudly showed me a collection of 19 of these shining articles. The narrow streets of Canton are brilliant with German and American chandeliers, and myriads of private houses throughout the empire are lighted by foreign lamps. The desire of the Asiatic to possess foreign lamps is equaled only by his passion for foreign clocks. The demand for clocks is insatiable. I counted 27 in the private apartments of the emperor of China, and my wife 19 in the bedroom of the empress dowager, while cheaper ones tick to the delighted wonder of myriads of humbler people. The ambitious Syrian scorns the mud roof of his ancestors, and will be satisfied only with the bright tiles imported from France.

Danger of Cremation.

Dr. Braunstein, of Wepperfurth, according to the London Mail, has been arrested on a charge of murdering his wife, whose body was cremated by his instructions. In November the doctor married a lady in Halle, her fortune amounting to £7,500 in ready money. Immediately after the wedding the couple left Halle for a trip abroad, and shortly afterward news was received that the bride had died suddenly. Suspicion was aroused, and the doctor is now accused of poisoning his wife. Owing to the cremation of the remains, however, there is no possibility of the body being examined for traces of poison, and the charge being thus either substantiated or refuted.

Our Exports.

The value of the exports of the whole country in 1903 was 58 per cent. greater than in 1883; but the gain in New York was only 31 per cent., and the gain at New Orleans was 69 per cent., at Galveston 239 per cent., and at Mobile 422 per cent.

NELSONS TO GET $2,500,000

IN ADDITION, MRS. NELSON WILL GET DAUGHTER'S PERSONAL EFFECTS.

In a formal statement Mrs. Joshua Leonard, of Caldwell, says that the total amount to be paid over to her mother, Mrs. Hannah Nelson, and her heirs, by the defendants in the Fair will contest as a provision of the final settlement, will be $2,500,000. In addition to this the personal effects of Mrs. Fair are to go to Mrs. Nelson, and all expenses are to be paid by the defendants. This sum exceeds all previous reports by $1,000,000.

A correction of the reported amount to Mrs. Nelson and her children by the California settlement was given, showing that $150,000 had been paid in all, instead of $125,000.

Mrs. Hannah Nelson is an aged invalid. The other night she was at the point of death. Her condition today is slightly improved. Her heirs are Charles J. Smith, of Boulder, Col.; W. B. Smith, of New Market; Abraham Nelson, of New Market; Mrs. Laura Leonard, of Caldwell; Mrs. Elizabeth Bunnell, of Union, and Frank Smith, who is missing. In the event of Mrs. Nelson's death, which cannot be distant, the division of the whole amount will be equal among the six children or their natural heirs.

MILITARY OFFICER SCORES LEGISLATURE

Lieut.-Col. J. F. Clime Makes Charges Against Lawmakers in Speech at Co. K Banquet.

ATTACKS SWACKHAMER

CAPT. WILLIAM B. MARTIN TELLS OF COMPANY'S HISTORY.

Rev. Dr. Glazebrook Speaks on True Principles — President of Council Ralph I. Tolles and Others Make Remarks.

Amid the plaudits of officers, honorary members and invited guests, including representatives of the city government, Co. K held its third annual banquet, last night. The militia's new armory for this city was given another boom and prominent citizens renewed their pledge to do all in their power to help the movement along. Prior to the banquet the members met in their armory on West Front street and held a short drill. There was a full representation and the boys did creditable work.

Captain W. B. Martin, of Co. K, presided at the banquet and acted as toastmaster. He gave a brief history of the organization from its birth on February 27, 1901, with Captain Browning in command. On April 30, 1902, Lieut. J. P. Mosher resigned and on October 6, the same year, the captain resigned. At that time the company had 71.9 per cent. in figure of merit, the best in the regiment being 79. The company now has sixty-five members, eight new recruits being received last night. The average attendance at drills during April was 52. In 1902 the company stood first in rifle practice. On November 5, 1902, the present commandant was chosen and despite the increased qualifications, the company qualified twenty-seven men on the State range. In 1903 five per cent. was gained in figure of merit and an average of 76.5 secured.

The captain then spoke of the organization being chased about from one place to another, owing to the want of a regular drill hall. He said the present quarters are quite satisfactory although the company would like an armory. At the fair held during the winter, Captain Martin said the members made enough to pay their rent for a year, but how much more he would not say.

In 1902 3 the Company qualified at rifle practice in the Newark armory range. Now the company has its own range for practice.

Lieut.-Col. J. F. Clime, of Burlington, was then introduced and he gave one of the most interesting talks of the evening, taking occasion to criticise the New Jersey Legislators for their action in defeating the Dick bill. After paying a compliment to Former Captain Browning, in which he said that he had only one fault, that of wanting to learn all there is to be known about military affairs in one hour, he turned his attention to the Legislators.

He characterized the National Guard as a misnomer and not recognized by the Government. He spoke of the effort being made to secure this recognition and have the Government assume control, but when the National Guard bumps up against the New Jersey Legislature it always suffers. He said that while wearing a uniform his utterances might be considered treason, but he claimed to have a right to an opinion. He declared that the legislators had crippled the Government through its militia in trying to secure votes for themselves and he believed the time had come to retire such men; men who would sacrifice the Government's interest for their own.

Indirectly Col. Clime then referred to the Assemblyman from North Plainfield and said that after his actions at Trenton regarding the militia, he ought not to belong to New Jersey. He condemned his patriotism which led him to fear that the Dick bill would turn every male citizen of the State, 18 years and over into a soldier.

The speaker said that while the Dick bill was defeated, the Assemblyman from Somerset does not know enough to know that his efforts amounted to naught. He said the National Guard is here to stay. "It necessary the officers can buy their own uniforms," declared Col. Clime. "They can go down in their pockets the same as before. Let some of these Legislators who are as narrow as a

Aldrich; Peter, Dudley Strong; Luran, Ethel Murry; Cornelius, Joseph Gavett; Peoria, Bertha Hill; Kitty, Margaret Demarest; Clement, Milton St. John; Elly, Eva Rogers; Larry, George Rittenhouse; Maid, Antoinette Aalholm.

SUPERB SYMPHONY CONCERT

ENTHUSIATIC APPLAUSE OVER THE RENDITION OF A FINE PROGRRAMME.

"High-class," was the verdict of the packed house at the first public rehearsal of the Y. M. C. A. Symphony Club in Y. M. C. A. Hall last night; and this was true, not only of the music chosen for the programme but of the manner in which it was executed, and no less true of the elocutionary work of Miss Aimee Louise Emmons.

The pieces receiving the most flattering reception were the cornet and trombone duett "Miserere," rendered by Whitney Frazee and Conductor C. K. Shupp.

The humorous reading, "Her First Visit to the Butcher Shop," by Miss Emmons, was enthusiastically received as was her number in the second part of the programme, "A Telephone Romance." That most difficult task of putting life and "go" into a conversation with an invisible personage whose replies are not included even by repetition, in the lines spoken, was performed by her in a manner which compares favorably with the interpretation given the same piece by an entertainer in one of this season's Star Course entertainments.

A violin solo, Gabriel Marie's "Romance" was artistically rendered by B. A. Paroubek, who was applauded loudly. In fact all the musical numbers were commended highly and the Club is sure of a most respectful hearing at any time from the music-lovers of Plainfield.

Moody on the Trusts.

To the thinking man who desires to master the subject without being handicapped and confused by the partisanship usually exhibited by the writers on such topics, the new book by John Moody, "The Truth About the Trusts," will appeal most keenly. No other work on the subject contains so much detailed information so readily accesible and so simply arranged. In a review of the work, the New York Sun says: "This is no polemical tract, but a book of reference, replete with valuable information put in an intelligible and attractive manner." Mr. Moody, who is a resident of Cranford, is the editor of "Moody's Manual of Corporation Securities."

From Middlesex County.

Congratulations are due the Plainfield Daily Press on the completion of its seventeenth year. The Newark Advertiser says that a daily paper than can make it go in a town the size of Plainfield so near big cities, for that many years, possesses lasting qualities and has surely earned success. The Press attributes its achievements to taking care of home interests, furnishing the people of Plainfield and vicinity with all the news of home and not seeking to compete with the metropolitan dailies in the news of the world, which indicates wisdom.—Perth Amboy Chronicle.

An Improved Turn-Table.

The old turn-table at the Dunellen round-house of the Jersey Central will be transferred to the terminus of the Rockaway Valley Railroad at Morristown, and in its place the Central will install a heavier table which will be operated by electric motors. Heavier locomotives necessitate this change.

Tennis Club's Opening.

No play was had on the Cedar Brook Tennis Club's courts Saturday as the work on them is not quite completed. The club hopes to open the season next Saturday if the weather proves favorable.

MONDAY AFTERNOON CLUB CLOSES SEASON

F. H. Smith Enraptures An Audience by Describing the Quality of the Picturesque.

GREAT WORD PAINTER

THE MONOTONY OF BEAUTY'S STRAIGHT LINES AND REGULARITY.

Discription of Mexican Waterways — Lecturer's Charming Style—Picture Scenes Abroad.

Only a literary artist like F. Hopkinson Smith could paint the vivid word pictures that fascinated a large audience at the Casino yesterday afternoon, when he delivered his lecture on "The Quality of the Picturesque," before the Monday Afternoon Club. With inimitable charm and quaint fancy, Mr. Smith describes artistic sight, often unseen by other eyes, and his graphic language has the power of bringing the scenes vividly before his hearers.

The speaker prefaced his remarks with the statement that the quality of picturesque was like a subtle aroma not to be measured with geometrical rule, and every law that governed the beautiful was violated in the picturesque. Beauty, he declared, became monotonous with its order and regularity.

The lecturer claimed that nature's abhorrence of a vacuum was nothing like her detestation of a straight line, and nature was always interrupting and breaking up these set lines by the picturesque.

The description of the Mexican water ways by this skilful word painter was a fascinating study and his sketch of a bronze goddess who guided her boat and sold fruit and flowers, called forth enthusiastic applause.

From a nearby picturesque scene on the Hariem river all sunshine and shimmer, as delightful as a Holland canal, Mr. Smith passed to picturesque Venice, the church of San Marco, the water ways, the rainy day with the sea on a rampage and the models for his sketches. Scenes on the Bosphorus and Turkish towns followed, with pictures of the mosques, minarets, marbles, men and women whose very rags were symphonies in color—everywhere the quality of the picturesque.

Looking out for the picturesque in highways and byways, Mr. Smith claimed would fill the life with an interest that would enrich every hour.

Mr. Smith is himself an illustration of the picturesque, being a thorough business man whose literary and artistic abilities are the exquisite adornments of a practical nature.

Yesterday's lecture closed the active work of the Monday Afternoon Club for the season.

POSTMASTER IN THE ASYLUM

NORMAN DUNN, OF SCOTCH PLAINS, A VICTIM OF PARESIS.

Postmaser Norman Dunn, of Scotch Plains, has been committed to Morris Plains as a paretic. His health has been failing for two years, and the hopelessness of a cure was seen a short time ago. Drs. Westcott, of Fanwood, and Harrison, of Westfield, made out the commitment papers Saturday.

Mr. Dunn has been postmaster at Scotch Plains during every Republican administration since Grant's time. A year ago his wife was sworn in as assistant postmaster and assumed tthe duties of the office in the hope of benefitting him by taking the cares of the position from his shoulders. She will continue to fill the place.

BOOTH'S MOVING PICTURES

SERMONS IN SCENES PRODUCED AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

It required a lot of work and preparation to get the wonderful collection of religious moving pictures shown by Herbert Henry Booth in the lectures given at the First M. E. church Sunday and last night. As Mr. Booth himself explains, he really had to organize a private little Oberammergau.

Only it was not so little. 600 different characters, men, women and children, had to be gathered together to take the parts of the people shown in the various pictures. Special scenery had to be built to fit each scene of indoor life, and many miles often were travelled to find the proper outdoor setting for the other pictures. Sometimes the latter pictures were not made until three or four attempts had been made.

The street scenes and interior views, some of which were taken by flashlight in the catacombs of Rome, were as fine as any views seen in this city.

In choosing the Bioscope as a vehicle for illustrating the scenes of inhuman torture, to which the Christian martyrs were subjected, the speaker struck a note of realism, which brought home to many for the first time, the realization that these things had really been done by people who really lived and were not the creatures of the imaginations of the artists who depict them.

Mr. Booth believes that sermons can be taken in and appreciated as deeply through the sense of sight as through that of hearing, and he regards his pictures as true sermons.

BOROUGHITES VETO SCHOOL BUILDING SITE

Proposition to Erect Schoolhouse on Grove Street is Overwhelmingly Defeated.

IT IS NOT SUITABLE

MR. OVERTON PREFERS CORNER OF SOMERSET STREET AND PARK PLACE.

Mayor Smalley Makes an Offer—Protests Against Grove Street Site Are Made by Many Citizens.

Disapproval of the School Board's choice of site for the proposed new school was again registered by the borough voters last night. At the special public meeting called to consider the matter, the location on upper Grove street, beyond Walnut street, criticism of which was repored in last Friday's Daily Press, was voted down by a majority of three to one.

Condemnation of the place selected was almost general, and the only defenders among the speakers who discussed the matter were two members of the Board. Before the vote was taken the site was thoroughly talked over.

Criticism hinged upon the treacherous character of the brook, and the impossibility of keeping sidewalks and roadway in condition for travel, and in a great measure, upon the great distance of the site from the center of the borough.

Before offering the formal resolution upon the site, Chairman Cooley, of the Board buildings committee, made a carefully worded explanation of the reasons leading to the selection of the site. He pointed out that the main thing to regard was the necessity of putting the school in a locality that will accommodate the greatest number of children among the 180 who are overcrowding the present schools. Citing figures on the number of primary scholars in the various sections of the borough, Mr. Cooley maintained that the site offered presented the best accommodations as far as location was concerned. It seemed far from the center of the borough, but 100 children of primary age were in that locality, and it could easily be filled by drawing pupils from about Greenbrook road and down Grove street as far as Linden avenue. Dr. Cooley said that the Harrison street firehouse had been considered, but it was found to be under the size demanded by the school law, and would have required the building of a basement, the raising of the building and enlargement on every side before it could be made suitable for the purpose. There were no good approaches to the site offered, he acknowledged, but these disadvantages he confidently believed would be removed speedily.

Mayor Smalley attacked the site vigorously. He said he was immeasurably surprised that such a locality had been considered. He aroused a storm of handclaps and cheers by stating that if the Board was determined to build a school there he would give them a lot and stone enough to build a house only a few hundred feet from the site offered. So far as the ground itself went, he said, it was good, but the conditions surrounding it, made it out of the question as the location for a school. The brook could not be controlled, and would inevitably and regularly overflow, as it had done in the past, and wash away sidewalks—if any were put down—and roadway away. Unless the brook was deepened and widened the site was out of the question entirely, and what assurance of such action had been given by the Board of Freeholders? He considered the proposition very unjust to the people.

John Valiant, of the Board, made a brief defense of the site in response to the Mayor's remarks. He had faith in the borough's progressiveness and believed that the objections brought against the site would all be removed if the school were placed there. Mayor Smalley had questioned the wisdom of erecting a frame structure, and to this Mr. Valiant replied that a frame building of the sort the Board had in mind would be durable and require but few repairs.

Councilman Arnold, former Mayor B. A. Hegeman, John Goodwin, Charles Lyman, Col. Perry, L. B. Woolston, W. C. Smith all spoke against the site in strong terms, supporting the contensions of the Mayor. Mr. Needham, of the Board, made a very short defense of the selection.

MINSTREL TROUP HOLDS CELEBRATION

Band Concert Show Amateurs Enjoy a Banquet at Timbo's Cafe.

SONGS AND SPEECHES

BANDMASTER BENJ. LA VERE PRAISES MAYOR SMALLEY.

Five Free Concerts Are Now Assured—Much Fun at the Gathering of "Artists"—The Bill-of-Fare.

The members of the band concert minstrel troupe, together with their friends in the Hope Y. M. A. minstrels, who acted as ushers at the performances last week, enjoyed a dinner last night at Timbo's restaurat.

Of course the chief topic during the dinner was the minstrel show, and numerous jokes at each other's expense were passed good-naturedly from one to another along with the roast meats, vegetables, salads, olives and other edibles which quickly disappeared.

Although parts of several songs were sung during the progress of the feast, it was not until the advent of the coffee and cigars that the real fun began. One after another, Jack Hall, Horace Martin, John Todd, Tom DeMeza, Will Doud, Harry Blimm, Tom Muir, "Doc" Greenwood and in fact every one of the "artists" of the troupe did "a turn."

Elias Southard and Joseph Martin sang their duet, "Larboard Watch," and the Hope singers who seated the audiences at the Casino so satisfactorily, rendered a few of their songs, including "Blue Bells" by Alex. Muir; "My California Poppy" by George Cose, and "Trouble" by Matthew Sweeney.

V. W. Nash, Jr., though absent, had placed a box of good cigars at the disposal of the diners.

Bandmaster Ben LaVere was also called upon to contribute to the general entertainment and responded with a side-splitting story. Ben also made a few remarks upon the results of the show in respect to the amount of money taken in. After stating that because of the attendance not coming up to expectations, he said the sum realized would fall far short of assuring the number of concerts planned for. He called attention to the larger proportion of North Plainfield talent in the troupe and said that through the subscriptions of a number of borough officials, chief among whom is Mayor N. B. Smalley, five of the ten concerts proposed to be given, have been assured. N. B. Smalley, said he, has been his best friend and staunchest supporter, even in the borough.

He also said that two years ago when the fund was very low Mayor Smalley had, by contributing liberally from his private purse, pulled it out of a hole which threatened to swallow it.

TO ENLARGE CHURCH EDIFICE

CONGREGATIONALISTS PLAN TO MAKE ADDITIONS TO STRUCTURE.

The members of the Congregational church are very enthusiastic over the proposed enlargement of the edifice. A committee has been appointed to secure plans and estimates. # JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

South Jersey's Candidate.

The Post-Telegram would like to see the successor to the late United States Circuit Court Judge Kirkpatrick come from South Jersey. Camden County presents a prominent candidate in the person of the Hon. E. Ambler Armstrong, who has graced our county bench and stands high in the legal profession. But there are indications that this honor is to go elsewhere. The position is practically at the disposal of Senators Kean and Dryden, as the President will doubtless appoint any capable man whom they may indorse. If Senator Kean feels assured that he will not lose a vote in the caucus or in joint meeting by advancing Cross to the Federal bench, the probabilities are that the Union County Senator's name will be presented for the vacant judgeship, as there is no reason to believe that he would not be acceptable to United States Senator Dryden. The situation as regards the Senate Presidency next year would be changed by the retirement of Senaor Cross, with the chances of either Senator Bradley, of Camden, or Bacheller, of Essex, succeeding to that honor measurably increased.—Camden Post-Telegram.

The Plain Duty.

Senator Cross is now named as the probable successor of the late Judge Kirkpatrick, of the United States District Court. No better man for the place could be found, and there is no reason to fear that if he were not named, a very much worse man might be selected. The office needs the best man at this time. A good lawyer, familiar with New Jersey corporation policy and fair-minded and thorough would do inestimable service to New Jersey and the Federal Government just now. And the honor and the emoluments would be grateful, no doubt. One reason alone exists why this excellent appointment may not be made. If Senator Cross resigned to take the judgeship, Union County, the home of Senator Kean, would elect a new State Senator, who would have a vote for Mr. Kean's successor next winter. It is said to be dangerous to risk the election. We can not believe that Senator Kean would sacrifice the interests of his friend, Mr. Cross, or risk the harm of a bad appointment for United States Judge, by insisting upon the continued service of Mr. Cross in the State Senate. Nor can we think it possible that Mr. Kean's opponents would take advantage of such a situation, or make Mr. Kean's generosity deprive him of the support from his own county—to which he is clearly entitled. It is the plain duty of all concerned to clear the path, without prejudice to any interest, in fairness to all, and that New Jersey may be assured of a lawyer for United States Court whose promotion would do credit to the State and whose services are really needed in that position.—Newark Sunday Call.

MAY BE CORTELYOU

Secretary of Commerce and Labor Chairman at Chicago.

FAVORED BY ROOSEVELT AND LEADERS

Not Only Is He In Close Touch With the President, but Is Well Equipped For Position, Having Thorough Knowledge of Affairs.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—George B. Cortelyou, secretary of the department of commerce and labor, it seems very likely now, may be selected as chairman of the Republican national committee.

While in no sense endeavoring to anticipate the action of the Chicago convention or that of the national committee to be chosen at that convention, President Roosevelt and leaders of the Republican party generally have canvassed for months the subject of the national chairmanship.

From time to time the names of various prominent Republicans have been published in connection with the chairmanship, but the gossip about the matter had no firmer basis than conjecture. To the late Senator Hanna the president expressed the desire that Mr. Hanna might see his way clear again to assume the responsibilities of national chairman. That expression met the approval of Republicans generally. To no one else, however, has anything so nearly approximating a proffer of the chairmanship been made.

Several widely known and influential Republican leaders have been considered for the important position. Some time ago the name of Secretary Cortelyou was suggested. It met instant favor.

It is known that Mr. Cortelyou sustains very close relations not only with President Roosevelt, but also with party leaders throughout the country. He is regarded as being admirably equipped for the position, possessing fine executive ability and a thorough knowledge of men and affairs.

For several years he has been intimately identified with political management, scarcely any man sustaining more confidential relations with President McKinley, Senator Hanna and President Roosevelt than he. If he should be elected national chairman, he would resign his position in the cabinet and devote his entire time to the work of the campaign. In a measure this would involve a personal sacrifice.

It is asserted with emphasis that no absolute decision has yet been reached, but prominent men in the councils of the Republican party have impressed on the president the desirability of Secretary Cortelyou's selection. It is reasonably certain that J. W. Blythe of Iowa will be prominently identified with the conduct of the Republican campaign in the west, and it is likely that he may be vice chairman of the national committee or a subchairman in charge of the western end of the campaign. For a time he was urged by Senator Allison for the chairmanship, but it is probable he will occupy the position here indicated.

Cornelius N. Bliss of New York, for many years treasurer of the national committee, probably will again fill that position.

Root Not to Run For Governor.

NEW YORK, May 17.—It can be stated in the most positive way that Mr. Elihu Root has not changed and is not likely to change his determination to remain in private life despite the widespread demand for him to accept the nomination for governor this fall. Mr. Root retired from congenial duties and pleasant surroundings in President Roosevelt's cabinet in order, to return to his professional career, and now that he has just settled down to his work he is not disposed to abandon it for official duties that to him lack the attractive features of his public work in Washington. Mr. Root feels that if he were going to remain out of his profession he would greatly prefer his place as cabinet minister. Those who have talked with Mr. Root the past few days understand his position and believe it would be useless to urge him to change his decision.

Railway Companies Not Liable.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The supreme court of the United States has laid down the principle that a telegraph operator for a railroad company and a fireman on a railroad engine are "fellow servants" and that the negligence of the former causing the death of the latter in the operation of trains was a risk the fireman assumed and was not a ground for damages against the railroad company. The case was that of Alline A. Dixon against the Northern Pacific Railway company for damages for the death of her husband, C. A. Dixon, a fireman on the road killed in a collision caused by the negligence of a telegraph operator.

Press Club Convention.

TOLEDO, O., May 17.—A call will be issued this week for the annual convention of the International League of Press Clubs, which is to be held at Put-In-Bay during the week of July 17 to 23. The delegates will be guests of the Toledo Press club. Two hundred delegates are expected.

With a constantly aching back.
Doan's Kidney Pills make work easier.
They cure backache.
They cure every kidney ill.

Jos. C. VanArsdale, carpenter and contractor, living at 213 Spooner avenue, says: "For several years I suffered from severe pains in my back, hips and loins, so bad at times that it was almost impossible for me to get around and attend to my work. Any stooping or heavy lifting aggravated it and if I contracted a cold it always settled in my back and at such times my suffering was something intense. When Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice I was in pretty bad shape and procuring them from L. W. Randolph's drug store, I took a few doses when I found they were helping me and on completing the treatment I was quite free from pain. I always keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand so as to have a sure remedy close by if the trouble should ever return."

STILL A DEADLOCK.

Springfield Convention Has Taken Twenty-nine Ballots.

GOVERNOR YATES HAS STRONG LEAD.

Attempt Was Made to Secure Agreement on Congressman Warner, but It Failed—Little Prospect of Compromise.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 17.—With the deadlock unbroken and with little prospect of a compromise on a candidate for governor, the Illinois Republican convention has taken a recess after having taken five ballots. The recess followed the twenty-ninth roll call, the result of which showed each candidate with approximately the same strength he had when he entered the convention.

The twenty-ninth ballot gave the following results: Governor Richard Yates, 481; Frank C. Lowden, 404; Charles S. Deneen, 382; Howland J. Hamlin, 113; Vespasian Warner, 37; Lawrence Y. Sherman, 56; John H. Pierce, 22.

The proceedings were comparatively tame, and at only one time during the session was there any great demonstration. This occurred when a glee club was invited to the platform to sing "Illinois."

Chairman Joseph G. Cannon asked the audience to join in the chorus, and he led the refrain from his place on the platform, beating time with a reversed gavel. He looked like an old time singing master at a country schoolhouse as he swayed his body in unison with the music and measured the time with the improvised baton.

The great audience sang with a will, and when the echoes of the chorus died away a wave of enthusiasm swept over the armory hall.

The attendance showed no diminution in the interest attaching to the convention. There was a steady downpour of cold rain all day, and the hall was close and disagreeable, but the armory was packed with people, who sat through the monotonous roll calls without the least sign of impatience. The tension was high, and the nervous anxiety with which the crowd watched for the long threatened break had a quieting effect on the gathering. Order was maintained with ease.

A number of confereuces are in progress. One of them, brought about by the alleged federal influence in the convention, is attempting to select an outside candidate, and the names of Walter Reeves, former Governor Joseph Fifer and several others have been mentioned. Today, it is said, federal influences attempted to secure an agreement on Congressman Vespasian Warner, but they could not get enough votes, and the threat of Hamlin and Sherman to nominate Yates if Warner became a formidable candidate deterred them. Yates supporters tonight say that Senator Cullom is exerting his influence with postmasters throughout Illinois to take away votes from Yates.

Yates and Deneen adherents are in conference to strengthen their forces, said to be allied to prevent federal influences from stampeding the convention for Lowden.

The failure of any of Senator Hopkins' delegates to break from Yates indicates, it is said, that Senator Hopkins has decided to stay with Yates in the struggle, although Lowden partisans insist that they will get Hopkins delegates as soon as Lowden has enough votes to settle the contest.

King Called at a Bad Time.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—A report to the navy department received from Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, on board the Kentucky at Naples, Italy tells of the visit of his former flagship to Italian waters and of the courtesies shown him by the king of Italy. While at Naples the Kentucky dressed ship, with the French flag at the fore and the Italian colors at the main, and fired the usual salutes in honor of the king of Italy and his guest, President Loubet of France. The king of Italy visited the Kentucky. Unfortunately, reports the rear admiral, the ship was not in a satisfactory condition at the time, as she was taking on coal from lighters on both sides, but the king, he says, showed great interest and expressed himself as much pleased. Rear Admiral Evans and his chief of staff afterward were dinner guests of the king and queen at the royal palace in Naples.

Discoverer of Radium at St. Louis.

PRINCETON, N. J., May 17.—Professor Alexander H. Phillips of Princeton university, who is generally known as the discoverer of American radium, has accepted an invitation to attend the St. Louis exposition and deliver daily lectures on the new element. At special request of Dr. George Gunz, who is managing this radium exhibit, Professor Phillips has prepared for display three very rare salts of carnotite, the Utah mineral from which he extracted American radium. Professor Phillips is still experimenting with carnotite and is now expecting a large shipment of the mineral to make further tests.

Macon National Bank Failed.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The comptroller of the currency has been advised by National Bank Examiner W. F. Albertsen that the First National bank of Macon, Ga., has closed its doors by order of the board of directors. The failure of the bank, the examiner states, is due to a heavy loss sustained by the suspension of I. C. Plant & Son, a private bank, of which the president of the First National also was president. Examiner Albertsen has been appointed receiver.

Plainfield, N. J., May 17, 1904.

Redfern says the women of St. Louis are shabbily dressed. Probably he has overlooked the boarding house keepers.

When it does actually get through failing, it is hoped that a much abused public will not be compelled to suffer witnessing a half dozen tragedies, and as many books as well as sea-side spectacular productions depicting the fall of Port Arthur.

The easiest and most satisfactory way for the Republicans of Union county to avoid another factional fight in the event of Mr. Cross's resignation is to nominate any one but a Plainfielder for State Senator. A bitter fight is sure to result if the plum is given to a Plainfielder and it is very doubtful if he could be elected.

In these days there is little need for a church paper for the secular press is able to cover the news of interest to churchgoing people and its columns are always open to the ministers and their congregations. The average church paper is short lived but a glance at the pages of the Holy Cross Messenger brings a conviction that unless its present policy of presenting the doings of the parish in a bright and newsy way is changed the sheet is bound to prosper.

After reading its reply to our defense of Mr. Howland and his colleagues for protesting against the nomination of "Davy" Baird as a delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention, we must confess that the Camden Post-Telegram is more to be pitied than condemned. The Post-Telegram must have the good will of the bosses. Naturally it rushes to the defense of "Davy" Baird whenever he is under fire. Perhaps it is a disagreeable job, but it is one of the penalties that the Post-Telegram must suffer. Now the Camden paper objects to the statement that the fact that only six delegates voted against "Davy" shows that the majority of the delegates lacked courage to express their convictions. Wouldn't it be unfair to accuse the delegates of selecting David Baird, of Camden, as a fit representative of the Republican party of New Jersey?

One hundred and forty-eight votes were cast. Of these, 117 were against the site and only 31 for it.

After the balloting President Overton asked the voters to remain and give the Board some expression of choice regarding the location and style of building favored. He particularly wanted to know whether the people wished a four-room building at this time, with the prospect of another similar structure in the future, or one eight-room house.

Mayor Smalley said he believed a school was needed in the outskirts, because such a structure was a strong factor in the upbuilding of any section. President Overton stated that he himself favored one building, and preferred the lot on the corner of Somerset street and Park place for the location.

L. B. Woolston declared that the great trouble with the school board on the lot question was the inability of the members to agree. He spoke in favor of converting the old West End Hose Company house on Harrison street, and brought a hornet's nest about his ears by insisting that the Borough High School was not as good as that of the city.

While the indignant boroughites were boiling to unloose the storm that was to drop on the detractor of the high school, Dr. Cooley drew some lightning his way by declaring that the Grove street site formerly submitted, which had been mentioned by a couple of the speakers, could not be used before a $5,000 foundation had been built. That statement was too much for William Pangborn, the mason. He jumped to his feet and made an uncomplimentary reference to lunatic asylums, and before the surprised Doctor could respond he declared that he would put down a strong and satisfactory foundation for $1,500. Mayor Smalley followed him swiftly with an offer to put one down for $1,000. Dr. Cooley allowed the foundation to drop and confined himself to the character of the ground.

Then F. W. Bailey, who had been quiescent up to that point, asked the question that stirred up the highest excitement of the evening. He wanted to know if what Mr. Woolston had said about the comparative merits of the two high schools was true.

President Overton, W. C. Smith, J. W. A. Bauersachs and Mr. Needham forcefully told him that the borough school was as good as the city's and as good as any similar school in any city in the State. All the statements were received with cheers, which were particularly enthusiastic when Mr. Smith declared that Mr. Woolston was moved to speak as he did because he paid more taxes in the city. "We don't need consolidation of the schools and we don't want annexation," declared Mr. Smith vigorously, and the voters cheered tumultuously.

Mr. Bailey arose again. "Mr. Chairman," he said, with a grim little smile, "I asked the question I did, because I wanted to find out if what I was told several years ago was true. I was informed that certificate from the North Plainfield High School is as acceptable in every collegiate institution as a certificate from any other high school." Then the crowd went mad for a time. The cheering lasted the better part of a minute.

J. W. A. Bauersachs brought the meeting to a close by offering a resolution calling upon the Board to submit a proposition for an eight-room building, in a central location. It was overwhelmingly carried, the noes being very faint. A resolution that the Board submit at least three sites at the next public meeting, offered by Mr. Woolston, was passed unanimously.

These resolutions were, of course, of a wholly informal nature, but it is not likely that the Board, after calling for such expressions of choice, will disregard them. In speaking of the corner lot, President Overton said, that the new school could be run there more economically, because of its nearness to the present school, than in any other location, and the mention of that lot in the course of the discussion called out a strong outburst of applause. This is taken to indicate that the Board will submit this lot among the three asked for, and that it is more than likely to be the choice of the voters.

Appointed An Instructor.

DUNELLEN.

A special Epworth League service was held in the Methodist church Sunday evening, at which the following recently elected officers were installed: President, Miss Lulu Gise; first vice president, Miss Lulu Adams; second vice president, Miss Louise Doolittle; third vice president, Mrs. P. C. Smith; fourth vice president, Miss May Apgar; secretary, Miss Mary Doolittle; treasurer, Mrs. Albert Apgar.

Captain Smith and his team are preparing themselves for a hard game next Saturday when they meet the crack High Bridge team at High Bridge. The High Bridge nine has the honor of holding the championship of Hunterdon County, and the Dunellen boys will have to play the game for all it is worth to win.

Many friends and relatives attended the funeral services of the late Mrs. David Bernard, which were held from St. John's Roman Catholic church at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Rev. Edward Dumphy officiated.

Word has been received from Pueblo, Colo., that Miss Mary Teel, who has been at the point of death for several days past, is now slightly improved and her recovery is looked for.

C. E. Perry, former night telegraph operator and ticket agent at Dunellen depot, left town yesterday for Toledo, Ohio, where he has accepted a position.

Hughie Birsch has resigned his position at Levering & Garrigues' and is now working with the bridge carpenters on the Central Railroad.

L. Churchill will cover second base for the New Market Y. M. A. team during the remainder of the season.

Material for the new coal shute that is to be erected east of the round-house, arrived yesterday.

Miss Sarah Brokaw is slowly recovering from a severe attack of muscular rheumatism.

After an illness of several days, Joe Swalback has resumed work in the round-house.

Miss Maragret VanArtsdale, of Front street, is on the sick list.

Miss Nellie Dodwell has recovered from her recent illness.

Smith Watson is visiting relatives in Point Pleasant.

NEW MARKET.

Captain Nelson, of the Y. M. A. team, has secured Lewis Churchill, of Dunellen, to cover second base for the reaminder of the season. This will no doubt strengthen the team as Churchill is a heavy batter and an all-round good man.

Rev. Frank Fletcher, pastor of the First Baptist church, will officiate at the funeral services, which will be held for Mrs. John Otto from her late home at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Young Ladies' Card Club was entertained pleasantly last night, by Miss Irene Day.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Taylor had a great chance to increase the local's score in the game at Westfield on Saturday afternoon. Three men on bases, two out, Taylor at the bat with three balls and no strikes, could not wait but hit out a short infield hit and the side was retired. A little judgment would have meant runs as Waller was "up in the air."

The trolley express cars have been fooling the local patrons of the road since they began running several days ago. The cars go by without making the usual stops at the Park avenue crossing.

Rev. G. M. Shott attended a meeting of the programme committee of the executive board of the East New Jersey Sunday-school Association, held last night at Elizabeth.

If the weather is pleasant Saturday afternoon the fans should turn out in force to see the game on the local diamond between the locals and Garwood Field Club.

Several of the cottages at Glenside Park are undergoing a number of decided improvements so as to be ready for the opening of the summer season, May 30.

Mrs. Thomas A. Gere, who has been spending several days with her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Paff, Jr., has returned to her home in Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharp, of East Front street, have been entertaining relatives and friends from New York for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Johnston, of Westfield avenue, have been entertaining friends from New York over Sunday.

Miss Nancy Wade spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Wade, of Stanbery avenue.

Miss Louise Robison, of the borough, who has been visiting friends at Ridgewood, has returned home.

The Misses Nicholls, of Mountain avenue, have been entertaining friends from out of town.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

A new time table went into effect on the Lehigh Valley Railroad yesterday. But slight changes have been made in the train service here.

An error in the new time table states that the morning Amboy train leaves here at 9:10, which should read 8:45.

H. J. Manning and friend, visited Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Manning, of Newark, Sunday.

Henry Cruzer, operator at the railroad station, is on a short vacation.

Thomas Teeple will move this week into Albert Soper's house.

Mrs. Mary Thickstun visited Mrs T. C. Laing yesterday.

To Liquidate Rectory Debt.

The Woman's Guild, of the Holy Cross church, has appointed Mrs. Browne, Mrs. W. M. Downey, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. J. O. Stevens, Miss Ida Davis and Mrs. Hannigan as a committee to organize a branch of the St. James Co-operative Sales, which carries on a systematized rummage sale. The object is to raise money to reduce the debt on the rectory.

Mrs. Burnell's Talk.

An interesting time is promised tomorrow evening at the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church, when Mrs. Abby Snell Burnell will speak. Mrs Burnell was formerly a missionary of the American Board in India, and is therefore thoroughly conversant with the life and religion of that country.

—No room to cavil at the display of vegetables in Neuman Bros. store. It is large in size and fine in quality. Tender, full-flavored Jersey asparagus, Norfolk peas and hot-house cucumbers challenge attention.

MIYAKO STRUCK MINE

Japanese Navy Loses Another Vessel.

TWO DEAD, TWENTY-TWO HURT

Loss Occurred While Search Was Being Made For Submerged Mines and Was Like Loss of Torpedo Boat.

LONDON, May 17.—Advices from Tokyo say the Japanese dispatch boat Miyako was destroyed in Kerr bay by striking a submerged mine. Eight casualties are reported.

The Miyako was lost while assisting in the operations of clearing the Russian mines from Kerr bay, northeast of Talienwan bay, on which Port Dalny is situated.

Admiral Kataoka, commander of the third squadron, returned there Sunday with a detachment of his squadron, protecting two flotillas of torpedo boats which had been detailed to complete sweeping the harbor by the removal of mines.

Five mines were discovered and exploded, and the work was being suspended for the day when the Miyako struck an undiscovered mine, which exploded with tremendous force under her stern on the port side and inflicted immense damage on the hull.

The Miyako sank in twenty-two minutes.

Two sailors were killed, and twenty-two men were wounded. The rest of the crew were rescued.

The news of the loss of the Miyako has been sorrowfully received in Tokyo. The dangerous character of the work in which the Miyako was engaged is generally appreciated, but it was thought that the loss of torpedo boat No. 48 under similar circumstances Thursday last would serve as a warning to those engaged in the work to exercise the greatest care.

At St. Petersburg the general staff has received the following dispatch from Lieutenant General Sakharoff, General Kuropatkin's chief of staff:

"I have been informed that Chinese bandits have appeared in villages sixteen kilometers west of Liaoyang, and I sent out detachments of riflemen mounted and on foot and a company of infantry. No bandits were found in the villages, the inhabitants of which answered evasively. As the force was returning from the village of Shantaidsa, twelve kilometers west of Liaoyang, considerable numbers of bandits were discovered at a spot where they had been concealed by the villagers. The riflemen attacked the bandits, who occupied the outskirts of the village, from which they were dislodged. They left twenty dead and a number of rifles and many cartridges. Our loss was two soldiers killed and three wounded.

"The Japanese have occupied Koundiansian.

"According to information received the enemy's advance from Fengwangcheng toward Liaoyang has been characterized by indecision. It is supposed that the objective of the principal Japanese forces is a point beyond Haicheng or Kaichau.

"Another important group of these forces is concentrating in the district northwest of Takushan.

"Several skirmishes have occurred with Chinese bandits, in which three Cossacks were killed and four are reported missing."

Owing to the interruption of communication with Port Arthur the Russian admiralty has no information of its own either regarding the blowing up of the Japanese cruiser Miyako or the torpedoing and crippling of an armored Japanese cruiser in Talienwan bay by a naphtha launch in command of a young Russian naval officer. The admiralty officers read with interest the telegraphic account of the former and pointed out that by no chance could the two happenings be identical, since the Miyako was struck in daylight and the other event happened at night.

A Moscow dispatch says: "In the ancient capital of the empire Emperor Nicholas has received an enthusiastic welcome. His stay was brief, lasting only thirty-five minutes, because of his wish to hasten to Kharkoff to begin bidding farewell to the troops under orders for the far east, but it was sufficient to enable all classes of the public to show their loyalty to the throne in this trying time of war."

Russians Plunder Korean Gold Mines

LONDON, May 17.—A dispatch to the Central News from Tokyo says telegrams from Seoul announce that several hundred Russians recently attacked and plundered the British gold mines at Eunsun, Korea. Many British and Japanese miners had their goods taken and several were imprisoned.

Boston Trolleys Kill Two.

BOSTON, May 17.—Two persons were killed by electric cars in this city. At the corner of Huntington avenue and West Newton street an unidentified woman about thirty-eight years of age was struck and instantly killed as she was attempting to cross the avenue in front of a heavily loaded car bound for the ball grounds. Alfred Woodward, seven years old, ran in front of an electric car at the corner of Harrison avenue and Sharon street and was crushed so that he died on the way to the hospital. In each instance the motorman was arrested.

American Laborers at Colon.

COLON, May 17.—Over 300 American laborers arrived at Colon. The majority of them are under contract to the United Fruit company at Bocas del Toro and the others are seeking work here, but the present conditions are unfavorable for such early arrivals.

CREW SAVED.

Sailors of Schooner Run Down by Morro Castle Brought In.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Captain Ness and seventeen men of the fishing schooner Pleiades, which was run down and sunk by the Ward line steamship Morro Castle on Saturday evening, have arrived here on the Seneca of the same line, which came from Havana. The collision occurred about three miles east by south from Absecum light during a dense fog while the steamer was bound from New York for Havana.

Captain Ness says that shortly before the collision he heard a warning signal, but it appeared to be too far distant to attract any special attention. A moment later, however, a large steamer appeared through the fog heading directly for the schooner. There was no time to change the course of either vessel, and the prow of the steamer crashed into the side of the schooner, cutting her almost completely in two. The Pleiades sank seven minutes after the collision, but in the meantime boats had been lowered, and the crew escaped. The men saved nothing but the clothing which they wore at the time of the accident.

The men were taken on board the Morro Castle, which proceeded, and on Sunday morning off Cape Henry were transferred to the Seneca, which was bound for New York.

The Pleiades was from Virginia Beach with 6,000 bluefish for the New York markets.

A BRAVE WOMAN.

Mrs. Bartow Gave Alarm and Bound Up Wounded Station Agent.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 17.—To the fact that Mrs. A. J. Bartow, wife of a section foreman for the Northern Pacific railway at Snoqualmie, Wash., had a knowledge of telegraphy and did not lose her presence of mind in the face of danger C. J. Ingraham, station agent of the Northern Pacific at Snoqualmie probably owes his life.

Mrs. Bartow, who was alone in the section house, rushed to the station when she heard two pistol shots late at night and found Ingraham lying in a pool of blood, a robber having shot him and escaped with the contents of the safe. Mrs. Bartow wired an account of the shooting to an adjacent station and to division headquarters and then tore up Ingraham's shirt, out of which she made bandages and stanched the flow of blood until a surgeon came. Ingraham probably will live. A man who gave the name of Bridges has been arrested on suspicion of having shot Ingraham and robbed the station.

A Trolley Line Trust.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 17.—A move to unite all the trolley interests in its control into a single company to be known as the Consolidated Railway company has been announced by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company. The properties to be united are the Fairhaven and Westville Railroad company, which owns all the lines of street railroad in this city and vicinity, and the Worcester and Connecticut Eastern Railway company, having headquarters in Putnam, Conn.

JAP MARRIAGE.

No Lovemaking Before Marriage, Yet Japanese Domestic Life Is Happy.

To us in America it certainly would appear as if more than half the fun of the world were lost if society were suddenly deprived of all the parties, picnics, dances, drives and evening calls where bachelor and maid meet, become acquainted and are drawn together by the mutual attraction of young life and joy. How would it seem if there were to be no more courting, no hand clasps or meetings on the sly to exchange words that are nothings and yet are all in this golden time of life, which ought to be prolonged forever, only nobody seems able to achieve it as yet!

They do all this differently in Japan, to our taste not half so delightfully. It is odd that the Japs, except perhaps the French, the most sentimental of all people, go about marriage in as businesslike a way as they build a ship. In many cases the bride and groom to be do not even know before betrothal time that they are going to be married.

Parents usually arrange marriages. A father decides that it is time for his son to take a wife. He and the youth's mother look about among their acquaintances for a pretty, sweet tempered girl who will make a pleasant home for their son. Sometimes a young man himself who thinks he wants to be married commissions an elderly woman friend to find a wife for him. In either case the method of betrothal is the same. There is always the intermediary who must arrange matters with the girl's parents.

If the girl's father is willing the betrothal occurs. This betrothal is the formal introduction to each other of the bride and groom to be, who probably have never spoken to each other previously. They are introduced at the house of some friend of both and exchange gifts. After this exchange of presents they are in for it. There can be no backing out and no "take back your gifts" business. When the parents of the pair arrange the marriage it must take place, no matter whether the young couple are satisfied or not. They have to be satisfied.

The wedding consists merely of ceremonial eating and drinking together by the bride and groom. There are no religious or state ceremonies. Japanese matrimony is a private matter. On the wedding day the bride, in light or white garments and with a white veil over her, is taken to the home of the groom's parents. Then comes the wedding feast. The groom squats or sits upon the floor, oriental fashion. He, too, is attired in light colored clothing. Next on the left of the groom squats his father, grave and dignified. On the left of this gentleman sits in the same fashion the woman mutual friend and on her left, last of the wedding group, the bride.

A table, one of those ridiculous Japanese affairs about four inches high, is in front of the group. It is painted white. There is a wedding feast. After that the bride is conveyed to the home her future husband has prepared for her. There both bride and groom change their costumes. The ceremonial drinking together by the bride and groom of sake (rice wine) completes the wedding observances. Sir Edwin Arnold married his gentle and pretty Japanese wife by the mere ceremonial drinking of cups of tea together. Though both Sir Edwin and his bride considered themselves thereby as fast married as if a lord bishop and lord mayor had doubly joined them in matrimony, yet for the sake of the looks of things in the minds of white people the western marriage service was afterward regularly performed.

"Three times three" the Japanese bride and groom, now in the groom's home, taste the sake wine together. On this occasion the man drinks first, the girl afterward. They are now ready to take up housekeeping and homemaking. It would be extremely improper to fall in love before marriage in Japan.

In spite of the lack of acquaintance of bride and groom Jap marriages are as happy as those in Christian countries. The little brown women are so bright and sweet that it would be a very evil tempered man who could not get on with one of them. Two sentiments pervade powerfully the Jap mind and influence for good all Jap life. These are love of children and love of the beautiful in nature. It is told that once a Jap burglar broke into a house in the absence of the family and found there the baby that had been temporarily left alone. He commenced to play with that baby and amused himself so entirely that he forgot what he was there for and was only aroused to the situation by the return of the family, when he was scared off on the double quick.

In the home of a Japanese family of means is always one room called the "chamber of the inspiring view." It is situated so as to look out upon some beautiful and picturesque natural scenery. DORA BELLE DENISON.

The New Woman

How a Settled Married Man Behaves

YOU would have known that couple were husband and wife the minute they came to the little table in the restaurant. He shoved rudely past her and left her standing till he had leisurely hung up his hat and overcoat. Then he let her find her seat. He knew in his own head just what he wanted for breakfast and made no delay in ordering it emphatically. Then he remembered his wife and said to her, "Anything you want?" She murmured something, a modest little request, in an undertone, and he, being altogether "It" in that family, repeated her order to the waiter. Then he added, again in his emphatic manner, "Bring me an orange." The wife was a timid looking little body. She had rather a peevish face, and no wonder. It was the outpicturing of the discontent in her soul at being tied for a lifetime to a masculine creature who was stronger than she was and who never gave a thought to anybody's comfort but his own. The orange was brought. The man grabbed it, cut it in two at one slash and began spooning its contents into the aperture in his face with the adeptness of long practice. Suddenly, with his mouth full of the refreshing orange juice, he turned toward the woman and asked, "Say, don't you want an orange?" She was "miffed" at his neglect plainly and silently shook her head. Again he said, in a louder voice, "Don't you want an orange?" "No, I don't," she answered, a little tartly, and no wonder again. "I forgot all about it," said the man as he returned to the gobbling of his own food. Meantime his wife minced at her weak tea and boiled potato with a discontented, miffy, sniffy air, which was not surprising under the circumstances. No doubt that husband considers himself a martyr and wonders why his wife is never satisfied. But I tell you it is these little things that discourage self respecting young women from matrimony.

If husbands would continue toward their wives the little attentions they bestowed on their sweethearts they would find their wives would be always their sweethearts.

A strong, cheery, energetic woman had supported a husband and brought up and educated a family of children with credit to themselves and to her. The husband in the case was one of those no account masculines who always have some physical ailment when work is demanded. Twenty-five years give time for a human being to have a variety of ills, and this husband had enjoyed almost everything from grip to appendicitis. He is now enjoying spring fever. The brave, capable wife, who still holds the family head above water, in a recent letter to a friend of her girlhood wrote this: "Dad still grunts." And in many another family "dad still grunts."

Illness is often merely the excuse of the cowardly and the lazy for not doing their duty. Never make it.

Mrs. Clarence Burns established some years ago in New York a social and industrial club for girls who work in factories. These girls had very long hours, and there was no recreation for them except to walk the streets in the evening. On the streets temptations unspeakable beset them; in their uncomfortable tenement homes was no joy or light or even rest. The girls paid each 5 cents a month dues in the club. There was established for them a class in physical drill to straighten their bent backs and fill out their stunted figures. Every night there were music and dancing to keep them out of the public dance halls. Once a month their men friends were invited. There were classes in dressmaking and in singing. Now the union numbers 500 girls and is nearly self supporting. Several times a year the girls give an entertainment, and that helps with the expenses. Many of the girls say this club gives them all the pleasure there is in their lives.

Do you know what has given the Japs such decided advantage over the Russians? Three things—silence, observation so close and accurate that it seems almost supernatural and a vast amount of thinking. Nobody knows for certain to this day just how the Japs destroyed several of the Russian warships, only it is known they did it. Observe minute and accurate observation, absolute silence and a whole lot of thinking. Let us look, think and keep our mouths shut.

Many women's minds are of that cast that they regard light things seriously and serious things lightly.

Civilization, with all its advantages, heaps upon us conventionalities that weigh down the free soul like iron.

He is a wise man, the Massachusetts judge who decided that "nagging" is a sufficient cause for divorce. In that particular case it was the husband who nagged the wife, but the principle applies equally to both sexes.

The weak are always suspicious, the strong never.

STORES OF CHICAGO

METHODS OF MERCHANDISING IN WESTERN METROPOLIS.

COMING COSMOPOLITANISM

It Is Shown in the Increase of Small Shops—The Big Stores Are Growing Bigger—Serving the Public.

Chicago.—The gent's furnishing goods store is being replaced by the men's toggery; the dressmaker by the modiste. It is a sign of the growing cosmopolitanism of the city; a sign of the passing of the village into the metropolis.

The Small Shop Is the Vogue.

Ten years ago a man who would have attempted to make a living by selling imported neckties at retail would have starved to death. Half a dozen men are doing it to-day. Ten years ago one dollar was an unusual price to pay for a necktie; to-day hundreds of them are sold for three to five dollars each every week.

Ten years ago it was only the ultra-fashionable man who wore custom-made shirts, and there was but one or two men in the city who made them; to-day 50 men are conducting prosperous shirt making establishments.

The growth in numbers of the fashionable small shops, selling expensive novelties for both men and women, has been remarkable. The fashionable woman has her shirt waists made by a man tailor who makes nothing else, and imports his models from Paris. For what she paid three or four dollars a few years ago when a woman made them and secured her idea from a monthly fashion journal, she pays $12 to $15 for to-day, and the name of the maker is left on the garment and displayed as an indication of the wearer's standing in society. As with women's waists so it is with hats and shoes for both men and women. They come from the fashionable small shop in which names are taken as a guarantee of style and good form.

Big Stores Growing Bigger.

But while the small shops that sell specialties and imported novelties to the fashionable set are growing rapidly in numbers the big department stores are gaining in size and volume of business.

Big Stores Are Gaining in Size.

With but two or three exceptions every big store on State street simply reflects the growth of the city in its own growth. Fifty years ago Field's, which now covers nearly a square block of ground and rises to more than ten stories high, was but little larger than a country grocery. It has grown with the growth of the city, as have the others. Two things keep competition for these great merchandising establishments out of the field. One is an almost impossibility of securing a desirable location in the center of the shopping district, and the other is the enormous capital, and familiarity with merchandising methods required.

Some idea of the magnitude of the largest of Chicago's retail stores may be had from the statement that it employs more than 7,500 people regularly, and increases this number by close to 1,000 more during the holiday season. More than $6,000,000 worth of goods were sold in the basement section of this store alone last year. In the restaurant which it conducts 1,800 people can be served with seats at one time, and this restaurant is crowded every noon. The office of this store, that is the credit department, occupies about 10,000 square feet of floor space. The manager of this department told me a few days ago that when he began work for the concern—as a cashboy—the entire office space consisted of one small room about ten feet square, with one desk and one employe.

Modern Methods.

Modern methods of merchandising calls for courtesy on the part of the store employes in their dealings with the public, strict integrity on the part of the store management, the advertising of nothing that is not just as represented and a willingness to grant the same meed of accommodation to all visitors to the store whether they be buyers or not.

Is There to Serve the Public.

Under the old methods, still in vogue in some of the State street stores, a clerk was expected to sell goods to every person who stopped at their counters, or if they did not be able to give a reason why they did not. The new method does not call for this. The clerk is there to serve the public, and whether the people he serves come merely to look and pass on, or whether they come to buy, they are expected to be given the same courteous attention.

To secure such service from an army of employes means a careful attention to detail, and the really successful merchant finds no detail too small to be looked after carefully. In one store the management are so anxious to attain perfection that they not only keep high-salaried employes traveling about the world looking for ideas that will better their service to the public, but they pay their employes in the store for every idea of value which they may offer. As an example: One employe suggested that the elevator conductors not be permitted to refer to the ground floor as the main floor, but as the first floor. The idea being that all floors were of equal importance. The suggestion was adopted and the employe well paid for his thoughtfulness.

The same store pays its employes for every mistake or misstatement they can find in its advertisements. The idea being not only to familiarize the employes with the store's advertising, but to check any possible tendency on the part of the department managers to exaggeration or misleading statements.

Such examples illustrate the modern idea in merchandising. A method founded on strict business integrity.

The Care of Employees.

The store management which has come nearest attaining perfection in its service to the public is the one that takes the most thoughtful care of its army of employes. In this store one complete floor is devoted to the employes. On that floor each employe has an individual locker for his or her clothing. On it there is a large restaurant, where the employes may eat lunches brought from home, with accommodations for the making of a cupful of tea, or they can purchase a luncheon at exactly cost price.

Thoughtful Care of Its Employes.

The same floor contains rest rooms, gymnasiums, reading and correspondence rooms, music rooms, shower baths and emergency hospitals. For the cash and errand boys a school is maintained with competent teachers, where the elementary studies are taught. Every employe is not only given an hour at noon, or as near noon as the time can be arranged, but is given a half hour in the forenoon and afternoon as well. During this time they are at liberty to go where they please, but the great majority spend this time in the rooms fitted up so elaborately for them by their employers. The cash and errand boys are organized into classes, and each class has four hours each week in the schoolroom. In addition to this, all employes are given two weeks' vacation with full pay evey year.

It is such treatment that secures efficient service for the public. Coupled with these things is the rule in the store that permits any employe to appeal to the manager of the store at any time in his own behalf. If he believes he is capable of filling a more important position than he holds, or if he believes he should have an increase in wages, it is his privilege to go directly to the store manager with his statement.

In the Wholesale District.

But while the policy of the retail merchant is tending more and more to a faithful service to the public, the motto of the wholesale district seems to be: "The public be d—d."

The Public Is Not Thought Of.

Almost anywhere in the wholesale district one finds the sidewalks occupied by bales and bundles and boxes of goods going out or in. Not content with littering the sidewalks with their merchandise the merchants find it convenient to place little elevated platforms across the walks, upon which trucks can be run directly from the store door, usually some two feet above the level of the walk, into the end of the wagon. The result is the people walk in the streets, and the city authorities seem not to object to this usurpation of public property.

Chicago streets are at their best not attractive, and the heavy snow of the past winter, with a treasury so depleted that it was impossible to care for but a very few of the more important thoroughfares in the retail district, the streets became almost impassable for pedestrians. But conditions made no perceptible difference to the selfish wholesale merchants, who continued to force the public into the mud and slush just the same.

There is a striking contrast in the treatment of the public in the wholesale and retail districts.

As to Coriolanus.

Ex-Congressman Gill, of Ohio, was chatting with a group of friends in Washington when he said something that sounded like a reference to "Charlie" Landis, of Indiana.

A newspaper man chipped in, saying: "Yes, Charlie's a nice fellow, and so is his brother, Fred Landis. I've always said that Charlie Landis—"

Mr. Gill said, severely: "I did not mention Charlie Landis. I was speaking of Coriolanus, who was called from the plow to the helm of state."

The correspondent retired in confusion and later told the story to another newspaper man.

"Why," said the latter, "the joke is not on you, but on Gill. It was Cincinnatus that was called from the plow, not Coriolanus." And the two hunted up the Ohio man, who made amends in time-honored fashion.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

LEWISOHN REFUSED TO ANSWER

Witness In Canfield Gambling Case Committed to Jail, Then Released.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Although Jesse Lewisohn, who refused to answer certain questions in two courts concerning the alleged gambling house of Richard Canfield and was committed to jail in contempt and afterward released, left the county courthouse a technical prisoner for contempt, he need fear no prison cell or other detention until next Thursday, when a legal tangle which surrounds him and the district attorney's office will be unraveled in the supreme court.

Lewisohn was called upon to testify in the courts as to the now famous gambling case, and these were the questions and answers that followed and led to the commitment proceedings:

Q. Do you know Richard A. Canfield? A. Yes.

Q. Were you ever in his house? A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever see Richard A. Canfield there? A. On the advice of counsel I must decline to answer.

Q. Did you ever gamble there? A. On the advice of counsel I decline to answer.

Q. Did you ever see anybody gamble there? A. On the advice of counsel I decline to answer.

When he was taken before Judge Dugro, in the supreme court, he was paroled in the custody of his counsel, Alfred Lauterbach, when the contempt proceedings growing out of his refusal to answer questions before Justice Wyatt came up.

The case came up on a writ of habeas corpus secured by Mr. Lauterbach, which will be argued on Thursday.

No action was taken in the contempt proceedings growing out of Mr. Lewisohn's refusal to answer questions when brought before Judge McMahon. The postponement of action at this time acts as a stay of proceedings.

Mr. Lewisohn and Mr. Lauterbach left the courthouse together as soon as Judge Dugro had postponed the matter, and each refused to discuss the developments of a day that was filled with incidents.

EDITORS' CONVENTION.

Francis Gives Welcome at St. Louis. Scores Yellow Journals.

St. LOUIS, May 17.—President Francis in welcoming the members at the national editorial convention assembly said that the greatness of the exposition was largely due to the help given by the editors of the United States. The fair and its officers courted newspaper criticism, hoping, however, that both would merit favorable criticism. He closed:

"We welcome you not only for what you have done, but also for yourselves."

P. V. Collins of Minneapolis, president of the association, then delivered his annual address, pointing to the good the press could do and to the evil that yellow journalism could do. He said yellow newspapers were largely responsible for increases in crime. He concluded that the editor must be a broad man, as broad as his country, as broad as the world.

Dr. A. E. Winship, editor of the Journal of Education of Boston, delivered an address on "New Journalism Responsibility." Dr. Winship said:

"Journalism now has an opportunity to do what the state, the school and the church have failed to do for humanity by helping to enthrone the common people who have not come into their inheritance since his Satanic majesty first interfered with family affairs. There are two distinct classes of Americans—those at the top, those at the bottom and the common people. There is nothing in America which the common people so completely own as the press, and modern journalism must be a new gospel for humanity."

Ice Breaker For St. Lawrence River.

MONTREAL, May 17.—Captain Spain and Lieutenant Colonel Anderson of the department of marine and fisheries, Ottawa, appeared before the harbor commissioners and stated that the government intended having an ice breaker built in England during the coming summer with which it was intended to make the experiment of keeping the St. Lawrence open later during the fall and also to break up the ice earlier in the spring. The cost of the vessel will be about $300,000, and if the experiment proves successful another and larger boat would be built and stationed at Quebec in order to make the service more effective.

All Five Bishops to Be Retired.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 17.—The secret ballot taken Saturday by the Methodist general conference on the retirement of Bishops Andrews, Mallalieu, Vincent, Walden and Foss was not made public at the session. Instead the result was ordered to be announced by publication in the Christian Advocate, the official organ of the conference. There is no doubt, however, according to trustworthy authority, that all five bishops will be retired.

Dietz Still Holds the Fort.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 17.—Well supplied with food and ammunition in a stone fort, John Dietz is holding up a drive of the Chippewa Lumber and Boom company at Thornapple river, in Sawyer county. Posses organized last week have been disbanded, as Sheriff Peterson has shown no disposition to head them. Sheriff Peterson has been asked to request state aid, and Governor Lafollette may be asked to send companies of the state militia.

Dunkirk Bakers Out.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., May 17.—Seventy five bakers of this city have struck for ten hours' pay for eight hours' work.

JOSEPH JOACHIM HONORED.

Premier Balfour Presented a Portrait to the Violinist.

LONDON, May 17.—Premier Balfour presided at a reception in Queen's hall last night given in honor of the diamond jubilee of Joseph Joachim, the violinist, who was presented with a portrait by Sargent, accompanied by an appropriate address. The premier made a speech in which he paid a tribute to the veteran musician.

The subscribers to the portrait included Lord Chief Justice Alverstone, Sir Lawrence Alma-Tadema, the painter; Sir Edward John Poynter, president of the Royal academy; John Morley, Premier Balfour, H. H. Asquith, Lord Revelstoke, Lord Kelvin and a host of persons prominent in the worlds of music and art, most of whom were present. There was a scene of great enthusiasm when Premier Balfour presented the violinist with the portrait and address.

Hurst Park Won the Claremont.

NEW YORK, May 17.—On a track that was slow as a result of the rain Hurst Park, with 130 pounds on his back, won the Claremont handicap at Morris park. Lux Casta was second, Gay Boy third. The performance of the winner stamps him as a first class sprinter. The time 1 minute 22 seconds for six and a half furlongs was remarkably good. King Pepper made the pace to the stretch, where Lux Casta took the lead and appeared to be winning easily, when Odom brought Hurst Park up with a rush and won driving by a head. Six lengths separated second and third horses. Runnels, at the prohibitive odds of 3 to 10, won the fifth race easily.

DIAMOND DUST.

Hollywood in left is showing up well for Alis. He has his eye on the ball and nothing escapes him in his garden.

"Kid" Roberts at short and Cregan at second, surprised themselves Saturday in making so many errors. The cold weather helped them to be "off their game."

McGeoy was out of place at first on Saturday, yet he put up a pretty good game. His position is center field and he takes care of that territory in a faultless manner.

Devins, who played center for Alis on Saturday, showed up well. He was sent here by Mehler, who could not play on account of his examinations at Columbia College. The new man fielded and batted well.

Captain Lauder, of Alis, accidentally sprained his ankle in Saturday's game, and although it gave him some trouble, the injury will not prove serious. "Billy" played a great game and he worked every point.

As a pitcher, "Lefty" Davis showed on Saturday that, despite misfortune of his team-mates, he can hold his own. Thirteen strike outs is a record to be proud of. Farmer held him in superb style and his throwing to bases was a feature.

Injured in a Fight.

The brother of one of the borough officials was severely punished in a fight over the school site question in a Somerset street barber shop yesterday afternoon. He was knocked down and his head was cut open against the metal leg of one of the chairs. He quit arguing and fighting after that. Witnesses of the fracas say he was all to blame, and no sympathy was expressed for him.

James Burke Fined.

After having wrecked a bicycle belonging to Patrolman Saffron, tearing the alarm-box from a pole at the corner of Grant avenue and Front street and smashing his hay wagon considerably, James Burke, of Plainfield avenue, was relieved of his team and treated to a ride in the patrol wagon last night. This morning Judge Runyon inflicted a fine of $5 upon him.

After Speak-Easies.

That there is something doing at Elizabeth just now can be determined by the number of persons from here that have been called to the county seat to be interviewed by the Grand Jury. There is a rumor that the city officials are determined to banish speak-easies.

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be stripped of personalities, and must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Supt. Wightman Replies to Mr. Woolston's Talk on "Ancient History."

Editor, The Daily Press:

It is not my purpose in this communication to make a comparison of the North Plainfield High School with any other particular school. I shall simply state facts over my signature, any one of which can be verified by any person wishing to do so. The North Plainfield High School has held the certificate privilege to twenty-three colleges and universities. This means that the authorities of twenty-three higher institutions of learning have passed upon the quality and quantity of the school work of the borough and have found it satisfactory. Some of these certificate privileges have now expired and have not been renewed, because we have not had pupils wishing to enter all of these institutions; but in every such case the certificate privilege will be renewed when there is any pupil to enter. The better institutions grant certificate privileges that are good for but two or three years unless pupils enter in the meantime. It is necessary to examine the work of a school at least as often as this to judge if it is keeping up to the times.

The list follows: Cornell University, University of Pennsylvania, Rutgers College, Chicago University, New York University, Wells College, Rochester University, Syracuse University, Vassar College, Wellesley College, Lehigh University, Lafayette College, Mount Holyoke College, Smith College, Swarthmore College, Armour Institute, Woman's College of Baltimore, Delaware College, Oberlin College, Susquehanna College, Elmira College, Colgate University and Dartmouth College.

A diploma from the N. P. H. S. will admit a pupil to the second year of the New Jersey State Normal School or of any of the eleven New York State Normal Schools. The work of the N. P. H. S. is accepted by the University of the State of New York (Regents), and a pupil can receive a Regents Certificate for work done in North Plainfied that will give him the same credit and standing as the same work taken in any High School of New York State.

Our certificates have been accepted by Vassar, Mount Holyoke, Smith, Wellesley, Cornell, Columbia University (through Regents), Woman's College of Baltimore, Rutgers, Chicago University, New York University and several smaller institutions, and the pupils thus entering have maintained high rank.

It is our invariable rule not to certify to any subject in which the pupil has not acquired on work and examination a general standing of 80 per cent. We believe it is best for the school and best for the pupil to maintain this high standard.

I have given the above long list of colleges and universities that accept the graduates of the N. P. H. S. without entrance examinations simply to show that the quality as well as the quantity of H. S. work done in the borough is approved by the authorities who are supposed to be judges of school work. I do not know of any higher authorities to pass upon High School work than these higher institutions who take our product.

H. J. Wightman.

GREAT CLOSED LAND.

AS SUCH THIBET IS KNOWN AMONG ASIATICS.

British Are Now Trying to Conquer the Mysterious Country of the Fanatical Lamas and Magicians.

London (Eng.) Special.

The news dispatches of the last few weeks telling of the attempts of the British force under Col. Younghusband to enter Thibet have been somewhat overshadowed by the details of the larger conflict in Asia, which at the present moment is the cynosure of the eyes of the civilized world.

China, Manchuria, Japan and Russia to the ordinary lay reader mean something concrete, something which even the most casual geographical student can understand. Thibet, "the great closed island," on the other hand; Thibet, the unknown, the isolated, the mysterious, is something which the great world at large looks upon with whimsical disinterestedness.

Nomads by inclination and by necessity, practically every male in Thibet is a soldier, and as they gain a greater part of their livelihood from brigandage and hostile forays, one tribe against another, it may properly be said that their entire existence is given up to unremitting warfare.

Should England succeed eventually in her purpose to add Thibet to her Atlantic domains, anyone who has ever been in Thibet can well ask: "What will she secure as compensation for this tremendous outlay of men and money?" All explorers in Thibet agree that the natural resources of the country are infinitessimal and that nothing of concrete value ever can be secured to repay for the enormous expenditure necessary to prompt from nature something which she will not yield even if strenuously urged.

British statesmen argue that Thibet will serve as the great "buffer" to Russia's expansive ambition Indiaward, but the fact that most impresses any Thibetan traveler who has toiled for weary months at a halting pace through these barren and inhospitable wilds is that Thibet left to herself would dampen even Russian ardor for expansion.

NATURAL CASTLE IN THIBET.
(Rugged Fortification Encountered by British Expedition.)

For scientists and geographers the opening of Thibet will mean much. The secrets of the mysterious city of Lassa, which has defied all attempts of white explorers to reach it, will be laid bare. Practically the last of the great unknown tracts of the habitable globe will disappear, and with the subsequent spread of civilizing and humanizing influences will in turn disappear the curious features of one of the strangest races of the world.

As is natural to suppose, the features of the landscape are reflected in the natives themselves. As a race they are a dirty and filthy lot of the most degraded savages, building no substantial dwellings, except among the agricultural tribes in the eastern districts bordering on the Chinese frontier, but with their herds of yak and horses wandering over the country, living in small tents made of yak skins or in cave dwellings. By nature the Thibetan is a glutton and will eat wherever and whenever opportunity presents itself.

Both men and women are ugly, with huge features. They have great faith in the pernicious habit of disfiguring themselves with paint and strange tattoo marks and cicatrices. There is no settled form of government outside of the unstable hierarchy at Lassa, the constitution of society everywhere being simple. Almost every crime is condoned by payment, this leniency causing a brutality and bloody license which provoke long protracted feuds and wars. Life is held in little if any esteem and is taken upon the least compunction.

The real curse of Thibet, however, is the powerful lama hierarchy. These clergymen form nearly one-third of the entire population of the country and are rulers in substance if not in name. Magic, charms, fetich, rosaries and other "mystical" emblems constitute the main features of the cult of lama Buddhism. One of the most peculiar features of the Thibetan religious side of life is the prayer wheel. It forms a strange sight indeed to watch the Thibetans going about their daily avocations monotonously, and by practice apparently unconsciously, twisting these instruments.

The worship of deceased ancestors is carried on among all tribes, the natives at different periods digging up the bones of these illustrious forbearers and religiously washing them.

WORLD'S RICHEST FAMILY.

Wealth of Rothschilds Foots Up to a Total of a Billion and a Half.

A writer in the Tattler, a London publication which is nearly always bright, and often very well informed, argues that however great the riches of the American millionaires may be, there is no family in the United States which approaches the wealth of the Rothschilds. He makes a good case.

It appears that careful estimates of the possessions of the French branch of the family place its riches at or above $300,000,000. The British Rothschilds are rated still higher in the financial world. The German members of the family which won its first success in that country are also very rich, and there are other Rothschilds still to be reckoned with. Altogether, it is claimed that the wealth of the entire family is not less than $1,500,000,000.

If that sum is anywhere near the marks, then it follows that there is no American family anything like so rich as the Rothschilds. They can easily outweigh any other house in the extent and value of their property. And most of it is very solid and safe. From the first, the Rothschilds have been careful and shrewd in handling their immense wealth. No one can set a limit on its probable accumulations, a generation hence.

MILITARY OFFICER SCORES LEGISLATURE

three-cent piece stay at home until they widen out." Those present gave endorsement to what the speaker said through almost continuous applause.

Ralph I. Tolles, president of the Common Council, responded with a few pleasant words, after which Col. Collins, of Elizabeth, who claims to be the father of Co. K, complimented his child and the commandant of the organization. He also referred to the fact that it was his pleasure to have on his staff, Kempton W. Browning as assistant surgeon.

In referring to Col. Clime's remarks, Col. Collins said that he was inclined to be more charitable toward his fellow-citizens, believing that their actions were due to ignorance or a play to the galleries. He added that they would soon be "has-beens," and the sooner the better.

Former Assemblyman William Newcorn, who, while in the Legislature, worked hard for an armory for Co. K, was the next speaker. He said that while in the Assembly, he did not feel like a three-cent Legislator referred to by Col. Clime, for he voted in favor of every military measure. He renewed his promise to do all he could to secure an armory here.

At this time Captain Martin referred to the regimental prize won by Co. K in qualifying the most number of men.

Probably one of the best addresses of the evening was given by Rev. Dr. Otis A. Glazebrook, of Elizabeth, chaplain of the Second Regiment. In an eloquent manner, the veteran stirred the hearts of everyone in his earnest plea that they be loyal, and that fidelity be the watch-word; that the members be regular in their attendance at weekly drills and thus make the organization a success. "To be rather than to seem," were the words impressed on the assembly. He referred to the "yellow peril," adding that the American soldier has a rival in the Far East in the solider of the Mikado.

The other speakers of the evening were Freeholder William A. Westphal, Councilmen Robert S. Lee, J. S. Higham and William S. Bulleck, Dr. Kempton Browning, Former Lieut. J. P. Mosher, of this city; Captain John H. Wheeley, of Co. M, Somerville; Maj. Nelson Y. Dungan, of Somerville; Captain Parks, of Co. C, of Elizabeth. They all complimented the local organization. During the evening R. I. Tolles, W. A. Westphal, R. S. Lee and J. S. Higham were accepted as honorary members. It was about 2 o'clock this morning when the affair terminated and three rousing cheers were given to the officers and guests.

SIXTEEN MUSICIANS FOR CONCERT BAND

First of the Open Air Musical Feasts Scheduled for Latter Part of June.

ALREADY $400 RAISED

BANDMASTER LA VERE ENGAGES SOME NEW YORK SOLOISTS.

Emil Weber to Play the Bass Horn—Albert Zimmerman, of the Metropolitan Opera House, Engaged As a French Horn Player.

Benjamin LaVere is gradually completing his plans for the series of summer band concerts to be given in the borough. He has decided to cross the brook because the greatest amount of money toward the enterprise has been contributed by boroughites and he feels that it is only right that they should profit by the concerts. As yet Mr. LaVere has not decided on the exact spot where the concerts will be given. He has under consideration the corner of Fairview and Watchung avenues, the place selected last year, while he is also considering the vacant lot near Tier's pond, a proposition having been made for that place.

The first concert will be given either on Thursday night, June 23 or 30. It is proposed to hold all of the concerts on Thursday night and there will be one each week. At present there is $400 in the treasury toward the expense of the concerts and an additional sum will be needed to carry out the plan of giving a certain number of entertainments. The people of Plainfield and the borough were not very generous in their patronage of the minstrel show given to raise funds for the concerts. It is estimated that $30 was realized as profit. There were exactly 474 admission tickets sold at fifty cents each and in addition there were thirty-four complimentary tickets. This does not discourage Mr. LaVere, however, for he intends to give the two towns one of the best series of concerts in their history.

At every concert there will be some vocal soloist of prominence, including William Redmond and William Murray, of New York. Other soloists from Whitmark & Son and J. J. Nestor, New York, will also appear and it is likely that there will be at least one soprano soloist.

There will be also some changes in the band of sixteen pieces. Emil Weber, who has been playing the bass horn with Victor Herbert's orchestra, will be among the new members, as will also William Tuson, the celebrated clarinet player. Another new face will be Albert Zimmerman, French horn player, who has been at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, for several seasons. William Zimmerman, trombone player of the 71st Regiment N. G. N. Y., will also be a new member. Louis Otts, the famous piccolo and flute player, of Newark, and Charles Agney, the celebrated trap drummer, of the Newark Theatre, will be added to the band. Luther LaVere, brother of Benjamin LaVere, who is playing the trombone and bariton horn at Blaney's, Newark, will return, while the old favorites, Al. Sweet and Louis Anderson, cornetists, will again be heard here.

Mr. LaVere intends giving a programme of popular music at every concert, opening with some standard overture. He says that if the proper support is given he will entertain the public to the "queen's taste," and it is to be hoped that liberal support will be accorded him in his undertaking.

Mr. Millar's Vacation.

Alexander Millar, secretary of the Union Pacific Railroad, left last Thursday for Europe, intending to take a quiet little vacation for two months, most of which he expects to spend in Germany. Mr. Millar has been connected with the Union Pacific for the past thirty-two years and is regarded as one of the hardest working officials of that system.—N. Y. Times.

CHILDREN HONOR PRIEST

FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF ORDINATION OF FATHER SMYTH OBSERVED.

After the mass yesterday morning in celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the Very Rev. P. E. Smyth's ordination to the priesthood was over at St. Joseph's R. C. church, Jersey City, the rector was given a reception in Pavonia Hall by the parochial school children.

They presented their pastor with a handsome desk and revolving chair of golden oak, a basket of roses and a beautifully engraved scroll containing forty prayers, each one offered forty times by the sisters and the children of the school. The scroll was handsomely framed.

Tableaux, recitations and songs by the junior boys and girls were pleasant features of the occasion. Father Smyth was formerly pastor of St. Mary's church here.

FILMORE BAPTISTS IN TROUBLE

FINANCIAL EMBARRASSMENT PREVENTS CONGREGRTION PAYING FOR CHURCH.

Financial embarrassment and the loss of their house of worship have been added to the other troubles of the Fillmore Avenue Baptist church, colored. Yesterday the church was taken from the possession of the congregation by the owners, in default of payments of money due.

About a year ago the church, which is owned by the heirs of the late Salome Scheidecker, was turned over to the congregation under an agreement calling for monthly payments from the latter. These payments have lapsed, and yesterday William G. DeMeza, Esq., the representative of the heirs, acting under instructions from his clients, took possession of the property. It is valued at about $1,500.

The lawyer did not know just what the owners intended to do with the property, but he said he did not believe it would be turned over to the congregation again.

It is only about four months ago that the congregation was torn in two by sensational charges of misconduct against its pastor, Rev. E. J. Crudup. He was indicted on one of two accusations and brought to trial. The jury disagreed. It is said that the church, through the various troubles brought on it, is on the verge of dissolution.

New Fast Freight Line.

A new fast freight line, to be known as the Jersey Central Dispatch Line, is to go into operation on June 1. This line will include the Central Railroad of New Jersey and its connections and the Lake Shore and the Michigan Central, with their connections. The tracks of the New York Central's new north and south line will be used from the junction of that line with the Central of New Jersey. The Vanderbilt system, through the Lake Shore road, is heavily interested in the Reading, which owns a controlling interest in the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

To Extend Sanitary Sewers.

For the purpose of making it possible for the officers of the Mary Morgan Fresh Air Home to connect the institution with the sanitary system of sewers, the Common Council will meet tomorrow night and take the proper action. Last year this Home was dependent upon cesspools, but owing to their condition, this cannot be done this year. Before the Home can be opened the sewer connection must be made and the Council will meet to give the necessary permission. It is being planned to open the Home July 1.

Mrs. Hazard Buried.

Very simple were the funeral services of Mrs. Russell Hazard, of Vine street, North Plainfield, yesterday. Rev. C. E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, preached the funeral discourse which was followed by singing by the Heavenly Rest Quartette. The pall-bearers were Frank Krewson, Mr. Taylor, C. B. Pope and R. B. VanArsdale. Interment was in the North Plainfield Cemetery.

A May Tea.

MAYOR BILL SMITH, GIVES A BLOW-OUT

New Market's Magnate Entertains the Village Band and Some Personal Friends.

NOT A BIT STUCK UP

CHAMPAGNE IS SERVED TO GUESTS IN BEER GLASSES.

Feasting at Dent's Hotel—Band Plays "O Paradise" When the Good Things Are Placed on the Table.

Mayor Bill Smith unloosed some more of the Fair millions at New Market last night. The New Market Band, which the village magnate has taken under his monied wing, and a number of friends and adherents of all sorts and conditions were his guests at what the natives speak of as a real swell dinner.

The function was held in Dent's Hotel, the dining room of which was given entirely over to the Mayor for the evening. Mayor Bill has planned to start on a long automobile tour today, and the dinner was in the nature of a farewell.

A long table was set with a lavish display of chinaware, silver and linen. Everything that is supposed to appear at a millionaire's table was out in a way that dazzled the guests.

Mayor Bill set out to do the honors in the proper way, and nothing was lacking for the complete enjoyment of the village bon vivants. Mayor Bill ordered that all speechmaking be cut out, and there was nothing to interfere with the free and rapid discussion of the "swell" menu.

The chief glory of the table was real champagne. Not the American imitation, but the actual, imported fizzy wine, sign and symbol of unlimited wealth and high life. Most of the diners were somewhat in awe of the sizzling refreshment and the consumption of it was attended with a certain degree of restraint. When a native tackled the champagne—it was served in "short" beer glasses—he drank it with a gravity of countenance that suggested a rare and sacred ceremony.

The band members had their instruments with them and discoursed sweet and fitting music at intervals. When the dinner was announced the players drew mighty breaths and played "O Paradise."

Mayor Bill was busy in consultation with his New York lawyers at his home early in the evening, and did not arrive at the hotel until 9 o'clock. When he entered the dining room the band played "Hail the Conquering Hero Comes." The Mayor shoved his hat back on his head and bowed. He was not in evening dress.

After the dinner, and when the last of the real champagne had gone the way of all good wines, the Mayor leaned back in his chair with a benign and satisfied expression on his face. "This is something like," he said. "I'm not a bit stuck up about it, either. I'm going to get all that's coming to me, but I'm Bill Smith all the time and my friends can come in on it right along." The band played "I Love You as I Never Did Before."

If the Mayor's plans are carried out he will begin his tour this afternoon. He aims to travel to San Francisco, stopping at the St. Louis Fair on the way out. He will be accompanied by a machinist who will keep the big touring car in trim.

J. Nevitt Steele Engaged.

An engagement of interest to a number of Plainfielders is that of J. Nevitt Steele, son of Rev. J. Nevitt Steele, vicar of old Trinity church, New York, to Miss Elizabeth Condon, of Providence, R. I. Mr. Steele is a brother of Mrs. Theodore Morris, of Myrtle avenue and Mrs. Leon Moran, of Grove street, and he is also a relative of Thomas U. Dudley, of Park place.

Second Paralytic Stroke.

P. J. McAndrews, of 140 North avenue, suffered another partial stroke of paralysis on Monday and is now confined to his bed. Less than a week ago he was feeling much better than ever and had strong hopes of complete recovery. It will probably be some time before he can leave the house again.

Concert Postponed.

Owing to serious illness in the family of one of the members of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church choir, the concert to have have been given in Grace M. E. church tomorrow night, is unavoidably postponed.

EXPLAINED PRINTING METHOD

A. B. LUCE TOLD CAMERA CLUB MEMBERS HOW TO DO GUM PRINTING.

A. B. Luce gave a lecture on gum printing at the rooms of the Plainfield Camera Club, last night. There was a large attendance of amateur photographers and the demonstration of the style of printing was of special interest to them. One advantage about gum printing is that it can be done in the light and under general conditions, whereas with other kinds of printing the conditions are restrictive.

TO PRACTICE ON NEW RANGE

CO. K PLANS TO AVOID UNNECESSARY NOISE AT ARMORY.

Rifle pactice will be systematically inaugurated shortly by Co. K on the seventy-five foot armory range which has been installed for that purpose. In order to obviate excessive noise and unnecessary expense the sub-caliber system is to be employed. This consists of using in the regulation Krag-Jergensen rifle, a catridge powerful enough to do the short range work called for and yet smaller and consequently cheaper than the service cartridge.

The cartridge used is the well known Smith & Wesson, caliber .32. A steel tube chambered for this cartridge is fitted into the chamber of the rifle, practically rechambering it to suit the smaller shell. The size of the ball, which is of soft lead so nearly approximates that of the regulation steel-jacketed ball that very accurate work can be done on a range where the other load would prove unsatisfactory, if not dangerous.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

JOHN HUBBARD TUMBLED INTO SOUTH PLAINFIELD POND WHILE FISHING.

Struggling to land a big catfish, John Hubbard, of Central avenue, overturned the boat in which he and John Welsh were fishing in South Plainfield pond yesterday afternoon. Hubbard had a narrow escape from drowning.

Hubbard and Welsh were angling near the upper end of the pone when the former got a heavy bite. The fish was an unusually big one, and developed a surprising amount of gameness. He held back and struggled so hard for a few seconds that Hubbard began to play him. The catfish lost his gameness suddenly, and the taut line slackened so unexpectedly that Hubbard lost his balance. He fell against the side of the boat and turned it, dumping Welsh and himself into the water. All their traps, including two guns and some ammunition tumbled in with them.

Hubbard cannot swim, and would have drowned but for the assistance of his companion. They were taken home, drenched and shivering, in a carriage. The guns were recovered with the aid of rakes fastened to long poles. As usual, the big fish got away.

MANY CHANGES IN TIMETABLE

NEW SCHEDULE OF B. AND O. AND THE READING AS EFFECTING PLAINFIELD.

The new time tables of the Baltimore and Ohio and the Reading systems, which use the Jersey Central's tracks between Bound Brook and New York, show many important changes which effect this city, a number of trains stopping here as usual.

The eastbound Royal Blue train, which formerly stopped on signal at 12:58 in the afternoon, now stops at Elizabeth only. The 9:59 for New York, at night, has been changed one minute and now comes in at 9:58.

Changes among the westbound trains are more numerous, including the following: The Royal Blue train at 9:12 in the morning, for Washington, is changed to 8:51 and the 10:44, although by an error set down on the time table as making Plainfield a regular stop, will stop on signal only. The 11:14, in the morning, another Royal Blue liner, has been changed to 10:51 and the 1:39 in the afternoon has been changed to 2:45.

The Philadelphia and Reading road has put on a new train at 1:39 in the afternoon, so the B. and O. change to 2:45 will not be accompanied by any inconvenience to Plainfielders. The 4:18 in the afternoon will no longer make Plainfield a stop but a new Sunday train, the 5:37, has been put on. A new Sunday train is the 6:45 in the evening.

JAPANESE COMMAND THE SITUATION NOW

Mikado's Forces Now Block 100,000 Russian Troops From Retreating.

RUSSIANS AT MUKDEN

KUROPATKIN'S MOVE PLACES HIM BETWEEN OPPOSING FORCES.

Japs are Entrenched Above Mukden in Great Numbers—Newchrang Said to be Evacuated.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

London, May 18—The Japanese army is in full posession of the Liaotung Peninsula, with the exception of Port Arthur, and despatches received here say that 100,000 Russians are hemmed in by an army of 180,000 Japanese.

The Russians have evacuated Newchwang, where the Japanese have landed. The Japanese, the despatches say, also have landed at Kaiping.

A tremendous battle between the main body of the Russians and the Japansee was imminent, until Gen. Kuropatkin, in command of the Czar's troops withdrew to Mukden.

The Japanese are reported to be entrenched above Mukden in great numbers and this move of Kuropatkin's is believed to have placed him between opposing forces.

MISS RANSOM WEDS.

Becomes the Wife of Hamdon T. Allis Down, An English Ranch Owner.

Hamdon T. Allis Down, an English ranch owner from Wyoming, and Miss Katherine Ransom, of New York, a former resident of this city, were married here very quietly last night by Rev. W. Montgomery Downey. Only the necessary witnesses were present.

The groom is well-to-do and owns a large cattle farm. He and his bride will take a trip to his old home in England, and upon their return will take up their residence on the ranch. They expect to be back in this country by the end of next month.

Would Enjoin Jr. O. U. A. M.

The State Council of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics obtained an order from Vice Chancellor Pitney at Trenton yesterday, requiring the national council to show cause at Newark on May 30 why it should not be enjoined from instituting or pretending to institute any subordinate lodges of the order in this State and from acting or pretending to act as a council of the order in New Jersey. The State Council also asks that the national body be enjoined from using the name of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics of the State of New Jersey or any abbreviation thereof. The national council has already four subordinate councils in the State and has declared its intentions of organizing a State council as soon as a fifth has been formed.

Charity Production Netted $300.

Although the production entailed heavy expense, the net receipts from the "Taming of the Shrew" presentation at the Casino will net about $300. This money will be divided among local charity organizations. The friends of the latter are pleased that the more or less general report that the production had been practically a financial failure is wholly untrue.

To Tell of India.

Mrs. Abby Burnell, dressed in the costume of a high class Hindu woman, will speak at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, tonight, on the life and customs of India. She will speak from the position of a native woman. The talk will occupy the time usually devoted to weekly prayer-meeting.

Memorial Day in Schools.

The North Plainfield schools will celebrate Decoration Day on May 27, with special exercises. A detail of G. A. R. men will visit the schools and talk to the children on the meaning of the day. Music Instructor Edmund V. Skiff is preparing a special programme for the occasion.

Picnic Ground in Borough.

Union Cove, in North Plainfield, is being prepared for picnic uses. A lot of new tables are being put around the grounds, and a large dancing platform will be erected.

SENATOR CROSS TO DECLINE

IT IS RUMORED THAT HE WILL REFUSE THE APPOINTMENT.

It was said at Trenton on good authority yesterday that Senator Cross, of Union County, will decline the appointment as judge of the United States District Court for the district of New Jersey to succeed the late Andrew Kirkpatrick.

Senator Cross was given to understand last week that he could have the appointment if he desired it, and he has had the matter under consideration since then. He has concluded, it was said yesterday, to inform those from whom the offer came that while he greatly appreciated the honor which the appointment would confer upon him, he would be obliged to decline it for purely personal reasons.

ANTIETAM COMMAND'S AFFAIR

DEPARTMENT STAFF OFFICERS VISIT LOCAL ORGANIZATION OF VETERANS.

Gen. Garrison, commanding the department of New York and New Jersey, accompanied by Col. West, Past Gen. H. Steward and Officer of the Day Isaac Carver, visited Antietam Command, No. 3, Union Veterans' Union, last night, as the guests of the Women's Veterans' Relief Union.

The orders of the evening included speeches from all of the visitors and the following members of the command: Gen. J. R. Naylor, Colorbearer Henry O. Frazee and C. M. Raybert.

Severa' other numbers, including piano selections by Mrs. Hattie Gibbons, recitation by Mrs. Cox and a song by Samuel Frazee, to his own accompaniment on the violin. At 11 o'clock refreshments were served and the gathering broke up, some of them seeing the visitors off on the 11:28 train for New York. Antietam Command, together with the Relief Union, was invited by Department Commander Garrison to attend the New York and New Jersey encampment at Waterloo, N. Y., June 13 and 14.

State Exempts' Meeting.

The North Plainfield Firemen's Exempt Association has five representatives at the meeting of the State Exempt Association in Englewood today. The delegation is made up of George Fairchild, William Debele, Charles Keller, James Walker. Chief Woolston is entitled to a seat at the meeting exofficio.

Application for affiliation with the State organization will be made in behalf of the borough exempts. No doubt that they will be admitted is entertained.

Abe Naar In Trouble.

Abraham de A. Naar, of Trenton, a former sergeant-at-arms of the New Jersey Democratic State committee, was arrested late Monday afternoon at Newark and locked up at police headquarters on a charge of passing a worthless check for $35 on Mrs. Eva Johnson, wife of R. R. Johnson, proprietor of the Washington Hotel at Morristown, in payment for board for himself and a young woman companion, whom he claims is his wife.

Express Trolley Accident.

The first accident of the new Trenton through line occurred yesterday morning in Bound Brook. The front of the car, due here shorly after 11 o'clock, was damaged by a hay wagon. The wagon ran over the front of the fender, smashing the glass of the vestibule and breaking the fender. There were no casualties although the passengers were badly scared for a few seconds. The accident delayed the car for some time.

Association Juniors Won.

The Y. M. C. A. Juniors defeated the Leal's Seconds on the Myrtle avenue grounds yesterday afternoon by the score of 14 to 13. Rowland, the Leal's left fielder, made a star catch in the fifth inning on which he made a double play. Browne and Nischwitz both pitched good ball.

Bishop at Holy Cross.

A Chinese Social.

The Standard Bearers, of Monroe Avenue church, will hold a Chinese social in Epworth House Friday night.

WHITTIER BASEBALL TEAM ENTERTAINMENT

Large Audience Enjoys a Lengthy Programme Replete With Good Numbers.

TEACHERS INTERESTED

FLOWER DRILL BY SIXTEEN GIRLS CLAD IN WHITE.

Six Boys Sing the Tinker's Chorus From Robin Hood—A One-Act Farce Well Received—Those Taking Part.

Marked success attended the entertainment for the benefit of the Whittier School baseball team, in Franklin School hall last night. The programme was a delightful one, delightfully rendered. An audience that taxed the capacity of the hall to its limit was present.

Music, recitations, a flower drill and amateur theatricals were included in the varied bill. All the numbers were rendered with a degree of cleverness that merited the hearty applause which punctuated the entertainment at frequent intervals.

Chief among the special features of the programme was the flower drill, in which sixteen girls, clad in white and carrying big garlands of roses, took part. Under the direction of Miss Addie Parker Jackson, the physical culture instructor of the schools, they went through a drill that was almost a dazzling spectacle. Miss Louise Davis played the musical accompaniment to the drill. The girls who took part were Ethel Rogers, Helen Rogers, Katherine Gray, Cora Gray, Eva Kelly, Florence Dicken, Fanny Carr, Caroline Lambert, Mabel Cook, Marion VanHorn, Lillian Cummings, Marion Praed, Florence Phillips, Florence Johnston and Carrie Cruickshank.

The musical feature of the bill was the singing of the Tinker's Chorus from Robin Hood by six boys. The singers were in costume, and made the usual pretense of mending brand new tins as they caroled. Mrs. Charles L. Lewis was the accompanist. The "tinkers" were Elmer Bohem, Frederick Gray, Herbert Grant, Stanley Karner, John Morrison and Roy Whitehall.

"The Shakespeare Club," a one act farce, produced a lot of laughter. The seven girls in the cast enacted their parts with a high degree of skill, and deserved the warm applause that rewarded them. The cast included Irene Dunham, Elizabeth Pound, Louise Davis, Catherine Knox, Helen Timpson, Caroline Lambert and Grace Weeks.

Other numbers on the bill included a mandolin solo by Chester Briggs, vocal solos by Miss Marie Newman, trios by the Misses Shupp and C. K. Shupp. They were as warmly applauded as the rest of the performers. Miss M. Stephanie Krom charmed the audience with a recitation.

To Miss Day and her corps of teachers, who worked hard in arranging the affair, the young baseball players owe a big debt for the success of their money-making venture. Miss Jackson contributed largely to the result by most effective drilling of the flower girls and the cast of the farce, and Music Instructor C. L. Lewis helped materially by training the boys in the Tinker Chorus.

Birthday Party.

The Little Missionary Day Nursery, 93 St. Marks place, New York, held its eighth annual birthday party at the Seventh Street M. E. church on Monday. Many of the children have been with Miss Curry since she started the work, and show under what careful training they have been. They were all dressed in white. The receipts from the entertainment were $230. Miss Curry leaves for Atlantic City for a much needed rest after a very hard winter's work.

Ready for Church Concert.

The concert at the Congregation church tomorrow night for the benefit of the Swedish Pilgrim church, promises to be one of the best of the season. This church is very much in need of funds and an opportunity is now offered the public to enjoy a fine concert and at the same time aid a worthy cause.

Epworth League Social.

The last social of the season will be held by the First M. E. Epworth League Friday night. The affair will be a "picture sociable," and much enjoyment of novel nature is expected from it. The social committee is in charge.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" was too strong an attraction for the messenger boys employed at the local office of the Western Union Telegraph office, Saturday night. In consequence the office was without a single messenger and consternation reigned supreme from 7 o'clock until midnight. The operator on duty was obliged to engage hackmen at $2 each to deliver messages and this was far from profitable for the company. As a result of the grand exodus, Manager Schermerhorn made a persistent search throughout the town in search of boys. A representative of the telegraph company visited Central Theatre, but not a single inducement made by him was tempting enough to make the boys leave the show. They simply went wild when they saw the bloodhounds chasing Eliza over the cakes of "frozen ice" and they were entirely oblivious to the fact that there were many messages at the office awaiting delivery. Monday some of these boys found themselves out of jobs.

AMUSEMENTS.

Raymond Hitchcock in the new comic opera, "The Yankee Consul" at the Broadway Theatre, New York, is the one big musical hit of the year in that city. This attraction will enter upon its tenth week on Monday evening, April 25, and every night the Broadway is filled to its utmost capacity and this theatre is one of the largest on Manhattan Island. There seems to be no question in the minds of the play-going public as to the merits of the attraction, and New York's approval of this musical play has been more pronounced than in the case of any other offering in the line of comic opera in a long time.

Awake Nine Days.

Did you ever try to stay awake forty-eight hours? You know then how hard it is. How would you like to stay awake nine days? A man over in New Jersey did. He had hiccoughs. Three hundred people wrote to him to tell him how to stop them. "Stand on your head" one letter said. Next Sunday's New York World tells all about this remarkable case. There are twenty other interesting features, some illustrated in colors, some in black and white. Don't forget to order next Sunday's New York World.

Overheard on the Pike.

Mr. Easy—"Why should people visiting the Exposition at night, use more Allen's Foot-Ease than in daytime?"

Miss Foote—"Because under the brilliant illumination of the grounds, every foot becomes an acre!"

Mr. Easy—"Fair, Only fair! Pray, conduct me to the nearest drug store and I promise never to accept a substitute for you or for Allen's Foot-Ease." * * * * *

POOLROOMS CUT OFF

Western Union Stops All Race Track Wire Service.

CRIPPLES GAMBLING FRATERNITY

Estimate Made That Three Hundred Poolrooms May Go Out of Business—Result of Captain Goddard's Exposure.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Absolutely cut off from their race track service by the Western Union Telegraph company the 200 and odd poolrooms of this city which had used it still continued business, but their transactions were mostly on the handbook basis. Bets were taken from regulars, but no money could be placed after a certain time before the start of each race.

The action of the Western Union in withdrawing the race track service is thought to have been forced by the district attorney.

The Dowling bill, it is said, gives Mr. Jerome power to summon witnesses and to proceed against the Western Union, and it is believed that the determined attitude of the district attorney had its moral effect on the Western Union directors.

Captain F. Norton Goddard, superintendent of the Antipolicy society, and Mr. Jerome were in close conference early in the day with a view, it is said, of pressing a rigid investigation of the poolroom telegraphic service.

It was not until 2 o'clock in the afternoon that Colonel Clowry announced the cessation of the poolroom service. Wires, however, were cut at about 5 o'clock in the morning. District Attorney Jerome was taken unawares by the announcement. He had been making plans for an investigation of the company's action in delivering horse racing information to poolrooms, and Justice Wyatt, in special sessions, it is said, had planned to issue at 5 o'clock subpoenas calling the Western Union officials before him this morning.

When Mr. Jerome, however, heard of Colonel Clowry's statement he said he would do nothing now, but declined to say what would be his future course in the case.

Police Commissioner McAdoo said that if all the poolrooms had been cut off as announced that form of the vice of gambling had received a most dangerous blow and that if it survived at all it would have to do so under other forms and devices.

Within New York city it is estimated that there are 300 poolrooms, of which probably 200 paid the Western Union $25 a day for service.

The antigambling news order is supposed to be the result of Captain Norton Goddard's exposure of the relations of Western Union officials with the poolroom interests and the ease with which his agents arranged, as they made affidavit, to have poolroom service installed in a "dummy" room.

Gillespie Murder Trial.

RISING SUN, Ind., May 18.—In the trial here of the defendants charged with the murder of Miss Elizabeth Gillespie, Theodore W. Franklin, a detective employed by the corporation of Rising Sun to investigate the murder, told of a conversation with Myron Barbour in which Barbour showed him in his bank a riot gun which he said he was going to use on some newspaper man who had grossly slandered him and Mrs. Barbour. Barbour said he could not have said to Earl Seward, "He ought not to have shot for poor grandma's sake," because he was out of breath. The witness said he asked Barbour who shot Miss Gillespie. "You don't think I did?" was the reply. Witness said he did not, but thought he knew. Barbour shook with emotion and wept and finally said, "I can't talk now." Next morning Barbour still said he had nothing to say. Deputy Overly testified that James Gillespie owned the only 16 caliber gun in Rising Sun.

Burial of Sir Henry M. Stanley.

LONDON, May 18.—The remains of Sir Henry M. Stanley, who died May 10, have been buried in the quiet churchyard of the old Surrey village of Pirbright. Prior to the burial the British nation and the United States, in the persons of Ambassador Choate and Consul General Evans, paid honor to the departed African explorer with an impressive funeral service held in Westminster abbey. "Bula Batari," meaning "The Rock Breaker," as the coffin plate testified Stanley was known by the African natives, was taken in an open hearse to the abbey. The route was lined by crowds of people. The pallbearers included a grandson of Livingstone, Arthur Mountenay Jephson, Stanley's former lieutenant, and the Duke of Abercorn.

Monument to Bjornstjerne Bjornson.

FARGO, N. D., May 18.—Thousands of Norwegians witnessed the unveiling here of a monument in honor of Norway's poet, Bjornstjerne Bjornson. The stone is a block of granite secured from Norway by Dr. S. O. Fjelde of Abercrombie. It rests on a pedestal built in the center of the North Dakota Agricultural college campus. Governor White accepted the monument in behalf of the state. An appropriate programme of songs and speeches followed.

Mother and Child Drowned.

COLUMBUS, O., May 18.—Having tied her five-year-old daughter to her left arm and waist, Mrs. M. B. Copeland jumped from the Rich street bridge over the Scioto river, and mother and child drowned in twelve feet of water. No cause is known for the act.

LABAREE'S MURDER

Shah's Troops Scouring Country Near Mount Ararat.

KILLED BY MOHAMMEDAN FANATICS

Kurds of This Region Are Thieves and Murderers by Preference. Most Dangerous Field For Missionaries.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The full story of the killing of the American missionary, Dr. Labaree, who lived for some years in Brooklyn, near Mount Ararat as a result of a bitter religious hatred is told in a report just received at the state department from Richmond Pearson, United States minister to Persia at Teheran. The report says:

"It is now forty-one days since the Rev. Benjamin W. Labaree, an American missionary, was murdered near Khoi, almost under the shadow of Mount Ararat. I had hoped before this to cable you that one or more of the murderers had been arrested, but I can only report at present that a large expedition under command of an energetic general who is highly respected and commended by the missionaries is actually scouring the mountains in search of any and all of the gang, who are all known and identified. While only four men actually participated in the killing of Mr. Labaree and his servant, ten other Kurds of the same gang were accomplices. They had simply taken another road for the purpose of entrapping their prey and must be held guilty as accessories before the fact.

"The brutality and atrocity of the murder remove any doubt as to its motive and eliminate entirely the suggestion in my first cable that the 'motive was apparently robbery.' The stealing of the horses and other property was a mere incident. The inspiration of the deed was religious and race hatred without the slightest personal animosity. The fact that the chief and leader of the criminals is a 'Seyid,' an alleged lineal descendant of Mohammed, adds greatly to the difficulty of the arrest. These Kurds are all Mohammedans of the Sunni sect, and their fanaticism, which is both ardent and sincere, added to their hereditary and instinctive love of blood and pillage, makes them a dangerous and a difficult population to deal with.

"They are shepherds by profession, but murderers by occupation and predilection. He prefers a horse that he has stolen rather than one he has raised and is fired by the honest belief that his bloodiest deeds against Christians will be crowned by the highest religious sanction and reward. About twenty years ago these Kurds arose in all their might. They mustered an army of 100,000 men, and before they were reduced into subjection they had slaughtered 60,000 Persians, mostly women and children. They left nothing breathing or standing in the path of their ruthless destruction.

"It seems strange, even sad, that our missionaries should have chosen such a dangerous field for their labors, but these devoted men and women make personal safety and comfort one of the last considerations, acting upon the consoling belief that the greater the danger the greater the glory. I have been told by one of them that in a single province, Urumia, there are now 10,000 Protestant Christians.

"The efforts which I have made to secure the arrest and punishment of the criminals have received unremitting support from the British consul general at Tabriz and from the missionaries. There seems to be little doubt that the terrible murder and robbery were committed by Sayid Kaffar and three other men from the Dasht Kurds, Saidi, the son of Jangir Beg of Ambi, and Tamar Beg of Kiriki, with a servant from Ambi."

Discovered First Gold In Black Hills.

CUSTER, S. D., May 18.—H. N. Ross, the oldest pioneer of the Black hills, is dead here. He had the distinction of being the man who discovered gold in the Black hills. He first came to the hills in 1874 as a scout for General Custer. He was born near Youngstown, O., and since a young man led a roving life on the frontier.

Schotty Confessed Arson.

CHARITON, Ia., May 18.—Henry Schotty and Harley Waynick have been arrested charged with starting the the fire which last Wednesday burned nine business houses in this city, entailing a loss of $40,000. Schotty has confessed.

Factory Fire at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, May 18.—The factory of the Kay-Pim Manufacturing company has suffered a loss of $55,000 by fire here, and Patrolman Ely and Fireman Krenning were seriously injured by a falling wall.

Foresters' Convention at Lynn.

LYNN, Mass., May 18.—Some 400 delegates to the grand court, Foresters of America, are in session at the sixteenth annual convention here. The sessions will continue until Thursday.

Judge Alton B. Parker has handed down an opinion in the New York Court of Appeal declaring the law prohibiting the use of the American flag for advertising purposes, an unconstitutional measure. What better proof do you want that Judge Parker is not a politician?

An observing business man whose newspaper advertising is original and successful, and who personally supervises all the advertising copy of his establishment because he considers advertising the very life of business, says that "the great agent and salesman of this century is the man who writes the advertisements."—Philadelphia Record.

The story coming from Trenton to the effect that Senator Cross has decided to decline a position on the bench, it is said, is based on good authority. Union's senator should not sacrifice this honor for the sake of Senator Kean. He has already done much for his party and owes it nothing. Fight or no fight, Senator Cross should accept the judgeship and let the party look after itself.

BEHIND CLOSED PORTALS

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Mispah Lodge will be visited by the government instructor from Boston on Monday evening.

Under the auspices of Iona Council, Degree of Pocohontas, a euchre party will be held tonight.

Rear Admiral Schley and James D. Richardson, of Tennessee, Grand Commander of the Supreme Council, Southern Jurisdiction, headed a party of Scottish Rite Masons who started from Washington last week, on a tour to attend various reunions of Masonic lodges.

The reports to be submitted at the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum, in session at Fortress Monroe, Va., will show a large increase in membership; in fact, the figures are more than 35,000. Supreme Regent A. N. Robinson will receive the congratulations of his colleagues in the council and will in all probability be re-elected for another term. It will be shown that on April 30 there were 295,182 members in the order, with 2,121 councils enrolled. There are twenty-nine grand councils. New York leads the membership list with 78,149; Pennsylvania is second with 35,296, and Illinois third with 25,123. A surprise of the year is the record made by the grand council of Illinois. For a number of years this State has been a close competitor with Massachusetts for the honor of being the third largest grand council. During the year just about to end, a class of more than 3,000 candidates was admitted at a meeting held in Chicago, and this placed Illinois ahead of the State in which the order started. Massachusetts now has 23,461 members and New Jersey is not far behind with a report of 22,278. In the language of a prominent member in this State: "Give us another good year like that just closed and New Jersey will move up another peg and take fourth place away from Massachusetts." Financial matters will engage much attention. It will be shown that the reserve fund now amounts to $3,032,487.67, and a balance of $73,034.27 will be reported in the general fund of the supreme council. Since the order started it has paid out the sum of $85,438,236.35 in death claims.

A. E. Cuff's Funeral.

The funeral services of Albert E. Cuff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cuff, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the parents' residence, 302 Arlington avenue, and from the Mt. Olive Baptist church at 2:30. Interment will be in Hillside Cemetery.

—J. Hervey Doane, of Park avenue, took an excellent picture of the Alis ball team on Saturday just before the game.

—Eugene O'Reilly's dancing class will enjoy a May ride to Mt. Bethel on Wednesday, May 25.

It's splendid for chapped hands and skin; sore, blistered and perspiring feet; sun burns, etc. Also excellent to use after shaving.

Japanese Land While Covered by Fire of Their Ships.

ZASSALITCH RELIEVED OF COMMAND

He Disobeyed Orders at the Yalu Kuroki Now Master of Peninsula Except the Port Arthur Stronghold.

LONDON, May 18.—Advices from St. Petersburg say the following telegram from General Kuropatkin to the emperor has been given out:

"Toward noon seventeen steamers approached Siungyuecheng and opened fire upon the town, while five vessels approached the shore.

"At 1:30 p. m. three large steamers appeared off the cape, and at 3:20 p. m. the enemy landed at Huangtsiatung and commenced a march in the direction of Kaiping."

It was announced last night at St. Petersburg that Lieutenant General Zassalitch had been relieved of the command of the Second Siberian army division and that Lieutenant General Count Keller, former governor of Ekaterinoslav, had been appointed to succeed him.

Since the battle of the Yalu it has been predicted that General Zassalitch would not long retain his command, but there has been no disposition to act hastily. The emperor's advisers could not forget that, while Zassalitch did not carry out the plan of operations which had been previously determined upon, he had displayed a stubborn resistance which showed to the enemy and to the world that the Russians had not lost the courageous spirit of past generations.

What will become of Zassalitch, whether he will remain in the far east or be assigned to a less important region, cannot be learned, but it is emphatically stated that there is no intention to disgrace him and that if he returns from the far east it will be on sick leave and at his own request. It is generally believed that he will find it convenient to make such an application.

Lieutenant General Count Keller recently resigned the governorship of Ekaterinoslav in order to go to the front. He is a far abler soldier than an administrator and is younger than General Zassalitch.

Advices received by the Russian general staff this morning show that the Japanese are practically masters of all the southern end of the Liaotung peninsula save Port Arthur and the territory commanded by its guns. This result, so promptly brought about, is due to the failure of the Russians to make opposition of any consequence to the Japanese advance.

A member of the general staff said that the removal of the guns from the fortifications erected at Kinchau and the destruction of Port Dalny were primarily for the purpose of concentrating the entire Russian force at Port Arthur. If the men and guns were scattered the effect would have been to distribute the means of defense of the fortress over a number of points strategically weak. The destruction of Dalny was the result of no sudden determination, but was due to the probability that a force attempting to hold this place could be separated from Port Arthur and captured. To defend the whole of the southern end of the Liaotung peninsula it would have been necessary to have an army equal to that which the Japanese could have landed.

The weakness of the Manchurian army, said this officer, left only one course to pursue—namely, that of mobilizing sufficient troops at Port Arthur to hold it until relief came, abandoning every point outside which did not contribute to the strategic defense of the fortress. It has been learned that the ground over which the Japanese must charge to capture the fortress is heavily mined. If they do capture it, the officer said, they will pay a frightful price.

The destruction of Dalny is complete, the breakwater and the buildings as well as the piers and docks having been blown up.

A Mukden dispatch says it is announced there that the main body of the Japanese forces is advancing on Haicheng, about ten miles southeast of Newchwang, and Kaiping (Kaichou), about thirty-five miles south of Newchwang, and that a smaller force is marching in the direction of Liaoyang. Important developments are probable.

A Newchwang report says in confirmation of recent dispatches the Russian evacuation of this city was completed last night. Nothing remains but the destruction of the gunboat Sivouch.

The Russian troops marched out in perfect order, General Krondratsvitch leaving with the last regiment. Information from the highest Russian authority is that the Japanese advance will be resisted at Haicheng, whence the Russian forces will fall back upon Liaoyang, where they will make a determined stand, with a fighting strength there available of 70,000 men.

If defeated no stop will be made at Mukden, but the retirement will be continued to Thieling, a town at the head of navigation for native craft on the Liao river.

Our Officers In the Far East.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 18.—Major Montgomery M. Macomb of the United States artillery corps left here on a special military train for Mukden, where he will report to Lieutenant Colonel Schuyler. It is expected that a conference of the United States military attaches with the Russian army will be held at Mukden, at which a general plan of observation will be decided upon. Lieutenant Colonel Schuyler will report on the cavalry in general, Captain Carl Reichmann of the Seventeenth infantry on the conduct nd equipment of the infantry, Captain William V. Judson of the engineer corps on the work of the engineers and of the railroad and Major Macomb on the value of the artillery, commissary and transportation.

Edward Asked Czar to End War.

ST. LOUIS, May 18.—Sir Hugh Gilzean-Reid, president of the world's press parliament and a prominent figure in English official circles, in an interview said that King Edward is seeking to end hostilities in the far east. He said: "King Edward is for peace. He did not like to see the war between Russia and Japan begin and wishes to see it brought to an end as soon as possible. When the new British ambassador went to St. Petersburg he carried a message from the king to the czar suggesting that peace be brought about. His was the first suggestion of peace made. This message from the king has greatly increased his popularity with the masses in England. England at large sympathizes with Japan."

IOWA REPUBLICANS.

The State Convention Controlled by "Stand Pat" Element.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 18.—With the "stand pat" element of the party firmly in the saddle, the only problem which arises before the Republican state convention, which has opened here, is the nature of the platform which will be adopted. This has been the subject of anxious discussion among the party leaders assembled. It is certain that the platform will contain a plank strongly indorsing the protective principle. Just what the attitude on reciprocity will be is still a debatable question. It now seems probable that the convention will adopt a declaration referring all matters of tariff revision to the national convention in Chicago.

Particular interest is taken in the attitude of the party at this time on account of the fact that Iowa is the home of Governor Cummins, the chief advocate of the Iowa idea, and because the "stand patters" are now in complete control of the state for the first time in several years. There now seems little likelihood that the compromise platform of the past two years will be adopted again.

It is generally conceded that Senators Allison and Dolliver, Governor Cummins and J. W. Blythe will be named as delegates at large to the national convention.

Aside from the framing of a platform the chief interest in the convention at the present time is over the strife for district delegates, especially in the Second, Fourth and Ninth districts, which will be decided at the caucuses.

Good Chance For Settlers.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., May 18.—The Rosebud Indian reservation, in the southern part of South Dakota, in the great corn belt of the Mississippi valley, has been turned over by the Indians to the government for public allotment under the United States homestead laws. The reservation is easily reached from Chicago, Omaha, St. Paul, Minneapolis and other western centers. About 400,000 acres are in the reservation, and the only requirement for entering is citizenship, not less than twenty-one years of age and the payment of $1 per acre at the time of entry, with deferred payments of 75 cents each at the end of two, three, four and five years.

Subpoenaed In Gambling Case.

ST. LOUIS, May 18.—The April grand jury has issued subpoenas for Governor Dockery and Excise Commissioner Seibert. Circuit Attorney Hancock decided not to serve the subpoenas on Governor Dockery, but had a lengthy conversation with him by telephone. The governor, it is said, was asked to stop the gambling in St. Louis county and in reply promised to do all in his power.

Both Deny Guilt.

BOSTON, May 18.—The two men charged with the murder of Sergeant James Wilson of the Watertown arsenal in a south end saloon have been held without bail for the grand jury in the municipal court. One of the men, who first called himself Harry R. Holbrook, said that he was Harold Ralph Willard of Whitby, Ont. The second defendant is William Mooray, twenty-eight, having no home. Both men deny all knowledge of the crime.

Miners' Strike Unsettled.

CLEVELAND, O., May 18.—Representatives of the miners and operators of the Eighth Ohio district, where 8,000 men are on strike, were again in conference here endeavoring to reach a settlement on the wage scale. It is said that some progress has been made toward an adjustment.

Murray to Succeed Bishop Dudley.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., May 18.—Rev. J. G. Murray, rector of St. Michael's church, Baltimore, has been chosen bishop of the Kentucky diocese, Episcopal church, to succeed the late Bishop Thomas Underwood Dudley.

Silver Lake Bank Failed.

SILVER LAKE, Ind., May 18.—The Commercial bank, owned by Adam Stout & Sons, has closed its doors here. The owners say all depositors will be paid in full. The bank is capitalized at $7,500, and its deposits are said to exceed $25,000.

Earthquake In Ecuador.

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, May 18.—A slight earthquake shock has been felt here. The Colombian gunboat Bogota has returned here.

Madame Dieulafoy

A Woman Scientist Who Wears Male Attire

IN France, behind some other nations in the emancipation of woman, the government by special license permits a member of the feminine sex to wear male attire. If a petition is presented to it setting forth sufficient reason, industrial or otherwise, why the wearing of trousers will be of advantage to a woman, she generally gets the privilege and thereafter may unmolested walk abroad dressed as a man.

Oddly enough, too, it has often been the brainiest women of France who have asked and obtained such leave. One of the most eminent of living women of science, Mme. Jane Paule Mayre Dieulafoy, dresses habitually as a man.

How Mme. Dieulafoy came to wear trousers is an interesting story. She and her equally distinguished husband, M. Marcel Auguste Dieulafoy, are both archaeologists. When she was thirty years old, in 1881, her husband received from the French government a commission to go to Persia to explore the ancient ruins there. His wife, already drawn to the study of archaeology, accompanied him. Eagerly she climbed down into holes and over crumbling walls, spending her days watching the progress of the excavations. She found that in moments of interest the most intense she would suddenly be recalled to outside things by her feminine skirts. At the same time she saw her husband constantly skipping about unimpeded and walking quite away from her when they went among the ruins. Again, as a woman it was dangerous for her to go unattended into many places which she needed to explore. Her husband could not possibly be with her every moment. At length she said:

"Here among dust and ruins thousands of years old, what matter whether I dress as man or woman? I will put off these hampering feminine clothes."

Accordingly she cut her long hair short and put on trousers and coat and for five years wore this masculine garb in Persia. She was free of foot and limb and found she could skip about, walk and climb up and down quite as readily as M. Dieulafoy. At the end of the five years the pair returned to Paris laden with their treasure, which enriched nobly the French archaeological museum. And then, strangely enough, or perhaps it was not strange, Mme. Dieulafoy found she had been free so long that she could not abide the thought of going back into the slavery of petticoats.

THE LADY IN TROUSERS.

Mme. Dieulafoy petitioned the government to allow her to continue to wear men's clothes in France, and the authorities gave her a special license to do so.

One of the most important of M. and Mme. Dieulafoy's discoveries was the ancient palace and necropolis at Susa, in Persia, of Artaxerxes II. the Great, the follower of Zoroaster, who died 358 B. C. Mme. Dieulafoy wrote a book describing the researches at Susa, and it brought her fame. Then she was made a member of the Legion of Honor.

Jane Dieulafoy has made also on her own account a series of investigations quite as important as discovering the palace of Artaxerxes. The common belief was for many years that oriental art took its rise in Arabia. That did not seem possible, considering the tribes of bloody barbarians whom Mohammed fought and conquered, yet it was believed. Mme Dieulafoy doubted this.

She began a patient tracing of oriental art. With the enthusiasm and persistence of a lover of art she traveled and studied. She spent fifteen years in this work. She began with the remains of Moorish and old time art in Spain. Through Algiers, Morocco and eastward to Egypt the thread ran, then farther and farther east till at last, upon the site of ancient Babylon, she discovered the cradle of oriental art and arts. The fair, slender woman in coat and trousers is an eloquent and accomplished lecturer.

An Ideal Location

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Reform Club is scheduled to play a New Orange team Saturday, in New Orange. They expect a close contest.

The entertainment for the benefit of the Whittier baseball team will be held in Franklin School Hall tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

The Dunellen baseball team will go to High Bridge on Saturday and open the season at that place with the crack High Bridge aggregation.

Mehler, the Alis Club's first baseman, is expected to be back at his old position in Saturday's game with Everett College. He will be graduated in June from Columbia College.

"Warry" MacLaughlin, who is twirling for the New London team, is having good success thus far this season; having won most of the games he has pitched. In a letter to his brother, he states that the weather has been very cold and is having a disastrous effect on the National game.

GOLF.

According to the handicappers of the New Jersey State Golf Association, Frank Reinhart is the strongest of all New Jersey players. He is given his metropolitan handicap of four and put in a class by himself.

The members of the Suburban Club, of Elizabeth, are preparing a golf schedule providing for weekly matches beginning next Saturday. The Suburban is a nine-hole course, rolling ground. Though the Cranford Club claims to have the longest nine-hole circuit in the country, it is believed the Suburban course really has that distinction, though individual holes on the Cranford links may be farther apart. The Suburban club house has recently been beautified and redecorated, and presents now a very handsome appearance.

The father died in 1895. Since then, it is claimed by Mrs. Randolph, her brother has obstructed the settlement of the estate, preventing her from receiving her just share. Collector George Brown, representing the borough tax office, and W. L. Smalley, Jr., to whom the estate is indebted, appeared at the hearing yesterday to testify.

W. S. Angleman, Esq., is counsel for the defendant.

REALTY COMPANY IN COURT.

Lincoln Enterprise Must Show Cause Why Receiver be Not Appointed.

Vice Chancellor Reed yesterday allowed a rule to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed for the Prudential Realty Company. The application was made by Peter G. Polhemus. The Realty Company was organized with a capital stock of $100,000, its avowed purpose being to purchase lots and lay out Lincoln Park, near Bound Brook. It was stated to the court that the company had been operating entirely on borrowed capital and had been paying in promissory notes its manager, Silas D. Drake, who was the promoter of the company.

GOOD TIMES COACH HIT.

Trolley Car Passengers In Panic at Broken Glass.

NEW YORK, May 18.—While the coach Good Times was returning from the Morris park race track to the Waldorf-Astoria late last evening it was in collision with a Seventh avenue trolley car at Sixty-second street and Broadway. Several persons who were seated on the top of the coach were hurled to the street, the horses were cut and frightened by the accident, and traffic was blocked for some time.

On the box at the time, handling the four spirited horses, was Aurel Batonyi, the well known professional whip, and with him were several gentlemen, including Mr. Lewis Thompson, who is well known in the turf world. It was while trying to cross from one side of Broadway to the other that the coach was smashed into by the car.

The trolley car was well filled at the time of the smash, and the passengers were thrown into a panic. Nearly every window in the car was shattered, and a shower of glass was sent flying over those inside. Many of the passengers rushed out to the street, and several women fainted.

When the passengers and the horses had been quieted it was found that little damage had been done to the coach, and after a short time the trip to the Waldorf-Astoria was resumed.

A TEMPERANCE ZONE.

President Roosevelt Asked to Prohibit Liquor on Canal Strip.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Various temperance organizations have begun a campaign to make the Panama canal zone prohibition territory. President Roosevelt is daily receiving letters to this end and is referring them to the canal commission.

Admiral Walker, chairman of the commission, when asked the feasibility of prohibiting the sale of liquor on the strip by a congressional committee last winter said that such a course would be absurd, for the reason that it would be impossible to enforce the regulation. The drink situation on the isthmus, he stated, was not a serious one. While the people use light wines and beer almost universally, there is comparatively little drunkenness.

Twenty-one Conductors Discharged.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 18.—The Dispatch here says: "The discharge of twenty-one conductors on the Great Northern railway during the last month by General Superintendent Slade, who, it is alleged, charges that the discharged men were collecting fares for which they made no return to the company, has been the subject of a conference of the general grievance committee of the conductors and the officials of the company and may be followed by trouble involving the whole system.

Looks Like Mayor Speer.

DENVER, May 18.—Incomplete returns indicate the election of Robert W. Speer (Dem.) to the office of mayor by at least 5,000 majority. The Republicans claim, however, that complete returns will show the election of John W. Springer (Rep.).

Pope Pius X, has issued another "Motu Proprio" on church music, and copies have been received in this country and will be taken up by the respective dioceses. ## MRS. BURNELL TELLS OF HINDU CUSTOMS

Dressed in Native Costume She Explains the Unfortunate Conditions in a Foreign Land.

MISSIONARY EFFORTS

CONVERTS ARE CONSIDERED BY THEIR PARENTS AS DEAD.

Meeting at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church Largely Attended—Rev. Messrs. Zelie and Hamilton Take Part in Service.

Clad in native costume and relating experiences which form a part of the life of every Brahmin woman, Mrs. Abby Snell Burnell so successfully acted her part as a Hindu last night, in the chapel at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, that many present were with difficulty convinced that she was an American.

The manner of deciding upon marriages for their children, a step which all Brahmin parents take during the early childhood of their offspring, was one of the most touching of the sketches given by the speaker.

As she put it, the qualifications of caste, relationship and the horoscope of each of the principals, inflexible requirements, all of them, were often the means of mating a little girl of sometimes less than twelve years, with a man of forty or fifty, who has been married before, several times in all probability.

As a result of the system of perpetual widowhood, a system applied even to the innocent little girls who though betrothed do not have the slightest conception of what marriage is, those little ones whose betrothed husbands die are treated as being under divine displeasure and losing what little liberty they did enjoy. They become the household drudges. Reformatory laws which have been introdnced by the British government have proved, in most cases, far weaker than the age-old customs of the people.

The genuineness of the conversion experienced by Hindu Christians is witnessed by the fact that through their loss of caste they are considered as dead by their parents, even, and they are mourned as are the dead and are finally buried.

The grand work being done by the women medical missionaries received its meed of praise also as did the Bible readers' achievements. The latter, by teaching the Hindu to read and furnishing the Book of Life as a text-book, combine mental development with spiritual nourishment and sometimes succeeds where the most persistent preaching might fail.

The work of instruction, healing and preaching has more than once been cramped for funds, said the speaker, when the sacrifice of a few of the indulgences of our civilization would have more than made good the deficit. After the offering had been taken the Rev. Dr. Hamilton offered prayer and the audience was dismissed by the pastor, Rev. J. Sheridan Zelie, who had made the opening prayer also.

FELL THROUGH SKYLIGHT.

Mrs. Mary McGuiggan Had a Narrow Escape While at Work.

Overbalanced by the sudden breaking of a line, Mrs. Mary McGuiggan, of West Third street, crashed through a skylight on the roof over George Cole's building on West Second street. She escaped injury by a remarkably narrow margin.

Mrs. McGuiggan was hanging the laundry of Mrs. Clifford Schorb, her employer, on the line strung on the Cole roof when the rope on which she was pulling gave way. She dropped backwards onto the glass skylight and shot through. She landed on her feet on the floor of a back porch, over which the light is situated, almost fifteen feet below. Stunned by the shock, Mrs. McGuiggan fell after landing, but a few minutes later, when the daze passed, she was as contained as though she had never had the exciting tumble. She was not even scratched by the glass.

Home From Convention.

After listening to the inspiring utterances of such speakers as G. Campbell Morgan, John R. Mott and Robert Speer, of the International Committee on Y. M. C. A. work, President Stephen Cahoone, William D. Murray and Boy's Secretary Kenneth Robbie, of the local association, have returned from the international convention of Y. M. C. A. workers at Buffalo.

ANOTHER PLUM FOR CROSS

VREELAND AND LANNING NOW SEEK VACANT JUDGESHIP.

Coupled with Senator Cross's refusal of the place made vacant by the death of Judge Kilpatrick, comes the announcement that John B. Vreeland, of Morris County, and Congressman William Lanning, of Mercer County, are candidates for the United States District Court seat.

It is reported that Senator Kean will secure for Senator Cross a lucrative position under the Federal Government at the expiration of his term as a reward for his loyalty.

MANY ARE AFTER BONDS

THE CITY TREASURER BELIEVES THAT PLAINFIELD WILL GET A GOOD PRICE.

City Treasurer William F. Arnold has had a great many inquiries concerning the $125,000 school bonds for the new city high school and he does not anticipate any trouble in getting a fair price for them. Queries have been received from Cleveland, New York, Boston, Philadelphia and other places. When these bonds were sold before Ladenburg, Thalman & Co., of New York, were the successful bidders. The bids ranged from par to 1.13, and it is believed that the bids this time will be fully as good.

Although the bonds are what are called short term ones, running about thirteen years, there seems to be considerable rivalry for them. This is probably due to the fact that the city's credit is gilt-edge. Bids for the bonds will be received and opened at the June meeting of the Council.

ITEMS FROM CRESCENT OVAL

POINTERS ON ALIS' NINE PICKED UP HERE AND THERE.

It is quite likely that Manager George Johnston, of Alis, will give Devins a try-out in one of the field positions. In his initial game on Saturday he showed up well in center field. It is understood that Griffin is liable to leave the team. He has arranged to pitch for a team at Saugerties, N. Y., and he made a request that Manager Johnston pay his expenses back and forth for the Saturday game here. This, it is said, Johnston is unwilling to do. While Griffin is a good fielder and pitcher, he is very weak with the stick and it is the purpose of the Alis manager to get nine men who can hit the ball.

Thus far "Lefty" Davis has developed well and is meeting every expectation. Under ordinary conditions he should be able to do the twirling for the team, except in case of holidays, when two games are played. It is at such times that a second pitcher would be needed.

All that the team needs to bring it up to the highest state of efficiency is good warm weather. The cold weather of the past week has put the best of players out of condition and they all agree that with the right sort of summer weather, the real article will be forthcoming.

Mehler is expected to be back on first base Saturday and the infield will again be intact. He promises to be one of the strongest men on the local team this season. McGeoy will return to center field, his old position.

In the game on Saturday with Everett College, the Alis boys will have to play ball from start to finish, as the college boys are considered very strong. Of course, the interest is increasing at a rapid pace in the game a week from Saturday, when Manager Denman's bunch will come to Crescent Oval for the first battle in the series. While everyone believes Alis is stronger than Westfield, being ahead of Denman's team in batting, they want to see the two teams play before deciding the relative merits. Denman confidently believes that he will win the first games, as well as some of the other in the series.

The Westfield team will be accompanied by practically the whole town, leaving at home only those who play golf. Captain Lauder, of Alis, is planning a warm reception for Denman's colts and he promises that if they win the game, they will have to play faster than they have thus far this season.

BOROUGH VOLUNTEERS NOW STATE EXEMPTS

North Plainfield Organization is Admitted to New Jersey Association at Convention.

AN UNHEEDED PROTEST

UNKNOWN DELEGATE MAKES EFFORT TO OPPOSE BOROUGHITES.

William Debele, Dennis Bagley and James Walker as Delegates—The Initiation Fee Accepted.

The North Plainfield Firemen's Exempt Association was admitted to the State organization at the annual meeting in Englewood yesterday. The charter will be sent here shortly.

When the admission of the North Plainfield association was moved by the organization committee some one of the delegates arose and attempted to enter a protest. He was shut off by cries from all over the hall, and the chair ruled him out of order. None of the North Plainfielders could learn who he was or what kick he had to register. The cries that greeted his attempt to speak prevented him from making any statement intelligible to the convention. He made no further attempt to air his grievance and there was no other opposition to the borough organization.

Before the convention there had been some talk of possible opposition to the North Plainfielders' entrance, and the delegates were not greatly surpised at the abortive explosion. They were not exactly prepared to have it come from an unknown source, but nothing whatever developed from the direction in which they had looked for trouble. Their initiation fee has been accepted and all the other formalities have been gone through, so that affiliation with the State association is now assured.

Three representatives from the borough were present: William Debele, Dennis Bagley and James Walker.

EXTENDING SEWER SYSTEM

COMMON COUNCIL TAKES IMPORTANT STEP AT SPECIAL SESSION.

What was probably the shortest Common Council meeting of the year was a special session held last night for the purpose of adopting an ordinance which provides for an extension of the sanitary sewer system. This ordinance had already been adopted on two readings and it was the final passage that was desired.

Included in the extension is the street upon which the Mary Morgan Fresh Air Home is located. The Board of Health will not permit the Home to be opened if the cesspools used last year are continued, in fact it is impossible to use these cesspools and connection with the sewer is imperative. Those in charge of the Home want to open the same about July 1 and to make this possible a special meeting of the Council was held.

The ordinance provides for this extension of the sewer:

Leland avenue, from East Seventh street 1,500 feet south; Arlington avenue, from West Ninth street to Union street; Union street, from Arlington avenue 500 feet south; Denmark road, south to Berkeley avenue; Hillside avenue, from Prospect avenue to Evergreen avenue; Evergreen avenue, from Hillside avenue 600 feet east.

Those present at the meeting were President Tolles and Councilmen Bullock, Randolph, Gloak, Higham and Wilson. Mr. Lee and Mr. Garrigues appeared after the meeting was over. The session lasted less than ten minutes.

Fun at Band Concerts.

Benjamin LaVere, who is arranging for the series of band concerts this summer, says that if the public supports the enterprise, he will undoubtedly have as one of the attractions, Martin King, the humorist, of New York. Mr. King is rated as one of the best in his line and he would prove a great drawing card.

Battin Team Failed to Appear.

The game scheduled for yesterday between the Battin High School team, of Elizabeth, and the local High School was not played because of the non-appearance of the Elizabeth players. Instead a game was played with a team of picked players, which was won by the High School by the score of 11 to 1.

JAPS BIG LOSS

(Special to The Daily Press.)

London, May 19—Despatches received here from Chefoo, dated May 19, agree that Japanese battleships have been sent to the bottom by the Russians.

One despatch says that three Japanese battleships were blown up by mines in Kerr Bay.

Another despatch says that five Japanese vessels were lost all told.

These stories of Japanese disaster were brought to Chefoo by Russian and Chinese refugees who have fled there from Dalny.

FEAST OF MUSIC AT FANWOOD

ACCOMPLISHED SINGERS VOLUNTEER TO AID ALL SAINTS' CHURCH.

A musicale will be held at the Club House in Fanwood on Saturday evening, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the repair fund of All Saints' church, Scotch Plains. Several Fanwood people have volunteered their services, among whom are Mrs. Hoar, Miss Uhler, TenEyck Beardsley and Marshall White. Songs will also be rendered by Eric V. Goodwin, bass soloist of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York. Mr. Goodwin is well-known in this neighborhood, having lately sung twice, at Elizabeth, in Stainer's "Crucifixion" and Gaul's "Holy City," to the delight of his hearers. Mr. Goodwin will be accompanied by Bauman Lowe, organist of St. John's church, Elizabeth. Miss A. L. Sorensen will accompany Mr. Beardsley, and the audience will also have the pleasure of listening to her voice. H. C. Mecklem, the noted harpist, will render one or more numbers, and, last but not least, Charles Battell Loomis, humorist and "littery feller," will add to the enjoyment of the evening.

OSHKOSH MEN IN A MIX-UP

WHOLE DELEGATION WILL BE AT THE CASINO TONIGHT.

Congressman Babcock, of Wisconsin, arrived in New York on Tuesday in charge of a delegation of the Oshkosh Chamber of Commerce who had come to attend the Interstate Commerce Commissioner's Inquiry on New York railroad differentials. The delegation registered at the Waldorf, and Congressman Babcock took advantage of his eastern trip to run out to see his brother, who lives in Plainfield. He brought with him the entire Oshkosh delegation, and when the Wolverines heard that the Oshkosh Glee Club was to sing at the International Melange at the Casino tonight they insisted on being taken to a dress rehearsal. Congressman Babcock says that he used to carry a tune himself when he was in college.

When the Wisconsin men got to the Casino they complained because they could not recognize any of their fellow Oshkoshites among the performers.

"Durned if I see a fellow from Oshkosh here," said Judge Wanabacken, of the Wisconsin District Court. Just then James Dodd began his turn, and with a wild yell Police Commissioner Schwefelbreaner, of Oshkosh, sprang upon him and greeted him as his long lost second cousin.

Dodd protested that he had never been in Oshkosh, and in five minutes there was a lively mix-up. Chief Forest Inspector O'Reilly, of Wisconsin, drew a rusty knife and declared that no true son of Oshkosh would try to shake his cousin "or any man else," and sprang at Dodd's throat.

Things looked pretty strenuous for a time, but Joseph Shellabarger restored order by declaring that New Jersey was solid for Roosevelt.

Congressman Babcock says he is going to bring the entire Oshkosh delegation to the Casino tonight. He told Mr. Zeldt, of the Waldorf, that the Oshkosh Glee Club would make Kalamazoo look like thirty cents.

Firemen's Summer Headgear.

The firemen received their new straw hats yesterday, and will appear in them from now on until October. The hats are the regulation style of the New York department. The men wear dark brown straws and the chiefs white ones.

Mrs. F. Knowland returned to her home in Parnassus, Pa., today, after a visit with her daughter, Mrs. F. deL. Hyde, of Hydewood Hall.

GRAND JURY AFTER LOCAL SPEAK-EASIES

Imprisonment Awaits Proprietors of Joints Notoriously Violating Liquor Laws.

SUBPŒNA WITNESSES

OFFICIALS AS WELL AS SUSPECTED CUSTOMERS GIVE TESTIMONY.

Trouble in Store—Determined Effort to Break up the Practice in This Vicinity—The Police Reticent.

Citizens more or less well known, and some not known at all outside of their immediate circles, have been called before the Grand Jury during the past several days. The unwonted interest of the jury in this locality has been noticed and a lot of questions are being asked in consequence. The police are reticent, but it is found that the jury is engaged in a determined attempt to bring the Sunday selling by illicite liquor dealers here to a halt.

There is no doubt that a number of places, chiefly run by foreigners, are in operation in various parts of the city. Most of the joints are in the West End and East End. It is understood that the police called the matter to the attention of the Grand Jury, and are working with the body to make the onslaught against the jointkeepers successful.

The places have been closely watched from the outside, and the jury is after the habitues of the placer. Practically all of the men called to Elizabeth are suspected buyers. They have been put on the rack and it is believed that enough evidence has been forced from them to warrant the indictment of every place spotted.

This campaign is to be carried to a finish in a most determined way. The officials are tired of the manner in which the jointkeepers, particularly the foreign element among them, have ignored the threats and activities of the authorities and will make every effort to put them out of business and punish them in a way that will make the lesson salutory and lasting. The evidence is being gathered carefully, and it is almost certain that arrests will be followed promptly by conviction.

Fines have been found to be ineffective in past campaigns against the evil, and it is believed to be the policy of the police this time to give the offenders a dose of imprisonment.

DRAKE WON'T BE FORCED OUT

FOUNDER OF LINCOLN TO FIGHT POLHEMUS' MOVE.

Silas Dewey Drake declares that the application of Peter G. Polhemus, of New Brunswick, for a receivership for the Prudential Realty Company, the owners of Lincoln Park, is an attempt to freeze him out of the corporation. Mr. Drake says he will fight any attempt to force him from the management of the town he founded.

According to Mr. Drake, Mr. Polhemus offered to finance the realty company if the people he designated were placed in control. On March 1, Mr. Drake claims, he and Mr. Polhemus entered into such an agreement. In consideration of the election of Matthew Suydam as president, Mr. Polhemus as treasurer and George Bodine, of New Brunswick, as secretary, and the delivery of 105 shares of stock to Mr. Polhemus in addition to the ninety-five shares he already held, Mr. Polhemus bound himself to assume the financing of the corporation. Mr. Drake says he did all these things.

Dainty Cakes for All.

—When more than one man or firm handles the importation of olive oil it is apt to be adulterated. Neuman Bros. guard against that danger by importing their own oil direct. It is the finest obtainable.

FLAGPOLE IN A CEMETERY

AMERICAN FLAG TO BE UNFURLED WHEN REQUIRED AT EVERGREEN.

The management of Evergreen Cemetery has erected a large flagpole near the gate of the burying ground. It will be used to mark burials where a display of patriotism is fitting.

Whenever a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, of the Knights of Pythias, the Junior Order United American Mechanics, Union Veterans' Union or other organization patriotic in character is buried the flag will float at half-mast. On the Pythian decoration day, which falls on Sunday, May 29, the flag will be half-masted all day.

The standard will be half-masted on Decoration Day and float from the top on all other legal holidays. The pole is in plain view from all sides of the graveyard, and rears up prominently from above the tombstones.

In honor of Miss Adelaide Barnes, of Dover, a surprise party was given at the home of Miss May B. Squier last night. While Miss Squier and Miss Barnes were out on a walk a score or more young people gathered at the house. Miss Barnes was completely surprised by the jolly gathering that greeted them on their return.

Games and dancing were the features of the forepart of the evening. Refreshments were served at the close of the affair. Edward Young charmed the gathering with cornet and vocal solos.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Squier, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Squier, the Misses May, Grace, Edith and Nellie Squier, Mrs. Della Morse, Miss Sadie Sweeney, Munro Squier, Charles Sheppard, Edward Young, Arthur Caleen and Matthew Sweeney.

J. B. BOVEY BURIED.

Two Ministers Officiate at Obsequies Held at His Late Home on Somerset Street.

The funeral of Jules B. Bovey, who died on Monday, was held yesterday afternoon from his late home on Somerset street. The services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Grandlienard, pastor of the French Evangelical church, of New York, and the Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel.

Flowers in beautiful profusion bore tribute to the respect and affection in which the departed was held by his friends and the members of the organizations with which he was affiliated.

Those who acted as pall-bearers were Joseph Blatz, Levi Kline, Herman Deike and George Egel. Interment was in Hillside Cemetery.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORK.

Rev. Mr. Littlefield Next Lecture at Grace Church Parish House.

It has been arranged by the Sunday-school committee of the diocese of New York to send Rev. Mr. Littlefield, pastor of the First Union Presbyterian church, New York, to Plainfield on Monday night.

At that time he will give a lecture on Sunday-school work in the parish house of Grace church, taking up the work commenced by Rev. Dr. Smith, also of New York. Mr. Littlefield has made a special study of Sunday-school work and is considered to be a leader in this department of Christian work. Rev. Pascal Harrower, of West Brighton, S. I., will also be present.

Lunch-Box Social.

Howell Division, Sons of Temperance, will hold a leap-year lunch box social at its rooms on West Second street Monday evening.

IMPORTANT TROLLEY CHANGES TO BE MADE

Through Service From Elizabeth to Dunellen and Raritan Every Fifteen Minutes.

THE NEW SCHEDULE

TWENTY NEW CARS SECURED FOR THE SERVICE.

Change of Cars to be Abolished—Jersey City and Philadelphia Schedule Will Remain the Same.

Another important change is about to be made by the Public Service Corporation in the manner of operating its trolley cars, following the introduction of the through-line cars from Jersey City to Trenton and Philadelphia. A time-card has been arranged and as soon as the road in the vicinity of Bound Brook is properly repaired, it will take effect.

The trolley cars now being operated between Elizabeth and Dunellen, will be taken to Newark and used in that city and in their place the new cars now being operated between Jersey City and Philadelphia will be used. It will require in the neighborhood of twenty cars to operate this line properly. They are equipped with seats similar to a passenger coach and will comfortably seat about forty-five persons. The cars now used will carry fully fifteen more passengers, but the new style cars are more comfortable and are possible of attaining higher speed. One of these cars is now being run between Elizabeth and Dunellen, replacing one of the old style.

In accordance with the new schedule these cars will be run between Jersey City, Elizabeth and Raritan and Philadelphia. Every other car running from Elizabeth will run through to Raritan without change, while other cars will run as far as Gallagher's Corner, West Dunellen, and the remainder will be operated between Jersey City and Philadelphia, as at present. This change will give the residents of Dunellen a fifteen minute service and the residents of Lincoln, Bound Brook, Somerville and Raritan a service much improved over the old schedule.

The cars leaving the Watchung avenue stand on the hour and half hour will run through to Raritan, while those leaving on the quarter after and quarter of the hour will go as far as Gallagher's Corner. The schedule for the Jersey City-Philadelphia cars will remain the same. With this change the travelling public will be well taken care of and less kicking is likely to result. At present many complaints are heard because the Plainfield cars do not always connect at Dunellen for points east and west and a person often is obliged to wait fifteen minutes.

The change does away with these waits. Persons wishing to go to Dunellen can do so without a change and a car can be had every fifteen minutes, while if they want to go further they can arrange to take the proper car. The patronage of the Jersey City-Philadelphia cars is quite satisfactory. The novelty is wearing off and a substantial business is being done. While there are many through passengers, it is the persons riding a short distance that pays the company. Many were under the impression that the through cars would not stop for local trade. This is a mistake. The cars will stop to pick up or let off passengers at any point.

In establishing the through service with the long runs much repair work is necessary along the road. New and heavier rails will have to be substituted for those worn out and new ties will have to be put in. The Public Service Corporation has lately given evidence of improving the service, and residents of this city will be pleased if some attention is given to the Netherwood, Fourth and Somerset street lines, taking off the old cars now unfit for service and putting more modern cars in their place.

Some More New Houses.

The local board of the United Contractors' Corporation met in this city Tuesday night. The erection of two new dwellings, one in the West End and another in the South Side of the city, were considered. Work on the structures will probably be ordered.

East Enders Won.

The East End Juniors defeated the Fifth A Class combination from Bryant School yesterday afternoon, 25 to 15. The batteries: East Ends—C. Orudup, Charles Drake-Albert Somerset; Fifth A—Fred Somerset, William Morton-Martin Denlinger.

"A young man of the borough, who is really very much in love with a charming, accomplished young lady of the same locality, recently remarked that 'engagements in the borough are as thick as microbes.' It is said that 'love is blind.' Cupid is seen nowadays with goggles, but Cupid has whispered that they are automobile goggles, and that the field is the most promising. Cupid ought to know. General A. O. Barnes is a Philadelphian by birth. After dining with some friends in the Quaker City the other night he referred to the time when his family moved to New York. "My mother," he said, "put her little darling to bed the night before we moved. Kneeling by the bedside he finished his evening prayer. Then he added upon his own account: "'Good-bye, God! Good-bye, angels! Good bye, good-bye—we're going to move to New York tomorrow."—New York Times.

Doan's Kidney Pills make work easier.
They cure backache.
They cure every kidney ill.

Jos. C. VanArsdale, carpenter and contractor, living at 213 Spooner avenue, says: "For several years I suffered from severe pains in my back, hips and loins, so bad at times that it was almost impossible for me to get around and attend to my work. Any stooping or heavy lifting aggravated it and if I contracted a cold it always settled in my back and at such times my suffering was something intense. When Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice I was in pretty bad shape and procuring them from L. W. Randolph's drug store, I took a few doses when I found they were helping me and on completing the treatment I was quite free from pain. I always keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand so as to have a sure remedy close by if the trouble should ever return."

BOOK NEWS.

It is planned to issue on Thursday of each week items of library news. This will frequently take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject.

Public Library Notes.
American Series, No. 1.

With this begins an American series of Public Library Bulletins. Others will follow, from time to time, on the Revolution, famous Americans, American institutions, stories of American life, etc.

Only the best books will be noted. By reading one or two books on each list, the reader will obtain a clear idea of the history and institutions of this country.

Channing, E., and Hart, A. B. Guide to the study of American history. "A most useful manual for readers, students and teachers. Especially helpful for those engaged in private reading."

Channing, E. Students' history of the United States. "Decidedly the best one volume American history yet published."

Fiske, John. History of the United States. "The book was written by a master of clear and forcible English. It seems to be very free from errors of statement, and the few which may be noted are generally not important."

Hart, A. B. Source-book of American history: edited for schools and readers. "Gives extracts from books, pamphlets and periodicals, extending from the time of Columbus to the war with Spain. They are well chosen and make a most useful and interesting book."

Higginson, T. W. Young folks' history of the United States. "Essentially a book which will arouse an interest in the reading of other histories."

Johnston, A. History of the United States: with an introductory history of the discovery and English colonization of North America. "Shows a profound sense for the really vital events in the life of the nation and is the work of a scientific historian of exceptional ability and unusual judgment."

Lodge, H. C., and Roosevelt, T. Hero tales from American history. "Narrative sketches of the more dramatic scenes of American history, including accounts of Boone, Battle of Trenton and charge at Gettysburg, etc."

McLaughlin, A. C. History of the American nation. "A welcome edition to our one volume histories. Here we have 300 pages, compact of sound scholarship and accurate statement, that make a distinct addition to our briefer historical narratives."

Maclay, E. S. History of American privateers. "Intimate and vivid accounts of the fitting out of the vessels, the incidents of their voyages, and the thrilling adventures of the brave sailors who manned them.

Maclay, E S. History of the United States navy, 2v. "Taken as a whole, this history of the navy is the best in print."

McMaster, J. B. History of the people of the United States from the Revolution to the Civil war, 5v. "Special stress is laid upon social and economic conditions. The style is attractive, and the author has industriously searched contemporary records, especially newspapers, journals and books of travel, for his material. Within its field it has no equal."

Soudder, H. E. History of the United States. "The author does not isolate the United States, but attempts to connect the history of this country with the contemporary changes taking place in Europe. The relationship, therefore, of America and Europe is dwelt upon."

Smith, Goldwin. The United States: an outline of political history, 1492-1871. "A brilliantly written sketch, well proportioned and marvellously condensed. The author's standpoint, while critical, is distinctly sympathetic."

PERSONAL.

Western Union Will Collect No More Poolroom News.

ORDER GOES THROUGHOUT THE UNION

President Clowry Upsets Equanimity of the Sporting Fraternity North, South, East and West—Horse Race Dispatches Cut Off.

NEW YORK, May 19.—President Robert C. Clowry of the Western Union Telegraph company has upset the equanimity of the sporting fraternity anew and furnished more food for thought to those persons who have been assailing the company for maintaining relations with poolrooms by sending a notice to the company's superintendents, north, east, south and west, to the effect that it had been decided to discontinue the collection and distribution of horse race news.

The first order by Colonel Clowry affected subscribers in this city only and, so Colonel Clowry's secretary said, was issued by Colonel Clowry as "the only thing he could do to stop the poolroom evil." The order did not have any apparent effect on the evil.

The present order, however, affects poolrooms and other subscribers to race track news all over the country and was at once regarded as obviously an answer to criticisms made that there was nothing in the first order to hamper poolrooms in other cities or to prevent poolrooms here from receiving news roundabout through other cities.

The following announcement has been made to each general superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph company:

"It has been decided to discontinue forthwith the collection and distribution by this company of horse race reports. You will please act accordingly."

There is a noticeable difference between the wording of this announcement, which says in plain effect that the company has gone out of the business of gathering racing news as well as sending it, and the wording of the notice by President Clowry at first, which said only that the company had discontinued the delivery of race reports in New York city.

Race Track Reports Stop Short.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—In accordance with instructions received from Colonel Robert C. Clowry, president and general manager of the Western Union Telegraph company, the collection and distribution of race track reports have been promptly discontinued at the following points on the company's Pacific division: Sausalito, Sacramento, Los Angeles, Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane. These are the only places in the division which have been receiving racing news over the Western Union wires.

Republican Leaders With President.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Ex-Governor Black of New York, ex-Secretary of War Root and Senator Lodge of Massachusetts held a conference with the president last night, at which there was canvassed matters connected with the next national Republican convention and the subsequent election campaign. Ex-Governor Black has been definitely selected to place President Roosevelt in nomination, and his speech and one to be delivered by Mr. Root are expected to sound the keynote of the Republicans. Mr. Black will leave here today in the forenoon for New York.

Odell Will Not Resign.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 19.—Governor Odell has disposed of the renewed report that he was about to resign with a positive and categorical denial. "I have no intention of resigning," said he, "and have said so as positively as I knew how upon several occasions. I don't see why I should be required to be continuously denying the same old story. It has its origin in the view held by some people that when a man is elected governor he should become nonpartisan. I do not share that view."

Military Honors For Prince Pu Lun.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 19.—Indianapolis made elaborate arrangements to entertain for a week Prince Pu Lun of China. On his arrival a delegation met him in carriages, headed by H. H. Hanna, the escort being six companies of Indiana infantry and one battery. A reception was held at the statehouse, where a formal welcome was extended. Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge will speak at a banquet to be given the prince this evening.

Only One Bishop Elected.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 19.—The Methodist general conference here voted for eight bishops, but elected only one, Joseph F. Berry, editor of the Epworth Herald, who received more than two-thirds of the entire vote cast on the first ballot. One other ballot was taken, but the result of this is not known.

Old Woman's Safe Held $40,000.

NEW ORLEANS, May 19.—Attorneys for the heirs of Mrs. Amelia Noquez, an eccentric old woman who died about two weeks ago, broke open an old safe in her home on an order of court, finding gold, silver and greenbacks amounting to over $40,000.

Russian Jews For New York.

COPENHAGEN, May 19.—Russian emigration by way of Copenhagen is increasing. Three hundred Russian Jews have left for New York, and larger parties are expected to sail within the next few weeks.

Weather Probabilities.

Clearing; warmer; southeast winds.

Audience Won the Oaks.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 19.—Audience, a filly owned by Captain S. S. Brown, the Pittsburg coal king, won the Kentucky Oaks here in a terrific drive from Outcome, the favorite, which lasted throughout the home stretch. Audience was a strong second choice at 3 to 2 and was heavily played. The field was the best that ever started in the Oaks. It was a grand race, the six fillies racing as a team until they left the back stretch, when Audience, with Helgesen up, began to move up. Booker on Outcome also began his ride about the same time, and it was a pretty struggle from the head of the stretch to the wire between these two.

Gray Lad's Victory at Morris Park.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The track was dull and gloomy at Morris park, and there was nothing in the way of stake fixtures to add zest to the sport. The contests were clean, however, and the sport thoroughly enjoyable. The victory of Gray Lad, a 15 to 1 shot, in the third race was the sensation. This colt is not impressive in appearance, but he ran a swell race and beat the heavily backed Lakeland filly Estella J. a nose on the post. The hot favorite, Marjoram, in the opening dash was beaten by Rob Roy, a 6 to 1 chance, but in this race it looked as if it was carelessness on the part of Cormack, who rode Marjoram.

Gans-Fitzgerald Bout Stopped.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Joe Gans, the lightweight champion, and Willie Fitzgerald of Brooklyn were to have met in a six round bout in New Jersey before the recently organized Weehawken Athletic club, three other boxing bouts and a wrestling match being also scheduled, but the manager of the building where the affair was to be held decided to give up all connection with it. As a result the promoters of the exhibition have announced that they intend to bring legal proceedings against him for $5,000 damages.

Police Stopped the Bout.

BALTIMORE, May 19.—Billy Lewis of New York was given the decision over Kid Griffo of Baltimore last night after the police had stopped the fight in the eighth round. The men were scheduled to go ten rounds, but Griffo was knocked down twice in the eighth round and was practically out when the police interfered.

Won a Runaway Race.

Four Winning Favorites.

ST. LOUIS, May 19.—Arch Oldham, Sting, Harmakis and Gaslighter were the winning favorites at Delmar park.

Baptist Missionary Union.

CLEVELAND, O., May 19.—The session of the Baptist Missionary union here was devoted chiefly to brief addresses by returned missionaries. Rev. C. L. Davenport told of his work in Burma. Dr. P. H. Lerrigo brought most encouraging reports from the Philippines. In six months he organized a church, and the handful of members raised $550 for a chapel of their own. Forty-seven converts were baptized in that time, and there is now a prosperous church. He regards the Philippines as one of the most promising fields of work.

Verdict For Mental Injury $40,000.

BOSTON, May 19.—A verdict of $40,000 against the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad given to Frank J. Cashin of Springfield by a lower court for mental injury resulting from an accident has been sustained by the full bench of the supreme court. The plaintiff was a victim of a collision at Avon, Mass., in which six persons were killed and about forty injured. It is contended that Mr. Cashin sustained a serious mental shock which has resulted in melancholia.

Dynamited Postoffice Safe.

RICHMOND, Va., May 19.—A Suffolk special says: "Burglars before daybreak dynamited the safe of the Beamon (Va.) postoffice and obtained about $100 in stamps, besides the cash. The door of A. E. Wilroy's store, where the office is kept, was opened with a skeleton key. The safe was blown into several pieces."

Its net cash paid circulation is over 100,000 copies daily throughout every section of New York City (including Brooklyn), larger than that of any other recognized resort medium. This newspaper's readers are among the wealthy, and well-to-do, intelligent people—those who can afford and do take extended vacations in the country during the Summer. It carries more resort advertising than any other morning newspaper, so the public naturally look to it for information as to where to go.

An advertisement in its columns is, therefore, exceedingly valuable and sure to produce results. This paper is

AN AUTO CHASE.

Parson of South River and "Prettiest Girl" Are Missing.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., May 19.—Never before have the social and religious circles of South River, a quiet little hamlet about five miles out of here, sustained such a shock as they received when the word went around that the Rev. J. F. Cordova, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, who has left a wife and family, was missing from his home and that Julia Browne, called by some "the prettiest girl in all New Jersey," was being sought for by her father.

Following the mysterious disappearance of the pair, there came the story of a wild automobile chase over the country roads made by Mr. Browne and a friend, of clews picked up only to be lost again and of the return of the disconsolate father. The police of all the towns and cities of the state have been notified to watch for the clergyman and the girl. The authorities of New York city have been informed of the disappearance.

FORTY-FOURTH BALLOT.

Illinois Republican Convention Still Deadlocked.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 19.—It was evident with the assembling of the delegates to the Republican state convention here that the old stubbornness remained and there would be little change in the voting for governor, at least for a time. Still, it was known that some radical plans were discussed at the conferences and strong measures proposed to end the deadlock. The strain is growing severe, and it is said that something must give way soon.

When Chairman Cannon called the convention to order some time elapsed before he was able to suppress the confusion in the hall and direct the clerk to call the roll.

The forty-fourth ballot stood: Yates, 478; Lowden, 402½; Deneen, 436½; Hamlin, 113; Warner, 39; Sherman, 2; Pierce, 31.

Mrs. Linda Brown Accused.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., May 19.—Mrs. Linda Brown, wife of Jacob Brown, a well known hotel keeper at Candadensis, has been arrested here charged with forgery. The warrant was issued on complaint of Cashier B. S. Jacobs of the Stroudsburg National bank, who made affidavit that Mrs. Brown had forged the name of Elizabeth Bornhoeft as the indorser of a note for $900. It is claimed that there are eleven notes in existence in the various local banks and held by individuals aggregating $4,500 which Mrs. Bornhoeft claims are not her indorsement.

Three Killed by Central Train.

UTICA, N. Y., May 19.—A terrible accident occurred at Herkimer at 10:30 last night in which three members of the same family were instantly killed. Lizzie Forpaw, aged twenty-four; Lavinia Forpaw, aged twenty-six, and John Forpaw, aged eighteen, were standing on a passenger track of the New York Central railroad waiting for a freight to pass west. Suddenly train No. 32, eastbound, rushed upon them, and the unfortunates were hurled in every direction. When picked up life was extinct in each case. The body of Miss Lizzie Forpaw was severed.

Good Roads Convention.

ST. LOUIS, May 19.—United States Senator A. C. Latimer of South Carolina, author of a bill pending in congress providing for government expenditure for improving roads, opened the programme at the good roads convention with an address on "National Aid." Winthrop E. Scarrit, president of the Automobile Club of America, pointed out the need for thoroughfares now that the automobile has come into general use. Manuel Dionisio Dia of the department of public works, Havana, spoke on "Road Building In Cuba."

Invention of German Engineer.

BERLIN, May 19.—Under the name of the telemobiloscope an engineer named Huelsmeyer of Dusseldorf gave a demonstration before representatives of the shipping interests at Cologne of an invention by which a steamer captain will be able to detect the presence and direction of any other steamer three miles away. The apparatus consists of a wireless receiver and transmitter combined. The invention does not require the second ship to be equipped with anything except a metal hull.

Cyclone at Williamsburg, Va.

RICHMOND, Va., May 19.—A special from Williamsburg, Va., says a cyclone has struck that town, doing much damage. The roof of one house was blown away and landed a quarter of a mile from where it was torn off. The main street is filled with treetops from one end to the other. One man, Thomas McCracken, was injured.

Dynamite Ship as Torpedo Boat.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—On the recommendation of the bureau of ordnance the dynamite ship Vesuvius probably will be fitted out as a torpedo ship, equipped with submerged torpedoes, and will be used to experiment with them, provided that the Vesuvius can be put in suitable condition for such service.

New Forester Officials.

THE WORLD'S PEACE

American Peace Society In Session at Boston.

FINAL AND COMPLETE TRIUMPH SOON

United States Sets a Bad Example In Naval Expenditure—Our Government Urged to Intervene at the First Opportunity.

BOSTON, May 19.—"To extend and complete for the whole civilized world as speedily as possible the pacific institutions which are ultimately to displace war and establish universal and permanent peace" is the ambition of the American Peace society, as announced in its seventy-sixth annual meeting held here, with Robert Treat Paine presiding.

In the annual report of the directors Secretary Benjamin E. Trueblood described the year as one of unexampled interest in the cause of international peace and of remarkable progress in the development and organization of the principle of arbitration among nations. Referring to the future, the report says there is justification for the friends of peace to cherish large hope for the final and complete triumph of their cause at no very remote day.

On the subject of armaments the directors say:

"The serious and increasingly pressing problem of checking the growth of the armaments of the world and of their reduction from the present ruinous and perilous proportions remains as yet practically untouched.

"In the matter of naval increase our own government is setting a very bad and dangerous example. The estimates for the navy the coming year amount to nearly $100,000,000. In eighteen years the naval budget has increased 700 per cent. The population of the country has during the same time increased but 50 per cent and its wealth only 100 per cent. We are at the present moment building more war vessels than any other country except Great Britain."

The annual election of officers resulted in the re-election of the following:

President, Robert Treat Paine; secretary, Dr. Benjamin F. Trueblood; treasurer, Thomas H. Russell, all of this city. With Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale of Boston at the head of the list, more than thirty vice-presidents were chosen, every section of the United States being represented.

The following resolution in reference to the war between Russia and Japan was unanimously adopted:

"The deplorable war in the far east ought never to have begun. It was brought on by a policy of aggression upon territory to which neither of the contestants has any just claim. It ought to end now.

"The continuance of hostilities must inevitably produce great loss of life and incalculable waste of money and property. Immense debts will be created to burden and cripple both the Russian and the Japanese people in the future. A legacy of animosity and distrust between the two countries will be left behind which will hinder the growth of true civilization in that region.

"The civilized world is everywhere affected by the conflict both in its moral and material interests and is therefore entitled to be heard in the matter.

"The United States, because of its long and sincere friendship for both the belligerents, is the power which can most appropriately and with the greatest hope of success take the initiative in the movement to restore peace.

"Our government is therefore urged to seize the first opportune moment to offer mediation to the belligerents, either alone or in connection with the powers, as provided for in section 2, article 3, of The Hague convention, with a view to bringing about an end of hostilities and the re-establishment of peace on conditions that will make it permanent and guarantee for the future all the legitimate rights and interests of both nations and of the whole civilized world."

Waiting Room a Chapelle Ardente.

FLORENCE, Italy, May 19.—The body of the Grand Duchess Pauline of Saxe-Weimar, who died while on her way here from Rome, was kept nearly all day in a waiting room of the railroad station awaiting instructions from her son, Grand Duke William Ernst of Saxe-Weimar. The waiting room was transformed into a chapelle ardente and was visited by the municipal authorities of Florence, the mayor strewing flowers on the catafalque in the name of the town.

Want Duty on Our Rough Lumber.

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 19.—All the boards of trade in the province have united to send a strong delegation to Ottawa to urge the government to place a duty on rough American lumber coming into Manitoba from the United States free. One thousand prominent men all over Canada have been written to and asked for assistance in inducing the government to exact an American lumber duty.

Divorce In Maine.

PORTLAND, Me., May 19.—In his address at the annual convention of the Maine Episcopal diocese here Bishop Robert Codman laid particular stress on the prevalence of divorce in the state. He said that during the past year there had been one divorce to every seven marriages in Maine.

Senator Foster Re-elected.

BATON ROUGE, La., May 19.—The general assembly has in joint session formally declared Murphy J. Foster re-elected to the United States senate.

Plainfield, N. J., May 19, 1904.

It is indeed deplorable that politics should be allowed to interfere with school affairs in North Plainfield. For any person or faction to deliberately block the effort for an early settlement of the school building site controversy is an outrage on the municipality. Personal or political enmities should be forgotten in the consideration of so important a subject.

Why wouldn't Joseph Cross make an excellent candidate for Governor? His record has been exceptional and it would be hard for his opponent in the campaign to find any argument to use against his election. During the time he has served in the House and in the Senate successively, he has shown himself to be a man of sound judgment and dignified speech. He has never courted the favor of bosses, though he has always been true to his political friends. At a personal sacrifice he has worked energetically for the best interests of his county and of the State. Senator Cross would make an ideal Governor for New Jersey.

In order to keep in touch with the trend of Jersey politics it is necessary nowadays to read the Newark Evening News, the only paper which thoroughly covers the whole State day by day. It is not infallible, however, as may be seen by this extract from an editorial in yesterday's issue regarding Senator Cross's refusal of a judgeship:

"It may as well be said at this time that the offer of the appointment to Senator Cross developed more harmonious conditions in the Union County Republican party than was generally expected. Those who were Senator Kean's bitter enemies last year admitted that if Senator Cross resigned, his successor ought properly to be a man friendly to Mr. Kean's re-election to the United States Senate. Word to this effect was sent from Plainfield, the headquarters of the Kean opponents."

The truth is that had a vacancy occurred, there would have been another factional fight in Union County in all likelihood, for the Plainfield administration would never have allowed any one from this city to succeed Senator Cross unless he were a friend of Congressman Fowler. It was generally admitted here, however, that no one but a friend of Senator Kean would secure the plum, but that does not mean that the controlling faction here would desire any such thing. The new Senator would have been some one other than a Plainfielder. Though the hatchet is buried, for the time being at least, the fact remains that the dominant faction of the Republican party here has no great love for Senator Kean.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

Summit Ignored.

Probably no public body in any county of New Jersey is more absolutely controlled by straight-out organization or "machine" Republicans than the Union County Board of Freeholders and in the appointment of the county officers this week these representatives of the organization gave another illustration of their total disregard of the rights or desires of Summit Republicans. Although Summit has been giving large majorities for the State and county tickets for years not a single office either of value or honor has been allowed to a Summit Republican.

Corra N. Williams was a candidate for appointment as county attorney and his claims to the office were practically ignored, the profitable positions as usual being divided between Elizabeth, Plainfield and Rahway. Naturally Summit Democrats can afford to view this policy with equanimity from a political standpoint but it must be cheerful to those who attend to the party work here to realize that they can never hope to secure recognition or favors while there are so many hungry partisans to be cared for in the cities named.—Summit Record.

UP AND DOWN THE STATE

Dr. Brittin D. Evans, medical director of the State Hospital at Morris Plains, and Mrs. Evans celebrated their crystal wedding anniversary at their apartments in the hospital building Monday afternoon.

General J. Madison Drake, of Elizabeth, one of the Medal of Honor men, will deliver his famous lecture on "Fast and Loosse in Dixie" before the members of Robert Boggs Post and Kearny Janeway Post of New Brunswick Wednesday evening, May 25, at G. A. R. Hall, Morris street.

Local banks, members of the New Jersey Bankers' Association, are interested in a plan devised by a special committee of that organization, by which, it is expected, a material reduction will be effected in the rates charged for insurance against robbery by officials and employes. It is proposed to centralise the insurance in one surety company, this concern being given the business in consideration of making a reduced rate. The committee's plan is to have the banking companies, who are members of the association, each place their insurance with the surety company selected under the same form of bond. This insurance is to protect the banks from loss through robbery by its officials and employes only, and does not cover losses sustained by burglary. Nearly all banks, it is said, at present are insured in this way in various companies.

Mrs. A. C. LaBoyteaux, of Fairview avenue, is the guest of friends in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Potts, of Orange, who have been visiting relatives in the borough, have returned hhome.

Mr. and Mrs Samuel St. J. McCutchen, of Myrtle avenue, left town on Monday for Belmar, where they have taken a cottage for the summer.

THE PLAINFIELD IN SERVICE

HANDSOME FERRYBOAT OF JERSEY CENTRAL NOW IN SERVICE.

The palatial ferry boat, The Plainfield, of the Jersey Central road, is now in service on the North river between the Jersey City terminal and Liberty street, New York. It is greatly admired by the crowd of Plainfield commuters who are daily passengers.

The boat cost the railroad company $250,000, and is designed to run between Jersey City and the Liberty street slip. It is equipped with gangways on both the main and upper decks, is operated with triple expansion, compound engines, and has a propeller fore and aft. It is said to be the fastest ferryboat on the river. Down in the engine room is a dynamo which provides electricity for the lights throughout the ship.

All the new Central ferryboats have been equipped with the upstairs gangways, because of the contemplated improvements in New York, where the railroad company intends erecting a fine terminal station to replace the wooden structures there at present. This will be equipped with an overhead bridge over West street, so that passengers on the second deck of the steamer may cross that street on an elevation and without descending to the main deck of the steamer. On the opposite side of the street there will be a staircase, which will bring passengers out on the sidewalk like the passageway at the Pennsylvania railroad depot.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

May 22: "False and True Ambitions," Matt. xx, 20-28.

Desire for prominence, for approval by others, for unusual power, for wealth, luxury, for much of anything more than is of need, for pre-eminence over other persons, how natural all this seems, and how common among men! Who is entirely free from the canker of some of these ambitions? Disguised it may perhaps be under the various cloaks of business necessity, political expediency, religious excellence, scientific attainment and literary genius, but however cloaked it is the same old body of selfishness. At heart it is making others work for our good. It is making others act the slave while we play the role of master. It is exaltation of our will, desire and notions, with little or no regard to those of other persons. It rests on the assumption that we are superior to others, and our claims should take precedence of theirs.

The sons of Zebedee were not different from the other apostles in their ambitions. They were only more persistent and less modest in pressing their application. The mother of these men was not more given to intrigue than other women of Israel, but simply on more intimate terms with the Master.

All were seeking the best things they knew, seeking to get all possible of them and of course for themselves. No one blamed them for this except those who wanted the same things for themselves and saw these others getting ahead of them. The ten were indignant only because they felt the two had been keener than they and were gaining an advantage not due. Did this struggle for place have any influence on the mind of that strange man Judas Iscariot? Was he made fearful of displacement from his post as treasurer of the company? May not this episode have had much to do with creating distrust in the minds of the twelve regarding each other? If James and John, who have been ever so intimate with Jesus, are seeking to monopolize the best places and highest power, what hope that the others can successfully compete with them? What an opening for enmity, heart burning and endless jealousy, strife and intrigue? What hope more for companionship and peace? The disruption of the band is already in sight.

There is but one path out. This Jesus opens. To serve is the only worthy ambition. The symbol by which His disciples will be distinguished is a cross. Servitude is the most exalted nobility. He demonstrates the proposition in His own person. He is Master of all and was among them as the one who served others and was never served by them in the older sense. He was giver, not getter. He was benefactor, not the benefited.

Will they ever be able to learn this lesson? It reverses all the wheels of life. It changes good to evil and evil to good. It heaves the world from its course into a new orbit. In the readjustment will it not hurl all into chaos? "Can ye drink My cup?" he asks. "We can," they say. But Judas is silent. He holds to the old course and with the old momentum; that is all. It looks as if he leaped the track to plunge on a tangent into darkness, but this is only because the others slowly turned from the old and followed Jesus in His new "way," while Judas changed not.

If you would know how wide apart these courses swing note this incident, then turn to the place where, after Pentecost, Peter and John gain the prayed for boldness of speech and all the company share their goods in common. Then indeed they had the cup and baptism of Christ.

God Hears.

Prayer must be addressed to the Father. As soon as we utter that sacred name the divine nature responds and, to put it vividly, is on the alert to hear what we desire. A little child cannot utter a sigh however slight, a sob however smothered, without awakening the quick attention of its mother, and at the first whisper of our Father's name He is at hand to hear and bless. Alas, we have too often grieved His Holy Spirit by a string of selfish petitions or a number of formal platitudes! To the wonderment of angels we thus fritter away the most precious and sacred opportunities. Be still, then, before you pray to consider what to ask. Order your prayers for presentation and be sure to begin the blessed interview with words of sincere and loving appreciation and devotion.—Rev. F. B. Meyer.

Basted Lives.

Character is not determined by a single act, but by habitual conduct. It is a fabric made up of thousands of threads and put together by uncounted stitches. Some characters are stoutly sewed; others are only basted. A Christian ought not only to have his spiritual garments well sewed, but kept clean. In fact, as a representative of Jesus Christ, he ought to present such an attractive apparel before the world that others should say to him: "Where did you get this? I want one just like it."—Theodore L. Cuyler, D. D.

Little Things.

God has no end of material
For poets, priests and kings;
But what He needs is volunteers
To do the little things.

There are many men who are ready
To lead a battle and strife,
But very few are willing to do
The little things of life.

The widow's mite was a little thing
From a money point of view,
But He who reads our inmost hearts
Sees more than mortals do.

Great deeds receive reward below,
And earth's applause is given;
But little things are seen by God
From His watchtower high in heaven.

—Ram's Horn.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning May 22.

Topic.—False and true ambition.—Matt. xx, 20-28.

In the incident before us Salome, the mother of James and John and probably the sister of Mary, the mother of Jesus, asks the Master that her sons might sit "one on Thy right hand and one on Thy left hand in Thy kingdom." The request was suggested by the sons (Mark x, 35). Believing that Christ was about to establish a temporal kingdom, where there would be no differences in rank and power, James and John solicit the aid of their mother, probably because of her near relationship to Christ, to secure for them the highest places of honor, which would give them special authority. This desire and request were from a human standpoint very natural, and yet the request was based upon ignorance and prompted by ambition. Jesus at once pointed out its falsity and impossibility. These places meant what they did not understand. They were not similar in character to ranks in civil and political life and were not bestowed after the same fashion. "To sit on My right hand and on My left hand is not Mine to give, but it is for them for whom it hath been prepared of My Father." On earth one place was given to a dying, unrepentant thief and the other to a repentant thief dying also by crucifixion. In the judgment day the saved will stand on Christ's right hand and the lost upon His left. How little the apostle's mother knew of what she was asking! Would she have had her sons crucified on earth and one of them lost in eternity?

In this incident, however, we have very clearly and strikingly pointed out what constitutes a false and what a true Christian ambition.

1 In the kingdom of Christ the ambition to have rank or power superior to the other members of the kingdom is a false ambition. Christ teaches us this very clearly in this incident. Such was the ambition of James and John, and Christ rebuked it. Moreover, He declared that His kingdom was unlike worldly kingdoms in this particular. "Ye know," he said, "that the rulers of the gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. Not so shall it be among you." Distinctions of rank, of power, are out of place in the kingdom of God, for in it all are brethren, and one is the Lord of all, even Christ Himself. Certain Christian denominations have ignored this teaching of Christ and have set up ecclesiastical distinctions as to rank and power, but it is no less true that the ambition for such positions is a false one. Therefore, "in honor preferring one another," let us guard against false desires for place and power in the church of Christ.

2. In the kingdom of Christ the ambition to be of the greatest service is the true ambition. "Whosoever would become great among you shall be your minister, and whosoever would be first among you shall be your servant, even as the Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give His life a ransom for many." "Christian greatness is greatness of service." It is therefore a closed door to none, for all can serve.

An Evangelist Endeavorer.

No speaker in all the many who addressed the Denver international convention was more attentively listened to than Rev. Dr. John F. Carson of Brooklyn. Dr. Carson is a warm friend of Christian Endeavor and has served one term as vice president of the New York state union. He is beloved as a minister and pastor, and he enjoys a large reputation as an evangelist.

REV. J. F. CARSON, D.D.

A Sturdy Reality.

Any unperverted mind will conceive of the Scriptural idea of prayer as that of one of the most downright, sturdy realities in the universe. Right in the heart of God's plan of government it is lodged as a power. Amid the conflicts which are going on in the evolution of that plan it stands as a power. Into all the intricacies of divine working and the mysteries of divine decree it reaches out silently as a power. In the mind of God, we may be assured, the conception of prayer is no fiction, whatever man may think of it. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."—Austin Phelps.

For Every Young Person.

A true society of Christian Endeavor should reach every young person in the community, either through its active membership or its associate membership.—Dr. Clark.

The Largest Union.

The largest Christian Endeavor union in the world is that of London, with more than 700 societies. Philadelphia is second with 625 societies.

Two Briefs.

The Presbyterian Endeavor societies of Winnipeg, Manitoba, five in number, recently gave $860 for missions in India.

India has a new Christian Endeavor paper. Its name is Masihi Karigar, which is the nearest equivalent for Christian Endeavor.

MODES AND COLORS.

Stunning Summer Fashion Novelties For the Well Dressed Woman.

Many persons like colors, but the best taste prefers that dress material shall be white or black or a judicious mixture of the two. Colors can so easily be added as trimmings and accessories that it is better to have the costume black, with white for more dressy occasions. Black is said to be depressing to both wearer and to those who see it, but this need not be if trimmings hold some color, and so many of the very prettiest ones do. There are fine braids worthy a place on the richest velvet and silk, and these are so inwoven with various colored threads that they are as refined as they are beautiful. These laid upon the waist and sleeves, with possibly a tiny bit in some place on the skirt, make it fanciful enough. Then there are the dainty lace, feather and chiffon boas and the flowers on the hats.

Parasols also may give color and elegance to a plain black costume.

BLACK CHIFFON COSTUME.

Parasols are exceedingly beautiful this season. The useful black silk rain umbrella is so close that it rolls into a small compass no larger than a walking stick. But it spreads out quite big enough to cover the hats, and that means something in this day of grace. The handles are wrought in some fine design. The parasols are as ornate as the umbrellas are plain. Frills of chiffon over other frills of painted or printed silk mull or soft silk are oftenest seen, but there is even in this matter a great variety.

Some clever ladies purchase a plain white or light colored silk sun umbrella and cover this with all over lace and edge it with frills of chiffon or other light and delicate material. If the lady can paint dainty flowers on the plain silk, she does not cover it with lace, but paints some flowers and sprays of foliage on the silk and likewise on the frills. And sometimes she puts a bow of ribbon on as a finish. White, ivory and pale pink are the favored shades for those bows.

It was asserted at the beginning of the season that lace dresses were decidedly out, but if they were they did not go far before they returned, and there will be nothing more fashionable than gowns either wholly or in part of lace. Chiffon is also one of the novelties in day dress materials. Chiffon was thought for awhile to be only suitable for evening wear and for trimmings, but now whole dresses made of it are seen. And so much can be done with it. I saw in one big store a dress of black chiffon made with several flounces of the same and with a short shoulder cape, also ruffled. The front of another cape had a very full double ruff of the chiffon done so as to simulate a long boa. It made a very beautiful costume. With a hat to match, with some kind of bright flowers, it would be all that one could desire.

A hat was made of closely shirred black chiffon, with a turban brim, considerably higher on one side than on the other. There was no trimming on the outside of the brim, but under this high place and partly on the crown was a bunch of rather small roses in different shades of red.

Some very lovely tea gowns are shown just now. One had an undership of pink taffeta and the outer dress of very open lace. The gown was cut quite low in the neck, and this part was finished with small loops of narrow black velvet ribbon. It hung free from the shoulders in the back and had a shirring of pink chiffon four inches wide all down the front and finished with four shirred ruffles at the foot.

I have noticed in several instances insets like this in front of gowns from neck to foot and also only on the skirt. The insets are usually of some contrasting color or material. Some of them are very much ornamented, being frequently picked out with gilt threads or colored silks and sometimes with jet beadings or spangles.

Running quite even in popularity with the thin stuffs one finds broadcloth of all colors, but with black and white the best liked. A white cloth dress properly made and trimmed is beautiful, while a black one is always valuable to the well dressed woman. Many ways are shown to trim the black ones, a favorite being to have fine castle braid in black and gold, with perhaps a threnod of red showing fitfully. Very little is employed, but it is handsome.

OUR CHICAGO LETTER

TIMELY FACTS AND FIGURES FROM LAKE METROPOLIS.

GROWTH OF CITY SCHOOLS

Municipal Ills Being Treated by Organizations of Public Spirited Citizens—Coming of the Summer Visitors.

Growth of the Schools.

Chicago.—With the death of Thomas Brennan a few days ago the city lost one of its historic characters. Brennan had been in Chicago since 1849. That is not remarkable, as there are hundreds who have been here equally as long. He had seen the city grow from a western village of 15,000 people without a railroad to a city of 2,000,000 and the greatest railroad center of the world. Hundreds, too, have seen these things.

The one thing that made Thomas Brennan remarkable, and a man long to be remembered in the city, was his connection with the public schools. For almost 26 years he has served the city as a member of the board of education. Though a democrat in politics, he has been reappointed by every republican mayor since 1878, when he was named first by Mayor Heath.

During his incumbency of office he has witnessed some remarkable changes in the public schools of Chicago. When he was first appointed to the board Chicago, then a city of considerably less than 500,000 people, had but 74 public schoolhouses, in which were employed less than 800 teachers, and at which there was an attendance of less than 55,000 pupils. To compare these figures with the statistics of to-day gives an idea of the enormity of the task the school board, of which Brennan was an influential and aggressive member, has had to accomplish, for now there are 300 public schoolhouses in the city, employing some 8,000 teachers and giving instruction to 250,000 pupils.

Previous to his connection with the school board Brennan was an active politician, but since 1878 he has taken comparatively little personal interest in politics, but has devoted his energies to his official position and to the financial management and administration of the two big Catholic cemeteries, Calvary and Mount Hope, which he handled for the church as the representative of the late Bishop Feehan.

Cleaning the Streets.

Chicago is to have clean streets—in spots. What the city government has confessed an inability to accomplish organizations of property owners and business men, both in the residence and business section, propose to do—clean the streets—in spots.

Two prominent clubs of the city, the Merchants' and the Commercial, have undertaken the task of providing the means for cleaning and keeping clean the central business section, including the retail district of State and Wabash, the office district of Dearborn, Clark and La Salle, and the wholesale district of Fifth avenue, Franklin and Market—all the territory within the elevated loop, and a little besides.

While the city has devoted more money and energy to this section than to any other, there has been but a small portion of it that could be said to have been kept clean in the past, and that small portion has been the work of private individuals. Around both the wholesale and retail establishments of Marshall Field & Co. privately employed laborers have swept the streets constantly. The same thing has been done by a few others, but the spots cleaned in this way have been so widely separated as to merely attract attention because of comparison.

The movement for clean streets is, even though it must be at private expense, is gaining ground rapidly on the South and North sides especially. The Hyde Park Improvement association cares for a large section surrounding Jackson and Washington parks; the South Central association cares for a large section lying between Twenty-second and Thirtieth streets, while the Lake Shore drive district on the North side is cared for by an association of which Mrs. Potter Palmer is the moving spirit.

Chicago is the only big city in America where such methods are necessary.

The Fire Department.

The trouble with Chicago is not so much a lack of enterprise, pride or ambition as a lack of funds. The same cause that prevents municipal cleanliness, prevents, according to Chief Musham, competency in the fire department, and handicaps the city with heavy insurance rates because of a lack of adequate fire protection.

Whatever may be the faults of the fire department and its administration, it is hardly to be expected that Chicago, with less than half the money to expend for fire protection than is at the command of the New York department, will make a showing equal to that of the New York department. A lack of money means both a lack of men and of apparatus, and it is of this more than of a lack of administration that the insurance companies have complained. One of the first needs is a high-pressure water system for the business section especially, but the city has not a cent to devote to such a purpose, nor can it have it under its present charter, under which the city is forced to pay for all improvements as it goes along, and can leave nothing for future generations, as New York does.

One of the most serious conditions in Chicago is not so much a lack of adequate fire protection as it is the inflamable condition of the city. Immediately surrounding the business center, with sky-scraping structures worth from half to three million dollars each, is a district filled with the most dangerous fire traps, and peopled with the worst and most careless element that are to be found in a large city. A fire started in any portion of this belt, with a strong wind blowing toward the business center, would seriously endanger millions of dollars' worth of property.

Time alone can change these conditions, it seems. These fire traps must eventually give place to more substantial structures. They were built before the days of fire limits, and must now be allowed to stand until such time as their rotting timbers render them amenable to condemnation on the part of the city. The great majority of them will disappear within another 25 years, if the city is not burned up within that time.

Summer Visitors.

Just as the people of the city are talking of and preparing for their annual summer flitting to seashore, mountain or lake resorts, the railroads and business interests of the city are beginning to again push the claims of Chicago as a summer resort. To bring the people to the city the same inducements in the way of railroad fare will be offered tourists to Chicago as are given those wishing to attend the exposition at St. Louis.

There is more than mere talk to this idea of Chicago as a summer resort. There are seldom less than 100,000 visitors from one to three months in the city each summer. Instead of hotel rates going down with the summer they go up, and this in itself is a sure sign of Chicago's popularity as a stopping place during the heated months. The rates at the various family hotels that front on the lake are a third higher in the summer than in winter, and in the summer they are crowded to the roof. It is the visitors to the city that make it profitable to keep the theaters open through the summer; it is the visitors that make it possible for the summer gardens, with high-priced musical and vaudeville talent, to pay their expenses—and a profit.

Another evidence of Chicago's popularity as a summer resort is the ease with which furnished flats can find renters during the summer period. Real estate men find it impossible to supply the demand for this class of accommodations from people who come into the city for the summer. Flats that will rent for $50 monthly unfurnished can be rented during June, July and August with furnishing for $75 to $80 without trouble. Of the regular residents of the city an increasing number are each summer renting their apartments in this way to people from the south and from the country to people who wish to spend the summer in the city.

Going the City Pace.

More people met violent deaths in Chicago during the month of April than Admiral Togo lost within the same period in his numerous attacks on Port Arthur. The coroner was called upon to deal with 266 cases of deaths by violence of various kinds.

Of this number 56 were cases of suicide, the largest number of cases of this kind in the history of the city. The suicidal tendencies of the people are seemingly on the increase, and have been for the past two or three years. Sociologists claim the reason for this is to be found in the faster rate of living. The effort to keep pace with modern society, the desire for expensive luxuries which they are unable to gratify, drive men to self-destruction.

One sees evidence of this extravagance on every hand. There are more than 3,000 automobiles being operated in the city. Clerks of modest salaries are driving machines that cost well up into the hundreds and thousands of dollars. Membership lists at the expensive clubs are filled and hundreds are on the waiting lists. New clubs are springing up each week, and the cost of memberships in the older ones are going up. The expensive restaurants are rushed with business as they never were before, and prices at many of these places have been advanced as much as 50 per cent.

Keeping in "the swim" is driving men to destruction, and from that to suicide is but a short step. It is not the poor so much as the well-to-do that are taking their own lives.

Japanese Houses Are Small.

Most of the Japanese dwellings have but one floor. Portable partitions divide the floor into as many apartments as are necessary. These partitions are arranged in panels about three feet square. The panels are so contrived as to be closed with framed paper shutters, which slide in groves.

An Ideal Location

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,

14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

NEBRASKA STATE CONVENTION.

Republicans at Lincoln Instruct For Roosevelt.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 19.—The Republican state convention here selected four delegates and four alternates at large to the national convention, nominated a state ticket and selected a candidate for United States senator. Congressman Elmer J. Burkett of the First district was named as the party's choice for senator by a practically unanimous vote.

The following state ticket was nominated: Governor, John H. Mickey of Polk county; lieutenant governor, Edmund O. McGilton of Douglass; secretary of state, A. Galusha of Webster; treasurer, Peter Mortensen of Valley.

The platform, after asserting its faith in the principles of the last national platform, declares for the nomination of President Roosevelt and commends his administration.

The candidacy of John L. Webster of Omaha for vice president was indorsed. On the tariff and currency questions the platform says:

"We declare our belief in a protective tariff, a fundamental party doctrine that has largely contributed to the nation's growth and greatness. We adhere to the principle and we refuse to become frightened at the schedules of a law the practical application of which during the past seven years has brought to the country such marvelous development and phenomenal prosperity.

"The efficacy of the gold standard established by the party is proved by the unquestioned soundness of all our currency and its sufficient abundance to meet all the demands of a vastly increased trade."

The death of Senator Hanna was deplored.

Lynn Theater Destroyed.

LYNN, Mass., May 19.—The Lynn theater, one of the largest places of amusement in the city and under lease to the Eastern Amusement company, was destroyed by fire late last night. The costumes and properties of the lessee, which was playing nightly at the house, and seven sets of scenery stored on the stage and belonging to stock companies now on the road were burned. The total loss is estimated at $90,000, to offset which insurance of about one-third that amount is held. The fire originated from an unknown source at the rear of the theater and worked its way to the stage, past the asbestus curtain, which had been lowered, to the auditorium. The building was doomed before the firemen got to work. No one was injured.

Accused Will Take the Stand.

BEDFORD, Ind., May 19.—James McDonald, charged with the murder of Sarah Schafer, will today take the witness stand in his own defense. Several witnesses testified to having left Miss Schafer eating her supper in the dining room of her boarding house ten minutes before she walked one block past the alley after which she was not seen alive again.

Roosevelt Has Pardoned Ortez.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 19.—R. Ortez, the Porto Rico murderer serving a life sentence at Stillwater prison, has been pardoned by President Roosevelt. No reason for the pardon is given.

JAPS NEAR MUKDEN

Kuroki's Army Has Cut Off Russian Line of Retreat.

KUROPATKIN CAN FIND NO REMEDY

Japanese Wings of Army Numbering 100,000 Men Join Hands South of Liaoyang—Heavy Explosions at Port Arthur.

LONDON, May 19.—A telegram from Tokyo says that two divisions of the Japanese army have arrived close to Mukden, thus cutting off General Kuropatkin's line of retreat to the northward.

The official report of the landing of the second Japanese army has been received. It is as follows:

"The army arrived at the prearranged place near Pitsewo and under cover of the navy began landing at 8 o'clock in the morning. None of the enemy was observed. According to native reports there were about 300 of the enemy at Pulandien, 100 on the Pitsewo road, 300 at Pitsewo and 600 in front of the landing place. Immediately detachments were sent to Pitsewo to destroy the telegraph line and to Pulandien to destroy the railroad.

"Detachments of our men dispersed small detachments of the enemy from the eminence south of Pulandien and from the railroad station to the southwest. Simultaneously the engineers destroyed the bridge and the telegraph line. The enemy who were dispersed had 300 infantry and 100 cavalry. Our loss was one killed and four men wounded. Two hundred of the enemy's cavalry posted at Pitsewo retired, and without resistance we cut the wire and captured the instruments.

"We sent detachments to destroy the railroad and telegraph wire between Pulandien and Sanchilipu. This detachment dispersed the enemy's cavalry, a hundred strong, and cut the railroad and the wires to the northeast of Sanchilipu in two places. One lieutenant and three men were killed and nine men wounded.

"The railroad was thus destroyed to the northwest of Pulandien.

"We then took possession of a line of hills for four miles from Chichaton, driving the enemy to the southward. The enemy consisted of three or four battalions and eight guns. Our losses were 146 men killed or wounded."

A St. Petersburg report says that the czar has received from General Kuropatkin a dispatch giving a gloomy forecast of what is likely to happen in the immediate future. Kuropatkin tells the czar that it is well nigh impossible to remedy by a concentration of troops the strategic errors that have been committed.

From Mukden comes a report that the hostile armies are in touch southeast of Liaoyang. The Japanese force is estimated at 100,000 men.

A special from Chefu says the dispatch boat Fawan while passing Port Arthur about 10 a. m. yesterday heard six heavy explosions. They appeared to proceed from the inner harb

YOUNG PAOLI IN FAR EAST

PLAINFIELD BOY SEES THE WARSHIPS OF JAPAN AND RUSSIA.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Paoli, of North avenue, yesterday received a letter from their son, Gabriel Paoli, who is on the U. S. S. Elcano at Shanghai, China. He holds the position of a fireman. Prior to the writing of the letter the men had been out for six weeks on target practice.

In his letter he speaks of a Russian gunboat being at Shanghai. She arrived there before war was declared between Japan and Russia and was given forty-eight hours in which to get out. He claims that they refused to go out, being afraid. The officers of the Russian gunboat told the officials of Shanghai that if they were forced to leave they would fire on the city, so they were allowed to remain. Later a Japanese warship appeared in the vicinity. Young Paoli says that he enjoys excellent health and likes his work very much. He works four hours and is off eight hours.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

Followers of college athletic sports have been astonished by the recent good work of A. M. Sullivan, the University of Chicago high jumper, and holder of the varsity record of five feet 9½ inches. In recent trials he has cleared only a fraction of an inch under five feet ten inches. Sullivan's history as a high jumper and his great improvement since he entered the Midway school three years ago has been an interesting one. He was barely able to clear five feet four inches in his freshman year, but after the track season was over he kept doggedly at work and last year showed an improvement which surprised even the wary Stagg. His record stamps him as a self-made high jumper—something which few critics say is possible. Sullivan's physical makeup is hardly of the high-jumping type. In speaking of form and training for high jumping Sullivan says: "To be a good high jumper one must essentially be a steady, consistent worker. First of all one must work up a form and then a watchful eye must be kept on training. As for form, nearly every high jumper has one of his own—that is, he has ideas of his own which he likes, and by which he is able to attain good results. But the advice and tutoring of a competent coach or athlete should not be disregarded. A good deal can also be gained by watching another man jump. Pointers and knacks in the art are always worth while. In preliminary training, running, jumping the rope, chest weight and calesthenic exercises generally produce the best results. When active training begins the continuance of the exercises, especially those which will develop the back and knees, is essential. I have always found it profitable to take about ten jumps each day, not going higher than five feet six or seven inches for the limit. After hard training, or rather training in midseason, is begun I think it is best not to jump more than three times a week. For the other three days jogging and exercises to strengthen other portions of the body are beneficial. As to form, it is always best to find a distance from the standards and bar, so that with an accelerated run you will take off at the same spot each time and clear the bar when you are highest in midair. When running toward the bar have the body inclined forward to an angle of 70 degrees with the floor or ground. Let all the muscles be fully relaxed until you 'take off.' Keep the arms well down in approaching the bar, but raise them both to the level of the shoulders at the instant you 'take off.' Kick the free foot hard and kick from the 'take off.' The quicker you are at the 'take off' the greater will be your height and the better your form will be. In approaching the bar I find it best to meet it at right angles. Many high jumpers approach from the side at about 45 degrees. Preceding a meet it is not advisable to jump for three days before the date scheduled. For the last two days take as little exercise as possible."

A. M. Sullivan.

English Lad, the gallant son of Requital-English Lady, is now pronounced by horsemen to be the most legitimate favorite for the American Derby that has even been shown so early in the season. The much-talked-of Cook colt made his three-year-old debut at Worth recently, and his performance was such as to leave no doubt, expert judges say, as to his superiority over any other candidate shown up to the present time. With 98 pounds on his back, he met S. C. Hildreth's seasoned and speedy mare, Witfull, with 105 up, and he gave her a beating. "If eastern horsemen expect to win the Derby this year with anything that has shown up so far I would like to know the candidate's name," said one prominent horse lover. "Years before when the east sent Heno, Terminus, Hermis, Arsenal and others along to compete for the rich prize they had no such three-year-olds to meet as English Lad. Sidney Lucas was not considered such a horse until he won. Neither was Robert Waddell or Wyeth or The Picket. Now the west has a full-fledged star performer. A three-year-old that loves the Derby route, can pack weight and is as game as a bulldog has been found, and English Lad will be the star of the three-year-old division the coming season, barring an accident."

Yale defeated Princeton recently in the third track meet of the two colleges by the score of 77 to 27. After the pole vault Ward McLanahan cleared the bar in an exhibition at exactly 12 feet, breaking the world's record of 11 feet 10½ inches, made in 1898 in Chicago by Raymond G. Clapp, of the Yale class of 1899 of 11 feet 10½ inches.

A new world's bowling record for a five men team, three games, was made on the Omaha Bowling association alley the other evening. The score was made in a contest, the winning team making 3,232 pins. The record was made on a regulation alley.

Rose, the phenomenal University of Michigan shot-putter, in a recent trial at Ann Arbor, smashed his own record of 48 feet eight inches, made at Franklin field, Philadelphia, last month, by hurling the weight 48 feet ten inches. The mark will not be counted as record, as it was not made in competition.

ELUSIVE ART OF THE SKEE.

Falling Not So Bad as Getting Up Again—Then the Camera Fiend Comes Along.

Of all the elusive arts, declares Mr. G. M. H. Hewitt, in "The Pedagogue at Play," the art of the skee is the most irritating. It is not that one falls often, it is not that one usually hurts himself severely, but it is that one falls so inextricably.

You generally roll over with your head downhill, says Mr. Hewitt. One arm is pinned by the heel of one of those lengthy strips of wood, the other arm by the toe of the other. After a few minutes of prostrate and irritated inertness, you make up your mind where the disentanglement is to begin.

So far so good. That arm is free. Then the other is slowly liberated. Now you realize that you are sitting on your own heels, and you can't get up because you are on the down-hill side of your center of gravity. You can't reverse yourself and get your feet below your head, because you are sitting on your feet. What to do? I have often been reduced to lying there and bellowing for help, and people are singularly unsympathetic; also they often come with a camera.

Then when you are half-way up, out goes one of your feet, dragging you after it into a fresh entanglement. Once fallen, you may put in the greater part of the morning's exercise for body and tongue in getting fairly righted again.

But if you do happen to get the snow in perfect order and hit on the proper equilibrium, then it is the best form of motion that you can possibly imagine. Down-hill you fly, with your heart in your mouth, but still keeping your feet, with a little spurt of snow spraying away from your pointed toes a yard away in front of you, past prostrate forms shouting for help, past admiring friends with now welcome cameras.

You glide on to gentler slopes, where you can stand more erect and look around you serenely happy, until the approaching fence or ditch or road warns you to turn your course diagonally across the slope; then you gradually come to a graceful stop, or sit quietly down, thankful that you are safe.

MYSTERIOUS WOMAN PUZZLES NEW MARKET

Richly Gowned and in Tears She Rebels Against Making Her Identity Known.

MRS. H. LEROY JONES ?

THEORY THAT STRANGER IS MISSING WIFE OF MILLIONAIRE.

Tells Squire von Minden That She is the Wife of New Brunswick Brickworker—Her Story is Discredited.

New Market has a "beautiful woman" mystery. The village is convinced that the woman in the case is the lost Mrs. H. Leroy Jones, the millionaire's wife for whom the police of New York and the entire East are searching. Mrs. Jones disappeared from her husband's side at the Morris Park on Monday, and nothing has been seen of her since.

On Wednesday afternoon a "beautiful, refined looking" woman got off a Lehigh Valley train at New Market. She wandered about the village in an apparently aimless manner for several hours and then disappeared. At dusk she was discovered seated at the side of the roadway leading from the village weeping. She attracted the attention of Miss Alice Pierce, who told Justice VonMinden of the incident. The justice examined the woman in a fruitless effort to discover her trouble.

She refused to explain her tears or her actions. "I am an American citizen," she said with dignity, "and can do as I please." She said her husband was a brickworker in New Brunswick. The New Market people say her dress was too richly gowned and her manner too refined to admit of the truth of that statement.

Justice VonMinden turned her over to Constable Pierce, with instructions to hold her until the question of her sanity had been determined. Constable Pierce, it is said, took pity on the distressed woman, and put her on the train for New Brunswick. At any rate she is not in New Market any longer, and the people there are sure she was the Mrs. Jones whose name has appeared in the columns of the New York papers since Tuesday. One man was so sure of this that he telephoned the story of the mysterious female to a New York paper yesterday. The paper has done nothing in the way of sleuthing out the clue yet, but a descent of yellow journalistic detectives is looked for at any minute.

Model Directory for Plainfield.

The new directory is nearly ready for publication. Manager Wand says it will be the finest ever issued here. The New York directory publishers and workers recognize the Plainfield publication as the best suburban directory in the country. It is expected that the book will be published about July 1, like all city directories. Any resident who has an idea that his or her name is not down in Mr. Wand's book correctly can set him right by sending a note to 101 West Front street.

Englishman Jagged.

Henry Playter, an English chemist, who appeared to have seen better days, faced City Judge Runyon in the police court this morning. Playter, who is seventy-two years old and has a family in London, has been a familiar figure of the business section for the last few days, being under the influence of liquor most of the time in an unobstrusive way. He was discharged on his promise to do better.

Tea for Mrs. Lexton.

Invitations have been sent out for a tea in honor of Mrs. Minola Graham Sexton, president of the New Jersey Woman's Suffrage Association at the house of Mrs. Samuel Huntington, No. 324 Franklin place, on Monday, May 23, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Lexton will speak of the "Practical Workings of Equal Suffrage in Colorado and Elsewhere."

GALAXY OF SINGERS FURNISH ENTERTAINMENT

Concert at Congregational Church in Aid of Swedish Pilgrim Church Fund.

DELIGHTFUL NUMBERS

WILLIAM HOLMES ACTS AS DIRECTOR FOR THE OCCASION.

Miss Emmons Scores a Hit—'Cello Solos by W. Paulding DeNike Enjoyable—Those Taking Part in the Affair.

The concert for the benefit of the Swedish Evangelical church at the Congregational church, last night, was well attended in spite of the tempting programme presented next door at the Casino.

The most critical audience could have found no fault with the execution of the various members. Some who are fond of speaking of the singer who does considerable choral work as lacking the adaptability necessary to a performance of the sort given last night would change their opinion after hearing the singers in that programme.

The Glee Club proved a favorite deservedly as its rendition of the pieces "Annie Laurie," "On the Rhine" and "Ave Maria" would be hard to excel. The quartette, composed of Mrs. Tugwell, Mrs. Giddes, Elmer Cutting and William Holmes, also received high praise.

Miss Aimee Louise Emmons' readings met with the hearty approval which a critical audience always bestows without stint when real merit presents itself in such a pleasing form. Her treatment of the quarrel scene from Sheridan's "School for Scandal" show her to have as good a claim to histrionic ability as to a genius for elocution.

Following Schumann's "The Two Grenadiers" and accompanied by Howard M. Case, William Holmes sang as a solo the song composed by Mr. Case, entitled "When I Know That Thou Art Near Me" and received enthusiastic applause.

Plainfielders are too well acquainted with the 'cello playing of W. Paulding De Nike to need to be told that his playing pleased the audience. His rendition of the Adagio selection by Riatti had, in particular, all the sureness of touch and the sweep and definition which has characterized his solo work in the past.

The solo ability of the different singers was amply shown in "In The Chimney Corner," Mrs. Tugwell, a soprano solo by Mrs. Giddes, two tenor solos by Mr. Cutting and the solos by Mr. Holmes. The serenade from Robin Hood was particularly fine. Clifford Braider, as condgctor, contributed in no small measure to the evening's success.

In regard to the execution too much cannot be said for William Holmes who trained all the vocalists on the programme. His careful and painstaking instruction has brought out the best points of each voice to its full capacity.

FALSE ALARM NUISANCE.

Borough Fire Department Called Out Early This Morning.

What the borough firemen have been fearing since the new keyless box system was installed, a false alarm from the outskirts, came in early this morning from box 154, at Rockview avenue and Rockview terrace. The men got out of the house before the third round finished, but when they reached the box there was no sign of fire or of the man who pulled the alarm.

The police have been asked to trace the matter down, and Chief Marshal Weiss has instructed all his men to do their best to sleuth the offender out. The two departments are determined to nip in the bud the idea that it is safe to monkey with the boxes.

To Feed Oshkosh Bunch.

In recognition of the good work done at the International Melange of Song and Dance, the Oshkosh Glee Club will be entertained at dinner Saturday night by the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. All the club members will wear their "dress suits," as at the performance. Deacon Sykes has offered to supply a bosquet of fun.

Big Hail Stones.

Somerville and its vicinity were visited yesterday by a hailstorm accompanied by thunder and lightning. Hailstones the size of hickory nuts fell for nearly an hour. Windows were broken and gardens, fruit trees and early crops damaged.

WARREN ENDEAVORERS OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Sixteenth Year of Work the Cause of Rejoicing at Borough Chapel Celebration.

TWO MINISTERS SPEAK

EIGHTY SEVEN MEMBERS IN THE ORGANIZATION.

Rev. Mr. Casselberry Makes a Timely Address—Words of Congratulation From the Pastor—Some Solos.

The Christian Endeavorers of Warren chapel celebrated its sixteenth anniversary last night with a special progamme. Vocal and instrumental music, recitations and an address by the Rev. Mr. Casselberry were all included in the evening's exercises.

F. H. Andrews, superintendent of the Warren chapel Sunday-school, offered the opening prayer and the paster, Rev. J. O. McKelvey, welcomed the audience with a few well-chosen words. He mentioned the fact that the sixth anniversary of the society was the only one he had missed during his pastorate. As he and Mrs. McKelvey were on their honeymoon at that time he said that the recurring exercises always brought the pleasantest memories to him. After referring to former pastors who have held the same charge, Mr. McKelvey introduced the Rev. Mr. Casselberry, pastor of the Dunellen Presbyterian church.

Mr. Casselberry chose as his topic, "The Minute Men of the Twentieth Century." He began by speaking of the deep impression made upon him by the painting "Minute Men of '76," which he saw at Memorial Hall during the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia in 1876.

His description of this picture, which has since been so widely copied, was vivid and one could almost hear the shrill note of the fife and the drum-beats as the three patriots, father, son and grandson, march at the head of the Continental troops.

He spoke of the organization of the minute men, how their scattered members were enabled to rally at the first hint of the enemy's approach because they left everything at once when the call of duty sounded. His comparisons between the work of the Christian volunteer on the firing line of life and in the clash and bustle of affairs and that of the soldier who faces the perils of the battle-field were well drawn and convincing. The twentieth century minute man must combat influences and principals rather than guard against unexpected moves on the part of a foe who is amenable to shot and steal but his watchfulness should not be the less on that account. The "Comrades of the Silent Hour" were spoken of as examples of steadfast prayerfulness.

Altogether the minute men in Christian Endeavor are the ones who will do the most successful fighting. This was Mr. Casselberry's first talk before a Plainfield audience in thirteen years.

A graceful tribute was paid Miss Georgina Galloway, the society's president, by the pastor in speaking of her work and he also laid stress on the fact that no other young woman had held that office up to this time. Just before the address, the secretary, Miss Dora Bennett, read her report for the past year. It showed that forty-nine meetings have been held with a total attendance of 1,557 and an average attendance of fifty-two.

Six missionary meetings were held during the year. The total membership is now eighty-seven, of which fifty-two are active members. Twelve members teach in the Sunday-school. The work of the flower, social and other committees was highly commended also.

In the absence of Charles F. Windham, his report as treasurer was read by Mr. Nielsen. It gave the general fund receipts for the year as $39.33, the disbursements as $27.99, leaving a balance of $11.43 in the treasury.

The total receipts in the missionary fund were $93.94 and the disbursements were $92.49, leaving a balance of $1.45 on hand.

Vocal solos by Miss Florence Bennett, a piano trio by the Misses Ella and Tilly Coddington and Dora Schenck, selections by the orchestra and Miss Edna Bonnell's recitations made up the balance of the programme.

INTERNATIONAL MELANGE LIKE A COMIC OPERA

A Weber-Fieldan Display in Song and Dance, With Burlesque Cut Out.

A CASINO ATTRACTION

THE BOYS FROM OSHKOSH FURNISH MUSICAL MIRTH IN ABUNDANCE.

Hillside's Pot Pourri of Sketches—"S. R. O." Sign Displayed Before Curtain Rings Up—The Programme in Detail.

No better entertainment was ever offered to the Plainfield public than the one produced by the Hillside Club at the Casino last night under the title of "An International Melange of Song and Dance on the 'Hillside;' A May Evening at the Club, or Our Members at Play; assisted by the Oshkosh Glee Club." It was all that a production with a name as long as that should have been, and a little more. An audience that completely filled the chairs was present, and everyone in it was enthusiastic in applause at every stage of the programme.

In staging and rendition the entertainment is fully on a par with any professional show of similar character that has ever been in this city. Made up of songs and choruses rendered in costume, the "International Melange, etc.," was very nearly a comic opera. It had no plot, to be sure, but neither has most of the modern comic operas, and only one or two of the latter running now can actually be rated as better as an entertainment. And every one of the forty members of the troupe is an amateur and a Plainfielder.

The programme was as tuneful a "melange" as anyone in the audience could hope to hear; and the programme as a whole produced a changing spectacle of rare beauty.

"International" was the proper term to apply to it. Every nation of the comic weeklies was represented, including Carrie Nation.

The initial number was a medley of college songs by the Oshkosh Glee Club. The club looked like its name. The members came on with dress suit make-ups that would have justified their entrance if they hadn't sung a line. Some of them were pink ties, some had belts prominently displayed beneath low-cut waistcoats, and some of them had four-in-hand ties tucked carefully in their shirt besoms. The club, otherwise known as the chorus on the programme, was made up of: C. W. Abbott, C. Barlow, D. C Bartlett, H. R. Burt, Leighton, Calkins, G. Dupee, C. Dupee, J. Dodd, C. T. Elliott, F. W. Goddard, H. L. Hall, F. M. Honeyman, H. B. Lovell, C. W. McGee, H. L. McGee, A. Masters, A. Peck, W. R. Rushmore, G. Schoonmaker, L. S. Treadwell, W. Wadsworth, L. A. Williams, Jr., A. W. West.

Five other numbers constituted the first part: China, by Miss Madeleine Uhler and D. C. Bartlett; New York, The City, by Willard Wadsworth, supported by Messrs. Honeyman, Calkins, Clifford McGee, Masters and Treadwell; Indians, by the Misses Mary A. Reinhart, Cornelia L. Hyatt, Ruth Titus, Marjory Fleming and Messrs. Burt, West, Williams and Peterkin; Italy, by Miss Mary Hubbell and Messrs. Schoonmaker, Abbott and Honeyman; Germany, by James Dodd and Messrs. Bartlett, Harry McGee, Peck, Lovell, Elliott and Abbott. Criticism of any one of the singers and choruses is out of the question, and praise in proper proportion to their performance would take up altogether too much space.

At the close of the first part an unexpected bit of humor was interjected in the form of a pantomime not on the programme. H. W. Burt, dressed as Carrie the Smasher, descended on two immaculately clad young men at a cafe table. Victory was with Carrie, and the young men got no sympathy from the audience.

Part II was made up of six tableaux, illustrating many familiar advertising posters. They were as follows: Jap Rose Soap, Miss Fleming and Miss Lapsley; Uneeda Biscuit, Miss Hyatt; Miss Phoebe Snow of Buffalo, the D. L. & W. girl, Mrs. C. W. McGee; Gold Dust Twins, by two little colored boys, down on the programme as Worthington Whitehouse and Norman Gould—names suspected of being assumed; Pearline—"Let the Men Do the Washing"—Evarts Tracy; and Whisky of his Forefathers, M. J. Dumont, H. R. Stockton, Arthur Mur-

CHANGES IN COURSE OF HIGH SCHOOL WORK

Announcements as Made Today Include Several Changes in the Curriculum.

NEW TEACHING CORPS

MISS NILES RETURNS AFTER A YEAR'S VACATION.

Miss Ariadne Gilbert, Miss Mary E. Ferry and Samuel B. Howe, Jr., Additions to Faculty—Some Teachers to Go.

Announcement was made at the High School this morning of the curriculum for 1904-5. The insufficient number of recitation rooms for the accommodation of a larger number of classes makes it necessary for some recitations to be held in the afternoon. This enforced return to the old plan of two sessions will, however, affect only the preparatory and first year classes. Other classes will continue under the one session plan.

Changes in the course of studies are these: American History is given in the senior year, following three full year courses in Ancient History, Mediaeval and Modern History, and English History. German may now be taken in the second year, and studied for three years, as has long been the arrangement with Greek and French. A class is organized in advanced mathematics, including Advanced Algebra, Solid Geometry and Trigonometry.

Miss E. E. Niles will resume her place in the school after the year's leave of absence that she has been enjoying. The faculty is to lose from its number Miss Grace E. Burroughs and Miss Eloise B. Santee. The former will pursue post-graduate study at Radcliffe College, while the latter has passed the examinations for appointment to a high school position in New York city.

The new teachers are Miss Ariadne Gilbert, of Cambridge, Mass.; Miss Mary E. Ferry, of Matteawan, N. Y., and Samuel B. Howe, Jr., of Saugerties, N. Y. Miss Gilbert has already taught for several years in the Plainfield schools, and has for two years been doing college work at Johns Hopkins' University and Radcliffe College. Her special work will be English. Miss Ferry is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College, and is now principal of the high school at Matteawan, N. Y. Miss Ferry will have the work in German, for teaching which she has had special preparation in study abroad. Mr. Howe is a graduate of Union College, and is now principal of the high school at Saugerties, N. Y. He will have the classes in history.

The entire high school faculty for next year will be as follows: I. W. Travell, principal; Miss E. E. Niles, Miss S. L. Bass, Miss E. K. Cumming, Miss K. F. Ball, Lindsey Best, James D. Macnab, Miss P. D. Lovell, Miss M. E. Benedict, Miss Ariadne Gilbert, Miss M. E. Ferry, Samuel B. Howe, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryder Recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Ryder, formerly of this city, who were nearly asphyxiated by illuminating gas in New York, are getting along nicely and there is every hope for their recovery. The accident happened Monday night. Mr. Ryder was formerly chief of the local fire department.

Miss Sadie Kriney Weds.

Miss Sadie B. Kriney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kriney, of West Front street, and Durward F. Silvins, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., were married Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. James R. Bryan, of Albert street, performed the ceremony.

Special Trolley Service.

Elliott T. Barrows, of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, received a letter from John K. Ackerman, of the Public Service Corporation, notifying him that on May 21, 28 and 30 trolley cars would be operated on the Arlington avenue line every fifteen minutes.

Evening at Whist.

Miss Nettie Kreitling, of West Front street, entertained a number of friends at progressive whist last night. Refreshments were served after the play.

Pastor Made Address.

Rev. H. C. Ashley, the new pastor of the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church, gave a lecture in the church last night to a large audience.

Bill Smith a Boniface.

Mayor Bill Smith has purchased Nelson's Hotel, at New Market, for $6,000.

GEORGE JOHNSTON COMPLETES SCHEDULE

Manager of Alis Team Has Booked a Number of Good Games for the Season.

THE WESTFIELD SERIES

HOBOKEN AND MURRY HILLS ARE INCLUDED IN THE LIST.

Strong Cards for Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day—The Lineup for Tomorrow's Game.

There is a strong suspicion in baseball circles that the Everett College team will give Alis an exceedingly close game on Crescent Oval, tomorrow afternoon. The college boys have a string of ten victories to their credit and their manager writes Manager Johnston that it is possible that they may lose tomorrow's game, but if they do, Alis will have to put up their best game. Clinton, their best twirler, will occupy the box. He recently struck out thirteen Seton Hall men and he has the reputation of being one of the strongest pitchers in this section. Kavanaugh, who was to have played with Alis, will cover second base. The rest of the team is very strong.

Alis will lineup the same as last Saturday, with possibly the exception of Griffin, who may go to Saugerties, N. Y. In case he does not come here, Devins will take his place in the field. Mehler will be back at his old position on first and Davis and Farmer will form the battery. The game will be called promptly at 3:45 and Umpire Merity will officiate. Good trolley service is promised to and from the oval.

This will be the lineup:

Alis — Roberts, ss; Lauder, 3b; Oregan, 2b; McGeoy, cf; Hollywood, lf; Mehler, 1b; Devins, rf; Farmer, c; Davis, p.

Everett College — Thompson, 3b; Kavanaugh, 2b; McQuade, lf; Kirk, cf; Norwig, rf; Denny, 1b; Gimbernat, ss; Ryan, c; Clinton, p.

The schedule for the Alis Club for the remainder of the season has been completed as far as possible by Manager George Johnston, and a glance through it will show that the home team will have to play fast ball to win. Every game scheduled is a strong one and in some cases especially so. Included in the list are the Hobokens, Murray Hills, Chatham, as well as the regular series with Westfield, which opens here Saturday, May 28. Manager Johnston believes that the fans here want to see a genuine article of the National game and with that purpose in view he has secured games with the best semi-professional teams in this section of the country.

Every game, with the exception of the ones at Westfield, will be played on Crescent Oval. The Hoboken team comes high, but it is believed that they will be a strong attraction and make Alis hustle to win.

This is the schedule:

May 21, Everett College; May 28, Westfield, here; May 30, a. m., Rahway; p. m., Seventh Regiment, N. G. N. Y.; June 4, Aeolians; June 11, Alis at Westfield; June 18, Hobokens; June 25, Westfield, here; July 2, Aeolians; July 4, a. m., Murray Hills; p. m., Alis at Westfield; July 9, Chatham; July 16, open; July 23, Westfield, here; July 30, reserved for postponed Westfield games; August 6, Aeolians; August 13, Alis at Westfield; August 20, open; August 27, reserved for postponed Westfield games; September 3, Aeolians; September 5, Labor Day, a. m., Murray Hills; p. m., Westfield, here; September 10, Alis at Westfield; September 17 and 24, open.

Cast for "Ruggles in the Rear."

The cast of characters for "Ruggles in the Rear," to be given by the class of 1906, Plainfield High School, is as follows: Carol Bird, Miriam Carman; Uncle Jack, Sam. Reid; Mrs. Ruggles, Elizabeth Winter; Sarah Maud, Avis Aldrich; Peter, Dudley Strong; Susan, Ethel Murry; Cornelius, Joe Gavett; Peoria, Bertha Hill; Kitty, Margaret Demarest; Clement, Milton St. John; Eily, Eva Rogers; Larry, George Rittenhouse; Elfrida, Antoinette Aalholm. The play will be given in the Franklin School tomorrow night. The music will be by the High School Banjo and Mandolin Club. Jerome Cline is stage manager and Harold Robert is general manager.

Boston Man to Preach.

Rev. Adolph Liejengren, of Boston, will preach in the Swedish Pilgrim church tonight at 8 o'clock.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

The stock of toilet requisites displayed by Hodge in the Y. M. C. A. drug store is on a par with his other goods and is saying a great deal.

This is just the season of the year to build and Titus H. Laury, the contractor, is ready to talk business with persons who contemplate any building or repair work.

Perfection in livery service—that is what J. D. Frazer's Park Stables offer. Stylish rigs, handsome horseflesh, and prompt, rapid and reasonable-priced service.

Why risk mistakes in prescription compounding when B. J. Schreiner, of Park avenue, is in business? Deal with him and be sure of pure drugs and perfect compounding.

Don't wait for the price of coal to drop. It's rather more probable that it will rise. Call up John Johnston, telephone No. 198 and order it before such an awful thing happens.

W. H. Kirch is a carpenter and builder of wide experience. There can be no room for complaint if you give your contract to him. He will execute the job in a thoroughly satisfactory manner.

It will be well worth your time to inspect the fine line of women's suits, shirt waists and skirts at the Paris Cloak Company store on West Front street. The quality of the goods is the finest and the prices very low.

Fresh, juicy beef that is not to be excelled anywhere is only one of the good things to be had at Fred Endress' market. Shad from Delaware and the North River, bluefish, porgies, etc., always procured fresh and sold the same way.

Read carefully the advertisements of the big shoe houses in New York and Newark and when opportunity offers go in and examine their goods. Then when you want a pair of shoes that will never make you feel inclined to wear them out by kicking yourself, invest in a pair of Heywood's make. M. C. VanArsdale sells them.

In the largeness of their vegetable display alone, Neuman Bros. are prominent among the grocery firms of this section of the State. As purveyors of staple and fancy groceries of all kinds, of the finest quality, delivered by the best methods, they stand unrivalled in this city. It breeds a feeling of security and satisfaction in grocery buying to deal at "Neuman's."

Levy Brothers, successors to Lederer, the dry goods merchants, are meeting with great success. Their trade is constantly increasing as the shoppers learn of the big values offered by the firm. First class dry goods and notions are offered in a wide variety, while the millinery department is second to none. The firm will always strive to please its patrons and give them the best goods for their money.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

Leonard, who has been captain of the Orange A. C. team, has decided to remain permanently with the Westfield team.

The Scotch Plains team will meet the Garwood team at home tomorrow. The visitors have been winning most of their games this year and the contest should be a good one.

"Jack" Dunn, the ball player, has been released by Manager McGraw, of the New York National League team and he will play in Providence. He will therefore be unable to arrange with Manager Johnston for the appearance of the Giants in this city at the close of the season.

Murray, first base; Cooney, short stop; McArdle, second base, who signed with Alis team early in the season are now playing with the Paterson baseball team and have made a hit with the Paterson fans. Tuesday Paterson defeated the Saugerties team in a spirited game by the score of 2 to 0. McArdle is playing great ball on second base.

Griffin, right fielder and change pitcher for Alis, will probably not play in tomorrow's game. He has signed to pitch for a team at Saugerties, N. Y., during the week and it is possible that he will leave the local team. It is understood that Devins will take his place in the field for the present, with McGeoy in center and Hollywood in left field.

Several employes of the local drugs stores have the baseball fever and are now spending their spare time practicing with the leather sphere. It is said that they will challenge the winners of the game between the physicians and ministers on June 11, the proceeds to go to the hospital. Albert Utzinger, of L. W. Randolph's drug store, has been asked to captain the team.

There is a feeling that "Lefty" Davis is not strong enough to pitch against Westfield and rumors of another and stronger twirler are heard frequently. It has been said that Burchell is likely to pitch for Alis in its first game against Denman's colts, while there are all sorts of talk about Manager Johnston getting a crack pitcher from one of the big colleges. He is said to have lines out for such a man.

The Mono A. C. defeated the Watchung Field Club Wednesday by a score of 7 to 6. It was the first game for the defeated nine and the members are hardly in condition to play the best ball. Manager George VanHorn will make a few changes before the next game, strengthening his aggregation. Burns and Dreiselt formed the battery for the Watchung Field Club, while Shuck and Jackson occupied the points for the victors. Burns struck out thirteen batsmen, while Shuck fanned eleven batsmen.

POLITICAL NOTES.

One who is close enough to United States Senator John Kean to be in a position to speak excathedra on his affairs, said to a correspondent recently that the senator's true position on the National Republican committee chairmanship had never been made public. When asked if he did not think it was about time then that the senator should be placed aright in the matter, the senator's friend replied that he did not know but what it was, and then, after reflecting a while, said: "Early last spring, before Governor Murphy's name was mentioned in connection with the chairmanship, President Roosevelt asked Senator Kean if he would consider a proposition to become the chairman of the National committee. The senator replied that he could not, because he did not consider that he was able to undertake the onerous duties of the position. He felt that the work connected therewith was greater than he could undertake to perform. Then Senator Kean and a number of the Republican senators came to the conclusion that Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, would make an excellent chairman, and they made up their minds to support him for the office. They took the view that, since the death of Senator Hanna, no man has the influence with the business and financial interests of the country that Senator Aldrich has. Senator Kean was for Senator Aldrich long before Governor Murphy's name was mentioned in connection with the chairmanship, and so all this talk of his being against the governor for personal reasons is all foolishness.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Dreamland" having opened its gates to the public in a blaze of electric lights of 10,000,000 candle power, is beyond pale the grandest amusement resort on the Atlantic coast, if not in any part of the United States. Its tendency is to lift summer amusements to the highest plane of clean and artistic enjoyment. "Dreamland" is situated on the edge of the ocean at Coney Island, New York. Indeed it is in great part over the ocean. It is reached by fast express trains from the New York end of the Brooklyn bridge which leaves at frequent intervals and make the run in thirty-five minutes. The fare is ten cents each way. Police Commissioner McAdoo, after an inspection of "Dreamland," had this to say: "'Dreamland' solves largely the hardest of police problems. The men who have invested their millions in such a place for the people are deserving of great public applause." "Dreamland" in its construction, harmonizes in architectural effects, with lagoons which are channels of Venitian beauty, and ornamental towers, bridges and statuary, which betray the master hand of landscape achitecture.

PERSONAL.

Leslie Backer, of this city, has been the guest of relatives at Whitehouse.

Stephen Blazier, formerly of Chatham, is making his home here for the present.

Miss Ethel Daggett, of the borough, has returned from a visit with her parents at Whitehouse.

Miss Hattie Garretson, of New Brunswick, is visiting at the home of J. F. LaFiem, of Grant avenue.

E. B. Clark, of Crescent avenue, is much improved from his recent illness and is able to take carriage drives.

Mrs. Wilbur P. Henderson, of West Front street, recently discharged from the hospital, following an operation, is now able to be out again.

Mrs. Ruliff S. Swackhamer, of Whitehouse, has returned home after a visit with her son, Assemblyman Swackhamer, of Summit avenue.

Barry May Join Alls.

Rumors are again being heard in baseball circles that Manager Johnston will soon land "Dave" Barry, the crack fielder who has been playing with Murray Hills. The story is that Barry is planning to play Sunday ball for Paterson and that he will play with Alls on Saturday. At present he plays two or three games a week with Murray Hills, but it is said that he can make more money playing in Paterson and Plainfield than at present. Barry has the reputation of being one of the heaviest hitters in the semi-professional ranks.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

Bill Smith's Money.

Bill Smith has come into his share of the $1,500,000 which Mrs. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Oelriohs handed over to him and his relatives as their portion of the Fair estate.

Bill Smith from being a poor man has instantaneously become a rich one. He has celebrated his new fortune by "blowing off" his town to a wholesale night of banqueting, fireworks and general rejoicings. He has bought himself an automobile, in which he is going to take a trip to St. Louis.

He is using his money for one of the original purposes for which money was invented—he is spending it.

It will be interesting to watch Bill Smith and his relatives and see how they follow the general tendencies which seem to govern the possession of wealth. These tendencies, with, of course, frequent exceptions, are: That those who have been brought up with the wealth which they inherit underestimate the value of money itself, but overestimate the necessity of the luxuries which money gives. That those who have laboriously earned their own wealth overestimate the value of money itself, but underestimate the inherent value of the things which money may give. That those who suddenly acquire wealth with neither familiarity to yield experience, nor labor to breed appreciation, have all the temptations of both the first two classes with none of the checks of either. So, since they neither spend money with an expertness in the pleasures it buys, nor buy pleasures with an expertness in the money they cost, they are apt all too soon to be deprived of money and pleasures alike. This is the danger which confronts Bill Smith with his new wealth and his new automobile.—New York Evening World.

Baird and His Critics.

W. W. Howland, of North Plainfield, was given a pretty good idea of his political influence at the Republican State convention last week. He was opposed to the selection of David Baird as a delegate to the Chicago convention and undertook to defeat that gentleman. But David Baird received 914 of the 920 votes and Mr. Howland went to the rear. Mr. Baird's enemies have found fault with him because he is not a matinee idol and doesn't know much about Shakespere, Lindley Murray and Ella Wheeler Wilcox's, "Poems of Passion." But David carries around with him more common sense than half of his critics in a bunch possess and that counts for more than good looks and book learning. He has, by his own personal effort, raised himself from a poor boy to a wealthy and influential man. In all probability this fact is the animus of the criticism levelled at him. He has been condemned for opposing the anti-pigeon shooting bill, but it should not be forgotten that there were men of education and men of high standing in society and in church circles who objected to its passage. The man who finds fault with another because he doesn't agree with his views, is suffering from a loose screw.—Trenton State Gazette.

Unhappy North Plainfield.

When the citizens of North Plainfield are not mixed up in a scrap they think life is not worth the living. They cannot build a schoolhouse now, though it is needed ever so badly, because they cannot agree upon a site. Recently the Board of Education proposed a certain site, but it was voted down and the appropriation went with it. This week the matter came up once more, and again the proposition met with defeat. Mayor Smalley threw his influence in opposition to the proposed site and offered a site free, but even this generous offer was spurned. Probably there are no better citizens anywhere to be found than in the borough, but they never think alike.—Somerville Unionist-Gazette.

Trolley Lines Not Gold Mines.

It is interesting to note that, from the recent report of the New Jersey State Board of Assessors for 1903, of the more than sixty trolley companies in the State only eight of them paid dividends. While Trenton is the leading trolley centre of the eastern States, with fifteen separate systems and subsidiary lines, only one of them paid a dividend. This was the Trenton Street Railway Company, which earned $419,661.13 and paid $40,000 to its stockholders. Even the Public Service Corporation, with debts of $29,000,000, paid no dividends, and one of the very few companies in the State besides the Trenton Street Railway Company to pay its stockholders was the Camden Horse Railway Company, which divided $55,000. The Consolidated Traction Company, leased to the Public Service Corporation, paid $450,000 to its stockholders, this being the amount realized on the lease.—Passaic Daily News.

Plainfield, N. J., May 20, 1904.

There's some kicking along the line because Roosevelt is forcing his own nomination. Would anyone expect him to stand idly by and watch another man get the plum?

Col. Watterson tells what an editorial page should be. If the Louisville Courier-Journal is taken as a model, probably former President Cleveland's dissenting opinion would be of interest.

The International melange of song and dance at the Casino last night equally the productions of the kind seen "on dear old Broadway." And Lew Timpson is the "honestest" press agent ever sent out of Oshkosh.

The City Union of King's Daughters needs some money to carry on its laudable work. The babies of the poor are given the benefits of the camp maintained for the purpose on the mountainside and the work necessarily calls for a large expenditure of money. What worthier charity is there in this city? Any contribution, no matter how small, is appreciated.

"Fighting Bob" Evans could not possibly have made his instructions to the commanding officer of the Villalibos any more explicit, though he might have been a trifle more concise. For example: The Yankee admiral begs to inform the Taotai that the Poyang district "bad men" will be made pulverized chop suey if they show disrespect to the American flag.

A W. C. T. U. ENTERTAINMENT

MRS. M. D. TOMLINSON IN CHARGE OF THE PROGRAMME.

An entertainment consisting of recitations, readings, vocal and instrumental selections was held under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in the rooms on Madison avenue, last night. Mrs. M. D. Tomlinson, county president, was in charge of the programme, and in addition gave a temperance dialogue and chalk talk.

Other recitations were given by Mrs. Cubberly, Mrs. Charles E. Vail, Miss May E. Howlett and Mrs. M. C. Debbins gave one recitation, "Religion and Politics," and a reading, "Another White Ribbon." There were also violin and piano solos and duets by the Misses Barnet. There was also temperance songs in which all took part, and at the close an offering was received.

Ministers' Team Lineup.

The probable lineup of the ministers in their game with the physicians on June 11 will be this: Rev. Henry Pierce, p; Rev. Leander Lovell, c; Rev. E. V. Stevenson, 1b; Rev. C. L. Goodrich, 2b; Rev. J. O. McKelvey, ss; Rev. L. R. Howard, 3b. In the outfield Rev. George Mooney will surely be seen, but the other two positions are in doubt. It is hoped that Rev. W. M. Downey and Rev. C. E. Herring will take them. The ministers feel very confident that they will easily win the coming game.

Class Had Social Time.

Class 15, of Trinity church Sunday-school, held its monthly meeting at the home of Clarence Rittenhouse, of New street, last night. The meeting was followed by the usual sociable with refreshments.

CEDARCROFT NINE BIDS FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Private School Baseball Team Composed of Some Crack Young Players.

SCHEDULE COMPLETED

A STRONG BATTERY WHICH IS WELL SUPPORTED AT ALL TIMES.

Grounds on Hillside Avenue—Fawcett a Good Shortstop—A Line on the Members—The Schedule.

Handicapped all around the Cedarcroft School baseball team is fast rising to the position of one of the best school nines in this city. When the call for candidates for the baseball team was issued, Manager John Wadleigh and Captain Torrey had fourteen candidates to pick from. Having no field the boys were compelled to practice in the yard in the rear of the school.

After a great deal of trouble, Manager Wadleigh was able to secure the grounds on Hillside avenue which he caused to be rolled and graded and he now has a fine athletic field for his school. As soon as the boys were able to practice on their grounds they showed a vast improvement in their fielding and batting. They have made a better showing against the Plainfield High School nine than any school team in this vicinity as is shown by the score of the recent game which was won by Plainfield High School by the score of 7 to 6 The Cedarcroft team will no doubt make a good bid for the local inter-scholastic championship.

In Ovens and Lambert, the school has a battery which is as good as any found in school nines. Ovens has speed, good curves, control and uses plenty of headwork. Elbert is the best catcher of any school team in this city and very few runners are able to steal a base on him. Horton, on first, is playing a great game and no ball is too high or too low for him to try for. Captain Torrey, on second, is strong both in stick work and in fielding. Hommann, on third, is playing a star game and has his "eye" on the ball.

Fawcett, on short, is a local man and formerly played with the Park A. C. Stuart in left field, is new at the game but is rapidly learning. Woodman is a good fielder and covers a great deal of territory. H. Torrey is playing a good game in right field and is improving in his stick work.

Manager Wadleigh announces the following games for the remainder of the season:

May 20, Leal's School; May 25, Leal's School; May 28, Summit Academy, morning; May 28, Short Hills School, afternoon; May 30, Millington Field Club; June 1, open; June 4, open; June 8, Westfield H. S.; June 11, Plainfield H. S.

Doctor in Runaway Accident.

Dr. J. C. Anderson, colored, was slightly injured in a runaway accident on Rahway road yesterday. His rig was badly smashed. The horse was frightened by the sudden dropping of the shafts from their stays. A short distance further on the horse stopped his run to kick. He kicked himself loose from the rig and, untrammelled, continued his flight. The doctor's leg was slightly hurt by the flying hoofs. The horse was caught in front of the Park Avenue Hotel.

Cab Director Needed.

There was a jam among the carriages in front of the Casino after the society vaudeville show last night. Nobody was in charge of the carriages, and the tangle that resulted spoiled a lot of varnish and tempers. One carriage was rammed by the pole of another, and several more or less serious accidents were narrowly averted.

Dunellen School Affair.

The entertainment given by the Whittier High School pupils in the Dunellen Presbyterian chapel last evening was a great success. These were in the caste: Estella Eick, Enid Fonda, Janet Lake, Ethel Clum, Katie Kelley, Susie Lowrie, Anna Rinehart, Lillian Fedderman, Clara Gray, Nettie Baldwin, Leola Dunham.

They Could Last Night.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Smith, of West Fourth street, entertained the Meet-When-You-Can Whist Club at their home, last night. There was the usual number present. Mrs. William Heff and Mr. Hewitt won the prizes. The place for the next meeting was not decided upon.

Medals for Youthful Soldiers.

Forty members of the High School battalion will receive the medals which go to those having a record of 100 per cent. in drill attendance for the year. With the exception of an enameled center the medals are to be the same as those awarded last year.

phy and James Middledith. The tableaux were remarkably well staged and posed.

Part III opened with "Africa," in which the entire chorus supported Clifford McGee, and Miss Reinhart and Harold Hall in ragtime songs. Scotland, with Mrs. Joseph Shellabarger and Messrs. Honeyman, Wadsworth, Walkins and Elliott; Little Italy, with Miss Uhler and Messrs. Dodd and Rushmore; Ireland, with Harold Hall, and Messrs. C. Dupee, Treadwell, G. Dupee, Schoonmaker, Goddard and West, followed in the order named.

Miss Uhler and Messrs. Dodd and Hall made the audience sit up with verses on the unhappiness growing out of the recent defeat of the Sunday golf proposition at the club.

America, the final number, brought all the members of the troup, in the costume of their repsective parts, on the stage for a medley of patriotic songs. The word of comment on the first part applies to every number of the third. As a whole, the show is what many of the audience enthusiastically termed it at the final closing of the curtains, "the best ever produced in this city."

All the music used in the "melange" was arranged by Joseph Shellabarger, and he was before the stage last night conducting the singing like a practice and graceful leader. H. W. Burt was the director of dances and Henry L. Hall and George S. Ring managed the staging and the tableaux settings. F. W. Goddard was master of the dressing room.

There was a full orchestra, under the direction of W. A. MacClyment, of this city. The overture and numbers between the parts were Mr. MacClyment's own waltzes, composed for the occasion.

The following corps of ushers was in attendance: Howard Huntington, T. D. Wilson, Arthur Otterson, George VonBoskerck, O. G. Waring, L. E. Waring. Although his name does not appear on the programme—he probably cut it out himself—L. G. Timpson should be credited with a very large share of the compliments that are being showered on the management. He worked hard and appreciably for the success of the entertainment.

The "melange" will be repeated tonight. The receipts, which will be heavy, are to be applied to the house-furnishing fund of the club.

It was announced this morning by the management that tonight's performance will be followed by a dance. The entire orchestra will stay to play.

What Soft Hands
You Have.

Yes, there's a reason; my hands were badly chapped the other day, so I went to Randolph's, The City Pharmacy, you know, and purchased a bottle of his which I find to be the best preparation I have ever used.

It's splendid for chapped hands and skin; sore, blistered and perspiring feet; sun burns, etc. Also excellent to use after shaving.

Put up in neat glass bottle, with metal top and sifter. Try it.

Battleship Hatsuse Struck Russian Mine.

YOSHINO RAMMED IN DENSE FOG

OVER SIX HUNDRED MEN PERISH

Admiral Togo Reports the Disaster. Hatsuse Was Covering Landing of Troops Near Port Arthur—Only Three Hundred and Ninety Saved From Both Ships Out of a Crew of One Thousand and Forty-one.

LONDON, May 20.—Advices from Tokyo say Vice Admiral Togo has reported two naval disasters to the Japanese fleet off Port Arthur as follows:

"A report from Rear Admiral Dewa says that the cruisers Kasaga and Yoshino collided during a fog off Port Arthur on May 15. The Yoshino sank, only ninety of her crew being saved.

"On the same day the battleship Hatsuse struck a Russian mine and sank."

Giving details of the disaster, Vice Admiral Togo says:

"At fourteen minutes past 1 in the afternoon of May 15, in a deep fog off Port Arthur, the Kasaga rammed the Yoshino, sinking the latter in a few minutes. Ninety of her crew were saved.

"The same morning the Hatsuse, while cruising off Port Arthur covering the landing of the soldiers, struck a mine ten knots southeast of the harbor entrance. She signaled for help and instantly struck another mine. She sank in half an hour. Three hundred of her crew were saved by torpedo boats."

After the Hatsuse had been struck by Russian mechanical mines a Russian flotilla of sixteen torpedo boats and destroyers appeared, but were repulsed by the Japanese cruisers, which saved 300 of the Hatsuse's crew, including Admiral Mashiga and Captain Nakao.

Only 390 of the crews of the vessels sunk have been saved out of a total complement of 1,041 officers and men.

A Chefu report says thirteen Russians, who arrived from Dalny by junk, are authority for the statement that during a bombardment of Port Arthur by the Japanese Monday afternoon the Japanese battleship Hatsuse and the cruiser Yoshino struck mines and sank.

Others who have just arrived here from Dalny reported to the Russian consul that the Hatsuse sank in two minutes after contact with the submarine mine and that there was no time to save the crew. The accident happened, it is said, within sight of Port Arthur.

The party of Russians said that the Hatsuse sank two minutes after running on the mine and that the Yoshino was being towed away by a vessel of the bombarding fleet when she also went down.

One report brought here says that besides the battleship Hatsuse the battleship Fuji, not the cruiser Yoshino, struck a mine. She is said to have been hit on the port bow, had a heavy list and was also down by the bow, but was righted and went off in tow. It is thought impossible, however, that she could reach port.

Refugees coming in say that Port Arthur received no damage from the bombardment and that considerable land fighting is going on to the north of Dalny. Communication north of that place has been completely severed.

Arrivals say that the entrance to Port Arthur was for a time blocked, but that one of the sunken steamers was removed, and the entrance is now open, but is still dangerous, and the Russian fleet has been ordered to remain in the harbor until the arrival of Admiral Skrydloff, who will take command.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says the loss of at least two Japanese warships is officially confirmed. A message from Port Arthur, received by carrier pigeon at Mukden, was transmitted to the emperor early yesterday morning, saying that two Japanese warships had been lost off that port. This message followed the emperor to Koursk, and no one here knew its contents until late last night, when foreign telegrams brought full details of the Japanese loss.

When confirmation came of the sinking of at least two Japanese warships the greatest enthusiasm was manifested at St. Petersburg.

No surprise is expressed by the admiralty at the Japanese vessels striking Russian mines, the admiralty expecting such a mishap to Vice Admiral Togo, particularly since the naval commanders at Port Arthur have faithfully duplicated his plan which resulted in the sinking of the Petropavlovsk. Wherever off Port Arthur the Japanese squadron appeared during the day that same night Russian torpedo boats stole out and carefully planted contact mines which, floating below the surface, would not be touched by the destroyers, but would cause disaster to the large battleships.

A cable from Tientsin says:

"It is reported that 70,000 Russians are marching to the relief of Port Arthur, and the Japanese are consequently hastening offensive operations.

"Forty-five thousand troops have already been landed at Kinchau and Tallenwan, thus entirely investing Port Arthur.

"The Japanese advance lines are seven miles from the Russian batteries.

"Skirmishes occur daily along the railroad.

"It is believed that the Japanese intend attacking Port Arthur with the entire force when it numbers 50,000 men. They are mounting six inch naval guns on steel wheels with the object of silencing the Russian batteries.

"The Manchurian railway south of Harbin is constantly broken by Chinese marauders, and the Russians threaten reprisals."

A Newchwang report says it is reported there from reliable source that the Japanese army from the Yalu river has received a heavy blow and been driven back to Fengwangcheng.

A Weihaiwei dispatch says the British sloop of war Espiegle has started for Newchwang to protect British interests.

A Tientsin cable says that while the Japanese fleet was covering the landing of troops near Kaichau on Monday a sharp engagement occurred at Hsinyencheng. Two thousand Russians were killed or wounded. The Russians retreated, and the Japanese occupied both Kaiping and Kaichau.

The Chinese governor at Chenchow has received news that the Russians have destroyed the railway between Taschicao and Newchwang.

A St. Petersburg report says:

"The Russian cruiser Bogatyr grounded during a fog on the rocks near the entrance to Vladivostok. Her position is critical. The crew was saved."

Emperor Nicholas In Poltava.

POLTAVA, Russia, May 20.—The emperor during his visit here was waited upon by a deputation of Jews, who assured his majesty of the loyalty of themselves and their coreligionists.

HEAVY HAILSTORM.

Otsego and Schoharie Counties Suffer Damage.

FORT PLAIN, N. Y., May 20.—Great damage has been caused here by the heaviest hailstorm this region has ever experienced. Hop vines, just nicely started, were torn from their poles and practically ruined, gardens were destroyed, orchards were stripped of their foliage, the many large strawberry fields near here suffered severely and countless windows were shattered. According to the local weather bureau, the rainfall that accompanied the hail measured 1.35 inches.

South of here, in Otsego and Schoharie counties and in the southern part of Herkimer county, the storm is reported as having been even more disastrous than here. The hailstones were exceptionally heavy, many of them being as large as ordinary English walnuts. Many persons who were caught in the storm had thrilling experiences, being blinded by the fierce fall of rain and hail, and horses became unmanageable.

TELEPHONES TO COME OUT.

All Racing News Wires to Private Subscribers Cut Off.

NEW YORK, May 20.—President Clowry of the Western Union Telegraph company has ordered the removal of all Western Union wires running to places supposed to be poolrooms. He said he had issued directions to the company's workmen to remove every wire over which horse racing news exclusively had formerly been furnished to private subscribers and to turn in every instrument used in this service.

The poolrooms are now likely to be thrown entirely on their own resources, for the police commissioner has announced that the New York Telephone company has agreed to co-operate with him in stripping the poolrooms of their wire service.

It was said that the men who operate the larger poolrooms are forming a company to obtain for themselves the news they need.

Two Conventions Nominate.

MADISON, Wis., May 20.—Two conventions, both claiming legal status by right of delegate majorities holding prima facie credentials and both asserting themselves to be regularly Republican, were concluded in Madison last night. Two state tickets, the one headed by Governor Robert M. La Follette, candidate for a third term, and the other headed by former Congressman Samuel A. Cook, were nominated.

Two Visitors Drowned.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 20.—Two visitors to the Confederate reunion, J. D. Carmichael of Dillon, S. C., and J. W. Harmon, a Confederate veteran of Lexington, S. C., have been drowned in the harbor between Fort Sumter and Fort Moultrie. The harbor was calm, and the small boat capsized in an endeavor to put about in order to pick up a hat lost overboard.

Liberty Bell's Tour.

PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—The itinerary of the Liberty bell to St. Louis, where it will be placed on exhibition at the Louisiana Purchase exposition, has been completed. The bell will leave Philadelphia Friday, June 3, at 9 p. m., and will visit twenty-seven cities, at which stops will be made. The bell will arrive in St. Louis June 8 at 8 a. m.

Simmons' Murderer Hanged.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 20.—Alfred Daniels, colored, murderer of F. G. Simmons, father of United States Senator Simmons of this state, has been hanged at Trenton, N. C. Daniels said nothing on the scaffold except that he had been fo[illegible]ven for the dead.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

JURIST'S ILLNESS DELAYS THE DECISION

Judge Schenck Postpones Action on Borough's Application for Higher License.

A CONSULTATION SOON

TO DISCUSS MATTER WITH JUSTICE GARRETSON NEXT WEEK.

No Importance Attached to Act of County Clerk in Receiving Old Rate Fees—North Plainfielders Interested.

Many people interested in Judge Schenck's decision on the application of North Plainfield for an increased liquor license fee were in attendance at the usual Friday session of the Somerset County Court, at Somerville yesterday, expecting from rumors afloat before court opened, that the opinion was to be given. It was not referred to, however, and will not be until Judge Schenck has had an opportunity to confer with Justice Abram Q. Garretson about the matter.

A correspondent of The Daily Press spoke to Judge Schenck about his decision, and he said: "The matter has been somewhat delayed because of the continued illness of Justice Garretson at his home in Morristown. I consider it my duty to consult him about the application and shall not render any decision until after I have. I understand the Justice is improving and expects to be able to do some work next week and I want to run over early in the week and have a talk with him. Soon after that I expect to be ready to decide the question."

Within the past few days Collector George F. Brown, of North Plainfield, has received $1,950 in fees from County Clerk A. G. Anderson on the basis of the old license fee. This sum represented the licenses of L. W. Hoerster, New Jersey Bottling Co., Adolph Bohren and Charles Jensen. The three first named are wholesale and the latter hotel.

The County Clerk stated that as the application only seemed to effect hotel licenses, Jensen's was the only payment in doubt and it was only received on the strength of his promise, that if the Court decides to raise the license fee that he is to pay the difference, dating from the opening day of the April term, when the application for higher licenses was made.

N.J. NATIONAL DELEGATES MEET

ROOMS ALREADY ENGAGED IN CHICAGO —GOV. MURPHY TO BE CHAIRMAN.

The delegates and alternates to the Republican National Convention from New Jersey met in the office of United States Senator John F. Dryden, at Newark, yesterday, to arrange the preliminaries of the trip to Chicago. Sixteen men were present, with Edward C. Stokes, vice chairman of the Republican State Committee.

It was stated in a letter from Governor Murphy that while in Chicago last fall he had engaged twenty bedrooms and a parlor in the Auditorium Annex for the use of the New Jersey delegates. Secretary of State Dickinson and David Baird, of Camden, were appointed a committee on transportation. Senator John Kean was chairman of the meeting. It was understood that Governor Murphy would be the chairman of the delegation at Chicago. The delegates will start for Chicago on Saturday, June 18. The question of the Vice Presidency was not considered.

MAY WALK.

Saengerbund to Hold Its Annual Outing Tomorrow If the Weather Permits.

One of the pleasures of the old country life will be enjoyed by the members of the Saengerbund and their families tomorrow. At 5 o'clock in the morning they will start from the Marsh building for an old fashioned May walk to the mountains.

At the picnic grounds the Germans will enjoy a programme of sports and feasting such as is characteristic of similar gatherings in the Vaterland. Prizes will be offered in the various events. The return journey will not be made until dark.

Dr. Roland Tomlinson, who is now practicing at Union Hill, is spending a few days with his parents on East Seventh street.

A LARGE NUMBER OF POND'S MACHINISTS PRESENT AT MEETING.

The Dangers of Non-Unionism—High Wages Mean a Better Education of Workingman's Children—Child Labor Laws.

M. W. Landers, general organizer of the Grand Lodge, International Association of Machinists, addressed seventy-five or more of the machinists affected by the recent ten per cent cut in wages at the shops of the Pond Machine Tool Company, in Trades' Council Hall last night.

Some of those at the meeting, which was called by the local branch of the Association, are men who were dropped from the organization at the end of the last strike at Pond's, because they were considered to have deserted the strikers' ranks in returning to work. He incidently referred to the term "scab," which was originally used to designate a member of a union who took a fellow-unionist's place when the latter was out on strike in an effort to better his condition.

The indiscriminate used of the word by men who say "all scabs are alike," has caused more ill feeling among the machinists than any other one thing, said he. One man may return to work out of consideration for the welfare of his family, being practically forced to take action which another member of the same union believes for altogether selfish reasons; such for instance as the desire to get a job from some better man who is more loyal. Some parts of Mr. Landers' talk dealt with the conditions of the unorganized machinists who are, said he, because of their moral cowardice, allowing their constitutional rights to be taken from them, and in losing rights already theirs, sinking to a lower level than of the negro slaves of the old South, who at least were valued at so many dollars.

The speaker made a plea in behalf of the children who are driven to work at an early age because of the limited earning capacity of their parents. He urged every man present, who had not done so, to sign an application for membership in the union.

Business Manager J. A. Sonnabend, of Newark, was present also and spoke briefly, urging the men to join the organization now so as to be in a position to defy any attempt to reduce their pay.

A number of applications were signed and others promised to consider the question carefully.

SOMERSET STREET SITE IS NOT ADVANTAGEOUS

So Says Samuel Townsend in Discussing Question of Location for New Schoolhouse.

SOME GOOD REASONS

PREFERABLE TO HAVE BUILDING IN A MORE QUIET PLACE.

In An Interview, Prominent Boroughite Voices His Opinion Against Central Location, Which Has Many Drawbacks.

Since the public meeting of the school board on Monday night, the most widely discussed possibility for the site of the proposed new school house in the borough has been the lot on the corner of Park place and Somerset street, within a stone's throw of the main school. Mention of this lot at the meeting was greeted with spontaneous cheers that indicated a wide sentiment in favor of it, and for the past few days its supporters appear to have increased. But there is a sentiment against that particular site, as well as in favor of it, and some of those most firmly opposed to it are members of the school board.

Much has been said and written regarding the advantages of the lot. Yesterday afternoon Samuel Townsend told a Daily Press reporter some of the reasons why he believes the location is a bad one for the new school.

"The question of locating the proposed new school building on the Somerset street lot adjoining the present school," he said, "was carefully considered by the Board of Education as it was constituted before the last school election, and also since the new members have come in, and both times it has been thought unwise to erect another building so near the Somerset school.

"While the majority of those remaining after the recent school meeting to discuss the matter apparently favored a central location, I believe that if the facts are carefully considered the voters will not favor the lot on the corner of Somerset street and Park place.

"I do not think a business street the place for a school. Of course, we have our main school on Somerset street and there it must remain, but if it were located on a more quiet street I believe it would be much better. Somerset street is always more or less noisy and when the windows are open the passing of trolley cars and heavy wagons must more or less disturb the work. If there is a parade it always passes up and down Somerset street and everyone knows the impossibility of keeping scholars to their work with music or any unusual commotion outside. Political parties have their headquarters on Somerset street and fire headquarters are almost adjoining. When an alarm comes in I would like to see anyone keep the hundreds of scholars at their work as the engines dash by.

"I do not believe that in any town of size can be found a new school building erected on the business street. Again, all the saloons are located nearby, and if there is a drunken or disorderly person he is pretty sure to be in this part of Somerset street, making it impossible to keep the children going to and from school occasionally coming in contact with them and being obliged to listen to language not fit for their ears.

"As the population increases it will become necessary to use the Somerset street school entirely for the grammar and high school grades, which, if new buildings were erected elsewhere, would keep the young children away from this part of Somerset street entirely. We have certainly been much favored so far in having none of the little ones killed or injured by the passing vehicles but we may not always be so fortunate.

"I firmly believe that the right policy would be to erect two four-room buildings, one in the western and the other in the eastern section of the borough. It would not be necessary to have them both this year as one would answer our present needs. What extra cost there would be in maintaining them, if any, would be made up by the increased attendance. We shall receive this year from the State the sum of $12,495, which is larger than that received by any other school district in the county. The nearest is Somerville, which receives $9,740. Our large revenue comes from our large attendance, but large as it is, it would be much greater if our school children were not kept home so much on account of the distance they have to go in bad weather. Every time a child stays away it takes from our State appropriation and makes more to be raised by district tax.

"This is the financial view only, but what is still more important is the injury to the child's work where it is not regular in attendance. It was after the careful consideration of all these arguments for and against the Somerset street site that the Board came to favor the locating of a new building where it would be convenient for the scholars attending. I do not believe, however, that a single member of the Board would wish to stand out against the will of the people, and if a majority favor centralizing the schools it should by all means be done. But I earnestly hope that some location other than Somerset street can be found.

"The argument that a building on the lot adjoining could be run more economically I do not consider sound. In the first place we must pay a high price for the lot and then a much more expensive building would be necessary as it would face on two streets and being very prominent must have more ornamentation. I do not believe anything could be saved in janitor's expense, and as regards heating there would have to be an entirely new and separate plant as the present boiler is taxed to the utmost now."

SOCIETY VAUDEVILLE ENJOYED

SECOND NIGHT OF INTERNATIONAL MELANGE WITNESSED BY BIG HOUSE.

Another full house greeted the society vaudeville show at the Casino last night, when the entertainment reached the close of its brief run. The applause was as enthusiastic as on the initial evening. All the numbers went off as smoothly as on Thursday, and the delighted auditors insisted upon encore after encore.

After the performance the floor was cleared and the young people enjoyed a delightful dance. During the social hour the club members generally took occasion to shower the management and the participants in the show with congratulations and compliments on the unequalled success of the entertainment.

While the exact figures have not been obtained as yet, it is known that the affair will net a considerable sum for the house furnishing fund of the organization. The expense of the entertainment was not light, but the tickets sold so well that the sum expended will not be felt.

As on the first night, Mrs. George S. Ring scored a decided success with her solo part in the Indian song. Mention of her charming singing was inadvertently omitted in yesterday's report of the opening performance.

IN COSTUMES OF CHINESE

ENTERTAINMENT AT THE MONROE AVENUE M. E. CHURCH.

Songs, selections on the piano and a dialogue by the elder members made an enjoyable programme at the Chinese social held at Monroe Avenue M. E. church last night.

A number of girls in Chinese costume opened the programme with a song. Florence Brown, Mabel Marshall, Pauline Davis, Clara Gilbert, May Stafford, Violet Jones and others took part.

A piano duet by the Misses Marion Pierson and Avis Aldrich was one of the best received numbers of the evening. "Chop-sticks" was sung by Agnes Brown and Daisy Gilbert.

Those taking part in the dialogue were Agnes Brown, Minnie Gunzleman, Clara Scribner, Marion Pierson, Anna Scribner, Anna Heff, Daisy Gilbert and Avis Aldrich. This number won hearty applause and showed careful work in preparing for the different parts, some of which were really difficult.

Refreshments, most of them of a Chinese character, were served and a social time followed. Souvenir chop-sticks were in great demand by all as a memoir of a pleasant evening.

The Eagles Won.

The American Eagles, an aggregation of West Front street boys, won their second victory over the West Fifth street team this morning to the tune of 21 to 3. The game was played on the "West Fifth Street's" grounds.

FILLMORE BAPTISTS LOSE THEIR EDIFICE

Alexander Kane Purcheses the Property Unknown to Colored Congregation.

DEACON FORCES ENTRY

NEW OWNER MAKES DEPOSIT AND ALL THE HEIRS SIGN OFF.

Conference of Colored Brethren Called for Monday—Legal Complications — Mr. Kane's Statement.

The much-disputed property occupied by the Fillmore Baptist congregation, recently the object of legal controversy, has passed into the hands of a new owner and the congregation is now without a home. The property is now owned by Alexander Kane, who lives near the church, and what he intends doing with it he will not reveal at present.

A year ago Mr. Kane almost secured possession of the property, but through a fluke on the part of the owners, the deal did not go through. This time Mr. Kane got all of the heirs to the estate of which it was a part to sign off and he paid a deposit on the property and was given possession. The balance of the purchase price now awaits the heirs. The deal was brought about by Emil Scheideker, who, being one of the heirs, has acted as spokesman for the others. Mr. Kane refuses to tell the purchase price, but says that he secured the property for $400 less than he could have bought it a year ago.

A few days ago Mr. Kane placed a pad-lock on the front door of the church and one of the deacons of the church, not knowing that Mr. Kane had anything to do with the property or that it had passed into other hands, broke the lock and entered the church. Mr. Kane at first intended to institute legal proceedings against the deacon, but upon second thought changed his mind and took no notice of the invasion. Yesterday he announced himself as the new owner and he has given the colored congregation notice to vacate.

In speaking of the transaction last night, Mr. Kane said: "I have felt for a long time that it would be a great benefit to the neighboring property to have some one else beside the Fillmore Baptist church own it and I fully believe now that the surrounding property is worth $1,000 more than before."

The colored congregation has advertised a big conference to be held in the church on Monday, but there is little chance of the meeting being held. Mr. Kane says that his action in purchasing the property was hastened somewhat on this account, as there was objection on the part of the neighbors to the conference being held, some even offering to make the necessary deposit to make a change in ownership. The property is assessed at $2,500, and since a year ago has been improved considerable.

BEERMAN WANTS A DIVORCE

TESTIMONY HAS BEEN COMPLETED AND DECREE IS EXPECTED.

Application for absolute divorce has been filed in the court of chancery by Charles Beerman, of Harrison street. Statutory grounds are alleged. The wife, Kate J. Beerman, is living in Newark.

Alexander Brown, alias Fred Brown, of Westfield, is named as co-respondent. Special Master in Chancery John H. VanWinkle, of the firm of J. H. VanWinkle & Son, on East Front street, finished taking testimony in the case on May 10. No defense was put in. The papers have been referred back to the Chancellor, and the complainant is waiting for the decree.

RUTGERS CADET OFFICERS.

Hervey K. Doane and Others Receive Honors at College.

Edson Davis, of New Market, who worked on a local newspaper at one time, has been made second lieutenant. D. T. Mason and F. R. Mason, of Bound Brook, who attended the high school here before their entrance to Rutgers, have been made captain and second lieutenant respectively. These young men are former pupils of the Plainfield High School.

PLANS TO IMPROVE THE POLICE FORCE

Talk of a Three-Platoon System is Premature Says Col. Frank De W. Randolph.

LACK OF MEN NOW

COUNCIL TO DRAFT AN ORDINANCE IN FAVOR OF THE SCHEME.

Improved System to Come in the Fall, Probably—No Money in Sight for it Now—Eighteen Men Are Needed.

Increase of the force is still the chief matter of interest to the police board at present. All the talk of the inauguration of a three-platoon system is premature, and nothing will be done in this direction until next fall, if at all.

That, in effect, is what Police Commissioner Randolph said this morning in a statement to a Daily Press reporter. In the autumn steps will probably be taken to put the men on a three-platoon system, he declared, but no attempt will be made to handle that question until the force has been enlarged.

At present, Commissioner Randolph said, the department is hampered by lack of men. Mr. Randolph declared that the Board is seeking to increase the number of men to eighteen, and only when that step has been taken will there be room for consideration of three-platoons.

Three platoons would necessitate the expenditure of more money than the department has been receiving heretofore, and the last appropriation was $1,000 less than that of the year previous. It is expected, said Mr. Randolph, that the body would draft an ordinance calling for the platoon system next fall and introduce it in Council.

Mr. Randolph was asked if the three-platoon agitation would not have died of inanition had the men not been deprived of their day off at stated intervals. He would not make any reply to the query.

OSHKOSH MEN MAKE GIFTS

JOSEPH SHELLABARGER AND OTHERS ARE REMEMBERED BY THEM.

To show that backwoods singers appreciate good leadership and efficient stage management, even if they come from the immediate vicinity of Kalamazoo or thereabouts, the Oshkosh Glee Club distributed several tokens to the prominent members of the management of the International Melange of Song and Dance at the Casino last night.

The presentations were sprung just before "America," the final chorus. The entire company lined up at the front of the stage, and before the astonished conductor, Joseph Shellabarger, could quite realize what was about to happen, Leighton Calkins stepped before the troupe and made a speech in which a lot of nice things were said about the way in which Mr. Shellabarger, Harry Burt, the director of dancing and stage business, and G. S. Ring and Henry L. Hall, the stage managers, had done their parts.

Then on behalf of his fellow Oshkoshites, whose honest Wisconsin faces beamed delightedly in rural simplicity, or words to that effect, he presented to Mr. Shellabarger a handsome baton of ebony, ornamented with ivory and gold, just like a regular band chap's stick, by gum. Mr. Burt received a silver match box, a real swell gimcrack. Mr. Hall got a hunting hatchet, awful pretty and most too good to use; and Mr. Ring received a mounted hunting clasp-knife, as fine as any danged millionaire uses.

SCHOLARLY PRIEST TO DELIVER LECTURE

Rev. Cornelius Clifford Promises to Give a Talk on "The Makers of Victorian Prose."

HIS NOTABLE CAREER

STUDENT AT INNSBRUCK, AUSTRIA, AND LOUVAIN, BELGIUM.

Some of the Distinguished Prelates and Laymen He Has Met—Temporarily Assistant to Rev. A. M. Egan.

Rev. Cornelius Clifford, who is to lecture at the Casino on Wednesday evening, May 25 on the subject, "The Makers of Victorian Prose," is perhaps unknown to the great number of Plainfield citizens, as he is a new comer, having but recently taken up his duties in St. Mary's parish as assistant to Father Egan, during the absence of Father Delehanty abroad. He is a man of deep erudition and brings to his task ability of the highest order.

Father Clifford was born in New York in 1859, studied in the New York State University for four years and finally was graduated from Fordham with the class of 1879. He immediately entered the Jesuit order. With them he remained twenty years, both as student and priest; being a classical master, professor of rhetoric for many years to the junior members of his order in Frederick, Md., and afterwards in Roehampton, London. He taught rhetoric in Georgetown.

He went abroad for ten years, living during his sojourn at Roehampton, Wimbledon and Twickenham, the home of Alexander Pope. This period he devoted largely to the preparation of students for the "Higher Certificate," both at Cambridge and Oxford universities.

Before going to Europe he had taught in St. Francis Xavier's College and his professorship at this seat of learning was made notable through his production of a Latin play, "The Captive of Clautus;" an effort which excited the admiration of the classical world, both in America and in England, letters of enthusiastic commendation being received by Father Clifford from many of the leading universities. This period ended, he resumed his theological studies at the universities of Innsbruck in Austria, and afterwards at Louvain in Beligum.

Father Clifford has been especially fortunate in his friendships. In his younger days he had the privilege of knowing Cardinal Newman and Cardinal Manning, and more recently met and corresponded with R. Holt Hatton, late editor of the Spectator, Dr Conan Doyle and Dr. Barry, the author of the New Antigone. Thus it may be seen that Father Clifford, by reason of his researches and extensive travels is peculiarly well adapted for a lecture on those who have made the Victorian age a peerless epoch in the history of literature, and those who hear him will, without doubt, be amply repaid.

DE PEYSTER JEWELS

Raid on Albany "Growler Gang" Unearths Great Loot.

PLUNDER NOT FROM LIVINGSTON TOMB

Collections of Jewelry Valued at Thousands Found on Vagrant. Fence House Stored With Old Family Treasures.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 21.—The sensational results of raids by the Albany police upon a resort in South Lansing street, intended to break up a "growler gang," were believed to afford a sequel to the recent mysterious raid upon the family tomb on the old Livingston estate below Hudson.

A collection of jewelry of intrinsic value running into the thousands of dollars and of priceless value as heirlooms was found upon the person of Thomas King, one of the vagrants, and concealed about the house.

The arrival of Chief of Police Maloy of Tivoli-on-Hudson has exploded the tomb robbery end of the story, but brought to light the fact that the family residence of General Frederic de Peyster at Tivoli was looted on Monday night in the absence of the family, and Chief Maloy conclusively identified practically all of the booty as belonging to the De Peyster family. From him it was learned that this is the third robbery of the house. Upon the last occasion, he said, $27,000 worth of jewelry was taken. He fully identified King, who is a wandering tanner, and William Johnson of Hudson, who is a cripple, as two of three men whom he himself saw on Monday night near the De Peyster house.

Charles Murphy, also of Hudson, is in custody and is believed to be the third man. Three other men, classed by the police as "hoboes," were arrested in the raid, which was made upon complaint of neighbors. If the gang had dispersed as the policemen commanded no arrests would have been made, and the jewelry might never have been recovered. They resisted, however, and were brought to police headquarters. When King was searched the amazing collection of jewelry was found upon him. He declared that he found it beside the railroad track near Reading, Pa. The house was then searched, and an additional lot of the stuff was found, including scattered fragments in the back yard.

The loot recovered includes two or three hundred articles, most of them marked with names, monograms or initials of the De Peyster and Livingston families, which intermarried for with those of ancestors. For instance, there is a ring marked "Anne Watts, July, 1775," and a locket marked with the De Peyster monogram and the following inscription: "Helen Livingston, Wife of Frederic De Peyster, Esq., Died on the Night of 25th September, 1801, in the 28 yr. of her age—Granddaughter of Robert Gilbert Livingston."

There are many empty settings which once contained precious stones, but Chief Maloy said most of these had been removed by the family and reset in modern settings. Most conspicuous is a pair of beautiful cameo bracelets of heavy linked gold. One is marked as the portrait of "John Watts De Peyster, born March 9, 1821," the other as that of "Estelle De Peyster, nee Livingston." There is a magnificent hairpin of mother of pearl, set with small pearls and diamonds; a necklace of matchless Florentine mosaic strung on a golden chain of finest workmanship. This last had been flung into an ash heap. There were also bracelets, lockets, rings, earrings, brooches, embossed silver toilet articles, hand mirrors, carved coral ornaments, several breastpins containing braided hair, one of them surrounded by large and valuable pearls; a pair of gold filigree earrings in the form of bunches of grapes, together with a quantity of jewelry and other articles of modern make.

In addition to these the police have found in the local pawnshops a number of valuable articles pawned by members of the gang. The police say that King and his companions are of the clumsiest sort of tramp thieves. Some of the articles of bullion value alone as high as $75 and $100 they had pawned for 50 cents. A diamond brooch had been sold for $2, and all the money had been spent for drink.

Chief Maloy said that Miss De Peyster, probably the only member of the family who could positively identify the articles, was in Europe.

He said it was now known that no jewelry was entombed with the beautiful Lady Mary Livingston. Members of the family and neighbors who were present at her funeral had long ago disposed of the jewelry legend with the well authenticated statement that the only thing with her in the casket was a cluster of roses.

King and the rest of the gang have been sent to the penitentiary on charges of vagrancy for thirty days pending investigation. At the end of that time they will doubtless be charged with burglary in the third degree, the most serious charge for robbing an unoccupied house, the maximum penalty for which is imprisonment for six years. No one now seriously connects this gang with the vandalism at the Livingston tomb.

Rothschild Found Guilty.

NEW YORK, May 21.—After deliberating forty-five minutes the jury in the case of David Rothschild, late president of the Federal bank of New York, brought in a verdict of guilty of grand larceny in the first degree. The maximum penalty is ten years in state prison. Rothschild was convicted of misappropriating the proceeds of a $10,000 note deposited in the Federal bank by Herman D. Nessler.

English Lad Favorite.

CHICAGO, May 21.—Fourteen of the original nominations, which numbered eighty, are listed to start in the Chicago Derby at Hawthorne today. Outside of the American Derby the Chicago Derby is the richest event for three-year-olds in the west. English Lad will go to the post favorite. Of the fourteen starters there are but two that ever had their heads in front of English Lad when the wire was reached. Those two are the Flower King and Prince Silverwings. Flower King is the "dark horse" in the race.

Czaraphine Got Gaiety Stakes.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Czaraphine, 6 to 5 favorite, won the Gaiety stakes for two-year-olds at Morris park. She won easily by one length from Incantation, who in turn was a head in front of Chrysitis. The favorite broke in front and led the entire distance. Escutcheon, in the second race, was played for a good thing, being backed down from 30 to 1 to 4 to 1, but second to the favorite. The Claimant, was the best he could do. Hildebrand and Lyne each rode two winners.

Old Derby Winner Dead.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 21.—Information has been received here that Boundless, the American Derby winner of 1893, has fallen and broken his neck on a farm eight miles from here. Boundless was by Harry O'Fallon, out of Endless, and it is said made a fortune for his owner, J. E. Cushing of Minneapolis, when he won the American Derby. He had not raced since the Chicago world's fair.

Tennis League Matches at Hanover.

HANOVER, N. H., May 21.—The first matches in the triangular league tennis tournament between Dartmouth, Williams and Wesleyan have been played here. In the singles Smith of Williams defeated Gould of Wesleyan. In the doubles Burtch and McLane of Dartmouth won from Adams and Gould of Wesleyan and Smith and Northrup of Williams defeated Burtch and McLane of Dartmouth.

Sir Gallant and Gracious.

CINCINNATI, O., May 21.—The day's racing at Latonia resulted disastrously for the talent, as all the favorites were beaten. The weather was delightful, and a large crowd turned out to see the sport. The surprises of the day were the victories of Sir Gallant at 15 to 1 in the third race and Gracious, a 12 to 1 shot, in the last race.

Elastic Got the Handicap.

ST. LOUIS, May 21.—This was the last day of the Kinloch Breeders' association race meeting at Delmar park. The feature of the card was a six furlong handicap. Elastic, favorite at 7 to 10, won easily from Laura Hunter and Tower. W. H. Fisher and his friends made a heavy winning on the victory of John H. in the third race.

Hart and Ruhlin Fought to a Draw.

BALTIMORE, May 21.—Marvin Hart of Louisville and Gus Ruhlin of Akron, O., fought twelve hot rounds to a draw last night before the Eureka Athletic and Social club. Hart forced the fighting throughout the contest. Both men were strong at the finish.

Port Royal at Worth.

CHICAGO, May 21.—The spring meeting at Worth closed. The feature event was a handicap at a mile and a sixteenth, won by Port Royal, with Huzzah second and Dan McKenna third.

The Munroe-Jeffries Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Jack Munroe, the pugilist, has arrived here and will go at once into training for his contest with Champion James J. Jeffries, which is scheduled for June 17.

JAPS MEET REVERSE

Kuroki's Flank Movement on Mukden Beaten Back.

COSSACK VETERANS STRUCK BLOW

General Rennenkampff's Attack Was Like Thunderbolt Out of the Blue Sky—Loss of the Japanese Reported to Be Great.

LONDON, May 21.—Advices from St. Petersburg say that following on the heels of the news of the disasters to the Japanese fleet the general staff has received official advices of the defeat of the Japanese force which was marching northward from Fengwangcheng for the purpose of executing a flank movement on Mukden.

Details of the dispatch will not be made public until it has been passed by the war commission, but enough has been communicated to make it clear that in order to save themselves from destruction the Japanese were compelled to retreat toward Fengwangcheng.

Since General Kuroki sent a column northward to gain the road leading directly west from Mukden General Kuropatkin has kept it under the closest surveillance, awaiting the moment to strike a heavy blow when it should be so distant from the main Japanese army as to prevent its easy re-enforcement. In observing this plan the Russians withdrew, and the Japanese, not finding a strong force of the enemy before them, continued to advance. When the time for action came General Kuropatkin let General Rennenkampff loose from the leash.

General Rennenkampff had under his command only a few regiments, but they were the flower of the Cossack cavalry, and he fell on the enemy, whose number has not yet been revealed, with such vigor as to compel the Japanese retirement twelve miles toward the base, near enough, it is presumed, to have received re-enforcements from General Kuroki, who must immediately have been advised of the awkward predicament.

The operation is described by the general staff as just such a move as it was expected General Kuropatkin would make and for which General Rennenkampff was fitted and chosen. The latter's appearance on the stage was somewhat late. It had been intended that he should raid Korea at the beginning of the war, but he arrived at the front too late.

The general staff believes General Rennenkampff's attack must have been in the nature of a thunderbolt. He is a man to attack quickly and hard once given the opportunity, and his men, veterans of the Chinese campaign, had been selected especially because they had tasted blood and knew what it was to be under fire. The casualties sustained by the opposing forces have not yet been announced.

One effect of the Japanese naval disaster has been the renewal of the talk in diplomatic circles of a possible friendly intervention of one of the great powers, but neither Sir Charles Hardinge, the British ambassador, or any of the other ambassadors will bring up the subject, officially or otherwise, in view of the recent declaration of the Russian government that it would not brook intervention.

A Newchwang report says Japanese numbering 20,000 men came upon 32,000 Russians in a strong position sixty miles west of Fengwangcheng. It being unwise to risk a battle, the Japanese retreated in good order and with great rapidity.

The Russians are jubilant over their reported victory near Fengwangcheng and consider that, it being Emperor Nicholas' birthday, the victory is "good medicine" for the Japanese.

The latest authentic reports show that there are two divisions of the Yalu army. One is moving on Haicheng, and the other was going toward Liaoyang. It is believed the Russians concentrated their forces and struck the enemy south of Liaoyang, driving the Japanese back. The reports say the Japanese loss was heavy.

It is understood that the siege guns removed from the Newchwang forts and taken to the Haicheng forts were mounted there.

A Tokyo report says in the naval disasters off Port Arthur Captain Nakao, commander of the Hatsuse, was among those saved from the battleship after it was blown up.

Among the lost on the Hatsuse were Commander Tsukamoto, Viscount Nire Arimori, five second lieutenants, five engineers, two surgeons, six midshipmen, four engineer cadets and ten warrant officers.

With the Yoshino were lost Captain Sazeki, Commander Hirowateri, three first and five second lieutenants, five midshipmen, a paymaster and a surgeon, three cadets and eight boatswains.

Freight Handlers Strike.

STONINGTON, Conn., May 21.—The freight handlers employed at the Stonington Steamship company's wharf here struck upon the arrival of the steamer Rhode Island from New York. The men refused to work with the Italian deck hands and firemen who took the places of the strikers in New York.

It is somewhat surprising to the majority of citizens that the members of the police force do not get any rest from their daily tasks. Unlike the firemen, the patrolmen and roundsmen do not get a single day off in the month. The monotony of their lives is never varied. It is the same old grind, with no time for enjoyment. There is reason to believe that the three platoon system will be inaugurated before the year is ended. But why delay in granting the men that to which they are entitled, some days of vacation each month?

E. M. Wood's Daughter Killed.

Sarah Wood, the young daughter of County Collector Edward M. Wood, of Elizabeth, was almost instantly killed late yesterday afternoon by a trolley car. The little one had just started on her wheel from in front of her home, in West Jersey street, four doors from Cherry street, when the car, which was marked "Roselle Only" and used to take home factory employes, came along at high speed. The child was unable to check her bicycle and the motorman could not stop his car.

Auto's Mad Dash.

A large red auto travelling along West Front street at a high rate of speed last night about 6 o'clock, jumped suddenly from the road to the sidewalk and made a semi-circular turn in front of Peck's store. The difficulty with the foundry employes at the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant has been settled. Only the men who receive $3 per day and over are effected by the recent reduction in the wage scale. The men thought that all hands in the foundry were included and they have threatened to go on strike. It was not until yesterday that they learned the exact situation however and harmony was restored.

George Hill, of the Campbell Press Company's shop, had an narrow escape from losing his arm yesterday. The lad was leaning his right arm on a pulley of a milling machine, unobserved by Charles Pierson, the operator, who started the machine suddenly. Almost at the same instant as Pierson shifted the starting belt the boy gave a piercing scream. ## BLOODHOUNDS ON TRAIL.

A Breeder of the Dogs Thinks They Are of No Account in Tracking Criminals.

Henry Poland, of Chicago, has probably bred more hounds than any other man in the country. He is out of it now, and has only one old "Uncle Tom's Cabin" hound he keeps for a pet, says the Cleveland Leader.

"Bloodhounds," he said, "are practically valueless for tracking criminals. I loaned a pair of mine once to the Terre Haute police force, who were after a murderer. They circled around the town a few times, and finally lay down on a front porch where lived the mayor of the town. At another time I loaned a pair of Danish bloodhounds to detectives in Indianapolis to track the murderer of a night policeman. They were as large as young colts, and finally ended up in the house of a respectable farmer. They got away from the keeper, ran upstairs, through all the rooms, mowed everything down in their path, and played havoc generally.

"I went on a hunting trip once with a pack of foxhounds. We stopped a Saturday night at an Indiana town called Moscow, and the hounds were confined in the tavern stable. Some one in the village who knew the nature of the brutes burned a big piece of meat in a stove, dragged it through the town, around the church several times, and finally hid it under the preacher's reading desk. The next morning during the service the same individual let the hounds out. Of course they followed the track of meat, barked around the church, and finally rushed frantically up the aisles. The preacher and congregation fled while the hounds sat on the pulpit and brayed. I had to contribute $25 toward the preacher's back salary to keep the pack from being killed."

PLOVERS' EGGS ON SALE.

Epicurean Luxury That Is Much in Demand in the English Markets.

A fine palate and a full pocket are necessary if one is prepared to pay seven shillings six pence apiece for a dozen eggs each no bigger than the egg of a rook, says the London Express.

Yet this was the price recently paid by a wealthy West End epicure for the first consignment of plovers' eggs of the season.

Even this price does not create a record, for up to the present season a certain gentleman has, for several years, bought the first eggs for half a guinea each.

In the markets and West End poultry shops dozens of the little olive-hued, black-splashed eggs may be seen exposed for sale, mostly in tiny baskets of moss, made to represent nests.

Why they should be thus exhibited is a mystery, since the plover never builds a nest for its eggs, but lays them indiscriminately in any natural hole or depression such as a furrow or the hoofprint of a horse or cow.

According to one salesman, the plovers' egg business is not popular at the markets owing to the risks of the eggs turning out bad, as the plovers are in the habit of disregarding their eggs, thus allowing the hot sun to work its will with them.

The market price of the eggs the other day was three shillings a dozen, having dropped from 21 shillings a dozen since the last week of Lent. The lowest price reached in any season is generally about three pence apiece.

A Few Facts of Interest
ABOUT Plainfield's Leading Department Stores

White Goods

The story of Spring White Goods grows longer and longer. We have already given you many chapters—each more interesting than the one previous, and yet the narrative is hardly begun. Every day turns another page disclosing rich values in unusually artistic cotton goods, the surprising point of all being the price.

The figured Madras, in champagne shades, seems to head the list, and yet hardly behind these are the Mercerized Poplins, Silk Finish Madras, Fancy Stripe and Figured Madras, Soft Finish Black and White Duck, Sheer White Lawn, etc, etc.

Our assortment is extremely large and our prices extremely low.

The Ladies' Dept.

This new department has proven itself a success in every respect, for it not only affords a pleasant place to do your shopping, but it also provides a comfortable waiting room—if you have a few moments to wait for the car, etc. "I'll wait for you in the Ladies' Department," has become quite a by-word with our regular patrons; better try it yourself and see how bright and cheery it is. You will find many things of especial interest to ladies there.

The season's newest productions in Undermuslins.
An unusually attractive display of Shirt Waists.
The latest and best productions in Corsets.
A good assortment of Spring Suits and Skirts.
The latest novelties in Art Needle Work, and many other attractions too numerous to mention. One visit to this part of the store will convince you that it is indeed a Ladies' Department.

Colored Wash Fabrics

Have you visited our Wash Goods Department this week? If not you have missed some of the greatest bargains in wash fabrics that Plainfield has ever seen. Every day something new is added to this department and many times "just for a day." If you do not want to be "left out" you had better drop in next week, for a special feature in this department is "Unadvertised Specials." In addition to the "cut prices" you will find our shelves laden with exquisite patterns and colorings in all kinds of sheer "washables," Lace Stripe Madras, Jeritelles, Silk Gingham, Mercerized Madras, Dresden Stripe Organdies, the new Cotton Voile, fine sheer Batiste and others equally attractive.

The minutes of the previous meeting, the reading of bills being omitted, were on motion approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS, PETITIONS, ETC.

From Barry Post, No. 27, G. A. R., of Rahway, stating that on April 29th the said Post had passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That we petition the honorable Board of Chosen Freeholders to make it possible for us as veterans of the Civil War to receive all the benefits of Chapter 27, Laws of 1902.

Freeholder King stated that this board had made no appropriation for the current year to cover the provisions of the law as mentioned, and on his motion it was ordered that the communication be received and placed on file.

From F. M. Anderson, special agent, as follows:

New York, May 2d, 1904.

To the Honorable the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union county, N. J.:

Gentlemen: In connection with the construction of a new long distance telephone line, the Northeastern Telephone and Telegraph Company request permission to construct and maintain a line of poles, together with the necessary wires, cables, and other appurtenances, on Central avenue, from a point about 700 feet west of Walnut avenue, and extending in a northwesterly direction to Raritan road, in Clark township.

For your information I would state that the necessary rights of way from abutting property owners have been obtained. Your early consideration will oblige,

Yours very truly,

F. W. Anderson, Special Agent.

Freeholder King moved that the communication be received and referred to the county road committee with power, which was so ordered without dissent.

Freeholder King moved that the report be received and recommendation adopted, which was so ordered on roll call by a unanimous vote.

By the committee on bridge on Irvington road, near Carter's.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders:

Gentlemen: Your committee would respectfully report that they have examined the old bridge and find it in very bad condition, one-half of the old wall having been washed out, and would recommend a new iron beam and brick arch bridge be built, with an iron rail, at a cost not to exceed $1,600. Signed,

Noah Woodruff, John N. Cady, Henry Krouse, Committee.

SHUN CRIPPLES' SCHOOLS.

Teachers of Public Schools Dislike to Teach Unfortunates — Special Training Required.

That the public school-teachers of Chicago who now have positions in the elementary grades do not fancy the work of teaching in the schools for crippled children is evident from a bulletin sent out by Superintendent Cooley, says the Post.

The positions in the schools for crippled children pay $200 more a year than teaching in the elementary schools, but it is said that teachers do not like the work, because it is too difficult. Superintendent Cooley's bulletin to school principals is to the effect that the principals confer with the superintendent of schools concerning teachers whom they consider specially fitted for the work, so that these teachers may be encouraged to make some special preparation.

Three new schools for crippled children will be opened next year, and teachers will be needed for these schools. It is required that teachers in schools for crippled children should have one year's special training in such teaching. Arrangements have been made by Superintendent of Schools Cooley to have special training in the work given in connection with normal extension classes.

Proposals For Painting.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Board of Education of the City of Plainfield, N. J., at a meeting held April 4, 1904, notice is hereby given that the Board of Education will meet on June 6, 1904, at 7:45 p. m., at the Board room in the Stillman School, corner of West Fifth street and Arlington avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at which time and place said Board of Education will receive sealed proposals for painting the exterior and interior of the Irving School, the exterior of the Stillman School, and some work to be done at the Lincoln School. Specifications may be obtained at the office of the Board.

All proposals to be endorsed "Proposals for Painting," and addressed to the Secretary of the Board, and left with him at the office of the Board, on or before the hour and time mentioned for such meeting to be held.

Upon receipt of the bids, or proposals, the Board will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding, or their agents, provided such parties or their agents choose to be then and there present, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Board.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

For the Committee on Buildings and Repairs,

HOW TO OBTAIN

Summer Boarders!

There is in New York City one daily newspaper which has made tremendous gains in popular favor during the past five years. Its net cash paid circulation is over 100,000 copies daily throughout every section of New York City (including Brooklyn), larger than that of any other recognized resort medium. This newspaper's readers are among the wealthy, and well-to-do, intelligent people—those who can afford and do take extended vacations in the country during the Summer. It carries more resort advertising than any other morning newspaper, so the public naturally look to it for information as to where to go.

An advertisement in its columns is, therefore, exceedingly valuable and sure to produce results. This paper is

TRADE CONDITIONS.

R. G. Dun & Co. Report Good Prospects For All Farm Produce.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Reports of increased trade are received from a few favored points, but the nation as a whole has not improved its commercial position during the past week in so far as current distribution of merchandise or manufacturing activities are concerned. Prospects for the future have improved somewhat on account of the progress made in agriculture. Unless the crops suffer an unusual setback hereafter it should be a good year for the farms, and all other industries will feel the stimulus. Lake traffic is seriously interrupted by the strike, but otherwise the labor situation is not alarming. Boston reports weather adverse and trade below normal, while building operations are also reduced.

There has been no spring trade as yet at Cincinnati, owing to low temperature, but business broadens at Baltimore and collections are more prompt. Leading branches of manufacture are extremely quiet, the recent slight gain in iron and steel having disappeared, and transporting interests are not equaling last year's results, railway earnings thus far available for May showing a decrease of 6.6 per cent. Foreign commerce at this port for the last week was decidedly against this country, exports of merchandise falling $1,654,075 behind the corresponding week in 1903, while imports increased $1,970,900. Gold has gone abroad in great bulk without destroying the money market, although rates are fractionally firmer.

There was a decided rally in the grain markets, and cotton also developed a little strength, but there was no aggressive speculation for the long account in cotton, and frequent liquidation prevented any permanent advance. Wheat receipts were 1,015,561 bushels against 1,298,341 bushels last year, and exports, flour included, were only 1,204,849 bushels compared with 4,672,980 bushels in 1903.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for May aggregated $3,759,561, of which $1,529,700 were in manufacturing, $1,609,683 in trading and $620,178 in other commercial lines. Failures this week numbered 236 in the United States against 191 last year, and 12 in Canada compared with 14 a year ago.

Got a Check, but No Money.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 21.—Michael Dunn, city building inspector, against whom a true bill was found by the grand jury on a charge of accepting a bribe of $1,500 from a local brewing company for a special privilege, has been found guilty by a jury in the municipal court. Dunn was committed to jail pending a motion for a new trial. Dunn admitted accepting a check for the money, but denied receiving any portion of it, claiming it went to others.

Railroad Merger Completed.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 21.—The merger of the Fair Haven and Westville, Winchester Avenue and Consolidated Railway companies has been completed at a meeting of the directors and stockholders of all three companies in this city, and the sale of the two former to the latter company was authorized.

IN FASHION'S REALM.

Straw Toques Are Much Worn—Embroidery Is Smarter Than Lace.

Straw toques are to be worn a great deal this summer, as much so in fact as the larger shapes. These little toques are usually made of some bright colored material, satin straw or flowers, and if of straw they are simply decorated with straw rosettes or soft satin bows and quills.

Bands of embroidery are being used more than those of plain lace. This embroidery is rarely openwork, except in the case of English embroidery or the Tenerife drawn work. The preference is for raised embroidery.

Both on blouses and skirts cording is much used. Checks of every description are very smart. Even on veiling these checks appear in dull rubbed in effect, and they give a changeable effect when combined with a bright lining.

Some of the most effective picture hats are made of black guipure edged with velours and trimmed with one long plume brought around the brim and falling down upon the shoulders.

Some of the hats are worn straight off the face; others have a decided downward tilt.

A magnificent evening toilet may be fashioned of cream chiffon gauze over rich sulphur colored silk. The corsage should be trimmed with spiderweb lace medallions, from which falls a white silk fringe, the sleeves terminating in a deep fall of accordion plaited chiffon, relieved by shirred chiffon and lace medallions. Effective touches of gold cord may be introduced into this costume.

The picture shows a toque of green straw trimmed with a rosette of soft silk and two quills.

WHAT IS WORN.

Sleeves Are Very Wide and Much Filled In With Lace.

Sleeves are still very wide, and the fullness either hangs bell shaped or it is plaited into a loose cuff, which is filled in with lace. The newest sleeve frills are of plaited lawn edged with color embroidery or yellow lace valenciennes. Some of the new sleeves are decorated with from three to five frills of lace, which reach almost from the elbow down.

The heavy coats now worn by motorists are giving way to coats of shantung of pale colored mohair and silky alpaca. These are made long enough to cover the entire costume, with becoming bertha and collar arrangements and very wide sleeves, having lace and plaited frills put into the new loose cuff.

Lace veils lined throughout with tulle are fastened on draped toques of tussore silk or satin straw. Some of these ecru shapes are very becoming when relieved by touches of red or bright blue.

The bolero is still the most popular coat. It is deservedly so, as it is almost universally flattering to the figure, much more so, in fact, than the braided military coat which dressmakers tried to introduce in the spring.

The model shows a tailor made suit of green silk trimmed with strappings of white silk. It has the long shoulded effect, which is so smart at present.

GOTHAM JOURNALISM

MEN WHO MAKE THE NEWSPAPERS OF NEW YORK.

HEARST AS A CANDIDATE

Is Still an Unknown Man to the Metropolis Public—Munsey's Experience in the Newspaper Field—Other Gossip.

NEW YORK.—The appearance of William R. Hearst as a presidential candidate has brought his personality before the public in a way that 30 years of conducting multiple newspapers could never have done.

Yet to the public, even in New York, he remains an unknown man. He is not recognized upon the street, as Depew would be. He does not seek or court personal publicity. Withal, his face and figure are of the type that pass unnoticed in a city that draws from all parts of the country slender, smooth-faced men to manifold industries and walks of commerce.

Smooth-faced, I have called Mr. Hearst. He is about 40 years of age, and his slender figure and boyish appearance give him the look of even greater youth. Some one of his numerous retinue of campaign managers has issued a lithograph of him that shows the face lined and seamed like that of a middle-aged man. In that respect it is not a portrait. Mr. Hearst's years sit lightly upon him. The cares of a vast and complex business of publication simply do not for him exist. He has the power of disassociation; of leaving to subordinates work that does not personally appeal to him.

Mr. Hearst has young men about him. Mr. Arthur Brisbane, who has been much named of late as Mr. Hearst's adviser and literary man, is of about the same age and of the same smooth-shaven facial type, though much more careworn in appearance. Still, Mr. Brisbane was already past 30 when, happening one day to attempt to enter the casino at Monte Carlo as a visitor, he was stopped by the watchful attendant, who informed him that minors were not permitted to enter the famous gambling hall. The Monte Carlo men, being Savoyards and pronounced brunes, very often take northern blond men as younger than they really are.

Mr. Brisbane is only one of a brilliant group of men whom Mr. Hearst has had at times gathered about him, and whose services have had much to do with the circulation of his newspapers. Mr. Chamberlain, Arthur McEwen, Ambrose Bierce and Willis Holly are a few of the men who have written the stirring editorials attributed to Mr. Hearst by those who do not know how a great newspaper is really edited.

I am not sure that Mr. Hearst does not owe more to Mr. Carvalho, the astute business manager of various of his papers at various times, than to any writer whatever. Mr. Carvalho and Mr. Brisbane have been close friends for 15 years. They were associated in practically their present work upon the World until seven years ago, since then they have been the "steady team" of the Hearst establishment.

The Queer Fate of the News.

R. FRANK MUNSEY is another young looking newspaper man of New York and other cities, though one whose success has been less than Mr. Hearst's.

Mr. Munsey was the first man in America to try the "tabloid" form of journalism, publishing the old Star for a few weeks in small page form as "The Continent." Only newspaper men remember the experiment. Munsey had at that time already won and lost more than one respectable competency; wealth soon after dawned for him with the success of Munsey's Magazine. His more recent venture with the Washington Times, the Boston Journal and the New York News has proved a less easy road to fortune.

The case of the News is instructive. This paper was long ago the personal organ of Mayor Fernando Wood, he whose claim to immortality chiefly rests upon the inspired remark that "We must pander sometimes to the moral sense of the community." Which, as Wood was a Tammany mayor during the war, was a concession. Afterwards the News was run for years by Col. "Bill" Brown, who was also in the Tammany confidence. It made money right along and had the largest circulation in the world. Its 150,000 daily buyers were the standing marvel of newspaper men. The paper was chiefly bought by those in humble circumstances and paid more attention to prize fights than to pink teas.

When Col. Brown died his widow still had in the News a profitable property, though its circulation had been whittled away by the Sun, World and Journal, one after another establishing evening papers of great enterprise.

However, the paper was sold to Mr. Munsey for a substantial price and was worth it. Every step that he took to "boom" it has precisely the opposite effect. He changed it from an afternoon to a morning edition without consulting anybody. Not being a newspaper man, it never occurred to him that there would be any difficulty about the press franchise for telegraphic news. There was. He changed the Sunday edition into a Saturday afternoon edition, and when that was worked changed it back again, confusing the few remaining readers who dropped away rapidly.

So presently the strange spectacle was seen of a paper which had been greatly improved, which published excellent matter excellently written, clearly printed and well illustrated, with a circulation of one-tenth what it had been when the paper was not so good, but was at least consistently managed. In a single year, Mr. Munsey is supposed to have spent nearly a million dollars, including the purchase price, upon the News, up to the time when he publicly announced that he was ready practically to throw it away, to suspend publication without day or date.

That is the other side of the newspaper story, good to tell when one speaks of the wonders Mr. Hearst has wrought with practically unlimited money and nerve. Even these qualities do not always win. Mrs. Brown, it is sad to say, did not come through the year much better than the purchaser of her paper. She was one of the unfortunates who purchased considerable quantities of the "busted" shipbuilding trust.

What Can Be Done.

UT Mr. Hearst is not the only man who has "done things" of late in New York journalism.

Mr. Adolph Ochs, coming from Chattanooga, took over the New York Times, for 20 years a hopeless proposition. Now he has it on a paying basis, runs in connection with it the Philadelphia Ledger and Times, consolidated into one strong paper, and has been beating the town with Jap war news obtained in partnership with the London Times.

The new proprietor of the Globe, which started as the Commercial over a hundred years ago, has worked it up to over 100,000 circulation in a few months. The manager of the Mail and Express, son of the Poet Stoddard, is a young man. Young Mr. Howland is practically at the head of the New York Herald, where his father was so long business manager. The "down-stairs men" of the World, the managing editor, the city editor, the Sunday editor, are all men under 45.

Anything unusual in Philadelphia journalism naturally has something to do with obituary notices, which have always been a specialty of Quaker City Journalism since Mr. Childs used to print the poetical variety in the old Ledger. Death notices are valuable in Philadelphia. Therefore, again, they were eagerly sought by the competing papers. A "cut-rate war" was the result; and of that the equally natural outcome was a trust.

Go to any Philadelphia paper nowadays—it makes no matter which one—to secure the insertion of a "death notice" and the charge will be three dollars, and all the papers publish it in just the same form. Thus Philadelphia is assured of its favorite reading matter.

The "Original Delmonicos."

THE death of Miss Rose Delmonico left New York's most famous restaurant still without a masculine owner.

Three-fourths of the estate of Miss Delmonico's will goes to her niece, Josephine Crist Delmonico, the other fourth to her nephew, Lorenz Crist Delmonico. The famous old firm still maintains two, and only two, houses, the downtown branch on Beaver street and the one which, on the corner of Fifth avenue and Forty-fourth street, faces its newer rival, Sherry's, in the fight for smart patronage.

In no way that I could name has the effect in New York on the growth of great wealth and the habit of ostentation been more manifest than in the matter of costly places of dining. Where Delmonico's had not so very long ago almost a monopoly of expensive banquets, it has seen the industry divided among 20 places, while its own share has not decreased. The Holland house, Sherry's, the Savoy, the New Netherland, the Majestic, are but types of a score of hotels where it is impossible to dine from the card at a moderate price. The table d'hote dinner, costing $1.50, is almost contemptuously regarded in such places as "cheap." The Cafe Martin, on the site of the old Delmonico's, relegates its table d'hote diners at that price to inferior quarters on the third floor, far from the music and gayety, and taxes 25 cents per person extra, those who do not order wine. This, indeed, is a common practice.

In the race for distinction, the competition seems to be not to cut prices under other competitors, but to get them higher. Delmonico rates are slow to change; and the famous old house still enables two persons, who order with care and judgment, to get something to eat for about three dollars. Delmonico has no fixed-price dinner, and, of course, no absurd tax upon those who do not order wine. It is not now, as once it was, the highest priced restaurant in New York, but it is still an institution, after having enriched three generations of the original family.

TWO FLEETS WILL GO.

Government Will Take Strong Measures In Moroccan Outrage.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A Tangier report says United States Consul General Gummere, at Tangier, Morocco, has learned that the brigand band which captured Perdicaris, an American citizen, and Cromwell Varley, a British subject, is the same that captured Mr. Harris, the London Times correspondent, last year.

Besides capturing the men, members of the band assaulted the ladies of the Perdicaris party. The British and American representatives at Tangier are taking energetic measures to obtain the release of the captives, and the Moorish authorities are assisting them.

Raisuli, the brigand chief who captured Messrs. Perdicaris and Varley, has sent a number of his men to obtain bedding and linen for the prisoners.

Mohammed el Torres, the representative of the sultan at Tangier, is negotiating with Raisuli.

United States Senator Dryden, at Newark, N. J., has wired to Washington as follows:

"I respectfully urge that you take vigorous measures to secure the release of Mr. Perdicaris, an American citizen of Trenton, who has been captured by bandits, and cause the punishment of his captors."

Acting Secretary Loomis has instructed Consul Gummere by cable to act with the greatest vigor and demand of the Moorish government that it take the most sweeping measures to secure the release of Mr. Perdicaris even if necessary to accede to the terms of the brigands. After consultation with Admiral Taylor, chief of the navigation bureau, the naval measures resolved on were strengthened considerably. Admiral Chadwick when he reaches Fayal in a few days will receive orders to proceed with the whole south Atlantic squadron to Tangier, while Admiral Jewell, with the newly formed European squadron, who is about three days behind Admiral Chadwick, will be ordered to follow to Tangier if the emergency still exists.

HOME, SWEET HOME.

Springfield Republican Convention Takes an Eleven Day Recess.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 21.—Unable to end the deadlock on the gubernatorial nomination, the Republican state convention has adjourned until 2 p. m. May 31.

Only one ballot was taken. It was the fifty-eighth rollcall and showed no material change from the fifty-seventh. The convention suspended operations, leaving Governor Yates in the lead, with 483 votes; Colonel Frank O. Lowden second, with 392; Charles S. Deneen third, with 385; H. J. Hamlin fourth, with 113; Vespasian Warner fifth, with 53; Lawrence Y. Sherman sixth, with 46, and John H. Pierce seventh, with 29.

All the candidates agreed to the eleven day recess. The band played "Home, Sweet Home," but nobody sang, for ten days of shouting had left the crowd hoarse and exhausted.

A MARINE DISASTER

St. Lawrence River Ship on Rocks Off Cape North.

CAPTAIN AND TWELVE SAILORS LOST

Fourteen of the Crew Taken Off Floating Wreckage, but Five Died From Exposure Before Reaching St. Paul's Island.

NORTH SYDNEY, N. S., May 21.—The worst marine disaster in the history of the St. Lawrence river coal trade has occurred off Cape North, the northernmost point of Cape Breton. The British steamer Turret Bay, laden with coal and bound from Sydney to Montreal, struck on the rocks off St. Paul's island and sank in deep water twenty minutes later, causing the loss of Captain J. W. Hayden and twelve sailors. Only nine men from a crew of twenty-two were saved.

The first news of the wreck was received here in a telegram from the government agent at St. Paul's island. According to the agent's report, the steamer struck near Southwest light about 8:30 o'clock in the morning. A dense fog prevailed at the time, and the sea was running mountains high. Immediately after striking the rocks the Turret Bay backed off into deep water, but her hull was terribly broken in by the force of the shock, and she sank within twenty minutes.

The crew attempted to cut the boats clear, but while thus engaged the vessel plunged down, bow first, carrying every man aboard with her. The men who could swim struggled to the surface and clung to the floating pieces of wreckage. Fourteen members of the crew were taken off the wreckage by the life saving crew that put out from the island. Five of the men picked up died before reaching the island.

The survivors say that they did not know that they were in danger until the vessel struck. The fog was so thick that the shore could not be seen. Hearing the fog horn at the lighthouse they mistook it for the whistle of another steamer.

The disaster occurred nineteen miles north of Cape North. There is a lighthouse on the northeast point of St. Paul's island and also one on the southwest point, and a steam fog whistle is situated near the southwest light. It was this whistle that the crew of the Turret Bay heard.

The Turret Bay was owned by William Peterson, limited, of Newcastle-on-Tyne and under time charter to the Dominion Coal company, carrying coal from Sydney to Montreal. Captain Hayden, her commander, was a native of Waterford, Ireland.

Governor Peabody Commended.

PITTSBURG, May 21. — Governor Peabody of Colorado, replying to a telegram from the National Association of Manufacturers, in session here this week, commending him for his stand during the recent labor troubles in his state, says: "The labor strikes in Colorado are ended save a slight rebellion led by professional agitators. Law and order has been re-established, and obedience to our constitution and its laws must and shall be maintained. The principle of guaranteeing to every citizen of Colorado the right to labor in a lawful manner without fear of intimidation or violence will hereafter be maintained by the people of the state."

Methodist Protestant Conference.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Church union between the Methodist Protestant, the Congregational and the United Brethren churches was the subject of greatest importance considered by the nineteenth quadrennial conference of the Methodist Protestant conference which has opened here. The address of the retiring president of the conference, Rev. D. S. Stephens of Kansas City, Kan., in which this union was advocated to the extent of co-operation in work, and the election of Rev. Dr. F. T. Tagg of Baltimore to the presidency were the features of the day.

Threw His Money In the River.

GREEN BAY, Wis., May 21.—Between $3,000 and $4,000 in cash was thrown into the Fox river by Joseph Doehm previous to his suicide at his home here by hanging. A note written by Doehm and found near where he hanged himself states that the deceased had determined that his relatives as well as those of his wife, who, he claimed, were trying to get his money, should not succeed in their attempt and that he had therefore thrown his money into the river.

An "After Easter Bonnet" Man.

CHICAGO, May 21.—D. F. Randolph, who is wanted in Indian Territory on a charge of embezzlement, was ordered sent before the federal court of the territory by United States Commissioner Foote. Besides being charged with embezzling money from a national bank Randolph is alleged to have swindled women through an "after Easter bonnet sale."

Cuban Republic's Natal Day.

TAUGHT BOYS TO SMOKE.

Schoolmasters in England Gave Instructions in Use of Pipe and Tobacco 100 Years Ago.

At first sight the recent agitation for legislation to prevent the sale of tobacco to boys seems to show a state of affairs previously unknown. That such is not the case, however, is shown by a story of the closing years of the seventeenth century as related by De Rochefort, the French traveler, says the New York Herald.

During his visit to Worcester, England, he records, he was asked by his guide if it was the custom in France, as in England, that when children went to school they carried in their satchel with their books their pipes and tobacco, and that, at a stated hour, the master smoked with them, "teaching them how to hold their pipes and draw in the tobacco." There is ample corroboration that this is no mere idle tale.

What may be called the golden age of smoking was reached in the reign of Queen Anne. For over a century the use of tobacco had gradually but steadily increased in popularity amongst the people of England. From the end of Queen Anne's reign until the last 30 years or so the practice of snuffing the herb usurped the place of the pipe among the cultured, though smoking never lost its hold upon the working classes.

AMERICAN RAILROAD SPEED.

Average Largely in Excess of All European Roads — Statement Proved by Expert's Figures.

George P. Punil, a railway expert, has prepared statistics showing that the speed in actual running of American railroad trains is higher than that of the trains of European roads. The average speed of 55 trains between Jersey City and Philadelphia is 43.52 miles an hour; 30 trains between New York and Buffalo, 39.46; three trains between Buffalo and St. Louis, 38.78; 21 trains from New York to Boston, 39.06; ten trains from Philadelphia to Pittsburg, 37.12. The average speed of trains from Leipsic to Hamburg is 39.46; from Bremen to Nuremburg, 38.61; from Munich to Frankfort, 34.41.

The speed of fast expresses is highest over the Reading and Pennsylvania from Atlantic City to Camden, 67.66 and 66.92 respectively. The Mediterranean express from Paris has a speed of 59.72; the Empire state express, 54.40; the Hamburg express, the Edinborough express, the Plymouth express and the Twentieth Century limited come in order. The fastest express to St. Petersburg, from Ostend, has an average speed of 35.30; the express from Paris to Madrid runs 33.70; the California limited, of the Atchison, 32.79, and the Overland limited, of the Northwestern and Union Pacific, 32.32.

FORT SCHLOSSER.

Old Stone Chimney Stands as a Reminder That English Once Held City of Detroit.

As we enter the suburbs of Niagara Falls, writes Eben P. Dorr, in Four-Track News, on the left, now nestling amongst huge brick factories, is the picturesque stone chimney known as "Fort Schlosser." This old stack, which has been spared in the march of improvements, has weathered many seasons since its capacious flue drew the sparks from Joncaire's hearth in the days of the French occupation. Standing at the head of the old portage around the falls, the Joncaire house was a landmark of importance in the early settlement of the frontier. Several buildings have been located here. The chimney, of substantial limestone masonry, remains a mute witness of the onward sweep of civilization, and the vast changes of two centuries in the environment of the cataract. The English, in 1760, erected a stockade here, and named it "Fort Schlosser," in honor of the officer in command.

Cost of Adulterated Foods.

The people of the United States spend $10,000,000 a year in adulterated foods, which are classed as having "poisonous and otherwise noxious ingredients," by the government analyst.

PUPILS' CHARMING MUSICAL

G. MORGAN STRICKLETT ASSISTS AT MISS PALMER'S RECITAL.

The efforts of the pupils of Miss S. A. Palmer at the last piano recital given yesterday afternoon at the Randolph-Cooley Collegiate School, won meritorious applause from the large number of friends and parents of the young performers who were present. They displayed unusual intelligence in the rendition of the difficult numbers and the progress made was clearly evidenced by the careful and painstaking work of Miss Palmer.

In addition to the numbers on the programme, there was a pleasant surprise in the appearance of G. Morgan Stricklett, formerly of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church quartette, and a member of the Lotus Glee Club. Mr. Stricklett sang "Calm as the Night," by Bohm; "The Violet," "In Nicotina," and "The Four Leaf Clover." He sang in his usual good voice and was warmly received.

Another feature was the recitation by Miss Louise Fox, given in connection with the Song without Words, by Miss Grace Burke. The musical number was associated with the poem and a picture of "The Huguenot," by Millais. This, as well as every number of the programme, received hearty applause and Miss Palmer was highly complimented upon the showing of her pupils.

This was the programme:

Divertimenti, Scharwenka; Highland Laddie, Morey, Miss Frances Foster; Goblins' Revelry, Eilenberg, Miss Marjorie Brown; Little Hunting Song, Brown, Miss Carolyn Ross; Vasantasena, Klein; Spanish Dance, Northrup, Miss Ana Wilson; Elfin Dance, Jensen; Gigue, Godard, Miss Edith Foster; Scherzo, Schubert; Norwegian Spring Dance, Lazarus, Miss Ellen D. ## TABLEAUX AT A SOCIAL

EPWORTH LEAGUE OF FIRST M. E. CHURCH HOLDS PLEASANT AFFAIR.

Tableaux, guessing pictures and instrumental music were included in the programme of the social held in Vincent chapel, last night, under the auspices of the First M. E. church Epworth League. It was the last social for the season and nearly one hundred members and friends were present. A feature of the affair were the tableaux given to represent James Whitcomb Reilly's charming poem, "That Old Sweetheart of Mine." Harry Gee read the poem and the various scenes were enacted by the young people of the church.

Another amusing features was the display of photograps of many of the prominent members of the church, taken in their youth. They were all numbered and the scheme was to guess the names of each. In addition there were several pleasing selections by the Misses Shupp and Kenneth Shupp, violin, piano and bass. Following this programme there was a social time and refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gee and Mrs. S. H. Tugwell were in charge of the affair.

To be a Quiet Nuptial Event.

Owing to Mr. Snediker's illness the marriage of his daughter, Anna Louise, to Edward B. Harder, also of Poughkeepsie, on Wednesday, June 8, will be a quiet affair.

WINNING IS GETTING TO BE AN ALIS HABIT

Everett College Team Defeated for the First Time This Season.

ALMOST A SHUT OUT

FINE BATTERY WORK OF DAVIS AND FARMER.

Davis and Roberts Lead in the Batting—The College Boys Make Only Six Hits—The Summary.

Following a series of ten straight victories, the Everett College team met its first defeat on Crescent Oval, Saturday, Captain Lauder's colts winning out by a score of 8 to 2. In the ordinary course of events the visitors should have been shut out, but in the ninth inning Hollywood, in left field, made a couple of inexcusable errors and these together with a foul fly which got away from Farmer and Lauder, and an error by Davis gave the opposing team the two runs. Up to that time they drew blanks in every inning. They worked mighty hard to tally, but the sharp fielding of Alis and the steady work of Davis and Farmer, held them down.

In the first two innings Alis retired with goose-eggs, but in the third and fourth innings they scored a run. In the third, Farmer got a pass to first, Griffin secured the initial bag on fielders' choice and Davis, who had his peepers on the ball, swatted the sphere for two bags, bringing Griffin home In the next inning, McGeoy and Mehler each got a single and the centre fielder scored.

The fifth was a lucky inning for Alis for they netted three runs, Roberts, Griffin and Davis, each scoring. Roberts slashed the leather for two bags and Davis repeated the dose, while Farmer again secured a free pass, although he was caught trying to steal second. In the remaining three innings that Alis went to the bat, they added three runs to the score, making the total eight.

Davis fanned eleven of the opposing batsmen and he only allowed six safeties throughout the game. Clinton pitched well. He was touched for eight safeties and had a credit of three strike outs.

Alis played fast snappy ball, the coaching of Lauder and Mehler being a feature, and they held the interest of the big crowd until the end of the contest. Lauder was troubled somewhat by his sprained ankle and in the eighth inning he retired in favor of Devens, who has been on the bench. Although Devens had little to do he handled himself well and gives promise of being a fixture on the team for a fielding position. The fielding work of McGeoy was, as usual, a feature. Nothing gets away from him and he caught two difficult flies in clever fashion. Another feature was the base running of "Kid" Roberts. Farmer was invincible, as usual, and he held "Lefty" to perfection, not making a single misplay.

This is the detail score of the game:

The event at the Westfield Golf Club on Saturday was a kickers' handicap. M. Whitlatch was the winner with a net score of 77. The numbers selected were 74 and 83 and Mr. Whitlatch picked his score from a bunch of numbers thrown in a hat. The best gross score for the day, 90, was posted by R. I. Townley.

These scores were posted in the competition:

PIANO MAKERS GRIND OUT TUNE OF VICTORY

Denman's Colts Are Swallowed Up, and the Aeolian Bunch Are the Guilty Ones.

WALLER AN EASY ONE

A RESULT OF THE GAME READS "SIX TO THREE."

Westfield's Infield Poor—Doesher, Alias Wallace, Hands Out the Real Article to the Batsmen—The Details.

With Doesher, of the Brooklyn Nationals, behind the machine gun, and a big hole that yawned invitingly for the sacrificial victims, the Aeolians descended on Westfield Saturday afternoon. And the Colts dropped into the hole with a dull thud that jarred C. Denman's smile clean off into the refrigerator. He doesn't know yet whether they were pushed in or fell in, but they haven't come out yet, and don't quite know when they will. 10 to 3. That was it. And the making thereof was full of dull anguish and self-cussing for the Westfield pets.

Doesher—he called himself Wallace, but a National League pitcher under any other name is just as super-splendiferous—was trouble enough for Westfield, but there was a nice mess of home-made errors and foolishness to increase the list of dead and wounded.

Everywhere and in everything, pretty nearly, Westfield was punk—just punk. Waller pitched like a man with a bad case of stage fright. There were times when he seemed to be in form and there were other more numerous transpirations when he was so far from form that he couldn't have feased a ten-year-old with a nickel bat. The Westfield infield was so bad that the Aeolians looked cruel and unfeeling when they loped around the bases. Jacklitch, Tommy Barry, Leonard and even the much-hailed Burk did monkey tricks that made the game one grand sweet stick of molasses candy for the enemy. Jacklitch, who vaunts himself as a brother to big leaguers—Brooklyn Nationals are supposed to be responsible for him—played like a gingerbread elephant, and Burk got in his own way so much that he gave Aeolians more chances than they needed and a severe pain in the midriff to the Westfield fanatics.

Just one redeeming thing the Westfields produced. In the sixth inning they tied the score, 3-3. Then they got mad at themselves for being good and allowed Aeolian to yank three more runs in the seventh. And then they quit scoring and settled down to help the self-playing piano grind out a paean of victory.

Line-up:

Westfield—Burk, c; Waller, p; Jacklitch, 1b; Hickman, 2b; Leonard, ss; Barry, 3b; Goldberg, lf; Mallen, cf; Connolly, rf.

Aeolians—W. Poole, c; Wallace, p; A. Poole, 1b; Flynn, 2b; Supple, ss; Gray, 2b; Neaby, lf; Goldstein, cf; Alberts, rf.

Brandt purchased the stuff at Sheelen Bros.' store in Fanwood. He took it into a back room and emptied the packet in his mouth.

Dr. Westcott was summoned and he administered antidotes and saved the would-be suicide's life. Brandt would give no reason for his act.

UNITARIAN MINISTER ON FALSE STANDARDS

Too Much Quantity and Not Enough Quality Today Says Rev. Hobart Clark.

CHARACTER BUILDING

SAYS WORKMAN HAS BECOME SEMI-MECHANICAL SLAVE.

Refers to Attitude of Those who Jeered President Elliott's Utterance—The True Destiny of the Workingman.

"Every man said he, who really lives, is building a character," said Rev. Hobart Clark, of West New Brighton, in a short but impressive sermon yesterday morning in All Souls' Unitarian church. "The product of our work," said he, "depends not alone upon the material at hand but also upon the use we make of it. Some people mistake the value of things through counting too heavily on quantity and failing to give due weight to the quality exhibited. This tendancy to adopt false standards has resulted, perhaps from the artificial conditions under which the product of our labor is brought forth.

"Some such reason is indicated," he said, "when an audience composed of workingmen jeer at a speaker like President Elliott, because he stated that work well done is the source of a truer satisfaction than is the wage return from the work.

"This spirit among the men who make their living by working with their hands is a great change from the spirit of the old craftsmen whose main object was to make every article the best of its kind and whose pride in their work proves Dr. Elliott's saying which the artisan of the twentieth century ridicules.

"No one class can be held accountable for the change in conditions, which is the result of a universal demand for quantity without due regard for quality.

"The workman has gained, in some respects, a measure of freedom; but he has become, at the same time, the semi-mechanical slave of the machine which does his work. This state of things has lessened the inducements to think independently; man's mental activity always coresponding to the range of his work. Many forget," said Rev. Mr. Clark, "that they have any other destiny in the world, than to draw the wage to which their work entitles them.

"A soul thoroughly wrapped in questions of profit and loss stand very slight chance of being affected by purely religious considerations."

Bishop's Annual Visit.

Rt. Rev. Dr. John Scarborough, head of the New Jersey diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church, was in this city yesterday to confirm classes at Grace and Holy Cross churches. He also visited St. Stephen's and the Church of the Heavenly Rest.

Miss Martin Acts as Organist.

Miss Hazel Martin presided at the organ in Trinity Reformed church, yesterday morning and evening, in the absence of Arthur L. Titsworth, who is ill. Her work was very satisfactory.

Unknown Man Killed.

The remains of an unknown man, who was horribly mangled at the Lehigh station at Picton this morning, are at Cole's morgue awaiting identification.

Saengerbund's May Walk.

The Gesang and Turn Verein held its annual May walk yesterday. Very nearly the entire membership, accompanied by wives and families, took part.

Musicale at Fanwood.

For the benefit of the repair fund of All Saints' church, Scotch Plains, a musicale was held in the Fanwood Clubhouse, Saturday night.

Killed While at Work.

The body of James Haines, colored, who was killed while operating an electric crane at Garwood on Saturday, is at Cole's morgue.

Miss May Serrell's Party.

Miss May Serrell, of Plainfield avenue, entertained twenty of her young women friends at a shirt waist party Saturday afternoon.

—Press Want Ads Pay.

—Quality counts in vegetables as in nothing else. They must be very good to be good at all. Neuman Bros. have all the vegetables in the market in the very finest quality. Their fruit display is just as fine.

LONG STANDING FEUD ENDS IN A FATALITY

Husband Kills Man Who Makes Reflections on His Wife's Character.

AN ITALIAN AFFRAY

MARTIN HAS POOR AIM AND VANUSCH FIRES THREE TIMES.

Vanusch Flees During the Excitement and is Still at Large—Were Playing Cards at the Time.

In a shooting affray in the Italian colony on Hunter avenue, Scotch Plains, Saturday night Tony Martin, junk dealer and boarding house keeper, was fatally wounded by Charles Vanusch, another Italian, twenty-one years old. Martin died in Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday morning. He was regarded as the leader of the colony.

Bad blood had existed between the men for over a year. Their wives were engaged in a neighborhood feud and dragged the men into it until both of them were ready for anything in way of trouble.

Just how the clash occurred Saturday night, it is hard to learn. All the witnesses were Italians, and, as usual, after an affair of the kind, none of them will admit that he saw or heard anything. According to one of the colonists, however, who, while he will not admit having been present, acknowledged to a Daily Press reporter that he knew the details of the affray, Martin and Vanusch met at a card game in one of the former's boarding houses shortly after 12 o'clock. They started to wrangle almost immediately. Martin made a disparaging remark about Vanusch's wife and the talk took on an ugly turn. Martin lost his temper and drew a revolver.

"I am going to kill you!" he said.

Vanusch did not seem to believe there was any danger. "Oh, you wouldn't kill me," he said calmly.

"Yes I will, and tonight, too!" exclaimed Martin, and opened fire.

The bullet grazed the young man's head. Before the Italian leader could fire again Vanusch pulled his own gun and shot back. In the fusilade that followed Martin was shot three times. One bullet entered his stomach and another penetrated his chest just below the heart. Either wound would have served to kill him.

During the excitement Vanusch escaped. Martin was carried to Muhlenberg Hospital, after Dr. F. W. Westcott had examined him. He died at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

The county police are searching for Vanusch. They are inclined to believe the self-defense story, and expect that Vanusch will return to give himself up when his fright of the law cools. One of Vanusch's friends said yesterday that he would return at once but for fear of death at the hands of one of Martin's associates.

POLICE FORCE DRILL WINS MANY PLAUDITS

Mayor O. L. Jenkins and Commissioner F. De W. Randolph Inspect the Department.

CITY OFFICIALS THERE

PRESIDENT OF COMMON COUNCIL TOLLES PRAISES THE COPS.

Speeches Are Also Made by the Mayor, City Judge, Councilmen and Former Assemblyman—At Co. K's Armory.

Snap and precision altogether military, marked the annual drill and inspection of the Plainfield police force Saturday afternoon at Co. K's armory. Sixteen men turned out, spotless and trim as West Pointers and their execution of the evolutions spoke volumes for the material composing the force and for Chief Kiely's ability to make the most of that material.

With Mayor O. L. Jenkins, President R. I. Tolles, of the Common Council, and members of the Council seated about the sides of the armory, the men were put through what William Newcorn spoke of later as "a course of sprouts" to show their ability in drill.

Drawn up in a single rank the squad was put through the manual with the baton and inspected by Mayor Jenkins and Police Commissioner Frank DeW. Randolph. The Mayor made a congratulatory speech to the men in which he spoke of their appearance and drill in high praise.

Police Commissioner Randolph followed with a short speech in the same vein, adding a passing reference to the proposed change in hours of duty and expressing himself of the three platoon system.

Mr. Randolph then introduced in turn Councilman O. L. Murphy, City Judge William N. Runyon, who spoke of the uniform fairness and absence of bitterness shown by the officers in making their charges. Ralph I. Tolles, president of the Common Council, who mentioned the unfailing viligance of the patrolmen on post, and Lawyer William Newcorn who spoke of the appearance of the local "finest" as supreior to that of the men in many larger cities.

Chief Kiely was highly complimented on the showing made by his men.

Sold Sweet Morsels.

The cake sale of the Young Women's Mission Band, of Trinity church, held in the church parlor Saturday afternoon, was a complete success. A net sum will go into the Band's treasury. ## AMUSEMENTS.

The engagement of Charles Hawtrey for appearance on the Proctor Circuit marks one of the most important vaudeville accomplishments of the season. Mr. Hawtrey has been appearing for the past season in "The Man from Blankley's," with extraordinary success, almost duplicating his tremendous popularity in "A Message from Mars," the previous season. It was his intention to return to London to revive the latter play under his own management, but having an odd week before the steamer sailed, he was induced by Mr. Proctor to make appearances at the Twenty-third and Fifth Avenue Theatres, appearing at each house twice daily, this being necessary owing to the fact that he had but a single week vacant. During the season now coming to a close Proctor patrons have been permitted to witness every important vaudeville novelty, developed in this country or brought from Europe, and in many instances, as in the case of Mr. Hawtrey, the Proctor audiences alone have been enabled to witness important performances. The Hawtrey incident is but a single example of Proctor enterprise, which is always exerted toward the presentation in his theatres of the very best attractions.

At the Majestic Theatre, "The Man From China," has won popular favor and it is now nightly packing the house. Some of the alterations in the cast and action of the piece have made it more compact without in any way spoiling the fun producing effects. Miss Marie Tyler has been given the finale song in the last act and the management has discovered that she possessed a beautiful voice. Miss Tyler has had a small part as one of the "Matrons," and only recently it was made known to Melville B. Raymond, the owner of the production, that she had singing parts in London. Being a man who fosters talent he decided to let her have a trial in the final song. She was an immediate hit. Many remarked on the wonderful power of her voice. It could be hard above the full chorus of men and women and the glare of the orchestra just before the final curtain.

The return of the Bostonians, the most popular musical organization in America, is announced for this evening. This is welcome news, for whatever is done by these artists is the best of its kind. They have never fallen below the mark of good conscience in all their career of twenty-five years. Their productions have been numerous and they have sent a fortune in the presentation of new works; but nothing they have accomplished has exceeded in value and popularity the "Robin Hood" of Harry B. Smith and Reginald DeKoven, which has been in their repertory for many seasons, and always with more and more favor. The recent revival of this opera evokes much interested comment. For example, one widely known authority tells us that the Bostonians now, as of old, give the best performance, musically, of any light opera organization in America, and then clinches this conviction with the testimony that it is doubtful, indeed, whether any lyrical company in this or any other country could so fully develope the beauties of the score of "Robin Hood."

The Day of Outings.

The one pleasure which the American public thoroughly enjoys is its outings. Low priced and at popular places and where there may be unrestrained enjoyment in out-of-door sports. Around New York there are many popular resorts but perhaps the most popular for holiday excursions is Mauch Cuhnk in the mountains of Pennsylvania. The journey is delightful and passes through an interesting country, through the farm lands of New Jersey and then into that busy section of the Keystone State which bristles with industries which are renowned the world over. Mauch Chunk is high in the mountains and the exhilarating atmosphere is a tonic for the hived-up city man. The chief feature of the trip to Mauch Chunk is to make the journey over the Switchback railroad which is a gravity road some eighteen miles in length. The tourist is carried at a rapid rate to the inclines of Mt. Pisgah and Jefferson over which the cars are lifted by mammoth mechanical devices only to continue the romantic journey to the end, ever fascinating and thrilling. On Decoration Day the New Jersey Central will run one of its popular priced excursions to Mauch Chunk, the rate for the round trip to be $1.50, and special train will leave Plainfield at 9:20 a. m., returning train will leave Mauch Cuhnk at 5:30 p. m This is a trip worth taking and to miss it will be doing yourself an injustice. 5 23 6 o

LITERARY.

Mr. Folk's platform is as simple as his speeches. "Thou shalt not steal—even if thou art a Democrat, thou shalt not steal." He reiterates it everywhere as he stands on the platform, short, thick-set and wearing on his face that look of quiet, almost placid determination which is photographed on the soul of every boodler in Missouri. The farmers trust him. Folk himself told me once that he believed every Democrat in Missouri with a beard more than two inches long was with him. Is is true.—From Fighting the Good Fight in Missouri, in Leslie's Monthly for June.

STOESSEL'S FIGHT.

Besiegers at Port Arthur Driven Back With Loss.

A THOUSAND JAPS HORS DE COMBAT

Russian Battleship Orel Had Narrow Escape—Bogatyr Wrecked at Vladivostok—Relief Train Reaches Port Arthur.

LONDON, May 23.—A thousand Japanese soldiers were killed or wounded in a sortie made by General Stoessel's forces at Port Arthur, according to advices received by the officials at St. Petersburg.

The battleship Orel, it was reported from the Russian capital, was badly damaged on her way to Cronstadt and narrowly escaped sinking. The story of the Bogatyr's wreck finds credence in St. Petersburg despite official denials, and it was reported from Kobe that she had been destroyed.

Skirmishes took place north of Takushan, a Russian troop of cavalry sustaining heavy loss south of Fengwangcheng and north of Wonsan. The movements of General Kuroki's army remain a puzzle to the Russians.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says General Stoessel has made a successful sortie from Port Arthur, resulting in the defeat of the Japanese, with the loss of over a thousand killed or wounded. The news has been received by the government. Details of the attack are conflicting, and the following account must be accepted with reserve:

"The movement was carried out in combination with a train bringing in war munitions and supplies and General Stoessel's force, communications being maintained by wireless telegraphy. The Japanese barred the route between the train and General Stoessel's force, whereupon the Russians attacked and routed the Japanese. After the engagement General Stoessel's force, with the train, returned to Port Arthur."

General Stoessel, it is said, made a new distribution of his guns beforehand in order to cover the force taking part in the sortie. The Russian troops fought with the greatest bravery, breaking the Japanese line and driving back the troops for a considerable distance.

In spite of the continued denials from the Russian admiralty reports from Russian sources persistently repeat that the Russian protected cruiser Bogatyr is on the rocks near Vladivostok. Her exact position is not reported, but Rear Admiral Jessen is making determined efforts to save her, with good chances of success.

A Vladivostok report says Vice Admiral Skrydloff arrived there at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was met at the Okeanski station, thirteen miles outside Vladivostok, by Major General Voronetz and deputations of the military, naval and municipal authorities and was presented with bread and salt. Entering the town, the admiral drove to the pier, escorted by Cossacks, and boarded the cruiser Rossia, on which a short service was held. The chaplain sprinkled and blessed the admiral's flag before it was run up to the masthead, where it was greeted with a salute from all the cruisers in the harbor. The admiral addressed the officers and crew of the Rossia, saying:

"The emperor orders me to convey his greeting and loyal thanks for your gallant services, in consideration of which he reduces your tour of sea duty to three years."

A St. Petersburg report says that Viceroy Alexeieff tendered his resignation to the emperor, giving ill health as the reason for his desire to be relieved, but that the emperor persuaded him in a gracious telegram to remain at his post.

A Tokyo report says the opposition encountered by the Japanese force which landed at Takushan, about fifty miles west of the mouth of the Yalu, on May 20 consisted of a squadron of the independent transbaikal Cossacks. They vigorously resisted the Japanese advance at the bridge and only retreated after one officer and nine men were killed and a number of men were wounded. One Russian officer and four men were captured. The Japanese lost one man killed. The Russians retired in the direction of Hsiuyen and Shalichai.

During a reconnoissance of Port Arthur made by Admiral Togo a shell hit the torpedo boat destroyer Akatsuki, killing one officer and twenty-four men.

St. Petersburg reports say General Kuropatkin has sent the following telegram to Emperor Nicholas:

"From reports received I have concluded that the first Japanese army is concentrated as follows: Two divisions at Fengwangcheng and its environs and one divisions at Habalin, halfway between Siuyen and Fengwangcheng. It is stated that Fengwangcheng is being fortified."

A Mukden report says news of the Japanese naval disaster has been received there. It is considered that this accounts for the mystery of the Japanese halt, and it is believed it completely changes the military situation, rendering the Russian position much more favorable.

Russians May Lose Battleship.

CRONSTADT, May 23.—The position of the battleship Orel, which is stranded in shallow water in Cronstadt harbor, is critical. She is deeply down by the stern, and water is pouring into her through a bilge pipe which for some unexplained reason was left open.

RECALL OF NISARD

French Ambassador at Vatican Has Left Rome.

REPORTED POPE'S CRITICISM TO PARIS

President Loubet's Visit to the Eternal City Brought Issue to a Crisis, and a Protest Was Sent From the Holy See.

PARIS, May 23.—The recall of M. Nisard, French ambassador to the Vatican, continues to be the absorbing topic. The ambassador arrived here this morning and has conferred with Foreign Minister Delcasse and gone over the details of the rupture between France and the Vatican preliminary to the meeting of the council of ministers tomorrow, when a further line of action will be determined upon.

Contrary to general expectation, Mgr. Lorenzelli, the papal nuncio at Paris, will not leave his post. The nunciature has given out the following statement:

"Up to the present the nuncio has received no orders to take his leave, although the state of his health might make it desirable. As Rome has no taste for replying to provocations, but is solely conscious of her rights and duties, Mgr. Lorenzelli does not regard the eventuality of his leave as proximate."

The tone of the socialist papers indicates that that powerful element has urged the government to take more extreme measures. Deputy Geralt Richard says that the matter must proceed until the concordat has been ended. M. Clemenceau ridicules the granting of leave to Ambassador Nisard as being wholly inadequate and says that it is a recall which does not recall and a rupture which does not rupture.

The socialist paper Lanterne complains that the government has not fulfilled the promises made to the parliamentary leaders that a complete rupture would take place and declares that the leaving of a charge d'affaires to carry on routine business with the Vatican will not be satisfactory. There is nothing to do, it adds, but to effect a complete withdrawal of the embassy and the embassy staff until not a concierge or cook remains.

Little is heard directly of the sentiments of the clergy, who are practically muzzled by their official positions under the concordat.

Vatican official circles lay great stress upon the fact that the pope alone directs the policy of the holy see. When Cardinals Vannutelli, Gotti, Agriardi and Vivec y Tuto saw the pope his holiness foreshadowed the first stage of the conflict—namely, the recall of Ambassador Nisard, but he declared so energetically that he was responsible to God alone for his actions and was acting thus for the greatest good of the church that the cardinals did not dare to remonstrate.

Events appear to have been gradually tending toward a rupture between France and the Vatican since Pius X. was elected pope. The first evidence of friction was the withdrawal from Paris of Papal Nuncio Lorenzelli during King Victor Emmanuel's visit to the French capital. Later the pope in an allocution to the cardinals severely censured the French government's treatment of the religious orders. M. Nisard promptly reported the pope's criticisms and received instructions to submit a protest. President Loubet's visit to Rome brought the issue to a crisis, the pope sending a protest to France and all other countries sustaining official relations with the Vatican. It is the latter protest to the powers which was the immediate cause of the French ambassador's recall.

The ministry of the interior has authorized a denial of the statement that M. de Navenne, first secretary of the French embassy to the Vatican, will act as charge d'affaires at the embassy, stating that the government considers that his selection would attenuate the importance of the action taken in the recall of Ambassador Nisard.

Chicken Quarrel Causes Murder.

TIFFIN, O., May 23.—Daniel Crum, a wealthy farmer, and his hired man, Albert Rice, were shot and fatally wounded by Adam Reinman, a neighbor. Reinman was convicted of stealing chickens from Crum a year ago, Crum and Rice testifying against him. Reinman frequently swore vengeance against them, and while Reinman was passing by Rice, it is said, called him a vile name, which so angered him that he shot him in the temple with a rifle and then shot Crum. Reinman was arrested.

Senator Quay Not So Well.

BEAVER, Pa., May 23.—Senator M. S. Quay has left his brother's home at Morganza and is now located at his own home at this place. He was driven from the station to his home in a closed carriage, from which he was carried into the house. The senator spent a restless night and was not so well in the morning.

Hose Dyestuff Caused Death.

CATSKILL, N. Y., May 23.—George L. Albanesius of Jersey City heights, paymaster at the Alsens Portland Cement works, is dead here from blood poisoning caused by the dyestuff from colored hose getting into an abrasion which a new loose fitting Oxford shoe had produced on his heel.

Philippine Monks Expelled.

CARACAS, Venezuela, May 23.—The government has expelled from Maracaibo twelve Spanish monks who came from the Philippines. The action of the government is based on the ground that the policy of the monks is incompatible with the tendencies of modern society.

Auction Sale.

The great firm of Sweetzer Pembroke & Co., for many years among the leaders in the wholesale dry goods world, sold its entire stock at auction today—Monday.—to permanently discontinue business. Our strong position as members of a dry goods syndicate covering Plainfield, Wilmington, Morristown, Elmira, enabled us to buy in quantities too large for the individual store and hence secure merchandise at most liberal price concessions. Great shipments will be received from this auction and put on sale this week Thursday, 10 o'clock at startling cut prices at Hill & Shupp's. Details in later papers.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Utter have moved from No. 12 West End avenue to Lyman place, where they have purchased a property.

MUSKRATS UNDER SNOW.

Had to Make Tunnels to Seek for Food During the Last Snowy Winter.

After a slight snowfall, the wild creatures going about their daily work leave a very legible record behind them. Not only may their footprints be plainly seen upon the surface, but each footprint will be about the same size as the foot which made it; and, moreover, the details of the toes and toenails will all be present for examination. When the snow is deeper the individual footprints may still be there, but the fine details will be lost, and, as it becomes still deeper, even the separate footprints will be lost beneath the snow, which falls into and partly obliterates the tracks. Eventually there is a point at which some of the animals no longer attempt to travel on the snow; they find it easier or more to the purpose to travel on the ground beneath it.

After one of the recent heavy snowstorms, relates a writer in the Boston Herald, I was walking by the side of a stream where muskrats are abundant, and where their tracks are usually to be found, either in the mud or the snow, the whole year round. There was not a sign of their having left the water, and, indeed, the stream and the meadows on either side of it presented one unbroken field of snow.

However, I knew that if they were alive they must be getting food somewhere, as they do not store supplies as the beavers do; so I walked along to investigate. Without warning I sank to the hips in a hole which proved to be the mouth of a muskrat burrow.

I cleared away some of the snow, and it became evident that the burrow was in daily use, and that it connected with a tunnel which ran out under the snow. Procuring a snow shovel from a farm near by, I removed the upper surface of the snow from a considerable section of the field, and uncovered a subway system which, for complexity, outdid the underground railways in any of our large cities.

The tunnels ran far out into the field, sometimes in long, irregular single loops and sometimes crossing and recrossing other tunnels, until it was no easy matter to trace them. But all the tunnels led to the hole into which I had accidentally stepped, and this was very suggestive of a great railroad terminus.

The whole represented no insignificant engineering feat on the part of the rats, which had evidently been hunting for grains of corn, for it was a cornfield they had been working in, and gnawed husks here and there showed that they had probably had at least some success.

Later in the afternoon I came to another cornfield, where, for some reason, the shocks had been left since the fall. Many of them were still standing, but some had been blown over by a wind, which had also swept away much of the snow, leaving in many places not more than an inch.

The surface of this, particularly between the shocks, was marked by narrow ridges, which indicated, as plainly as a map could have done, the routes taken by some small animals in their journeys from one shock to another.

By carefully scraping away the surface snow, I found that the ridges were the roofs of tunnels made by meadow mice, and I presently verified the observation by suddenly opening one of the shocks, to see several dark brown, short-tailed thieves scurrying away among the cornstalks. Under most of the shocks were little round holes in the ground, evidently the entrances to the subterranean homes of the mice.

IT REALLY SURPRISED HER.

She Had Given Him Chances to Propose That He Didn't Take—Then He Popped.

When he proposed marriage, she asked for time to think it over, relates the Chicago Evening Post.

"This is so unexpected," she said.

He gave her the necessary time, and she finally decided that he fulfilled all the requirements of the situation. Then having disposed of the customary joyful preliminaries in the course of several consecutive sessions, they reached a point where they could discuss matters calmly.

"Of course," he said jokingly, "it wasn't really unexpected at all."

"Oh, yes, it was," she replied.

"Absurd!" he exclaimed. "A girl always says that, but we all know she doesn't mean it. It's one of the little fictions of love. No man is clever enough to conceal from the girl he loves the fact that he wants to propose and intends to do it the first favorable opportunity. She knows what's coming, because she is just naturally an expert in such matters."

"I thought I was, but you fooled me," she insisted.

"Did I really?" he asked, gratified.

"You really did."

"And it was a complete surprise?"

"It was."

"I don't understand it," he commented.

"Well," she explained, ingenuously, "you had overlooked so many splendid chances that I gave you for a proposal that I had begun to think nothing ever would give you nerve enough to speak out, so it really was unexpected."

"Oh!" he said, and that was all. There didn't seem to be anything else to say.

Findlay Novelty Company's Plant Goes Sky High.

MANY BODIES BLOWN TO PIECES

No Cause Assigned—One Girl Employee's Body Found Two Hundred Yards Away—Factory a Complete Wreck.

FINDLAY, O., May 23.—As a result of an explosion in the two drying rooms of the Lake Shore Novelty company's plant here Sunday morning seven persons are known to be dead, five are so seriously hurt that recovery is believed to be impossible, and twelve or fifteen are injured badly. From reports of the physicians ten of the less seriously injured may die as a result of blood poisoning from the potash that was driven into their bodies.

Five were killed instantly, and two died later at home.

The injured who it is believed cannot recover number five.

The less seriously injured number about fifteen.

Two employees are missing and are supposed to have been blown to atoms.

The Lake Shore Novelty works plant covered nearly ten acres of ground in the southwest part of the city and employed nearly 200 men, women and children. Railroad torpedoes and Fourth of July explosives were manufactured.

Owing to the large rush of orders the officials of the plant requested the employees to report for duty yesterday. About thirty complied with the request.

Yesterday morning the residents of Findlay were startled by two explosions that shattered windows throughout the city. The concussion was felt for miles around. Two magazines in separate rooms at the works let go almost simultaneously with terrible reports. The exact cause of the explosion is not definitely known. It is surmised that one of the Sherwood brothers, who were the only persons in the drying rooms, dropped a large box of torpedoes, but this theory cannot be confirmed.

The explosion occurred shortly before the employees assembled for duty. At least twenty persons were on their way to the factory when the explosion occurred.

Human forms were strewn considerable distances apart on the factory site. The remains of the Sherwood brothers were found in drying room No. 1 mangled and almost unrecognizable. Their clothing was blown from their bodies save a stocking on the right foot of Jay Sherwood.

The body of Edith Dillon, an employee, was picked up 200 yards from where the explosion occurred.

The news of the catastrophe spread like wildfire throughout the county. Every train and interurban car that has arrived in the city for the past ten hours was crowded. The large plant is shattered into fragments, not one single wall remaining. Bricks and timber can be found for a half mile around.

Student Killed His Father.

WESTFIELD, Mass., May 23.—James E. Condron, fifty-two years old, a mason tender, was shot and killed by his fifteen-year-old son, James A. Condron, here. The elder Condron returned home intoxicated and was abusing his wife when the youth, hearing the commotion, came downstairs with a rifle and fired a shot into the room, intending to frighten his father. The charge entered the man's back, and he died in a few hours from internal hemorrhages. The boy, who is a student in the Normal Training school, bears a good reputation. He was locked up on a charge of manslaughter.

Death Through Polo Accident.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 23.—Henry D. Babcock, Jr., who was fatally injured in a polo game in Van Cortlandt park, New York, and who died in New York, was a freshman in Yale college. He was about twenty-two years of age. He had been several times injured in previous games, but never here. He played on a country club team near his father's summer residence at Rockaway Beach. A telegram to President Hadley of the university apprised his college friends of the fatal termination of the accident.

Trapped Twenty-five Autoists.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., May 23.—Twenty-five automobilists have been held up by the local police on the speedway in the Stanley quarter of the town and told to appear in the police court tomorrow to answer to the charge of speeding their machines beyond the limit allowed by law. Deputy Sheriff Cowles and another officer were stationed at points a quarter of a mile apart, and by a system of signals the time of the machines that they suspected were going beyond the limit was taken.

Two Hundred and Twenty on Trial.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., May 23.—At the South Congregational church it is announced that the church would extend a call to the Rev. O. F. Davis, D. D., of Newtonville, Mass. There has been no regular pastor since the resignation of Dr. Cooper fifteen months ago. Dr. Cooper resigned to accept the secretaryship of the American board of missions. Two hundred and twenty pastors have been examined since the resignation of Dr. Cooper.

Bullfighters For St. Louis.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 23.—The bullfighters who were engaged to give performances at the St. Louis exposition have left here for their destination.

NEWS FROM TANGIER.

Consul General Gummere Taking Active Steps to Release Captives.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—A very brief cablegram has come to the state department from Consul General Gummere, at Tangier, Morocco, which confirmed the press reports that Ion Perdicaris, the American citizen who, with his stepson, Cromwell Varley, a British subject, were kidnaped by bandits, were being well treated by the Moorish brigands by whom they were kidnaped.

The consul general hopes to be able to report the release of the captives to the state department very soon. Mr. Gummere is moving actively in the matter, his instructions being to secure the release of Perdicaris as soon as possible.

Will Grant Bandit's Demands.

TANGIER, Morocco, May 23.—The sheereef of Wazan has left here to meet Raisuli, the bandit chief, who is said to be at Beniaros. Mohammed El Torres, representative of the sultan of Morocco at Tangier, has empowered the sheereef to say that the government will grant all the demands of Raisuli if Ion Perdicaris, the American, and Cromwell Varley, the British captive, are handed over immediately. The soldiers already have been withdrawn from the district where the bandits are located.

BOSTON TROLLEY SMASH.

Head-on Collision In the Roslyndale Section—Nine Injured.

BOSTON, May 23. — Nine persons were seriously injured in a head-on collision between electric cars of the Boston Elevated railway in the Roslyndale section of this city yesterday afternoon. It is believed that none of the injuries are fatal.

The accident occurred near the junction of Washington and Ashland streets and was due, it is claimed, to some one having tampered with and left open an emergency switch which had been constructed to facilitate repairs on the road. An inward bound Walpole car ran into the open switch and crashed into an outward bound Dedham car, which was approaching on the opposite track. The Dedham car was moving slowly, but the derailed car was running at a high speed, and the two came together with sufficient force to wreck both and throw many of the 100 passengers carried from their seats.

Following the collision a fuse on one of the cars blew out, causing flames and smoke which enveloped the wrecked cars. Many women fainted, nine persons were seriously injured, and a score received slight cuts and bruises.

Shot In a Shanty.

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 23.—Steve Boltrich was killed and his cousins, Peter, George and Nicholas Boltrich, seriously hurt in a fight in a shanty at Enola, opposite this city. The story told by the brothers is that a party of negroes demanded admittance for the purpose of robbing them, and, being refused, they broke down the door and shot through the head their cousin, killing him almost instantly and cutting and shooting the others. One of the brothers was shot twice in the arm and once in the body, another has a bullet in the arm, and the third was cut about the head. The police discredit the story and believe the men quarreled among themselves.

Countess Cassini's Jewels Gone.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The Russian embassy has reported to police headquarters that a thief had gained access to the apartments of the Countess Cassini and rifled her jewel case, obtaining, among other valuable articles, a magnificent diamond and pearl brooch, valued at $1,000. It was stated that, although the loss had just been discovered, the countess believes that the robbery occurred during the progress of her Russian Red Cross bazaar, held in this city on April 26, and when her attention was devoted to the success of the undertaking for the succor of wounded Russian soldiers.

A Colored Bishop Elected.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 23.—It is stated here that the ballot taken by the Methodist general conference for missionary bishops, the result of which will be announced officially this morning, has resulted in the election of Dr. I. B. Scott, colored, of Louisiana as missionary bishop of Africa and Dr. W. F. Oldham and Dr. K. E. J. Robbins as additional missionary bishops in southern Asia. Dr. Scott's election occasioned some surprise, as it was thought that Dr. Cambor of Liberia would be the successful candidate.

May Be a Fish Famine.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 23.—Much uneasiness is felt among the fishermen of this port, who as a result of the freight handlers' strike at the docks of the Fall River line are unable to ship their fares as usual to southern points. The steamer Plymouth has sailed with only thirty barrels of fish. Before the inauguration of the strike the average consignment of fish for New York and Philadelphia by the boats of the line was between 400 and 500 barrels nightly.

Midshipman's Body Found.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 23. — The body of Midshipman P. H. Brittingham, formerly of the third class of the United States Naval academy, who was drowned last Sunday, has been found floating in the Severn river.

President Peirce's Death.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 23.—Edward T. Peirce, president of the Holyoke Card and Paper company, died suddenly of heart disease yesterday afternoon. He was born Nov. 6, 1848, in Roxbury, Mass.

FOR WARM DAYS.

Pretty Embroidered Linen Dresses. The New Laces and Insertions.

Small hats tilted over the face, with elaborate trimmings on the band behind, are among the old millinery shapes which are being revived.

Pretty linen dresses embroidered in colors are worn with wide belts to correspond. These belts are made of leather, finely stitched and boned in the back to keep them up. Ecru linen embroidered in white and white linen inlet with lace and fine embroideries are particularly smart.

A shade of orange known as cavalry is the latest. It is particularly effective when used in relieving gray, white or tan costumes.

Points and scallops appear on many gowns; even in some cases the horizontal trimmings have scalloped or pointed edges. Ruffles are arranged in scallops, and new laces and embroidery insertions have waved edges.

GOWN OF ECRU VEILING.

The all white chip hat trimmed with coq feathers cannot be replaced in the millinery collection of the smart woman unless it be superseded by the flat French sailor hat, tilted in the back and trimmed with a great bunch of white roses on the crown and a circle of green leaves.

Mohair in white and delicate colors is a favorite material for toilets of every description of dressiness.

The illustration shows a gown of ecru veiling with undersleeves of ecru and white lace and a vest of the same. The hat is of ecru straw with a pale blue feather. JUDIC CHOLLET.

COTTON DRESSES.

Dainty Embroidered Linens Used For Smart Suits—Fashionable Tints.

Clusters of red roses are the fashionable decoration for white lace and straw hats.

White linen buttons embroidered in shaded silk or thread to match the color which is introduced to trim the gown are very pretty as well as useful. They can be made at home by using the plain covered linen buttons and some wash embroidery silk.

Wedgwood buttons with raised figures on blue ground are very pretty to trim blue veiling gowns. Pearl buttons of all the popular shades, grass green, violet and ox blood are quite the thing for wash gowns.

The dip yoke is returning owing to the increased fullness in skirts, which seems to demand it. The fullness unconfined on the hips is apt to make a figure look excessively dumpy.

The simple fashion of a two flounced skirt is one to be recommended to the amateur dressmaker. The upper flounce is shirred a little around the hips, or else it can be laid in fine tucks.

CHILD'S DRESS.

Spotted linens are greatly in vogue and also a material which resembles pongee and has the advantage of washing, which pongee never does well. Every shade of blue appears in linen from pale hydrangea blue to dark blue relieved with white. Grass greens also play an important part in the season's cotton gowns.

Very effective are the large low crowned hats of plain taffeta draped with embroidered or painted mousseline, the brim being lined with tiny frills of valenciennes lace.

The illustration shows a child's dress of tucked batiste trimmed with insertion run through with blue ribbon.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

NATIONAL STALLION STAKES.

H. B. Duryea's Fast Filly Won Driving at Morris Park.

NEW YORK, May 23.—If any one thought racing was not popular in this city a glance into the inclosures at Morris park would have convinced him to the contrary. It was a great offering for sport, the best of the season, three stakes being carded.

Horsemen were profuse in their remarks concerning the work of The Picket, which did the Brooklyn course in 2 minutes 2 2-5 seconds.

The race for the National Stallion stakes resulted in a grand finish, the first four horses finishing heads apart, with H. B. Duryea's fast filly Tanya in the front. After the start the field raced along close together, with Song and Wine leading and Belle Strome and Tanya as close contenders.

This order was the same until a furlong from the finish, when Shaw sent the favorite to the front, and she held it to the end, winning in a drive by a head from Belle Strome, who was second all the way. In the last few strides Blandy and Britisher closed very strong, and the former was third by a head. Summary:

First Race—Champlain first, Palmbearer second, Judge Denton third.

Second Race—Esterre first, Fleur de Marie second, Judas third.

Third Race—Tanya first, Belle Strome second, Blandy third.

Fourth Race—Beldame first, Audience second, Marjoram third.

Fifth Race—St. Jude first, Caller second, Judge Phillips third.

Sixth Race—Hermis first, Toboggan second, Hello third.

Tennis Victory For Roberts.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Two matches in the doubles and one in the singles of the championship lawn tennis tournament of the New York Lawn Tennis club have been decided. The competition in the singles resulted in a victory for Dimon E. Roberts, who defeated Dr. Julian K. Smythe after two closely scored sets, 6—3, 8—6. The final set was the best of the match, for Dr. Smythe developed a lot of speed, and by running up to the net at every return he was able to take the lead at 3—1. Roberts, by lobbing and passing, made it 5 all, and then each won his service until Roberts broke through and took the match at 8—6.

Regatta at Annapolis.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 23.—Georgetown university's crack crew was beaten by the Naval academy eight at the regatta here, while the navy's second crew defeated the Georgetown freshmen. The race was one of the closest that ever occurred on the Severn, less than two lengths separating the four crews at the finish of the two mile course. The navy is much elated at the victory not only because Georgetown beat the midshipmen last year, but because in the varsity eight were many of the men who pulled the Georgetown colors into second place at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Chicago Defeated the Giants.

CHICAGO, May 23.—Chicago has defeated the New York Giants. All the runs were made in the fourth inning, the locals scoring three on two singles, a triple and an error and the visitors one on a fielder's choice and errors by Kling and Wicker. Brown was in magnificent form and pitched a heady game, holding his opponents to two singles. With the right kind of support he would have scored a shut out. Score, 3 to 1.

English Lad Takes Chicago Derby.

CHICAGO, May 23.—English Lad, the heavily backed favorite, won the Chicago Derby at Hawthorne by half a length in a fierce drive with Prince Silver Wings. Mohardb, winner of the Kansas City Derby, was third. The mile and a quarter was covered in 2:06. Flower King, on whom many had based their hopes, finished fourth, with Bill Curtis fifth, Gus Straus sixth, Military Man seventh and Merry Pioneer eighth.

Western Union Ordered From Races.

CHICAGO, May 23.—President Fitzgerald of the Hawthorne Racing association has notified the Western Union Telegraph company that the association has decided not to allow the telegraph company to operate any wires from the track. President Fitzgerald in his notice to the telegraph company gives no reason for the action taken.

Harvard Defeats Yale at Tennis.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 23.—Harvard has captured four of the six matches in singles and two of three matches in doubles in the annual tennis contest with Yale. The courts of the New Haven Lawn club were in poor condition, but the fine weather brought out a large gallery of spectators.

Pitchers' Game at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—St. Louis took the third successive game from Brooklyn. The feature was the pitching contest between Corbett and Cronin. In the eighth inning St. Louis secured three hits off Cronin, which, with a passed ball, gave the local team two runs. Score, 3.10 2.

Quakers Made Many Errors.

CINCINNATI, O., May 23.—Every run scored in the game between Cincinnati and Philadelphia was assisted across the plate by one or more errors. Kellum pitched a better game than Frazer, the latter receiving the better support. Score, 4 to 3.

Williams Wins Triangular Tourney.

HANOVER, N. H., May 23.—In the triangular tennis tournament here Williams took first place, with three matches won and none lost. Dartmouth was second, with one won and two lost, and Wesleyan lost all three.

LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

SWAM THE BAGBAG.

General Funston, Promoted For Bravery in the Field, Gives Facts.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 23.—The following account of the swimming of the Bagbag river by General Funston at Calumpit, Philippine Islands, April 26, 1899, and the swimming of the Rio Grande the day following by two soldiers of the Kansas regiment has been given out by General Funston:

"A body of 4,000 or more Filipinos who were on the far side of the Rio Grande had been harassing the American forces. On April 26, 1899, General Funston, accompanied by a skirmishing party, swam the Bagbag, a small stream about 100 feet wide, which is a tributary to the Rio Grande. This act has been confused with and magnified into the swimming of the Rio Grande the following day, April 27, by two soldiers from the Kansas regiment, which preceded the routing of the 4,000 Filipinos by forty-five American soldiers.

"These soldiers carried a line with them, with which they drew across a heavier one. To the latter a raft was fastened and drawn across. When forty-five soldiers and General Funston had been ferried over, the detachment routed the Filipinos.

"I am glad to present the facts as they are and clear the matter up."

Bank President a Suicide.

MACON, Ga., May 23.—Believing that he was worth more to his creditors dead than living, Robert H. Plant, president of the First National bank and owner of the I. C. Plant's Sons' bank, both recently placed in the hands of receivers, arose from a sick bed and committed suicide by shooting himself through the temple. By his act $800,000 carried as life insurance may be distributed between his wife and his creditors. Mr. Plant had been ill for two months, during which time came the collapse of his financial institutions. As one failure followed the other he told his nurse that he wished that death would come to end his troubles.

Girl Assaulted Was Miss Richards.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 23.—Although at least fifty families knew the details of the affair, so zealously was the secret guarded by members of the "professors' set" of Yale university that not even the police knew the name of the young lady who was the subject of a brutal attack in Humphrey street on Thursday evening. Now it is known that the young woman was Miss Emily Richards, daughter of Charles B. Richards, professor of mechanical engineering in the Sheffield Scientific school. She is now at her father's home at Livingston and Edwards streets under the care of a trained nurse and a physician.

Freight Traffic Tied Up.

NEW YORK, May 23. — Although traffic between New York and New England is almost at a standstill, officials of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company here declared that they would not dream of discharging William McCarthy, an assistant foreman on the Fall River line pier, whose retention precipitated a strike of freight handlers. Since the strike began the International Freight Handlers' and Warehousemen's union has formulated new demands, but it is generally agreed that McCarthy remains the main bone of contention.

Said Woman Shot Him.

CANTON, O., May 23.—George H. Taylor, aged about thirty-three and single, was shot and almost instantly killed at his store, the American Woolen mills, soon after midnight last night. Some time after closing he returned to the store for an overcoat. He was shot at the door by some one just inside or in the vestibule. About all he said before he died was that a woman did it. The police are looking after a recently discharged woman employee.

Ohio Democratic Convention.

COLUMBUS, O., May 23.—The Democratic state convention will open here tomorrow. There have been contests in most of the eighty-eight counties for Hearst delegates. All who are opposed to Hearst are classed as conservatives, and as they have a majority of the uncontested delegates they will no doubt decide the contests against Hearst contestants and control the convention.

Turkey to Take Harsh Measures.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 23.—It is said that the authorities contemplate destroying all Armenian villages in the Sassun district of Asia Minor in order to prevent the concentration of insurgents in the mountains and the installation of the villagers on the plain, where they may be better supervised.

American Roads to Tap Peru.

LIMA, Peru, May 23.—Herbert Selleck, the concessionaire of the railway from Port Huacho to Picuncha, has commenced surveys of the line. Surveys of the railway from Corro de Pasco to Port Huacho have been completed. Both are American enterprises and will tap enormously rich regions.

Transport With Sixty-four Dead.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The United States transport Kilpatrick, Captain Rogers, has arrived from Manila via the Suez canal. She brought the bodies of sixty-four United States soldiers who died in the Philippines.

Odell's European Trip.

NEW YORK, May 23. — Governor Odell will sail tomorrow, with his son Herbert, for Europe. He expects to be gone until about the 15th of June.

Weather Probabilities.

Fair and cooler; south ds.

DIAMOND DUST.

Contrary to all reports, Manager Johnston expects to use Davis in the games against Westfield. He believes that "Lefty" is plenty strong enough for Denman's bunch and has every confidence in his ability to fool them. Unless something should happen to Davis he will be used as first pitcher throughout the entire season.

Flynn, who played second base for Alle last season in several games, has signed to play that position for the Aeolians. Maurer, the crack pitcher for Aeolian, has left for parts unknown an'l he will not twirl for the organ grinders again this season. Manager Lentz has his eye on a good man and he hopes to land him soon.

PERSONAL.

Arthur L. Titsworth, of West Seventh street, who underwent an operation at Muhlenberg Hospital on Saturday, is improving steadily. It was his hope that an operation might be avoided through other treatment, but at last it was decided that it was necessary. Dr. Zeglio has charge of the patient.

Bulldog Scared Away Guests.

A writer tells how a bulldog scared away the guests bidden to a lady's reception. The hostess was waiting in her parlor. She heard carriages arrive, heard the front gate open, but no guests appeared. "The situation became puzzling. At last the lady of the house went out to see if perchance the paving and the steps had suddenly crumbled away and left an aching void. Not at all. On opening the front door she found herself confronted with the cause of the phantom visitors—Rex, in his most amiable and complacent mood, sitting, peaceful and majestic, on the top step, whither he had dragged his kennel, a feather-weight to so powerful a creature, after him. No pedestrian visitor, no card-bidden delegate of 'carriage folk,' had ventured to affront that lordly presence."

Too Much for the Money.

Thank goodness there will be no conflict between France and Siam, where the pepper comes from. Hate to see anybody tangled up with the king of Siam, says the New York Telegram, and then there's so much going on now we can't watch all the rings.

True Name of Corea.

The true name of Corea is "Choson," meaning "land of the morning sun." It is by this name that the country is designated in diplomatic papers at the state department at Washington.

—Those desiring reserved seats for the Gifford lecture, which is to be given at the Casino on Wednesday evening, May 25, should do so at once as the tickets are going very fast.

INDIA'S BETEL NUT-CHEWERS

The Habit Is as Common There as Tobacco-Chewing Is in This Country.

The chewing of betel nuts is one of the peculiar customs of the country, says William E. Curtis, in the Chicago Record-Herald, in a letter from Lucknow, India, even more common than tobacco-chewing ever was with us, and at almost every street corner, in the porticos of the temples, at the railway stations and in the parks, you will see women and men, squatting on the ground behind little trays covered with green leaves, powdered nuts and a white paste, made of the ashes of cocoanut fiber, the skins of potatoes and a little lime. They take a leaf, smear it with the lime paste, which is intended to increase the saliva, and then wrap it around the powder of the betel nut.

People stop at these stands, drop a copper, pick up one of these folded leaves, put it in their mouths, and go off chewing, and spitting out saliva as red as blood. Strangers are frequently attracted by dark red stains upon pavements and floors which look as if somebody had suffered from a hemorrhage or had opened an artery, but they are only the traces of the chewers of the betel nut. The habit is not harmful, no more so than chewing tobacco. The influence of the juice is slightly stimulating to the nerves, but not injurious, although it is filthy and unclean.

PRECEDENCE IN ENGLAND.

Rank There Counts for More Than Merit—Noted Poet Placed at Foot of Table.

I knew a young American girl, who, going to England under the care of an ambassador's family, and attending her first large dinner party, and looking about her, selected, as the guest in the room who most interested her, one man of distinguished aspect, whom she resolved to watch, writes Thomas Wentworth Higginson, in the Atlantic. When the guests were ushered into the dining hall according to the laws of precedence, she found herself at the very end of the brilliant procession, as one of two untitled plebeians in the room, assigned to the escort of the very man who had interested her and who turned out to be Samuel Rogers, the poet and patron of art, and the recognized head of literary society in England. She always said that she secured two things at that entertainment, namely, the most delightful companion that she ever had at a dinner party, and, moreover, a lesson in the outcome of mere hereditary rank that would last a lifetime. Rogers' poems are not now read so much as formerly, but at that time the highest literary honor a man could have was to dine with Rogers. He was also one of the richest bankers in London, and was very possibly the only person in the room who had won for himself a reputation outside of his own little island; but he was next to nobody in that company, and the little American girl was the nobody.

MR. MEEKER'S WORK AT ST. LOUIS FAIR

Plainfielder Superintends the Construction of Roads That Have Made State Famous.

NEW JERSEY'S EXHIBITS

ITS DISPLAY IN EDUCATIONAL LINE SURPASSES ALL OTHERS.

In the Fish and Game Department, This State Excels—What He Saw During His Stay at the Exposition.

New Jersey's State Supervisor of Roads, Robert A. Meeker, of this city, has returned from the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, at St. Louis, bringing with him an enthusiastic story of the National and International Good Roads Convention and a feeling of great pride in being a citizen of New Jersey. His pride arises from the fact that Jersey's exhibits in various departments excel those of her sister States by a great measure and have won for her high encomiums. In particular he was pleased with the position that he found New Jersey to hold so far as good roads are concerned.

Mr. Meeker went to St. Louis on April 12 to supervise the building of various types of roads in connection with the model city at the Fair. It was his task to prepare specimens of roads, for which New Jersey is famed. Under his direction, fine Telford roads, such as are to be seen around Newark, macadam roads, for which the entire central and Northern section of the State is noted; gravel roads, and finally oyster shell roads, noticable in the Southern section of the State. In the central part of the city he built a Jersey trap rock road, 100 feet long and forty-two feet wide.

Not only did the members of the International Roads Convention desire to learn something about the methods employed in Jersey in the building of roads but there was a general eagerness to see the various types of road. Before the convention began its sessions on May 16 all the Jersey roads were ready for inspection and Mr. Meeker's task was finished.

In referring to his visit to the Exposition, Mr. Meeker told a reporter for The Daily Press that the New Jersey exhibit in the public education display surpasses any other to be found in the Palace of Education and Social Economy and that this fact is generally admitted by the educators who have visited the place. "It is far beyond what is shown by Massachusetts, New York or Pennsylvania, and the people of those States realize it," declared the Plainfielder. The most conspicuous spot in the educational department has been given Plainfield, said Mr. Meeker, who declared that the work of the Plainfield pupils is of the highest order shown.

Another attraction in which Jersey excels, according to Mr. Meeker, is to be found in the Forestry, Fish and Game building. From a purely scientific standpoint, says he, this State's exhibit is unequalled.

As for the New Jersey State building, Mr. Meeker considers it the most homelike and comfortable of any to be found on the grounds. "Others are more stately but none are so attractive," says he. The rates for board and lodging, he declares, have been grossly exaggerated. During the first week of the Fair fancy prices were asked but the landlords and boarding house keepers soon realized that they would loose money and lost no time in conforming to regular rates, which the Plainfielder declares generally prevail at present.

TENTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR VAIL'S FRIENDS CALL TO CONGRATULATE THEM.

BARD OWL IN CAPTIVITY

A RARE BIRD IS CAPTURED IN THE SWAMP NEAR SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

On an ornithological hunt in the Dismal Swamp, near South Plainfield, last Friday, Mrs. J. Boice Hubbard, of Central avenue, captured a young live bard owl. The bird is a fine specimen. As far as is known it is the only one in captivity in this section of the country. The bard owl is a rarity in a captive state.

Mrs. Hubbard is an enthusiastic naturalist and bird-lover. She often goes on expeditions after specimens, and in her search for living prizes she shows none of the timidity that usually afflicts femininity in the woods or swamps. In capturing the young owl last Friday she had to fight off the old bird, which made desperate efforts to rescue its young one. A little while after Mrs. Hubbard ran across a big blacksnake and killed it. The reptile measured over six feet in length. She will preserve the skin.

Mrs. Hubbard will try to keep the owl alive as a pet. It is only about three month old, and she is hopeful of training it to get accustomed to captivity. It is one of the prettiest specimens she has ever seen, and looks much like a feathery white puff-ball. It has been named "Happy Hooligan," and is beginning to answer to the appelation.

DIRECTORY VS. CENSUS MAN

WAND SAYS THAT OFFICIAL FIGURES FALL 5,000 SHORT OF POPULATION.

If Wand, the directory man, knows what he is talking about, Plainfield is bigger than the census man says she is. Bigger by about 5,000 inhabitants. The official census credited the city proper with some 16,000 persons.

Wand says name-getting is a business. He has been in the business long enough to know its ins and outs thoroughly, and he stakes his business reputation on the statement that this city has at least 20,000 inhabitants. He became convinced of that after a complete canvass of Plainfield for data for the new directory, so that his statement has more than a little value.

If what he says is true, Plainfield is entitled to a district court. The law gives every city of 17,000 inhabitants or more the right to have a district court, and Plainfield wants one just as soon as she can get it. The lawyers and the merchants are a unit on that, and there is no shadow of doubt that steps will be taken to establish the court here whenever the time is right for the effort.

It has been claimed that Plainfield could have had the court several years ago if the citizens had been properly alive to the opportunity. While there are no figures to prove it, most of the men who know the town are certain that the population is over 17,000, and has been for pretty nearly five years.

"What we want to work for—and what we are going to get—is a government postoffice building and a district court," said a merchant yesterday. "They will boom the town wonderfully, give it a standing it can get in no other way, and increase business and real estate values."

JERSEY LEGISLATORS ANGRY

RESENT REPORTED CENSURE BY MILITIA OFFICERS AT CO. K BANQUET.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, May 24—Col. Dennis F. Collins, of Elizabeth and Lieut.-Col. J. F. Clime, of Burlington, so criticised the New Jersey Legislature Monday evening of last week, at a banquet at Plainfield, that it is probable an offical investigation will be instituted by the Board of Officers of the National Guard of New Jersey.

C. H. YATMAN TELLS OF WORLD-WIDE TRIPS

Evangelist, Whose Life is Consecrated to the Unconverted, Recounts Some Incidents.

GRAPHIC DESCRIPTIONS

LARGE AUDIENCE AT THE MOHROE AVENUE M. E. CHURCH.

Displays An American Flag He Carried Around the Globe—His Labors in Hawaii and South Africa.

Numerous anecdotes of evangelistic mission work were told by the Rev. C. H. Yatman, of Ocean Grove, in his missionary talk at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church last night. His recollections were so graphically put that the scenes described could fairly be seen by his hearers and the human interest present in all his stories held their attention throughout.

Mr. Yatman's two tours around the world were, he said, the result of his determination, taken when converted, to preach to all the heathen races. His account of the saving and begging policy followed by him in order to raise the funds to start with were so quaintly told as to cause laughter at times at his witty remarks.

The same American flag, carried around the world by him, was spread over the desk amid applause from the congregation. On shipboard Mr. Yatman always has service twice a day, preaching, as he says, in the morning to the "swells" and in the evening to the "smells." At Honolulu he first preached by means of an interpreter as he was ignorant of the language.

Preaching through an interpreter is more satisfactory to him than direct preaching because no matter what flowery terms are used by the preacher, the interpreter is sure to present the translation in the simplest form.

After successful work in the Hawaiian Islands, he left for New Zealand. His friends in Honolulu garlanded him with flowers on his departure.

At Sydney where he went after preaching to the lepers of Hawaii and vast crowds of British colonials in Auckland, 1,000 men were converted by him at one meeting. The diamond fields at Kimberly were also visited on this tour and even among the Kaffirs many converts were made. Brief reference was made also to his second tour and the hope expressed that he would be enabled to make a third trip and during that trip he hopes to repeat the Pentecost by converting 3,000 souls in one city in one day.

In the first tour, Mr. Yatman covered 40,000 miles; 53,000 miles on the second, and if he makes the third he intends to make it between 60,000 and 65,000 miles long. During the opening service of song, J. Edmund Skiff sang, accompanied by May V. Whitney the painist.

CO. K'S ENJOYABLE DANCE

GIVEN IN HONOR OF AUXILIARY COMMITTEE OF RECENT MILITIA FAIR.

A dance in honor of those who served on the auxiliary committee of the recent militia fair was held by Company K last night after the weekly drill. The dance was well attended and passed off delightfully. Prof. Carpenter's full orchestra played.

Old fashioned square sets in which all the guests took part were a feature of the dance. Refreshments were served. The affair was held under the general direction of the fair committee, with the entertainment committee in direct charge. The latter committee is composed as follows: Corporals George Apgar, Alfred Trenchand, Clarence Bilyeu and Privates Weaver and William Bond.

Hillside Contest Standing.

In the weekly play for the golf committee cup at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, this is the standing by points for the trophy: C. B. Morgan, 7; D. H. Rowland, 3; G. F. Earl, 3; J. E. Erickson, 3; Leighton Calkins, 3; R. S. Rowland, 2; S. D. Lounsbery, 1; Robert Abbott, 1; J. A. Tompkins, 1; Howard Huntington, 1.

Turkey, His Subject.

M. N. Kalemjeon, of Marash, Turkey, and a recent graduate of Rutgers Seminary, will speak at the Warren chapel missionary meeting Friday evening. He will talk on his native country.

BOROUGHITES TO MEET ON SCHOOL QUESTION

Board Divided Against Itself and Matters in An Unsatisfactory State.

RECOMMEND A SITE

LOCATION FOR BUILDING ON SOMERSET STREET.

Long Debate on Question—Only One Place is Suggested by the Board—Meeting on Monday, June 6.

In answer to the expression of opinion registered by the voters at the recent public meeting, the North Plainfield Board of Education decided last night, at an executive session, to submit the corner lot adjoining the Somerset street school for the site of the proposed new building. The vote on the proposition will be taken on June 6.

The decision was reached after a spirited discussion on various propositions regarding the needed school enlargement, in which the old factional lines were drawn. At the recent public meeting the Citizens voted that three central sites be submitted. The anti majority last night appeared to have decided that the corner lot alone should be given the chance, and the various clashes through their opposition to the suggestions of the other side on the three-sites idea. There was considerable discussion as to whether the will of the people as expressed at the recent meeting, on the three sites, was to be carried out. The Citizens strongly opposed such action in the face of arguments in its favor by the administration members.

The Citizens submitted a plan to offer the Washington avenue site with the Somerset street one. As that site would cost $8,500, $3,000 more than the Somerset street one, giving the voters practically Hobson's choice, the other side regarded the plan as a blind and opposed it accordingly.

Samuel Townsend offered a resolution to submit the old Grove street site with the corner plot, with plans for an eight-room house, but the measure was lost by a five to four vote, Messrs. Townsend, Valiant, Joy and Woodruff voting for, and Messrs. Honeyman, Cooley, Fountain, Needham and Cooley voting against it. Mr. Honeyman spoke in favor of enlarging the Watchung School, and a suggestion was made to offer the Vine street site. No vote was taken on these. When it finally became apparent that the board could not agree on any plan outside of the submission of the corner lot the Board voted to present that alone.

This site is offered for $5,500, and it takes in the lot and house adjoining. All the other centrally located lots were considered by the Board, but every other one of the available lots is priced so high that the majority of the Board believes the choice would practically be confined to the corner lot no matter how many of the others were submitted.

TROLLEY SURVEY COMPLETED

WORK UNDER WAY FOR THE P. S. C. LINE TO METUCHEN.

The preliminary survey for the trolley extension to Metuchen has been completed to Marcennier chapel, and the line itself is staked as far as the Driving Park.

Although every effort will be made to have the spur to the latter place in operation by the first of July, it is doubtful if it can be done.

The proposed spur to Alis Oval from Park avenue and Randolph road will not be built immediatly, according to present indications, as it requires sixty days to secure a franchise for such construction.

Another difficulty to be considered, is that although the verbal consents of the property owners along the Metuchen extension have been secured, the changes in grade which at some places will amount to several feet, may cause some of them to reconsider at least temporarily, their attitude toward the improvement.

Miss D. S. Smith to Wed.

Miss Drucilla S. Smith and William D. Pike, of East Front tsreet, will be married Tuesday evening, June 7, at the home of the bride's parents, 68 West Sixty-ninth street, New York. The bride was a former resident of Washington avenue, in the borough.

ANDERSON CASE NOT SETTLED

ESTATE TIED UP PENDING RESULT OF PRESENT LITIGATION.

Contrary to reports the much-talked of Anderson case relative to the Catholic Benevolent Legion insurance money, claimed under the benefit certificate of the late James A. Anderson, is not settled, neither have the Anderson heirs been awarded the money. The facts of the case are that the Anderson's disputed the right of John P. Owens, Esq., as substituted administrator of Rosanna Anderson, who was wife of and beneficiary of James A. Anderson, to receive the money.

John C. Anderson, administrator of James A. Anderson, obtained an order from Chancellor Magie, April 19 last, restraining the Supreme Council and the Plainfield Council, Catholic Benevolent Legion, from paying the money to Mr. Owens as such administrator, although he, according to the laws of the Legion, is entitled to receive the money and distribute it to the heirs at law of the deceased beneficiary, Rosanna Anderson, who are Mrs. Bridget Burke and Julia Burke, of this city.

Argument on the restraining order was set down for May 3 and adjourned to May 31, so there has been no decision rendered in the case regarding the disposition of the insurance money.

SYMPATHY FOR VACCARIELLO

HIS VICTIM, TONY MARTIN, SAID TO HAVE BEEN A BAD MAN,

Later developments in the shooting affray on Hunter avenue, Scotch Plains, Saturday night, which cost Tony Martin his life, shows a growing sentiment of sympathy for Charles Vaccariello, the alleged murderer. Now that the excitement of the affair is beginning to pass over the residents of the colony are beginning to talk more freely.

It is said that Martin was a bad man when under the influence of liquor and tried to scare the rest of the residents with an alleged record of having killed a man in New York city several years ago. Vaccariello lived next door to Martin and at one time the two were the best of friends, Martin being the one who introduced Vaccariello to his bride of only a few months. This fact the murdered man was constantly throwing up to the young husband, accompanied, it is alleged, to things in the bride's life before she was married.

Constant bickerings made the two enemies. On Saturday night at a card party at which beer flowed freely, Martin after filing up, began to pick on Vaccariello and made a vile remark about Mrs. Vaccariello. Words waxed warm. Suddenly Martin pulled out his revolver and began blazing away. Vaccariello, who no doubt expected trouble would become serious at some time, was also armed and returned the fire. If this is the true story Vaccariello may return and give himself up to the officers of the law, as he acted only in self-defense.

Y.M.C.A. SYMPHONY CONCERT

LARGE AUDIENCE LISTENS TO A WELL-ARRANGED PROGRAMME.

An audience that completely filled the Association Hall, assembled last night to listen to an excellent programme rendered by the Y. M. C. A. Symphony. It was a repetition of the first public rehearsal given a week ago with such success and every one of the ten numbers received general approval.

The work of the symphony, under the leadership of Kenneth Shupp, was all to be desired, the harmony and the character of the selections being such as to meet with considerable favor. Assisting the symphony, Miss Aimee Louise Emmons gave some of her best recitations and she was accorded meritorious applause. Musical numbers worth of special mention was the duet for cornet and trombone by Whitney Frasee and C. K. Shupp and the violin selections by B. A. Paroubek and the finale, "Grand American Fantasie," by Bendix.

POSITION OF TRUST FOR A PLAINFIELDER

E. T. Perine Becomes Treasurer and General Manager of the Audit Co., of New York.

ONLY 34 YEARS OLD

A GRADUATE OF THE STILLMAN HIGH SCHOOL IN THIS CITY.

First With Bank in Jersey City—Later Becomes Comptroller of the United States Mortgage and Trust Company.

High honor in the New York financial world has been conferred upon a young Plainfielder, Edward Ten Broeck Perine. He has just been selected to fill the position of treasurer and general manager of The Audit Company of New York, the most prominent fiduciary concern in the country, and of which August Belmont is president. Mr. Perine is the son of the late James R. Perine, who will be remembered by natives and old residents of this city as a prominent temperance worker here years ago. Edward Perine was born here about thirty-four years ago, and graduated from the Stillman High School in the class of 1888. He was a classmate of City Judge William N. Runyon.

Even in those days Perine showed a marvelous command of figures. His career was indicated then, and the news of his success will not come as a surprise to his friends here.

"Trust Companies," the monthly organ of the trust companies of the country, speaks in the highest terms of praise of Mr. Perine. It is believed, it says, that his return to The Audit Company (he was with it in 1897) will create a new era in the history of the company. It is predicted that the company will attain an even more prominent position and exercise a greater influence than before under the stimulus of his management.

Before he was elevated to the high position with the Audit Company Mr. Perine had already made a noteworthy record as comptroller and treasurer of the United States Mortgage and Trust Company. Since his earliest business connection, with the Third National Bank of Jersey City, a year after he left school here, the advances he has made are called remarkable by "Trust Companies." Mr. Perine went to the Mortgage and Trust Company in 1898 as cashier, when the concern was organized. In 1897, when The Audit Company was formed, he went to it as secretary and treasurer. During the four years of his work in this company he developed the field for expert services and assisted materially in making the company the foremost of its kind in the United States.

In 1902, because of his stock exchange and other financial experience, Mr. Perine was appointed assignee of a suspended brokerage house. The able way in which he handled the affairs of this concern not only won the confidence and admiration of a large circle of prominent financial powers, but also permitted the re-instatement of the assignors on the Stock Exchange and a settlement with creditors for 70 per cent. of their claims.

Mr. Perine is now living in Hackensack. He married a Jersey City girl a short time after his removal from this city.

The Day of Outings.

The one pleasure which the American public thoroughly enjoys is its outings. Low priced and at popular places and where there may be unrestrained enjoyment in out-of-door sports. Around New York there are many popular resorts but perhaps the most popular for holiday excursions is Mauch Cuhnk in the mountains of Pennsylvania. The journey is delightful and passes through an interesting country, through the farm lands of New Jersey and then into that busy section of the Keystone State which bristles with industries which are renowned the world over. Mauch Chunk is high in the mountains and the exhilarating atmosphere is a tonic for the hived-up city man. The chief feature of the trip to Mauch Chunk is to make the journey over the Switchback railroad which is a gravity road some eighteen miles in length. The tourist is carried at a rapid rate to the inclines of Mt. Pisgah and Jefferson over which the cars are lifted by mammoth mechanical devices only to continue the romantic journey to the end, ever fascinating and thrilling. On Decoration Day the New Jersey Central will run one of its popular priced excursions to Mauch Chunk, the rate for the round trip to be $1.50, and special train will leave Plainfield at 9:20 a. m., returning train will leave Mauch Cuhnk at 5:30 p. m. This is a trip worth taking and to miss it will be doing yourself an injustice. 5 23 6 c

THOUSANDS KILLED

St. Petersburg Report of Great Japanese Defeat.

AND ATTACK ON PORT ARTHUR FAILS

Loss of the Japanese Placed at Fifteen Thousand, Russians Three Thousand—Explosion on Warship Orel.

LONDON, May 24.—Advices from St. Petersburg say it is reported that Foreign Minister Lamsdorff has received a message from the Russian consul at Chefu saying that the Japanese haye made a land attack on Port Arthur and that in doing so they lost 15,000 men killed or wounded. The Russian loss is placed at 3,000 men. The ultimate outcome of the fighting is not stated.

It is reported that there has been an explosion on board the battleship Orel at Cronstadt and that ten stokers were killed. The vessel has been badly damaged, and it will take weeks to effect repairs. The explosion was the result of an accumulation of gas in the bunkers.

A Yinkow report says the Russians have completed the mining of the harbor and the mouth of the Liao river.

It is now believed that there are immense supplies at Newchwang and that that place is thoroughly protected against any incursion of the Japanese.

A Liaoyang dispatch says the Japanese camps are infected with cholera, and there is an average of 100 deaths daily.

Russian patrols are successfully harassing the left of the Japanese advance.

A Yinkow report says:

"A Japanese third army is mobilizing at Hiroshima. A change in the Japanese plan has arisen from the naval disaster involving the utilizing of the second army for the reduction of Port Arthur, and therefore the first army is intrenching at Fengwangcheng."

The Russians are removing stores and provisions to Harbin. One hundred locomotives and 800 cars are collected at Liaoyang in readiness to convey passengers and goods. The conclusion is that the Russians are preparing to retreat.

A St. Petersburg report says an investigation made by the authorities into the recent attempts to destroy some of the vessels of the Baltic fleet at Cronstadt has resulted in the arrest of four Japanese spies, who seem to have escaped detection by wearing the uniform of naval cadets, thus obtaining admission to the navy yard and access to the ships without difficulty.

It is believed that they are also responsible for the fire started some time back near the naval magazine and for the opening of the sea valves of the Orel.

RISING SUN MURDER.

Byron Barbour on the Stand In His Own Defense.

RISING SUN, Ind., May 24.—In the Gillespie murder trial here Byron Barbour was the first of the defendants called to testify. He evinced no emotion and was entirely at ease in his manner. He even laughed outright at times and was prone to make explanations, so that the judge cautioned him to cease arguing to the jury and to make his answers direct. His wife kept her eyes constantly on him during his examination. He said he was thirty-five years old, was a banker, had been married eight years and had one child aged four. He said he was reading a newspaper when he heard the shot that killed Elizabeth Gillespie. It sounded like an explosion near the colored church. He stepped out and looked in that direction. Mrs. Belle Seward then came out of her house, and a second or so later Mrs. Barbour came out. Witness ran around the colored church, but saw no one. As he came back he heard Mrs. Seward ask what was the matter, that it sounded like broken glass. Mrs. Barbour replied that she did not know. He then saw Mrs. Margaret Gillespie standing in her door calling for help. He went over. Mrs. Gillespie said she feared Lizzie was shot. He went in and found Lizzie lying in a pool of blood. He asked if he should call a doctor. He went on to tell of what was done that evening and of succeeding events covering ground already gone over.

At the conclusion of his testimony, in response to direct questions, he said he did not know who shot Miss Gillespie, that he never encouraged any one to kill her and that he was entirely innocent of the charges against him.

Mrs. Barbour said her husband was seated in the front room when the fatal shot was fired. James Gillespie that night was cool and quiet. She had no knowledge of the shooting.

James Gillespie, the chief defendant, testified that he had worked all day fixing a fence and that he ate supper in the kitchen of the Seward house. When he left the kitchen table he went to the rear of the yard, and while there he heard a sound like an explosion. After the explosion he said he walked toward the house and saw Belle Seward and Carrie Barbour in the alleyway of the Seward house. He asked some women what the trouble was, and they told him that Elizabeth had been shot. His sister, Belle Seward, was very excited. He tried to calm her and had to administer medicine to her. He denied that he ever struck or scolded his sister Elizabeth.

Derail Switch at Bridgeport Saved Train From River.

BRIDGE OPEN, SIGNALS DISREGARDED

What Might Have Been a Disaster Prevented by Automatic Switch. Two Hundred Passengers Shaken Up.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 24.—The successful working of a derail switch just east of the new rolling lift bridge on the big viaduct in this city last night probably saved the lives of many passengers on the train over the Naugatuck division due here at 6 o'clock. The bridge was up at the time, allowing a tugboat to go down the river, and Engineer Edward Lyons of the passenger train disregarded the signal to stop. In a moment his engine, tender and baggage car were bounding over the ties, the train stopping not many yards from the bridge. But for the switch the train would have plunged into the river, as it was going at a fast pace when thrown off the tracks.

Passengers were shaken up, and the women and children screamed, but when the train came to a stop it was found that no one was hurt. Over 200 passengers were on the train.

The engine, tender and baggage car were wrecked, and traffic on the westbound track was blocked until late in the night. Word was sent to New Haven, and the wrecker reached here at 7 o'clock, when the work of clearing away was begun.

The test last night proved the worth of the derail switch on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, and it is understood that its institution has been recent.

The accident makes the second on the new viaduct, the other being that of a freight train a few weeks ago.

PRESBYTERIANS AT BUFFALO.

Dr. Van Dyke Reports on Forms of Service—Vote on Divorce.

BUFFALO, May 24.—At the Presbyterian general assembly here the report of the special committee on forms and services was read by Dr. Van Dyke, professor of literature at Princeton, as chairman of the committee. It reported a form for morning service and a form of baptism of infants. Dr. Van Dyke delivered an address on the proposed new forms, which have caused a good deal of commotion among conservatives who do not take kindly to what they think savors of ritualism.

The points he wished to emphasize were:

This report did not represent a new movement in the Presbyterian church. It did not represent a new departure in any sense of the word. It was an attempt to do something which is required by actual facts already existing. Dr. Van Dyke showed that the church had from the beginning forms of service. These in their original shapes or modified had been continued in the large majority of Presbyterian churches. Seventy-five per cent of 2,000 churches selected at random by the committee were already using some form of service with a responsive feature. Nine-tenths of the ministry, he said, desire a book of forms; not a prayer book, not a Litany, not a ritual, but a "collection of forms proper and helpful for voluntary use in Presbyterian churches." The elements entering into the service were the Lord's Prayer, the creed and the psalter, everything being consistent with the standards of the church.

At the conclusion of Dr. Van Dyke's address a resolution was offered indorsing the work of the committee so far as it has progressed and continuing the existence of the committee until its work is completed. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Debate on the report of the committee on marriage and divorce was then begun. A number of the commissioners took exception to the second paragraph of the committee's recommendations advising ministers to refuse to unite in marriage any persons whose marriage is forbidden by the laws of other churches.

Admiral Evans at the Capital.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Rear Admiral Evans came over to Washington from New York and received a warm welcome at the navy department. He also called on the president to pay his respects. He will return to New York in a day or two and come to Washington to assume the duties of chief of the lighthouse board June 18. The admiral reports the battleship Kentucky to be in excellent condition and in spite of her remarkably fast run of three-quarters around the world in need of only the slightest repairs.

Met to Attend His Funeral.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 24.—Three women of Des Moines, Denver and New Orleans, each claiming to be the legally wedded wife of Contractor Dubois, who died last week, met in a restaurant here, talked the situation over and mutually agreed upon a division of the estate. Simon Cassidy, a prominent banker, is agreed upon as administrator of the estate, which is valued at $11,000. They met here to attend the funeral of their "husband."

American Fleet at Hongkong.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The navy department has been advised by cable of the arrival of the Oregon and Alexander at Hongkong, where they have joined the Wisconsin, the flagship of Rear Admiral Cooper, commander in chief of the Asiatic station. The Vicksburg has sailed from Hongkong for Woosung.

Savable Won at Morris Park.

NEW YORK, May 24. — Savable, Rosetint and Red Knight, three added starters, ran and finished one, two, three in the Van Cortlandt handicap, seven furlongs, at Morris park. Hurst Park, the favorite, despite the fact that he was carrying 133 pounds and received a poor break, ran a good race, being beaten only a head from third money. Divination was the pacemaker to the stretch, where Savable and Rosetint moved out, and in a driving finish Savable won. Lee Ridley, backed from 10 to 1 to 7 to 2, won the steeplechase, and the ring was hit hard over his victory. Hyrstbourne, at 2 to 9, won the last race easily.

Changes In Polo Rules.

NEW YORK, May 24.—At a meeting of the Polo association committee, which was held at the office of Chairman H. L. Herbert, many changes were made in the playing rules of the prominent clubs. This action was due to the death of Henry D. Babcock, Jr., of Yale, who died from the effects of a blow of a mallet during the initial intercollegiate polo game between the Princeton and Yale teams at Van Cortlandt park last Saturday.

First Race on Charles River.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 24.—The first race of the season between the Harvard graded crews was held on the Charles river, the second Newell boat crossing the finish line first, with the first Weld and the first Newell finishing in the order named. The second Weld boat was doing well and toward the close of the race had pulled into second place, when the bow oar broke, and a minute later the boat filled with water.

Sea Pirate Got the Steeplechase.

CINCINNATI, O., May 24.—A large crowd saw the racing at Latonia. The steeplechase was the star event and was won easily by Sea Pirate, favorite. A speed wonder was shown in the last race by Frank Van Meter when he sent Handzara, a two-year-old filly, to the post for the first time. She ran all around her field and won pulled up to a walk, covering the four and a half furlongs in 54½ seconds.

Bad News Won In a Romp.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Four heavily backed favorites and two outsiders divided first money at Hawthorne. The feature event at one and one-eighth miles was won by Bad News, an odds on favorite, who made a show of his field and won in a romp. Huzzah was second and Jerry Lynch third.

Charged With Theft of $100,000.

BOSTON, May 24.—Elmer E. Leavitt of Medford of the firm of Lamkin & Foster, wholesale boot and shoe dealers, has been placed on trial in the Suffolk superior criminal court here on the charge of larceny of about $100,000 from the National Union and National Exchange banks. The government alleges that Leavitt borrowed money from the banks by misleading statements as to the financial condition of his firm.

Hibernian Will Be Saved.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., May 24.—The steamers Harlaw, Regulus, Wasis, Amphitrite, Hawkins and Viking, loaded with salved cargo from the Allan line steamer Hibernian, which went ashore at Stormy point, thirty miles north of Cape Ray, have sailed for Sydney. All of the 600 cattle were transferred from the Hibernian, not an animal being lost. It is expected that the Hibernian will be successfully refloated.

No More Bad Paper Cashed.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 24.—As the result of the visit here by Edgar A. Waltz of New York, president of the National Hotel Keepers' Protective association, there has been posted in all the leading hotels of Indiana notices stating that the proprietors after Sept. 1 would cash no paper for anybody not bringing a letter of credit issued by the association, which is co-operative.

WAR ON POOLROOMS.

Twenty-seven New York Places Raided—Fourteen Captives.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Twenty-seven places suspected of being poolrooms were visited, fourteen persons were taken into custody, and ninety-four telephones and two telegraph instruments were confiscated in police raids in New York. Fifteen of the raids were made in the Tenderloin precinct.

Police Inspector Brooks of Manhattan was in direct charge of the raids, while Inspector Titus, Captain Cottrell and twenty-five plain clothes men carried out the orders in the Tenderloin district.

The other raids were made in various parts of the city. One of the places visited in the lower section of Manhattan, it is said, was a racing news exchange, and here nine telephones and a lot of racing sheets were confiscated by the police. In another place twenty telephones were found, and in a third eleven were taken out.

The Tenderloin police visited the place said to be kept by "Honest John" Kelly and found Kelly on the steps.

"You can't get in here unless you have a warrant," Kelly is said to have asserted. "I've had too many visitors lately, and I'm tired of showing people the house."

The officers made no effort to enter.

At the place which "Circular Joe" Vendig is said to maintain on Twenty-seventh street there were no occupants. A telephone was found. The situation was similar at the alleged poolroom of Tom O'Brien on Thirty-sixth street. All the places reputed to have dealt in bets on the races were visited, it is claimed, the hour selected being 4:30, when it was supposed they would be in full swing, but most of them were vacant when the police arrived.

In one place on Broadway, opposite the postoffice, the police were forced to climb from the roof of a building down to the third floor on a fire escape. They found twenty-one telephones, but no person inside. The place had evidently been vacated in a hurry.

Among the places where arrests were made was one at 191 Mercer street. Police Captain Tighe says the room is conducted by "Sonny" Smith. Two men who attempted to interfere with the officers were arrested.

Captain Shire of the East Thirty-fifth street station made a number of raids, among them being one on a Thirty-second street house. Detectives say Tammany politicians were interested in this alleged poolroom and that a well known Tammany worker escaped through a back window as the police entered. Four prisoners were taken.

Captain Hayes of the West Forty-seventh street station descended on seven suspected poolrooms, breaking down doors at several places. No arrests were made, and the captain said later: "Somebody must have given them the tip. No one was found in any of the places."

The raids were the most extensive made in this city in years and covered the district from Forty-second street to the Battery.

By a vote of 262 to 244 the assembly wiped out that part of the report of the special committee on marriage and divorce which advised Presbyterian ministers to refuse to marry any person whose marriage is forbidden by the church of which that person is a member. The committee had put in this provision to help promote the work of the interchurch conference on marriage and divorce, which takes in thirteen denominations, and this action of the assembly, it was declared, might prove a setback to the conference.

This action by the assembly was not taken until after a heated debate. There is some talk of an effort being made to have this action reconsidered by the assembly. The remainder of the report was adopted.

WRECKAGE FOUND.

Reported Loss of Steamer Corwin. Carried Eighty-nine Passengers.

TACOMA, Wash., May 24.—It is reported from Victoria that wreckage of the steamer Corwin, which sailed from Seattle for home with eighty-nine passengers Tuesday, has been found on the west of Vancouver island. She was scheduled to sail Monday a week ago, but some of the persons booked for passage complained to United States inspectors of the way the steamer was overloaded, and the inspectors ordered all freight stored in the holds.

Tacoma shipping men who saw the steamer before she sailed express the fear that she is lost. The Corwin had quite a list and seemed to be heavy and unseaworthy.

Two Drowned In Oil Tank.

PORT ARTHUR, Tex., May 24. — William Richard of New York city and Fred Trapham of Guridan, La., were accidentally drowned in a tank of oil at the Gulf Refining company's plant here. Richard, who was working on one of the agitators, became dizzy and toppled over. He succeeded in clutching a small pipe and swinging to it. Trapham witnessed the accident and went to Richard's assistance, but the gas overcame him, and he fell into the tank. Richard was soon rendered unconscious and dropped in. The tanks were of several thousand barrels capacity, and it was necessary to draw off all the oil to recover the bodies.

Mrs. Burt Shot Her Husband.

TOLEDO, O., May 24.—Mrs. Frank Burt, who shot her husband, a well known theatrical manager, Saturday night, was arraigned in police court on a charge of shooting with intent to kill. She waived examination and was released on $1,000 bail. Mr. Burt is still at the hospital. It is believed his eyesight will not be affected or his face disfigured by the wound made by the bullet.

DEADLY EXPLOSIVES

Independent Fireworks Plant at Camden Blown Up.

THREE KILLED, TEN BADLY BURNED

Theory Is That Father of the Vice President Took Chlorate of Potash Out of a Barrel With Shovel Containing Sulphur.

CAMDEN, N. J., May 24.—Three persons were killed and ten others injured two of them probably fatally, by an explosion in the factory of the Independent Fireworks company on the outskirts of this city.

The dead are Simon Peradazzo, aged eighteen years, of this city; Joseph Logolla, sixteen years, of Philadelphia, and Andraf Orvilla, seventeen years, of this city.

Those believed to be fatally injured are Michael Scalona, aged fifty-two years, and Lenardo Pinto, forty-five years, both of this city.

Robert T. Weser of Philadelphia, president of the company, and Joseph Scalona, vice president, were arrested and held in $1,500 bail to await the action of the coroner. Warrants have been issued for certain other officers of the concern.

The plant consists of a two story brick storehouse and four frame sheds, one of which is used for mixing the explosive composition placed in the fireworks. The explosion occurred in this department. The cause of the accident is yet to be positively determined. The theory of the workmen is that Michael Scalona, father of the vice president of the company, may have taken chlorate of potash out of a barrel with a shovel on which there was some sulphur. Some of the workpeople had very narrow escapes. One girl was rescued from the roof of one of the sheds, where she had been carried by the force of the explosion.

FREIGHT HANDLERS STRIKE.

Shephard Turns Down Union President—Company Will Not Yield.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Highly indignant at the refusal of the New York, New Haven and Hartford company officials to make the slightest concession to any of their demands, representatives of the Freight Handlers' union, the Freight Clerks' union and the Firemen and Oilers' union held a secret conference with Lawrence J. Curran, president of the International Association of Interior Freight Handlers and Warehousemen, who had come to this city from Chicago in an effort to settle the dock strike. The result of this conference could not be learned, but it is believed that it was decided to order all the men of these unions out and continue the strike relentlessly.

Dispatches from Fall River said that by orders from New York seventy-five men employed at the New York, New Haven and Hartford freight house there were called out. It is supposed that similar orders have been or will be sent to Newport, Boston, Providence and New Haven, and coastwise traffic between New York and New England states will be halted.

After a conference with Captain Miller, Mr. Curran went to the Grand Central station to see O. M. Shephard, the general superintendent of the railroad. With Mr. Curran was a committee of men representing the different unions.

Mr. Curran was admitted to Mr. Shephard's office, but later he refused to treat with the committee. They protested, but their efforts to obtain a hearing were unsuccessful.

For fully an hour Mr. Curran argued with the general superintendent without result, and when he left he refused to say what his course of action would be, but from what he said earlier in the day it is almost a certainty that he will call his men out.

Superintendent Shephard said when Curran called with the freight handlers' committee of six that he would not confer with the committee and that the company would not take back the men who left the marine service. They had broken an agreement signed on March 26 that there should be arbitration and no strikes for one year.

It was said that the receiving and shipping clerks and the firemen and oilers on the boats would be asked to bolster up the strike. Mr. Shephard said that if they went out it would be to stay, and others would be hired.

Rothschild Gets Nine Years.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Convicted of grand larceny in the first degree, David Rothschild, founder and wrecker of the Federal bank, has been sentenced to nine years in Sing Sing by Recorder Goff. This is one year less than the maximum penalty. Moses H. Grossman of House, Grossman & Vorhaus, counsel for Rothschild, obtained a stay from Judge Gaynor of Brooklyn immediately after Rothschild had been sentenced, which will prevent Rothschild from being taken to Sing Sing to serve his sentence.

Body Was Too Badly Charred.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Investigation into the death of Alfred Morgan, who was burned to death in his home near Vineland, N. J., was without result. The county physician decided that the body was too badly charred to permit of an autopsy to definitely ascertain the cause of death. It had been hinted that Morgan was the victim of foul play.

Cowardly Act of Eversole.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 24.—A message from Hazard, Perry county, reports the reopening of the French-Eversole feud. John Eversole has assassinated William Smith. Eversole shot Smith while Smith was asleep. The bullet caused instant death.

About time for Port Arthur to be spilled again.

The silence of Judge Parker is painful—to Col. Bryan.

By this time Hearst surely realizes how Bryan must have felt when the returns came in.

The attempt to rob General Funston of fame by declaring that he never swam the Bag Bag in Luzon reminds one of Washington and the cherry tree story.

The man who seeks to be appointed Federal judge for the district of New Jersey will have an easy job landing in the berth compared to what he will have to do to hold it down.

It's safe to say that the postal card on which were written by a Kansas man 40,083 words was easy to decipher in comparison to some of the cards sent to an editorial desk.

If the reports emanating from Elizabeth are to be believed, there are apt to be fewer stores doing business on Sunday in this city in the near future. The Grand Jury is after the speakeasies and some men are troubled with insomnia in Plainfield just at present.

From New York comes a tale that horse racing, such as ruined the fair name of New Jersey, will be legalized here again. Considering the blow recently dealt to the live pigeon shooters of Pennsylvania, it does not seem that the people of this State are in a mood to tolerate another race track epoch.

It remained for the Elizabeth Times, which is still holding on to life by giving away trading stamps, to discover that the newspaper reports of the speeches delivered at Company E's banquet were "greatly exaggerated." At last it can claim to have scored a beat for the amusing story, published in its edition yesterday, is real news even to those who were present at the banquet in question. The story as published in the local papers and one Newark paper was entirely accurate and can be substantiated by the reporters and correspondents present. Can the Times verify its silly charge that the accounts were exaggerated and that there was not prolonged applause when Col. Clime finished his attack on the Legislature?

When the scrap was ended they were told that if they did not behave themselves they would be put off the car. Such is life on the trolley—anything but pleasant for the better element of the patrons, especially women.

MINISTER TALKS ON BARGAINS

REV. A. E. FINN'S SERMON ON THE VALUE OF MAN'S PURCHASES.

An estimate of the humdrum affairs of life from what is, unfortunately, an unusual viewpoint, was embodied in the sermon for the evening at the Park Avenue Baptist church on Sunday by the Rev. A. E. Finn.

Mr. Finn chose as his subject "Everyday Bargains" and some of the bargains made every day look most unprofitable when judged by the standards laid down in this sermon.

Esau's bargain with his brother Jacob was instanced as a miserable failure from any point of view. How many people, said the pastor, are every day buying at the expense of their immortal souls, things either totally unnecessary if not positively harmful, or other things necessary perhaps, but like Esau's mess of pottage, paid for out of all proportion to their worth?

The birthrights of body, mind and soul, while bargained away by some, are misused by others who, in developing one or two, neglect the others. Physical culture is good but to be of real benefit it must be accompanied by mental and spiritual growth; for the strong body can never be perfect when guided by a weak mind or an impure soul any more than the soul can reach its limit of earthly perfection unless housed in a perfect body.

Symmetrical growth is the only true growth and the only kind worthy while, because it developes the soul and the soul lasts forever.

In mentioning ways of development Mr. Finn spoke of the added strength which always results from a successful encounter and said that commercial integrity is the truest developer of spiritual strength because of its constant exercise.

He spoke of Joseph's unswerving integrity and the increased capacity which he gained as a result of it. The greatest bargain offered any man, said the preacher, is Heaven; and the price is only a few short years of obedience to the will of God.

Turning the discussion to bargains altogether unprofitable, the speaker called attention to, the modern tendency to overestimate the importance of temporal things because spiritual things appear so distant and indefinite.

He mentioned "white slave traffic" in our large cities as an instance of greed for gain on the part of those who carry it on and a bartering by those who support it, of their most precious birthright for the satisfaction of an appetite.

Another instance of the yielding to the flesh is the growth of the liquor habit among those enjoying advantages of education and refinement, which should preclude such short-sightedness.

As a closing thought Mr. Finn said that those who looked for material gain first were losing eternal possessions more valuable than the whole world and that the only cure for the madness of sin which presents these bargains in such false lights is the true appreciation of God and his purpose regarding man.

WASHINGTON LETTER

GOSSIP OF THE CONGRESS WHICH HAS JUST CLOSED.

NOT RICH IN REPUTATIONS

But Few Men Have Developed in the Estimation of the Public—New Office Building for Senators.

Washington.—The adjournment of congress leaves Washington once more in the deserted and deadly condition which always characterizes the town when abandoned to its own devices. The hotels, which for six months have been packed to the roof, will soon resemble the barn-like inns of a summer resort during the dead days of winter.

Speaker Cannon.

There is no town on the continent which can empty itself more speedily than Washington of the transient visitors who give life to it while congress is here.

The session of congress which has just come to an end has not been rich in the making of reputations. If any one man has grown greatly in the estimation of house and senate it is Speaker Cannon, who, in a single session, has enrolled among the little group of really great speakers who have presided over the deliberations of the house. There are not many of them. Clay, Colfax, Blaine, Carlisle and Reed are the names which occur easily to anybody with a historical bent of mind, and it is a high tribute to Cannon that at the close of an unusually short and uneventful session, there should be many who are disposed to group him with the historic lights.

Both republicans and democrats unite to sing Cannon's praises. He is as highly regarded on the democratic side of the house as among his own party associates. Even the most hopeless partisans are forced to admit that they have no complaint to make against the speaker on account of his conduct in the chair. So free from partisanship has he been that the house has been treated several times to a spectacle hitherto unprecedented since the creation of the committee on rules. That committee more than once has made reports providing special orders for legislation in which the republicans and democrats on the committee united in unanimous action. If this had happened in the administrations of Reed, or Crisp, or Henderson, it would have been thought that the heavens were about to fall.

The Democratic Leader.

Another man who has gained a reputation in John Sharp Williams, the new democratic leader of the house.

Congressman Williams.

Williams was comparatively unknown outside the house membership before the mantel of leadership fell on his shoulders at the beginning of this congress. He had been a member of the house for several terms and had made some little stir by occasional clever speeches in which he treated the republican majority without gloves. But that he had the qualities of real leadership was hardly suspected except by some of his intimates until the time came when it was necessary to pick out somebody to assume the responsibility laid down by Richardson, of Tennessee.

Williams rose to his opportunity in a way to delight his fellow democrats in the house. He has shown tact and brilliancy has kept his lance poised for any possible vulnerable spots in the republican armor, and at the same time has maintained personal relations with the republican leaders which give him influence on the majority side of the house.

Williams is a rather curious product of democratic generation. He was born in Memphis, Tenn., and his father was a confederate colonel, killed at Shiloh. The young Williams, with his mother, moved to his mother's old family homestead in Yazoo country, Mississippi. He still maintains himself there during the recesses of congress as a lawyer and a cotton planter. He is one of the most highly educated men in either branch of congress. As he himself expresses it, he "received a fair education" at private schools.

New Offices for Senators.

The senate has made up its mind that it shall not be outdone by the house in the matter of office accommodations for its members. An appropriation has been made for a new building to be erected just across the way from the senate end of the capitol, which is to be used as an office building for senators, and which will cost, when completed, fully $3,000,000. It will be in keeping with the architecture of the capitol, and, with the new house office building, and the congressional library, will complete a group of monumental structures on Capitol hill which will not be exceeded in beauty and dignity by any other group of buildings in the world.

An the People Imagined It.

The two new buildings will transform what has hitherto been regarded as an unsightly section of the city into a spot which will be worth traveling thousands of miles to see. Each of the new structures will occupy an entire square, now filled with old houses and defaced by glaring billboards. Under the new arrangement each senator and representative will be accommodated with a fine suite of rooms, handsomely furnished and supplied with every comfort that any working statesman could desire.

It is not so many years since a great outcry went up over the country because the senators had bought an old hotel, known as the Maltby house, where those who could not be supplied with rooms in the capitol kept their secretaries and their records. Columns were written about the rugs and sofas, and private baths with which these rooms were furnished, and many people throughout the country imagined that the senate was lavishing the money of the taxpayers in oriental luxury.

But times have changed. The Maltby building is out of date. Those senators who are condemned to occupy rooms there regard it as a hardship, and there are mutterings already about the dilapidated condition of the place. But it is seen now that a senator, or a representative, for that matter, is entitled to at least as much consideration in the choice of his working establishment as a lawyer burdened with half the business. As it is, many representatives are compelled to lease rooms outside the capitol.

With the increase in population of the country, the statesman in Washington finds his work and responsibility thrice or four times as great as in the days of the seventies.

Ire of the Clerks.

Representative Gillett, of Massachusetts, who got all Washington about his ears when he caused an increase of the hours of labor to the government clerks, has made more trouble for himself. He is chairman of the house committee on reform in the civil service committee, which ordinarily has very little to do, and he has devoted himself this winter to making a record for a hitherto innocuous body.

Aroused the Ire of the Clerks.

He has reported a bill by which it is proposed that after the 30th day of June, 1907, every office in the classified service held by a person who is then over 70 years of age shall become vacant, and that after the 30th day of June, 1907, every office in the classified service shall become vacant when the person holding it becomes 70 years old.

As if to add insult to injury, Gillett has also reported it as the opinion of the committee that such retired clerks should not be pensioned.

To show the injustice of it, some of them have prepared a list of members of the house and senate who will be over 70 years of age on June 30, 1907. That list includes the name of Speaker Cannon, whom nobody would accuse of being superannuated. In it, also, are the names of the following United States senators: Morgan and Pettus, of Alabama; Teller, of Colorado; Platt and Hawley, of Connecticut; Cullom, of Illinois; Allison, of Iowa; McEnery, of Louisiana; Hale and Frye, of Maine; Hoar, of Massachusetts; Burrows and Alger, of Michigan; Cockrell, of Missouri; Gibson, of Montana; Millard, of Nebraska; Gallinger, of New Hampshire; Platt and Depew, of New York; Mitchell, of Oregon; Quay, of Pennsylvania; Bate, of Tennessee; Proctor, of Vermont, and Foster, of Washington—24 in all, nearly one-third of the senate.

The Price of Land.

Thomas F. Walsh, the Colorado millionaire, has just bought for $250,000 three lots of land two blocks from the white house, which sold 100 years ago for $700, and which up to the middle of the century were valued at less than $10,000. So great has been the increase in value in real estate in the District of Columbia — an increase which many real estate experts believe is only just begun.

Society After Capitol Lots.

The city of Washington is growing to the northwest with a rapidity which attracts the attention of all observers. Fifteen years ago the business center was on Pennsylvania avenue, between Ninth and Fourteenth streets. At that time F street, two blocks to the north, was chiefly occupied by residences. Ten years ago the center of business had been shifted from the avenue to F street, and almost every residence had been transformed into a shop.

F street is still the center, but within another five years it will have lost its prestige, for places of business are encroaching almost daily on the streets farther north and west. Within ten years the business center will be H street, and Connecticut avenue, from Fourteenth street west to Seventeenth, a neighborhood which until within the last three years was regarded as the swell residence section of the town.

MILLINERY AND DRESS.

Popular Fancies In Straw—Velvet and Embroidered Applications.

For morning wear quite a few hats are made of taffeta silk in two shades of one color, softened in many cases with a cream lace veil. Most of the new millinery shapes seem to be wide on the sides and short back and front. The straws used in making them are light and pliable, and several are used on one hat. Soft shades of green are pretty trimmed with foliage. Some hats for morning wear are of the Breton shade trimmed with little straw roses or big Alsatian straw bows. Bright cerise shading into ox blood is a favorite combination in hat trimmings. Orange and brown and brilliant light blue shading into navy are also popular tints.

Black chantilly lace is much employed in this season's millinery. It is particularly effective when it is used on white hats and combined with black ostrich tips.

Shirrings are now being used more than ever. They appear both on waists and skirts of all materials thin enough to be treated in this manner.

Touches of velvet cut out and applied on cloth are very smart. So also are bits of embroidered lace done in gold, silver or colors.

The cut shows a tricorne shaped hat of green straw trimmed with pink roses and a shaded pink bow.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

ACCESSORIES OF DRESS.

Sashes Are Again In Favor—Deep Kid and Silk Belts.

The deep belt has become an almost indispensable part of the costume. This belt is made of kid or silk, but kid is by far the smartest. It is shaped or else crushed. Some of the new belts are trimmed with buttons both front and back, and these are sewed on little crosswise strap effects.

White kid belts, white kid gloves, white linen shirt waists and bolero suits—these are combined with large white French sailor hats draped with lace or chiffon veils. The whole forms one of the smartest of summer costumes and one which, better still, can be laundered.

Overskirt and pannier effects are here to stay. The plain skirt is a thing of the past. Perhaps one of the easiest ways of making an old skirt up to date is by inserting a front panel of ruffings or embroidery and gathering the additional fullness thus gained into a hip yoke if there is no hem to let down.

Sashes are returning to favor, and quite a number of Parisian dressmakers are introducing them on the summer gowns they are making. But the new sash is anything but a simple affair. It is elaborately boned and knotted, and the ends are frequently trimmed with chiffon lace.

Every kind of linen, from the very coarsest to the finest, is in vogue, and never has Dame Fashion had so many varieties to place before her votaries. Loosely woven crashes flecked with color and coarse linens spangled with small rings of raised embroidery of the same color or of a darker shade are among the very newest designs.

The picture shows a traveling coat of blue cloth trimmed with white cloth revers and oriental embroidery. The hat is of soft straw, trimmed with a ribbon bow. JUDIC CHOLLET.

JAPANESE CUSTOMS

QUAINT CEREMONIES FOUND IN INTERIOR DISTRICTS.

Gentleness, Humility, Patience and Forbearance Teachings of the Lord Thaka—Pathetic Record of a Mother's Death.

Far from the "maddening crowd" in Japan I find not only the people and their language, but religion, too, are full of fathomless interest. True it is I am in the center of a province where the doctrines of the Lord Thaka, who came into the world to teach gentleness, humility, patience and forbearance, according to the Buddhistic laws, have a supreme sway, and as I watch the quaint symbols and tender little rites so conscientiously carried out, I echo the people's cry of "Mamu Amida Butsu" ("Hail and save us, Buddha"), and sigh for their Nirvana.

Here I have seen a sight not often met with in cities and towns, but frequently in the country places and suburbs. Two miles beyond the town a pathway plunges into a grove of dark pine trees and feathery bamboos, emerging by the banks of a quiet stream. By the water's edge is set a tall, slender wooden tablet, with notched edges and sides, covered with fantastic lettering. Four bamboo poles set in the water, their hollow tops filled with field flowers, suspend a piece of cotton cloth stamped with the Chinese characters, "Namu moi ho cen ge kol" (all hail to the life-giving scriptures"). Resting within the cloth lies a wooden dipper. Could anything be more touching than the significance of this nagare kanjo (flowing invocation), denoting, as it does, that a women has given up her life in the first sweet hours of motherhood, a pathetic record of the laying down of one life that another may live? According to the Buddhistic belief, when death claims for his victim a sufferer at this time, the soul passes away to languish in a lake of blood in the darkness of Hades, for a transgression committed in a former state of being. In order to obtain liberation for the spirit of the mother and lessen her penalties, the symbolic cloth must be so worn out by the continuous pouring of water into it that the liquid instead of draining falls through at once. Rarely a wayfarer passes by, sceptic or devout, as the case may be, but the ladle is reverently filled and emptied into the cloth to shorten the anguish of a soul in torment.

Leaving the water's edge and strolling far beyond the outskirts of the village, I reach a winding lane that leads me up a flight of moss-grown, crumbling steps into the cemetery, where little Buddhas, fresh mounds and gray headstones mark the last last resting place of countless sleepers. Last night, the close of the Feast of Lanterns, of Festival of the Dead, was celebrated, and thousands of lanterns and tiny pine torches twinkled over the hillsides, for the spirits of the departed have been revisiting the families and friends during three long peaceful days, at the end of which they were guided back again to their tombs by loved ones, who formed long processions, carrying lanterns that shed a subdued white light over the slowly moving throng.

Nor can I leave this hallowed ground without stopping to place a stone on the heap before the Roker Jizo, "The Six Jizo," the gods of little children. Piles of stones are placed before these statues, put there pebble on pebble by the relatives, generally women, who have felt the joys and woes of motherhood, with a prayer to Jizo, thus helping some child soul to pursue its weary march along the river bed of the Buddhist Styx without cutting and wounding its little feet.

A stone's throw from these Jizo, within the temple grounds, there stands a most curious tree, bound with a fringed rope of rice straw that signifies its sanctity, yet with a trunk cruelly wounded and scarred with iron spikes from five to seven inches in length, suspending little effigies of men made of straw. For this tree is supposed to possess supernatural powers of a very high order, and will visit vengeance upon those by whom and for whom it has been desecrated. Hence, in this primitive, out-of-the-way spot, a Japanese girl, disappointed in love, instead of placing roses upon the tomb of a faithless one who has broken her heart, waits for "the hour of the ox," two o'clock in the darkness of the morning, and with a crude image of straw, representing her lover, she repairs to a shrine, and, offering up her prayers for redress and future happiness, nails the effigy in place on the tree. These visits are paid several nights in succession to this same spot, until the object of the girl's vindictiveness sickens and dies.

BIG CLAIM FOR DAMAGES.

Brooklyn Maid of All Work Asks $10,000 for Mr. Kittle's Kisses, Hugs and Squeezes.

A New York newspaper correspondent thus itemizes the bill:

To Broker Charles S. Kittle, No. 81 Wall street, sundry kisses, hugs, hand squeezes, etc. (under duress) ..... $10,000

The creditor is Emma Kelacey, a servent, 20 years old. The consideration was delivered, or rather the damage was done, on the afternoon of March 25, at the home of Charles S.

HE HELD HER FAST.

Kittle, 1288 Degraw street, Brooklyn, in the absence of Mrs. Kittle, according to the legal papers duly setting forth the transaction, filed by Emma Kelacey in the Kings county supreme court. The case will be heard in the June trial term.

Mr. Kittle repudiates the bill, says it is blackmail and will fight the suit to the end.

Emma says in the papers that it was her misfortune to be alone in the Kittle home when the master of the house returned unexpectedly from his office.

He proceeded to the kitchen, she declares, and put his arm about her waist. Then, she avers, he kissed her again and again, causing her much mental anguish, and physical discomfort. He held her fast, she asserts, bruising her arms and neck. At that moment the bell rang.

"My God! my wife!" cried the broker, according to the complainant. He ran to the door. Emma locked herself in the butler's pantry. Kittle returned, says the complaint, and made speeches through the door, thereby adding to the bill of damages. Things were growing critical when the doorbell once more came to the rescue.

This time it was Mrs. Kittle, and the girl set about preparing dinner. The next morning she packed her trunk and left the house. With her lawyer, George A. Mott, she figured up her bill of damages at $10,000, and papers were served on the broker two weeks ago. He answered them through his attorney, James W. Ridgway. He makes a general denial.

GIRL FACES BIG BURGLAR.

Incidentally She Gives Him Tongue-Lashing and Makes Him Return Spoils.

"Hand over $23 and you may go."

The person who made the demand was a girl, young, fair and slender. The person to whom it was addressed was a burly man, who cowed before the gaze of the young woman.

One day not long ago Miss Katherine Fleming, of 426 South Waller avenue, in Chicago, was in the kitchen at her home, when she discovered the shadow of a moving form in the dining-room. Quietly she slipped around to a door leading into the dining-room, opened it quickly, and confronted a burglar, who was just in the act of stuffing some greenbacks in his pocket.

"HAND OVER THAT MONEY!"

So surprised was the burglar that he stook stalk still, unable to move under the gaze of the young woman.

"Give me back that money," she demanded. Then calling to her mother in an adjoining room, "Mother, how muen was there in the purse on the sideboard? Twenty-three dollars? All right. Mister Burglar, now you just hand over that $23 and you may go, although I have a notion to have you arrested."

Trembling like a leaf, the burglar counted out the money which he had taken from the sideboard and handed it over to the young woman. Miss Fleming pointed to the open door, and the fellow slunk through it like a whipped cur, and hurriedly boarded a passing street car. He wore a heavy false beard to hide his identity.

An Ideal Location

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,

14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

BRAZIL AND PERU.

Dogs of War Are Growling at Rio Janeiro and Lima.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The Brazilian legation has received the following communication from the Brazilian foreign office:

"The Brazilian government has prohibited the transit of arms and ammunition for Peru through the Brazilian part of the Amazones. The navigation of the Amazones was opened to all friendly nations by Brazil in the year 1866, and under the treaty of commerce and navigation with Peru of Oct. 10, 1891, certain facilities were granted her for the transit of various kinds of merchandise. But it is understood that these facilities only refer to innocent transit and in no way to that of elements of aggression against Brazil and her citizens. In this case the conventional right of transit which Peru might claim for other purposes enters into conflict with the natural and absolute right of Brazil to prevent and impede future aggressions. By that prohibition Brazil exercises the fundamental right of self preservation, which can prudently be resorted to before the use of reprisals."

TAYLOR MURDER.

State Trial Opened at Monticello, N. Y.—Miss Dekay on the Stand.

MONTICELLO, N. Y., May 24.—A jury for the trial of Mrs. Kate Taylor, charged with the murder of her husband, has been completed.

District Attorney F. S. Anderson opened the trial with a fifty minute address. He said that new testimony would be introduced to prove that Mrs. Taylor was assisted in killing Lafayette Taylor on the night of Jan. 26, 1903, and that her accomplice also assisted in disposing of the body.

District Attorney Anderson said the state also would prove that Mrs. Taylor had made two previous attempts on the life of her husband, once with an ax and later by attempting to burn him to death in the barn.

Ida May Dekay was placed upon the stand and told how the crime was committed. One hundred and sixteen jurymen were examined before the jury was completed.

COLORED MINISTERS' MEETING

SESSION IN FILMORE BAPTIST CHURCH, WHICH ALEXANDER KANE OWNS.

Several colored Baptist ministers from Jersey City, Orange and other out-of-town places, met at the Filmore Avenue Baptist church yesterday to express confidence in Rev. E. J. Crudup. Neither Rev. E. E. Jackson, of Mt. Olive Baptist, nor Rev. Scott Wallace, of Calvary Baptist church, was present.

Aleck Kane, the contractor, who purchased the church from the Scheidecker heirs last week, is wondering how the ministers got in the building. They had no right there, because the place was taken from them by the estate, and the doors were locked against them. Mr. Kane served formal demand for possession of the property yesterday to the estate and the church.

ODD JAPANESE CUSTOMS.

Bells Have No Tongues and Houses No Chimneys—Their Music Entirely Lacking in Harmony.

Japanese ladies have been known to do without stockings to maintain the harmony between beautiful French slippers and magnificent French evening dresses, says Queer Things About Japan.

I have been served by a Japanese hosier who did without everything he did not supply himself—he had a shirt, a collar and tie, and scarfpin and studs, but no trousers. And the effect of their absence was heightened by his wearing braces, because he sold them.

The Japanese do not kiss—if a Japanese girl knows how to kiss it shows the work of a foreign instructor; she does it as an accomplishment, not as an enjoyment.

The Japanese have no pens and ink, but they make a very good shift with a painting brush. The Japanese houses have no chimneys and you are never warm enough until the house catches fire.

The Japanese have beef and no mutton; the Chinese have mutton and no beef. Japanese bells, like Japanese belles, have no tongues. Japanese snakes have no poison; Japanese music has no harmony.

The Japanese alphabet is not an alphabet, but a selection of 70 useful ideograms to dispense with the 30,000 in ordinary use by the Chinese.

Martin Kelderling, of West Third Street, Says P. S. C. Crew Assaulted Him.

Martin Kelderling, of West Third street, who got in a dispute with the crew of a car coming from Bound Brook Saturday night, accuses the crew of throwing him from the car after assaulting him with the brass controller, until he lost consciousness. He claims the conductor asked him for his fare twice and beat him when he refused to pay a second time.

Small Loss by Fire.

A still alarm of fire this morning called the chemical engine and a hose wagon to the paint-shop of Thomas Osment, on West Fifth street, near Central avenue. The fire was due to spontaneous combustion among some rags. The only damage consisted of a couple of holes burned in the floor.

SILK MAKING IN JAPAN.

Done Almost Entirely by Women and Girls—American Imports.

At the beginning of the Japanese-Russo war it was predicted in Lyons that the outbreak of hostilities would be accompanied by an immediate rise in the price of raw silk, as Japan produces and exports about one-twelfth of the raw silk consumed in the world. As China is near the scene of hostilities and, it was surmised, might be involved in the war it was feared that the exports from that country might also be suspended, there was, as a consequence, some uneasiness in the minds of the dealers in that article. The aggregate silk product of the world is about 111,000,000 pounds. The annual value of this product is, in round numbers, $154,400,000. About 9,000,000 pounds of this silk come from Japan, and if that country were blockaded or the production suspended the shortage in raw silk would be very detrimental to business. But thus far the war has occasioned no change whatever in the silk market. Japanese merchants, knowing that their silk was as good as bank notes, were in no hurry to sell, except in a few isolated cases where individuals desired to contribute to the war fund. A large part of the crop was exported before the outbreak of hostilities and as it is carried in neutral ships there will be no danger of any difficulty in exporting what remains to the markets of Europe. The work of producing the raw silk is almost entirely done by women and girls. They gather the mulberry leaves, prepare them, feed the worms, and reel the silk from the cocoons. If need be they can put the raw silk in bales and prepare it for shipment. As the women are not in the army it is not likely that hostilities will in any way interfere with the production of silk. The only event in which the silk product of Japan could be withheld from the market would be the blockading of her ports.

Within the last month Lyonnese merchants have agitated the subject of imposing a duty on manufactured silk from Japan. The purchases of this silk from Japan now foot up to about $5,790,000 annually, and it is proposed to impose upon it a protective duty of about $1.50 per kilogram (75 cents per 1.1 pounds). When these goods are received here from Japan they are dyed and printed and reexported, large quantities of them going to the United States. They consist generally of pongees, tussah and corah. These goods could all be dyed in the United States. The new duty, although to be remitted when the Japanese goods are reexported, will, nevertheless, cause some inconvenience and delay. The shippers would like to avoid this if possible, and if their Japanese silks could be dyed in the United States it would save them one reshipment and the delay caused in paying the duties and in having them refunded upon transshipment to the United States. It seems to me that, with our better machinery and more skillful workmen, we might dye these goods as cheaply as the French. French manufacturers who have silk mills in the United States assure me that an American workingman will do three times as much work in a day as a Frenchman. They say our men are more active. Women who have lived here and employed French dressmakers in their homes assure me that an American dressmaker will do three or four times as much work in a day as a French girl. The dyers and printers of Lyons are emphatically opposed to the proposed duty and may succeed in defeating it; but if it should be imposed, I can see no reason why our people should not take advantage of it.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT ON HILLSIDE COURTS

Contests to be Held Here Under Auspices of the East N. J. Lawn Tennis Association.

SATURDAY AND MONDAY

HANDSOME PRIZES ARE OFFERED INDIVIDUAL PLAYERS AND TEAMS.

Programme of Events—G. H. Miller as Referee, T. M. Day, Jr., Chairman of Committee—Music at Clubhouse.

Preparations are being made by the tennis committee of the East Jersey Lawn Tennis Association for the championship tournament of the association for mixed doubles to be held on the courts of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, on Saturday and Monday, Memorial Day. There is every promise of a large entry list. This will be the only championship tournament on the local courts during the season under the auspices of this association.

Entries should be received by T. M. Day, Jr., 740 Carlton avenue, on or before 8 o'clock Friday night, at which time and place the drawing will be made.

Play will begin on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock and will be continued Memorial Day, both morning and afternoon, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning. All matches will be the best two sets out of three. No charge will be made for admission to the grounds. Individual prizes will be awarded to the winning team and the runners-up in the tournament.

The Hillside Tennis and Golf Club extends to all the members of the association a cordial invitation to make use of the facilities of the club throughout the day and evening of May 28 and 30. During this time the golf course will be open to such members, and the tennis courts will also be open, except while tournament play is in progress. On both days the steward will provide a cold lunch and a course dinner in the evening. There will be music both afternoon and evening. It has been arranged to have Gardiner H. Miller act as referee and this committee will be in charge: T. M. Day, Jr., chairman; R. N. Black, Sydney L. Smith, Charles Dupee and Frederick W. Goddard.

In addition to the mixed doubles championship, these championship tournaments will be held during the season under the auspices of the association, open only to members of clubs composing it.

Men's singles, at Jersey City Golf Club, Saturday afternoons, June 18 and 25; men's doubles, at the Roselle Casino, July 4, all day, and afternoon of Saturday, July 9; women's singles, at the Westfield Club, September 15, 16 and 17.

Detailed information regarding these tournaments will be issued later on. Gardiner H. Miller, president of the association, has offered a silver loving cup for the club championship, to be awarded to the club winning the greatest number of points in the four association championship tournaments. The first place in each event recount five points and the second place two points, the cup to be held for one year by the winning club and to become the permanent property of the club winning the same three times, not necessarily in succession.

Besides the association championship tournaments, the open tournament of the East Jersey Lawn Tennis Association, under the auspices of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, will be held at the Elizabeth Town and Country Club, August 31 to September 5.

There are several members of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club who have been playing tennis this season, getting in condition for the tournaments and they give promise of being among the leaders.

PARTITION PROCEEDINGS.

The Testimony Complete in Suit Brought Over Scribner Estate.

Special Master in Chancery William V. Steele finished taking testimony in the action brought by Mrs. Helen Randolph against her brother, Sylvester Scribner, to compel the partition of their father's estate. Mr. Steele will report to the Chancellor in favor of the complainant.

A number of new witnesses were examined. W. S. Angleman, Esq., appeared for the complainant. The property involved is all in North Plainfield. Under the expected order of the Chancellor it will be sold.

APPOINTED VICE CHANCELLOR

LINDLEY M. GARRISON, BROTHER OF THE JUSTICE, GETS A PLUM.

Lindley M. Garrison, of Jersey City, was appointed a vice chancellor by Chancellor Magie yesterday. He will succeed Vice Chancellor Alfred Reed, of Trenton, who recently resigned to accept an appointment as an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Garrison is a brother of Supreme Court Justice Charles G. Garrison, of Camden. He will be the youngest member of the Court of Chancery, having been admitted to the New Jersey bar in 1888. He is a Democrat. Mr. Garrison will sit at Chancery Chambers, in Jersey City, and on the retirement of Vice Chancellor Reed, on June 15, Vice Chancellor J. J. Bergen will sit at the State House in Trenton. It is also understood that Vice Chancellor Bergen will succeed Vice Chancellor Reed as vice-ordinary of the Prerogative Court.

FIRE DESTROYS LANDMARK

THE COTTREL HOUSE IN WASHINGTON VALLEY REDUCED TO ASHES.

The old Cottrell house, one of the landmarks of Washington Valley, was totally destroyed by fire last night. For the past ten years the place has been unoccupied, the owner, Mrs. Charles Cottrell, refusing, it is said, to either rent or sell the property.

Time had changed the place until it has been practically a ruin for several years. Tramps have been using it as a haven of rest, and it is no doubt due to their carelessness that the fire originated. Flames were discovered in the old wash house about 9 o'clock. Shortly afterwards the house caught and by the time the Scotch Plains fire department arrived on the scene the roof had fallen in.

All that could be done was the saving of the barn. The fire was a spectacular one, situated as the house was, on the highest point of the mountain, the blaze could be seen for miles and drew many to the scene. It is said that no insurance was carried on the property as the insurance companies cancelled the policies when the owner removed to Bayonne nearly fifteen years ago.

DENMAN HOPES FOR VICTORY

WESTFIELD TO STRENGTHEN ITS TEAM FOR BATTLE WITH ALIS.

Word has reached here from Mt. Aarrat, the home of Manager Denman's baseball camp that there will be something doing before he makes his first visit to Crescent Oval on Saturday to meet Alis. The result of Saturday's game with the Aeolians has cast a shadow across the genial manager's countenance and the baseball town is in deep gloom. A follower of the Westfield team remarked yesterday that not more than two faces would be recognized when the team comes to Plainfield—possibly Waller and Burke, the battery. Denman cannot hope to win the first game with Alis if his team puts up the article exhibited with the organ grinders and it is said that there will be a general shakeup this week.

But it makes no difference what Westfield changes are made, Manager Johnston and Captain Lauder have decided to win Saturday's game and the fast bunch that sports on Crescent Oval will do all in its power to administer defeat good and proper. "Lefty" Davis is taking unusual care of his southpaw this week and when he faces the colts from down the line he will be prepared to hold them down. Besides Farmer will be there to prevent any base-stealing, if Captain Mallon's team is fortunate enough to reach a base. Alis will be trained to the hour and from the sound of the gong to the end of the game it will be fast ball.

Change in Operators.

Miss Flossy M. Johnson, lately an operator at the Western Union headquarters in New York, has been made assistant operator to Manager O. H. Schermerhorn of the local office. Miss Johnson takes the place of Frank Spiro, who has been transferred to the East 49th Street station, Bayonne.

—Really good butter is worth more than is charged for it. It is a rare commodity in modern groceries. Neuman Bros. have it in their Rockdale Prints, Rockdale Creamery and Fancy Elgin Creamery. Cheaper than formerly—Prints, 27 cents; Rockdale Creamery, 26 cents; Elgin, 24 cents.

CENTRAL RAILROAD TO IMPROVE STATIONS

Umbrella Sheds and Iron Fences Are to be Placed at Grant and Clinton Avenues.

NEW SWITCH TOWERS

INNOVATION TO BE MADE AT PLAINFIELD, DUNELLEN AND ELSEWHERE.

Arrangements at Grant Avenue to be Somewhat Similar to Those at North Avenue—No Tunnels to be Constructed.

With a view to protecting the interests of their patrons, as well as those of the company and providing additional safe-guards, the officials of the New Jersey Central have decided to make extensive improvements to their property at the Grant and Clinton avenue stations. At each of these stations an iron fence will be erected, separating the east and westbound tracks. What are called umbrella sheds will be erected on the westbound side at Grant avenue and the eastbound side at Clinton avenue, similar to those at other stations along the road. These improvements will call for an expenditure of several thousand dollars.

In addition to erecting the fences and sheds stone steps will be built leading from the street to the stations. It has been the custom for patrons of the road, as well as others, to take short cuts across the tracks at the stations named. The practice has become so general that the improvements were decided upon.

At the Grant Avenue Station the commuters will find the greatest change. Instead of being permitted to cut across the station park, on the west side, in the morning to catch their trains they will have to walk through Grant avenue and approach the station on the eastside, the same as at the North Avenue Station. There will be no great inconvenience for those going west, except that they must purchase their tickets on the east side. No tunnels will be built at these stations.

Another improvement to be made is the placing of interlocking switch towers, one in this city, one at Dunellen and one at Bound Brook. Plans for these have been underway for some time past. The erection of these towers will greatly facilitate the operation of trains and reduce to a minimum the possibility of accidents, as they will take the place of the small hand switches now in use here and at Dunellen and Bound Brook. Work on these improvements will be started within a short time and hastened toward completion.

SUMMERS BUYS PROPERTY.

Mrs. Sarah Vermeule's Place on Watchung Avenue is Sold.

A. B. Summers, the expressman, of Watchung avenue, today purchased Mrs. Sarah Vermeule's residential property adjoining his at 111 113-115 Watchung avenue. The purchase price was $4,100. Mrs. Vermeule, as soon as she can arrange matters, will leave for San Francisco to join her daughter, Mrs. Pearson, wife of Lieut. Samuel B. Pearson. Lieut. Pearson is now on duty in the Yosemite and he is likely to remain there some time.

This property, one of the oldest in the city, will be greatly improved by Mr. Summers. He may occupy it when completed. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vermeule, who have been making their home there, have not yet decided where they will live.

To Avoid Railroad Fatality.

Employes at the North Avenue Station yesterday received a new order requiring them in the future to allow no outsiders to pass through the gates in the fence which separates the east and westbound tracks. Each employe must have a key to the lock on the gate and he is required to unlock and lock the gate every time he passes through. It has been customary for others to take a short cut through this gate and the fact having come to the knowledge of the officials, it was decided to put a stop to the practice before a fatality occurred at that point.

Mr. Meeker to Return to Fair.

State Supervisor of Roads R. A. Meeker, who came home from St. Louis on Monday, will return to the World's Fair City within a week's time.

Trial of Criminal Cases.

The criminal cases left over from the April term of the Somerville court will be taken up by Judge Schenck for trial next Tuesday.

MR. WIGHTMAN FAVORS SOMERSET STREET SITE

Reasons Advanced by North Plainfield Superintendent for Centralized Schools.

RESULTS ARE BETTER

CONGESTED SECTIONS NEAR THE SOMERSET STREET LOCATION.

Grading and Grouping to be More Easily Done—Desire of Parents to Send Their Children to the "Big" School.

Superintendent Wightman, of the borough schools, is one of those who thinks the establishment of the new school on the Somerset street corner lot would be wise. Coming from the most practical educator among those interested in the matter, his views on the desirability of the lot are valuable.

"The chief reason in favor of the lot," he said yesterday in the course of a conversation with a Daily Press reporter, "and one which I do not think has been advanced yet, is that with centralized schools the work of grading the pupils can be done better and more satisfactorily. In a school on the outskirts we will have to give a teacher to whatever number of pupils there may be in a group. If there are only thirty children in one particular group, say, we would be compelled to assign a teacher to that group. With the schools centralized we could group and grade so as to give teachers full sized groups — forty pupils, or more, if she could handle them. Centralization, you see, means economy in teaching and effort.

"Another thing: Figures show that the congested sections are Harmony and Grove streets. These streets are within easy distance of Somerset street. Moreover the people do not really mind sending their children from the outskirts to the Somerset street school. It is a proved and indubitable fact that the majority of them prefer to send their children to 'the big school,' and will register pupils here from beyond Watchung avenue, rather than at the Watchung school, whenever possible."

It is known that the school board, in considering the site question, took cognizance of this sentiment. Some of the board members felt that as long as it existed it furnished a strong point in favor of the corner lot.

SMITH STARTS TOMORROW

NEW MARKET'S "MAGNATE" TO LEAVE FOR ST. LOUIS.

Mayor Bill Smith, of New Market, will leave for Detroit, Mich., tomorrow to take possession of his specially designed automobile touring car. He will be accompanied by his wife.

The completion of the machine has been delayed by the necessity of putting on special devices stipulated by the New Market magnate.

The auto firm is paying his expenses to Detroit.

From Detroit the Smiths will go to the St. Louis Fair in the big machine.

MISS SCHMIDT HURT.

Confined to Hospital, Her Right Arm Broken in An Accident.

As a result of colliding with a hack, driven by Moses Carey, Miss Kathleen Schmidt will be confined to Muhlenberg Hospital for a few days with a broken right arm. The accident happened at 10 o'clock last night near the corner of East Third and Richmond streets.

Miss Schmidt, who was riding a bicycle, was thrown to the roadway and sustained a simple fracture of the arm just above the wrist. She was taken to the office of Dr. J. B. Probasco where the fracture was reduced. Afterward she was removed to the hospital.

Miss Loomis Married.

News of the marriage of Miss Edith Loomis, the daughter of Ezra Loomis, who lived in this city until four years ago, has been received by her friends here. She married J. G. Wilson, of Brooklyn. Rev. Dr. Houghton performed the ceremony at the Little Church Around the Corner.

A Summer Trip.

Many people are now planning to go away from home. A good arrangement, and one that will relieve them from all care is to send the silverware and jewelry to the City National Bank for storage. The vaults in this bank are large and secure.

FORESTERS HOLD A BIG CELEBRATION

Members of the Order in This City, Dunellen, Westfield, and Bound Brook Gather.

EIGHTY NEW MEMBERS

A CANADIAN FORMER SECRETARY OF STATE MAKES AN ADDRESS.

History of the Order—Originated in Newark—Four Hundred Members in This City—Held in the Casino.

Forester lodges of this city, Dunellen, Westfield, South Plainfield and Bound Brook, joined in a big celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of the order at the Casino last night. The observance was held by Courts Plainfield and Watchung, of this city; Dunellen, of Dunellen; Bound Brook, of Bound Brook; Provident, of Westfield, and South Plainfield, of South Plainfield. Ninety-two of the 100 courts in the State are celebrating the anniversary during this week.

Members of the order and their friends of both sexes, from all the places named, filled the Casino to overflowing. Prominent members of the order were present to emphasize the notable character of the occasion. There was a programme of entertainment and speaking, besides impressive anniversary services, which included the presentation of a big class of candidates.

The officers of the anniversary, who faced the audience from the platform, were as follows: Chief Ranger, Past High Chief Ranger H. H. Lowrie, of this city; orator, Henry O. Buckley, of Westfield; vice chief ranger, L. T. Titsworth, of Dunellen; past chief ranger, H. B. Wyckoff, of Dunellen. Among the distinguished visitors were Deputy Supreme Chief Ranger Frank Hand, of New York; Deputy Supreme Chief Ranger W. T. Bingham, of Elizabeth, and Past High Chief Ranger J. C. Calvert, of Elizabeth.

For the speaker of the evening the courts had a distinguished Canadian publicist, Hon. Dr. W. H. Montague, Ex-Secretary of State of the Dominion. He delivered a scholarly and eloquent address upon the birth and growth of the order, and spoke in high terms of "the magnificent work" the celebrating courts had done.

The address was the feature of the anniversary services. These included readings from the ritual and a proclamation by Oronhyatekha, M. D., the famous Indian head of the order. At the close of the services eighty new members of the order, all of whom had been brought in during the past six weeks by the allied courts, were presented to Dr. Montague for reception. He addressed them on the meaning of the order, and welcomed them to the ranks of Forestry. More than forty of the candidates were presented by the Plainfield courts.

All the entertainment numbers of the programme were furnished by New York professionals, and the bill was an unusually excellent one. George Botsford, Little West Sisters, Add. W. Hoyt, Charles H. Sheck, Miss Lillian Bender, Young and Chantrell and Schuyler were the entertainers.

It is peculiarly fitting that the New Jersey courts celebrated the anniversary, because the order was born in this State. The first court was organized in Newark in 1874. Since then the order has made wondreful strides.

On May 1, this year, it had a balance of $7,630,000 in the treasury, and the membership numbers 225,000. Last year the order paid out in sick and death claims in New Jersey $115,000. No extra assessment has been called by the order since the establishment of the "stipulated payment system" in 1881. Dr. Oronhyatekha has been at the head of the order for twenty-three years.

The Foresters are strong in this city. They have over 400 members here, and the lodges represented at the celebration last night have a combined membership of 800 or more.

Last night's affair was arranged by the following committee: L. T. Titsworth, of Dunellen, chairman; Dr. H. H. Lowrie, James M. Smith, A. F. Randolph, John Knight, Jr., Lweis Randolph, of this city; H. S. Buckley, of Westfield; H. B. Wyckoff, of Dunellen, and R. J. Shapley, of Bound Brook.

It is announced that Rev. George F. Buckle, pastor of the Graystone Presbyterian church, Elizabeth, has decided to resign from the pastorate, the resignation to take effect July 1.

SOCIAL AT FIRST BAPTIST

JOLLY TIME AFFORDED BY YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETY.

Enjoyment almost juvenile in its hilarity marked the social held at the First Baptist church last night by the Young People's Society. The exciting "March to Jerusalem," in which nearly every one present took part was won by Guyon Fountain amid unanimous applause.

"Spin the platter," charades, and several other amusements were tried in turn; the most comical of the number being a leap year auction in which the men were put up for sale by N. Douglas Drake and knocked down to the highest bidder among the girls. As the currency consisted of beans, some exceptionally reckless bidding was done.

Mrs. J. B. Probasco is chairman of the social committee which is formed of the following young people: Velma F. Oakley, Ella Mackey, Elizabeth Wilson, Harriet Mattison and Fred Armstrong.

TWO FALSE ALARMS OF FIRE

BOROUGH FIRE DEPARTMENT IS TWICE CALLED OUT NEEDLESSLY.

Two more false alarms brought out the borough fire department last night. One rang in at 10:30, from the box at Hudson avenue and Somerset street, and the other came in shortly before 2 o'clock from the box at Harrison and Cedar streets.

Chief Marshal Weiss, of the borough police force, is engaged in a determined attempt to run the offenders down. He has two suspects under surveillance and an arrest may be made in a day or two.

One thing good that the alarms do is to give the men useful training. On the first alarm they came out of the house before the second round ended.

The borough officials are wrought to a high pitch over the tampering with the alarm system. Mayor Smalley is strongly indignant, and this morning he offered a reward of $100 for information leading to the arrest of the guilty men. He has inserted a formal offer of the reward in The Daily Press.

SALE FOR HOSPITAL BENEFIT

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY NETS $137 FOR NURSES' HOME FUND.

Under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, a sale of fancy and useful articles, candy, cake, ice cream and lemonade was held at the home of Mrs. C. Wesley Holland in West Seventh street, yesterday afternoon. There was a gratifying patronage in aid of the fund for the new nurses' home soon to be built. The net profit were $137.

In the decorations, the hospital colors, red and white, were used in the dining room and on the lawn, where lemonade and cream were served at booths. There were several little waitresses who were also dressed in the hospital colors.

These women were in charge of the affair: Mrs. C. Wesley Holland, Mrs. Julia M. VanBuren, Miss Elizabeth R. Cook, Mrs. Hugh Hasting, Mrs. Samuel Huntington, Mrs. H. M. Stockton, Mrs. F. H. Andrews, Mrs. E. H. Ladd, Jr., Mrs. W. T. Pellstier, Mrs. E. S. Hyatt, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Darke, Mrs. W. L. C. Glenney, Mrs. C. S. Guion, Mrs. Daniel T. Ginna, Mrs. Henry E. Bowen, Miss Schipper, Mrs. R. M. Stover and Mrs. C. M. Church.

These young women assisted as waitresses: The Misses Fleming, Finch, Martin, Harmon, Hyatt, Marie Loring, Ella Holland, Molly Perkins, Louise Saunders, Maisie Day and Florence Curtis. In addition these young girls assisted: Jean Saunders, Elizabeth McGee, Alberta Holland, Catherine Ginna and Louise Andrews.

Acts Without Authority.

Mr. Pearson, of 1139 Dunellen avenue, requests The Daily Press to state that a Thomas Skinner, colored, has no authority to solicit money for the purpose of defraying burial expenses of James Haines, who was killed at Garwood on Saturday. Mr. Pearson desires to warn the public against giving money to Mr. Skinner.

Big Reward Offered.

One hundred dollars reward for evidence that will lead to arrest and conviction of any person ringing in a false alarm of fire in the borough of North Plainfield.

Newton B. Smalley,
Mayor.

PERSONAL ASSESSMENT MUST BE MUCH LARGER

County Board Expects An Increase of at Least $150,000 in This City.

ASSESSORS AT WORK

GREAT VALUATIONS ARE TO BE FOUND IN THE FIRST WARD.

Hard Work to Cover the Fourth Ward—Commissioners of Appeal to Meet After Assessors Work is Entirely Completed.

With the exception of Charles H. Hand, all of the assessors of the city have started their annual tours about the town. Mr. Hand will commence the work in his ward on Monday. It is estimated that a week and a half is required to cover the entire city and make the proper assessment on the basis of a house to house canvass. Mr. Hand has the advantage of his fellow-members because he makes use of a horse and carriage.

While there are a number of new buildings to be assessed this year, it is not believed that the general increase will be as large as anticipated. The Board of Assessors received a special notice from the State Board instructing them to increase the personal assessment. This is a matter that has not always been strictly adhered to; that is, there are some persons who no doubt should pay more personal tax than they do and the State Board undoubtedly has knowledge of this fact. One of the local assessors said yesterday that if there is not an increase of at least $150,000 in the assessment on personal property in the entire city this year, the board is likely to get a severe "call down." However, it is generally admitted that Plainfield's assessors are about as fair and judicious in their work as any in the State. They are men of intelligence in the matter of assessment and while any one is likely to make mistakes, they know the value of property and always try to place the proper assessment upon it.

Charles Hand says that the great money valuations are to be found in the First ward, while the great number of taxpayers are located in the Fourth ward. In spite of this the Second and Third wards are considered good both as to number of taxpayers and the value of their property.

In each ward but the Fourth, the assessors are able to cover the ground alone. In the Fourth Assessor H. C. Runyon is generally assisted by Assessor Hubbard and David Pope, of Collector Smith's office. There is so much territory to cover and so many thickly populated sections that it is almost impossible for one man to do this work within the prescribed time, when one realizes that he is obliged to call at every house and store.

After all of the assessments are made the Board meets and confers regarding its report to the county board at Elizabeth. In the meantime the Commissioners of Appeal hold their meetings to confer with protesting taxpayers, the Common Council has to pass on the assessments and then the county board meets and fixes the rate. While the local board can guess fairly accurate what the rate here will be, not until the county board concludes its labors is it known definitely.

Plainfield has always prided itself on its low rate and every effort will be made this year to keep it as low as possible and not exceed the present rate. This is a difficult matter when one considers the number of improvements made and desired. The city wants a municipal system of garbage collection, a three-platoon police system and all the advantages of a place many times that of this city, but the city fathers have come to the conclusion that all these things cost money and a careful policy has been adopted, all of which has been of benefit to the town. This is shown in the recognized credit of Plainfield throughout the country.

A. L. Titsworth Improving.

Arthur L. Titsworth, who was operated upon at the hospital on Saturday, continues to improve. He will probably be able to leave the hospital within a week, although it will be another week or ten days before he can resume business.

Exemplified U. O. of I. O. L. Work.

Mrs. W. N. Roberts, of Boston, one of the Grand Lodge officers of the Odd Ladies, visited Mizpah Lodge, No. 1, U. O. of I. O. L., last night and exemplified the new work.

The Day of Outings.

The one pleasure which the American public thoroughly enjoys is its outings. Low priced and at popular places and where there may be unrestrained enjoyment in out-of-door sports. Around New York there are many popular resorts but perhaps the most popular for holiday excursions is Mauch Cuhnk in the mountains of Pennsylvania. The journey is delightful and passes through an interesting country, through the farm lands of New Jersey and then into that busy section of the Keystone State which bristles with industries which are renowned the world over. Mauch Chunk is high in the mountains and the exhilarating atmosphere is a tonic for the hived-up city man. The chief feature of the trip to Mauch Chunk is to make the journey over the Switchback railroad which is a gravity road some eighteen miles in length. The tourist is carried at a rapid rate to the inclines of Mt. Pisgah and Jefferson over which the cars are lifted by mammoth mechanical devices only to continue the romantic journey to the end, ever fascinating and thrilling. On Decoration Day the New Jersey Central will run one of its popular priced excursions to Mauch Chunk, the rate for the round trip to be $1.50, and special train will leave Plainfield at 9:20 a. m., returning train will leave Mauch Cuhnk at 5:30 p. m. At the time the notice of the lay-off reached Mr. Duvier he was erecting some electrical machinery at the Colegate soap plant in Jersey City. The lay-off is only temporary however.

The machinists at the Campbell Press Company's plant are being amused daily by the tame white mice which exist in the shop. The mice are so tame that they sit on the carriage of the lathe and watch the tool cut chips. Yesterday one of the mice became so bold that he actually sat on the bench and partook of the dinner which one of the men was eating.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

The Bumptious Clime.

To apply a nautical phrase to the military, there is need of someone clapping a stopper on the jaw-tackle of Lieutenant-Colonel J. F. Clime, of the Second Regiment, N. G. N. J., who proceeded to shoot off his mouth at a military banquet at Plainfield, berating the Legislature for not passing a top-heavy National Guard bill which did not meet with popular approval and was especially obnoxious to the rank and file of the Guard in this State.

Lieutenant-Colonel Clime may think that the minds of some members of the Legislature are as narrow as a three-cent piece, but it is in mighty bad taste for him to declare himself to that effect while in uniform, attending a military function. He seems to forget that the State militia is the creature of the Legislature and that it is not proper for an understrapper to berate his superior.

The trouble with Clime, and with other officers who drafted the bill which the Legislature turned down, is that they look upon the National Guard as a purely military machine to be run on the same lines as the regular army is run, and its gold-lace colonels are to have arbitrary power, while the man in the ranks must not reason why, but simply toe the mark and obey orders.

These martinets try to nullify the constitutional right of the rank and file to elect their own officers, and in every way would restrict the rights which the private holds as a citizen, even when he is in State uniform.

It was opposition to this bill within the National Guard itself as well as from the outside which induced the Legislature to turn it down. It was a top-heavy and ill-contrived measure and met a deserved fate.

Postponement of action on acceptance of the Dick bill will work no harm but rather good to the National Guard. If the bumptious Clime and other gold-lace martinets are sent to the rear and intelligent representatives of all grades of the service allowed to participate in the drafting of a common-sense military bill, for presentation to the next Legislature, its passage may be secured, but the National Guard will gain nothing by ill-mannerly officers berating a branch of the State government they are sworn to uphold.—Camden Post-Telegram.

HER MOTHER'S CRIME

Daughter Told of Lafayette Taylor's Death.

UNCLE CHARGED AS GUILTY PARTNER

Ida May De Kay Testified to Seeing the Murder Committed — Victim First Shot and Then Chopped Up With an Ax.

MONTICELLO, N. Y., May 25.—In the trial for murder of Mrs. Kate Taylor, Ida May De Kay, Mrs. Taylor's daughter, charged her uncle, Peter Yerkins, with being at the Taylor house on the night that Lafayette Taylor was murdered. She was asked by District Attorney Anderson to tell what she saw. She said: "I was in bed and was awakened by a shot. I got up and went into the next room and saw Lafe Taylor holding the door leading to the kitchen with one hand and trying to pull on his boots with the other. I went through the door into the kitchen and saw my mother trying to get the door open and get at Lafe. I went out on the stoop for a few minutes. When I returned I heard a second shot in the kitchen and went in and saw my father's body on the floor, with my mother standing over it, with a revolver in her hand, trying to fire it again."

Mrs. Taylor took some old coats, put them under Taylor's head and grabbed an ax and cut the head off and put it in the stove. Kate Taylor then rushed to the stoop, grabbed a lighted lantern and swung it around three times and came back into the house.

"Peter Yerkins then came into the house and asked if Lafe was dead?"

Mrs. Taylor answered, "Yes."

Mrs. Taylor again took the ax and tried to cut off one of Taylor's legs, then laid the ax down before she had succeeded. Yerkins then took the ax and finished cutting off the leg.

Ida May went to bed and left Yerkins and her mother together with the body. When she awakened the next morning Yerkins had disappeared, and her mother was still burning the body. She did not think her mother had slept.

Mrs. Taylor broke down and wept when her fifteen-year-old daughter took the witness stand to testify against her.

"No," said the girl in reply to a question asked by Attorney Smith for the defense; "Lafe Taylor never abused or struck me, because mamma wouldn't let him. But on many occasions he threatened to kill both mamma and myself. Once he drove us from the house in the middle of the night with a big knife, saying he would murder us. We went out into the snow without shoes or stockings and walked over to Mr. Martin's, where we stayed all night. On other occasions he chased mother with an ax, threatening to cut her head open."

"Who did you first tell that Peter Yerkins was at your home on the night Lafe Taylor was killed?" asked Attorney Smith.

"I told Mrs. James Taylor at her home, and she told me to tell the district attorney," answered the witness.

"Why didn't you tell that story on the former trial instead of waiting for a year to tell it?"

"I was afraid to tell, because Peter Yerkins told mamma and myself if we told any one he was there and he got arrested when he got out he would kill us both."

Miss Dekay, who was on the witness stand five hours, was followed by Deputy Sheriff John R. Rice. He related the confession Mrs. Taylor made to him in her cell at the time of Peter Yerkins' arrest.

"I heard a rap on her cell door and responded to it," he said.

"'Have you arrested Peter Yerkins?' Mrs. Taylor inquired, and I replied, 'Yes.' 'What was he arrested for?' she asked. 'He is charged with murder in the first degree for the murder of Lafe Taylor,' I replied. Mrs. Taylor was furious and said: 'Why, Yerkins is innocent. He doesn't know anything about the killing of Taylor. Ida and I were the only ones there.' 'How did you do the deed?' I asked. 'I shot him and then cut off his head and arms and burned them in the kitchen stove. The remainder of the body I chopped up and put in a sack and stowed away in the pantry. It took me two or three days to burn all the body. The large bones I burned to a char, cracked them up fine with the head of the ax and fed them to the chickens with cracked corn,' said Mrs. Taylor."

The wisdom of inaugurating municipal street sprinkling has been demonstrated, the results obtained being very satisfactory at the present time. Eight wagons are kept at work on the streets from morning until night, and altogether ninety miles are covered daily.

No time should be lost by the North Plainfield councilmanic fire committee in doing away with the glass front to the fire alarms in the outer districts of North Plainfield. In the short time that the new plan has been in use the fire department has been called out three times on needless errands, caused in each instance by someone breaking the glass and ringing in false alarms. The only way to stop the practice is to abandon the glass front scheme.

Mr. H. S. Keitkamp, the head of a manufacturing establishment, told, at a recent dinner, of his advertising experience. He had been persuaded to take space in a newspaper for an indefinite time. "As the result of this advertising," he says, "we have been obliged to increase the manufacture seven-fold. We have had to stop selling goods to catch up with our orders—and this is the more wonderful when I tell you that the condition of business in our line had been bad, very bad. Our advertising has increased our sales all over the United States."—Ex.

FANWOOD TOWNSHIP PEOPLE MEET TONIGHT

Lack of Proper School Accommodations to be Remedied by Action Taken by the Voters.

FAVORED BY BOARD

NEW BUILDING IS DESIRED BY VOTERS OF DISTRICT NO. 2.

Talk of Selling the Present Property and Purchasing Tract on Raritan Road—Need for a New Building is Growing More Urgent.

The voters of Fanwood township will meet in the assembly room of the Scotch Plains school tonight for the purpose of considering the question of better school facilities for District No. 2, located at the lower end of the township. For a number of years many children from that end of the township, which is sparsely settled, have had to walk to and from school.

When the building was erected it was supposed to be centrally located but there seems to have been a tendency for this end of the township to grow westward and away from the little one-story building. For a number of years the building answered the demands as to accommodations but for several years past the increase in the school attendance has taxed the building to its utmost capacity. Last year it was found to be far too small to accommodate the children, so arrangements were made by the Board of Education by which the children were enabled to attend the Mt. Pleasant school. But this arrangement has been far from satisfactory to the residents and a clamor has been made for over a year for a new school building centrally located.

The Board of Education has been powerless to help them as it required a vote of the taxpayers for this purpose, so a meeting of the voters has been called to decide the question. The voters from District No. 2 will be out in force, no doubt, to offset any opposition that may develope from the residents of the 'Plains, although from present indications the meeting will be a most harmonious one. The plea of the residents of District No. 2 seems to be a just one and meets with the favor of the Board of Education.

The question to be discussed is the advisability of selling the interest of the school property and purchasing a site on Raritan road, near the John L. Darby property, erect a modern school building; one that can at least accommodate the scholars who desire to attend school.

DUNELLEN.

The concert which will be given in the chapel of the Presbyterian church on Friday evening, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society, by the Georgia Jubilee Singers, is one of merit. The singers who will appear are the ones who gave a similar concert here a little more than a year ago and their good entertainment was the talk of the church folk for a long time afterward.

Members of Court Dunellen, I. O. F., went to Plainfield last evening, where they attended the thirtieth anniversary entertainment given by the united courts of the Plainfield District Independent Order of Foresters, which was held in the Casino.

NEW MARKET.

Although the New Market Y. M. A. team has won all its games so far this season, Captain Nelson realizes that it will have to play a strong game to win from the Reform A. A. team on Saturday, and he has his men hard at practise every evening.

Nearly all of the members of the G. E. Society attended the annual meeting which was held with Miss Emma Nelson on Monday evening. A May day party was the feature of the occasion.

THE COSSACKS FLED

General Kuroki Reports Defeat of Russian Force.

SQUADRON WAS ALMOST WIPED OUT

Paris Hears of Great Japanese Defeat—Continued Skirmishing In Hills Near Liaoyang—Japs Playing a Waiting Game.

LONDON, May 25.—A Tokyo dispatch says General Kuroki has reported that a section of Japanese infantry encountered and defeated 200 Cossacks at Toutaokou, eight miles northeast of Kuangtien. The Cossacks fled to Aiyoungpinemen, leaving twenty dead. The Japanese sustained no losses.

Additional details of the fight at Wangchiatun, near Takushan, indicate that the squadron of Cossacks was almost annihilated by the Japanese infantry, which surrounded and completely routed the enemy. All the Russian officers were killed, wounded or captured. Natives report that some of the Cossacks escaped on foot, abandoning their equipment. Many killed or wounded were found on the battlefield.

A Paris report says the Japanese have been defeated, with terrible loss, in a battle near Kinchau. The report says the Japanese lost 9,000 men, the Russians 3,000. No details are given. There are two places of that name in the zone of active war operations, and the Japs have been trying to force a fighting at both. One is south of Newchwang; the other is on the Port Arthur railroad, just north of the besieged port.

A report from Liaoyang says there is continual skirmishing between the Russian cavalry and the Japanese. Cossacks are harassing the Japanese in the hills and byroads, generally driving them back.

The general plan of the Japanese has not been divulged. They are apparently marking time, awaiting the arrival of reserves from Korea, who have been delayed owing to the impassability of the roads.

The Japanese are sending all invalids in the direction of the Yalu to a central hospital.

The Chinese report the destruction of another Japanese battleship off Port Arthur, but the report is unconfirmed and is not credited.

Several Japanese who landed from junks near Port Arthur and started toward the town with the intention of dynamiting the docks were captured and shot.

A typhoon is raging off the coast.

A St. Petersburg report says the prevailing opinion at the headquarters of the general staff is that the withdrawal of the Japanese upon Fengwangcheng means that the enemy has decided to devote himself primarily to operations against Port Arthur and that the present object of General Kuroki, with the first army, supported by General Nadya, with the third army, now landing near Takushan, is to watch General Kuropatkin and prevent a move southward, which would take General Oku and the second army, on the Liaotung peninsula, in the rear.

A Liaoyang dispatch says that the Japanese have evacuated Fengwangcheng and are occupying the villages in the surrounding territory. It is thought that it may be connected with the prevailing cholera epidemic.

From Mukden it is reported that General Rennenkampff's Cossacks have captured two Japanese transport columns, thus leaving the Japanese army without supplies in a difficult country.

Gillespie Murder Trial.

RISING SUN, Ind., May 25.—The fate of James S. Gillespie, Myron Barbour, Mrs. Carrie Barbour, his wife, and Mrs. Belle Seward, charged with the murder of Elizabeth Gillespie, will soon hang on the deliberations of the jury. The direct examination of James Gillespie has been concluded, and, contrary to expectation, the cross examination was not protracted. Mrs. Belle Seward was the last witness called by the defense, and, like the other defendants, she denied all connection with the crime. The testimony is all in. The state, however, gave notice that if the court would allow it the state would call Myron Barbour and would ask him the cause of his unfriendliness to Elizabeth Gillespie.

Alkali Ike Is Dead.

GRAND ENCAMPMENT, Wyo., May 25.—Daniel Burrows, familiarly known on the frontier as Alkali Ike, is dead at his cabin, near Fort Steele. He came to Wyoming forty years ago from Independence, Mo., and was a friend of Bill Nye. He was a well known frontier character and was with General Miles in many of his Indian fights.

Spain Wants French Friendship.

PARIS, May 25.—The rumors that King Alfonso intends to abandon his proposed visit to President Loubet in order to avoid friction with the pope are unfounded. The visit will certainly take place. All Spanish statesmen desire that his majesty shall visit France, as they are anxious for a rapprochement with that country.

Engineer of Barge Canal.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 25.—State Engineer Van Alstyn has appointed Emil Low of Buffalo as resident engineer on the barge canal. He was employed on the United States engineering force at Buffalo which was in charge of Major Symonds.

Five Negro Leaders Arrested.

NYACK, N. Y., May 25.—The strike at the Haverstraw brickyards, which was forced by 300 negroes, has practically ended. Five ringleaders were arrested, charged with intimidating the men and compelling them to strike.

Dolly Spanker Won Jockey Club.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Dolly Spanker, 7 to 10 favorite, won the Jockey Club weight for age, mile and a furlong, at Morris park. Eugenia Burch finished first, but was disqualified for fouling. The Southerner, an added starter, was placed second and Robin Hood third. The start was good, and in making the paddock turn Eugenia Burch, Cormack up, who was on the outside, pulled over on Robin Hood, who in turn bumped Major Dangerfield and nearly knocked him down. Eugenia Burch and Dolly Spanker raced together to the stretch, where Cormack sent Eugenia Burch to the front and won driving by three-quarters of a length from Dolly Spanker, who was eight lengths in front of The Southerner. Robin Hood was fourth, five lengths back. W. B. Fasig, at 60 to 1, won the Amateur Cup for gentlemen riders, while Coligny, favorite, won the Meadowbrook Hunters steeplechase.

Jake Greenberg Got Merchants'.

CINCINNATI, May 25.—Jake Greenberg, with B. Davis in the saddle, won the Merchants' Selling stakes over a fast track at Latonia. The stake, which was for three-year-olds and upward and worth $1,815 to the winner, brought out a field of eleven. Fonsoluca was the favorite at 7 to 2, but did not finish in the money. Jake Greenberg went to the front at the three-quarters and won easily, with Handmore second and Harding third. In the second race Reservation ran a mile in 1:39¾.

Bookies Were Hard Hit.

ST. LOUIS, May 25.—The bookmakers were losers at Delmar park. Five well played horses won for the talent. Liddon won the first, Sid Silver the second, Footlight's Favorite, backed from fours to 5 to 2, nosed out Frank Collins in the third, Taby Tosa reached the wire a head in front of Deutschland in the feature event, and King Ellsworth won the closing event.

Dead Heat at Hawthorne.

CHICAGO, May 25.—Major Mansir at 30 to 1 and Lacy Crawford, an odds on favorite, ran a dead heat in the fifth race at Hawthorne. The race was at a mile and an eighth, and as neither horse was in shape to travel the distance a second time the purse was divided.

Methodists Favor Church Union.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—With enthusiastic approval the Methodist Protestant conference here received the proposition for church union embracing their denomination, the Congregationalists and the United Brethren. The conference unanimously indorsed the interchurch movement for uniform laws on marriage and divorce and authorized a committee of three to represent the denomination in this regard.

Duggins Is Without Remorse.

LAPORTE, Ind., May 25.—Jerry Duggins, who is under sentence to be hanged here, has made a confession. He says Mrs. Ramsey of Terre Haute, whom he murdered with her two children, refused to leave her husband and elope with him. Duggins says it was for that reason he killed her and the two children, who were sleeping at the time. He is apparently without remorse for his crime.

Secretary Moody Out Again.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Secretary Moody was able to take a short drive. The exact nature of his malady is not disclosed, but it is understood to be either the hives or a mild type of measles contracted during his recent cruise in Cuban waters. He is under medical treatment and is expected to be able to resume his official duties at the navy department in a few days.

Killed Man Who Insulted Her.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 25.—Joseph Hastings, forty-five years old, was shot and killed here by Mrs. Frank Hicks. She says she had known Hastings about two years. He came to see her, and she could not make him go away. She says he insulted her, and she got a revolver and shot him.

Doubts Ended, Both Dead.

ST. JOHN, N. B., May 25.—A message has been received from Oromocto river announcing that the bodies of John H. Thomson, a wealthy shipowner, and R. P. Foster of the Royal Bank of Canada of this city had been recovered. The men were drowned on Sunday while fishing.

THIN MATERIALS.

A Great Many Veiling Gowns Are Worn—Silk Mull Dresses.

There are a good many voile dresses worn at this season of the year both for dressy and street wear. Cashmere, crepe de chine, toile de soie, embroidered linon and some beautiful heavy guipures mixed with taffeta are all smart.

Even gowns of a tailor made description show a considerable amount of trimming in the way of frills and double and single skirts. Nothing is more difficult than to put on these softening effects in the right way and still to retain that chic and simplicity characteristic of the best French gowns.

White pongee is particularly smart for evening dresses. It is trimmed with handmade tucks and with laces of the embroidery description.

White and ecru gowns, the latter relieved with a touch of red or grass green, will lead this summer for afternoon wear.

Pale blue silk mull makes a dainty gown which can be worn both in summer and in winter. A gown of this description should be made up with a much ruffled skirt and the waist shirred into a fancy collar of Irish lace. The sleeves are prettiest made of tiny ruffles or huge transparent puffs.

BATISTE GOWN.

A pretty evening toilet was designed of white chenille spotted net of the 1830 style, the bolero effect being introduced by an arrangement of white velvet bands and lace insertion. Applique water lilies and their foliage in high relief formed the decoration of the decolletage.

The cut shows a batiste gown. The skirt is made plaited, and the waist is trimmed with a frilling of lace. The hat is trimmed with a black ostrich feather and ruching.

SUMMER FASHIONS.

Fichus Are Again Popular—The Craze For Shaded Effects.

There will be another revival of the quaint old fashioned fichu this summer, and this will be particularly smart on the gowns of flowered net, which will be so much worn this season.

There is a great craze for everything shaded. A prominent New York firm shows dress patterns of shaded voile so arranged that both the waist and the skirt can be made up shaded from dark to light. This craze for shading even extends to the veils, and some particularly lively ones shade from red to pink.

DOTTED FOULARD WAIST.

The lace veil, while most unbecoming over the face, is very fetching draped around the brim of a tailor made hat or thrown back from the face, French fashion.

For cold weather in summer stoles of marabou and lace are charming.

Plain tailor made shirt waists will still be worn, but there is an increase of soft lacy waists, made either of net or thin washable materials, and these will be far daintier.

Lovely indeed are the new printed brussels nets, the artistic designs all in delicate tones, having the effect of hand painting.

The cut shows a dotted foulard shirt waist with a long shoulder yoke and a full front. JUDIC CHOLLET.

FRANCE AND GERMANY.

German Ambassador's Sister-in-law Marries French Attache.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—In the presence of Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Roosevelt, Secretary of State and Mrs. Hay, the entire diplomatic corps, Admiral of the Navy and Mrs. Dewey and a few naval officers who were present as the official representatives of the American navy, Miss Ivy Langham, the sister of the Baroness Speck von Sternburg, the German ambassadress, was married to Lieutenant Commander Viscomte de Faramond, the naval attache of the French embassy. The marriage ceremony took place in St. Matthew's Roman Catholic church.

The full ceremony of the Roman liturgy was used, and a nuptial mass was celebrated, the rector of St. Matthew's, Father Lee, officiating. Cardinal Gibbons was unable to be present and had asked the wedding to be deferred until the fall, but this was not practicable.

Poolroom Men Strike Back.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Police Commissioner McAdoo and Inspector Schmittberger have been served with summonses in suits for $500 each, brought by Dan O'Reilly, counsel for Joseph Sell. Sell was one of the employees of the New York and New Jersey Distributing and Circulating company and was arrested in a recent raid on the company's offices in the Park Row building. Twenty other men were arrested in the raid. Mr. O'Reilly also will go before a supreme court justice for a decision as to the legality of raids made under the direction of the police commissioner.

Holy Ghost and Us Society Man.

FARMINGTON, Me., May 25.—The trial of Frank W. Sandford, head of the Holy Ghost and Us society at Shiloh, has opened here. Sandford is charged with manslaughter in criminally withholding medical aid from Leander Bartlett, a boy member of the colony. Three witnesses testified that, although young Bartlett was suffering from diphtheria, Sandford refused to call a physician, but kept the boy on a milk diet.

Wreck of River Boat.

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., May 25.—A river boat, with many passengers aboard, has sunk at Red rock, off San Quentin. The lifeboats are floating, but they are so far from shore and such a heavy gale is blowing off San Quentin that help from there cannot be sent. San Quentin prison guards, however, have gone to the distressed vessel's aid in small boats. Lifeboats are now trying to reach San Quentin from the steamer.

Surgeon Had Heart In Court.

BATH, N. Y., May 25.—The second trial of David McSweeney, a civil war veteran seventy-eight years old, for manslaughter, began here in the county court. Eight witnesses were sworn, including surgeons from the Soldiers' home, who exhibited to the jury the heart of Edward News, the man killed in a barroom fight on election night, and a section of his chest which the knife had penetrated.

Yale Graduate Killed In California.

BERKELEY, Cal., May 25.—While attempting to board an electric train en route from Berkeley station to San Francisco, Professor Marcus J. Spinello, instructor of French and Italian at the University of California, was thrown under the wheels of a moving car and received injuries from which he died soon afterward. Professor Spinello was graduated at Yale in 1896.

Pu Lun In Whiz Wagon Tour.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., May 25.—Prince Pu Lun, accompanied by his suit and members of the Commercial club of Indianapolis, has arrived here on an automobile excursion to Purdue university. The party was met at Frankfort by members of the reception committee and escorted into the city, which was generously decorated with flags and banners.

Student Has Disappeared.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., May 25.—Mars E. Wagner, Jr., of Cleveland, O., a student at the Asheville school, has disappeared. He left the dormitory twelve days ago. Detectives have been employed to locate him. The facts, as near as they can be ascertained, are that rather than submit to a reprimand for breaking a college rule he left the institution.

Portage Branch Closed.

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—Shortage of traffic and consequent necessity for reducing expenses on the Pennsylvania railroad are the reasons given for the closing to through traffic of the new Portage branch, built within two years at a cost of $5,000,000. This latest retrenchment order takes effect at once. No date is fixed for reopening the line.

Lake Traffic Strike Broken.

CLEVELAND, O., May 25.—The executive committee of the Lake Carriers' association has wired the members of that association, "Start your boats as soon as you are ready." It is understood that enough men have been secured to start some of the boats, and these will be got away as soon as possible.

Ocean Rate Cut to $10.

LONDON, May 25.—The Red Star line announces a cut in the steerage rates from Liverpool to the United States by way of Boulogne to $10. The Cunard line has not yet moved in the matter, but it is believed that it may retain the old rates.

Middletown Tannery Burned.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., May 25.—Fire has destroyed the Howell-Hinchman company's tannery here, causing a heavy loss. Several firemen were badly burned.

ODELL HAS LEFT FOR EUROPE.

Going Away For Rest, Governor Refused to Talk Politics.

NEW YORK, May 25. — Governor Odell has sailed for Europe. He left on the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse.

Before leaving he was asked whether he cared to leave a message for the Republican organization before starting for Europe.

"I do not," he replied. "The organization does not need any messages. It can get along all right while I am away."

The governor refused to say a word about the political situation.

"I am going away for rest," he remarked, "and nobody can induce me to mention the subject of politics till I return."

First Ball at the Fair German.

ST. LOUIS, May 25.—The beautiful pavilion erected by Brazil at the world's fair has been formally opened. The day was chosen as it marks the anniversary of the greatest battle in South America's history, when in 1865 Brazil and Paraguay fought at Tuyuty, in Paraguay. The first ball at the exposition will be held on Monday evening at the German pavilion, being given by German Commissioner General Lewald. Only 125 guests will be invited, and among them will be Miss Helen Gould and Miss Alice Roosevelt, the latter of whom is expected to arrive Friday on a visit.

Boston and Maine Train Derailed.

SALMON FALLS, N. H., May 25.—A southbound passenger train on the northern division of the Boston and Maine railroad left the track while rounding a sharp curve near this station. The entire train was derailed, but the cars were not overturned. Mrs. Ozro Berry of Boston was thrown over a seat, receiving a dislocated hip and other serious but not fatal injuries. The train lies close to the river bank, and a little more momentum would have plunged it into the river. All traffic was blocked last night.

Magie Appoints a Vice Chancellor.

TRENTON, May 25.—Chancellor Magie appointed Liudley M. Garrison of Jersey City vice chancellor to fill the vacancy created by the legislature in increasing the number of vice chancellors from six to seven. Mr. Garrison is a brother of Justice Garrison of the supreme court. He is a Democrat, and his appointment makes the court of chancery consist of four Republicans, including Chancellor Magie, and four Democrats.

Gambling Ruined Him.

CHICAGO, May 25.—Fred A. Beach, who confessed having embezzled $10,000 from a department store in this city, has been sentenced to the penitentiary. Beach also admitted that he is a bigamist, having a wife and three children in Chicago and another wife in Dallas, Tex. He ascribed his downfall to gambling.

An Ideal Location

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

AT GROTON SCHOOL

President Roosevelt's Outing With Sons and Friends.

MAKES CHARACTERISTIC ADDRESS

Twentieth Anniversary of Academy Made Memorable by Presidential Visit—Clinton Presented a Floral Testimony of Good Will.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—President Roosevelt, accompanied by Miss Carew, his sister-in-law, and Secretary Loeb, arrived in Washington this morning. The train made the return trip by way of Worcester and Springfield to the Poughkeepsie bridge and over the Pennsylvania road to the capital. At Clinton, Mass., the presidential train stopped a moment for signals, and during that time a handsome floral piece was presented to the president, who was standing on the rear platform of his car responding to the cheers of 6,000 people. The selectmen were also present and handed a book containing a history of the town and a photograph of the new public library. The president expressed his thanks briefly.

At Groton the school's celebration of its twentieth anniversary was rendered especially notable by the presence and participation in the exercises of President Roosevelt. With all the enthusiasm of his nature the president entered into the spirit of the day, and he voiced his thorough enjoyment of the ceremonies and surroundings of the occasion in his farewell remarks to the student body.

President Roosevelt and his immediate party arrived at the Groton school at 9:25 o'clock in the morning. It was an ideal spring day, the sky almost cloudless and the temperature just right for out of door pleasures. From the moment of the president's cordial and characteristic reception by the students until he rose in his carriage, as it was leaving the school grounds, and waved his silk hat to the boys, who yet were giving him their school yell, concluding with "Rah, rah, rah, President Roosevelt!" the president was the center about which all the exercises of the day revol

DIAMOND DUST.

The Y. M. C. A. baseball team practiced on the Myrtle avenue grounds last evening.

The West End Terrors would like to arrange games with teams averaging 14 years. Address Joseph Johnson, 216 Prescott place.

The Y. M. C. A. baseball team will be spectators at the Alis-Westfield game, on Saturday afternoon, as they have no regular game.

George Dupee, who pitched one game for East Millstone this season, now intends to get himself in condition for play. He will continue to pitch for the Somerset county boys.

The news that Quimby is to return to Alis is received with general approbation. He has always been a great favorite and his fielding and batting have been of the top-notch order.

There is an impression that Hollywood will no continue with Alis and that Devens will take his place. If Manager Johnston should have his outfield composed of Devens, McGeoy and Barry it would be invincible.

It would not surprise the local baseball fans to see Barry, formerly of the Murray Hills, in a field position for Alis on Saturday against Westfield. Barry, who is considered one of the heaviest batters in this section, is now playing with Paterson and Manager Johnston may be able to get him for Saturday games. Last Sunday he secured three hits off Griffin, who pitched for Saugerties.

GOLF.

The events on the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club course on Saturday will be weekly play for the golf committee cup. On Memorial Day there will be all-day play for the holiday cup and greens' committee tankard.

GRANT REMEMBERED

FORMER RESIDENCE AT GALENA TO BE PRESERVED.

Presented to Him by the People at the Close of the War—It Has Now Been Deeded to the City.

The Grant heirs recently deeded to Galena the dwelling presented to the war hero by admirers on his return from the war August 18, 1865. It is a handsome old residence, and in many ways would fitly serve as a storehouse of relics connected with the career of the famous commander, as well as stand an historic monument itself.

Although the main facts of Gen. Grant's public life are well known, probably few have clear in mind many details of his private life, know just what localities are linked with his early history. Most of us could only hazily recall that at some time of other he lived somewhere or other in Illinois, believe he conducted a tannery there, and from there set out for the war; and it may be well to shortly summarize the successive periods of his life.

In Mount Pleasant, Ohio, he was born, and there spent the years of life previous to his West Point days, and in that little village acquainted his father with the fact that he did not wish to work longer at the father's tannery business, but wanted a chance to get an education. In his sixteenth year he obtained the appointment to West Point, then "a stumpy, freckle-faced, big-headed country lad," scarce measuring the required five feet in height. Although baptized Hiram Ulysses Grant, through some misunderstanding he was entered as Ulysses S. Grant, and for the rest of his life continued bearing the nation's symbols as his initials.

After graduation at West Point, he began army life as brevet second lieutenant in the Fourteenth infantry stationed at "Jefferson Barracks," near St. Louis. Here he met, and became engaged to, Miss Julia Dent, although not highly approved of by the lady's family. From the idle days at St. Louis his next experience was in active fighting in the

THE GRANT RESIDENCE AT GALENA.

Mexican war taking part in every battle of that war except that of Buena Vista, and becoming noted for his horsemanship, military skill, and bravery, as well as appreciated for ably filling the difficult position of quartermaster.

At the close of the war, Capt. Grant married Miss Dent, the family now heartily approving of him, he having saved, in battle with the Mexicans, a son of the Dent household, and having won various honors in the Mexican campaign. The young couple took up their residence in Detroit, where Grant continued quartermaster of his regiment. From Detroit the regiment was moved to Sacketts Harbor, and thence to Fort Vancouver, Washington territory, then far from civilization, and not considered a fit place for Mrs. Grant, who remained, therefore, in St. Louis, at her father's. Homesick, Grant resigned in 1854, saying at the time to a friend: "Whoever hears of me in ten years will hear of a well-to-do Missouri farmer." On a little sixty-acre farm, about four miles from St. Louis, he settled down, his dwelling a log-house, "Hardscrabble." He knew nothing about farming, and did not attain the prophesied prosperity. Next he moved to St. Louis, tried his fortune at the real-estate business, but proved no more successful at it than at farming. The Grants were very poor in these days. In 1860 he moved to Galena to take a clerkship with his brothers, who were in the leather trade.

The family began their life in Galena very humbly, but when soon the war excitement had possession of the town Capt. Grant came into prominence. When a company was being organized, he made his first public speech: "I don't know anything about making speeches, that is not in my line, but we are forming a company in Galena, and mean to do what we can to put down the rebellion." There was too much scrambling for public office in the ensuing days to suit his quiet taste, and he was tempted more than once to take up again business life in Galena, but finally Gov. Yates sent him an appointment, "Colonel of the Twenty-first Illinois Volunteers," and the commander came into his own.

The journey home when the war was ended was one wildly enthusiastic ovation; the grand review of the Union army in Washington, a great reception in New York, a countless multitude at the station in Chicago, and when at last he arrived in the little Illinois town he called home, he found Galena one dense mass of cheering citizens, a triumphal arch in his honor, and, presented by the citizens, a beautiful house completely furnished, to which a sidewalk had been built from the station half a mile away. To his new home he rode under an arch bearing this inscription in flowers: "General, the sidewalk is built."

CLARENCE B. VAIL BECOMES A BENEDICT

Young Plainfielder Takes Miss Elveretta Cutler, of Chester, Pa., As His Wife.

WEDDING AT CHESTER

CEREMONY IN THE MEETING HOUSE OF THE SOCIETY OF FRIENDS.

Paul Whitall, of This City, An Usher—Off on Their Honeymoon—To Reside on Norwood Avenue.

Clarence Brooks Vail, teller at the First National Bank, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Vail, of East Sixth street, was married this afternoon to Miss Elveretta Cutler, in the Friends meeting-house, Chester, Pa., in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends from this city, Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Canada. The ceremony, strictly in accordance with the Society of Friends rules, was very simple and at the same time impressive. In the services a committee from the Society officiates, instead of a minister, and the couple simply ascribe their names to a document, affirming their allegiance to God and one another.

The bride was attended by her brother, Chester Cutler, of Chester, while Dr. Charles T. Howard, of Boston, Mass., was the best man. The ushers were Fred Cranston and Paul Whitall, of this city; Arthur Dewees, of Philadelphia, and Henry Jones, of Chester. These were the only members of the bridal party.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Palmer and later the bride and groom departed on a short wedding trip. Upon their return they will live at the groom's home in Norwood avenue. The bride received many presents of value.

The bride is a native of Cold Stream, Canada, but she has been living in Chester for some time past. Like her husband she is a member of the Society of Friends. Mr. Vail has been employed for several years at the First National Bank and through careful attention to his duties has been promoted to his position, that of teller.

VOTE TO ERECT SCHOOLHOUSE

FANWOOD TOWNSHIP CITIZENS MAKE APPROPRIATION FOR NEW BUILDING.

Backing up the demands of the residents of school district No. 2, which met with the hearty approval of the Board of Education, the citizens of the borough and township decided last night that the lower end of Fanwood township should have the same school facilities that district No. 1 enjoys.

The old school building, which has served its purpose well, will be sold and a more commodious building with a seating capacity of eighty, will be erected on Raritan road, near the John L. Darby property, the cost not to exceed $4,500. The meeting was a most harmonious one, no opposition for the bettering of conditions being apparent.

PLAINFIELD BOYS WON BASEBALL GAME ON CRESCENT OVAL.

In an uninteresting contest, the Plainfield High School team defeated the Bloomfield High School boys on Crescent Oval, yesterday afternoon, by a score of 18 to 12. ## COL. CLIME AND HIS SPEECH

NO ACTION CAN BE TAKEN AGAINST HIM FOR CRITICIZING LEGISLATURE.

Ever since the annual banquet of Co. K, held in this city, when Lieut. Col. Clime, of Burlington, made a stirring address in which he criticised the New Jersey lawmakers, the State press has expressed various opinions as to the outcome of the remarks. A few days ago there was an announcement that official investigation would follow and that Col. Clime would be called before his superiors in the Legislature.

One thoroughly versed in the matter, in speaking to a representative for The Daily Press, expressed the opinion that the Legislature can do nothing with Col. Clime in view of the fact that the National Guard is not recognized by the State Government. It is this that the militia has been striving for and if the Dick bill had been passed it would have been accomplished. It was the failure to put the bill through that has aroused the indignation of the officers and privates in the State Militia.

The person who was talking to the reporter said further that there is not a single rule or regulation in this State covering the action of Col. Clime at the banquet. He said there is a "blue book" used to govern the "regulars" and there only special instances where the State Militia is referred to or effected thereby. Under these circumstances, the person speaking, said the Legislature is powerless to do anything with Col. Clime, who it is claimed, has committed a grievous offense.

It is known that data regarding the utterances of Col. Clime is being collected and inquiries made regarding the affair, but it is said that the officer is not disturbed by what may happen to him.

MURPHY TO MANAGE CAMPAIGN

SENATORS KEAN AND FAIRBANKS FAVOR JERSEY'S GOVERNOR FOR CHAIRMAN.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Washington, May 26—It is expected that Senators Fairbanks, of Indiana; Aldrich, of Rhode Island, and Kean, of New Jersey, will see the President today and talk with him about the National Chairmanship. It is understood that Fairbanks does not want Cortelyou to be Chairman, but prefers Gov. Murphy, of New Jersey. Senator Kean also favors Murphy. Senator Aldrich, who will have much to do with the management of the Republican campaign in the East, has expressed no preference.

The Republican leaders in the Senate are none too friendly to the selection of Cortelyou by the President. They think a Republican who has been identified with the party longer than Cortelyou has should be chosen. The President has no patience with this opinion. He has selected Cortelyou, and will probably stand by him, no matter what the Senators may say.

ECCENTRIC TRAGEDIAN, DICK FOOTE, IS DEAD

Gifted Actor, Well-Known Here, Has Passed Away After a Wild Life.

"TOO MAD A BOHEMIAN"

LINEAL DESCENDANT OF SAMUEL FOOTE, DR. JOHNSON'S FRIEND.

Story of His Strange Life—Made Money, But Died Poor—Not Suited to the Effete East.

Richard K. Foote, the eccentric tragedian who conducted a series of plays and readings here in 1902 for the benefit of the Reform Club, during the course of which he brought out Miss Adele T. VonOhl as one of the most talented actresses-in-the-rough that he had ever discovered in the course of his travels, is dead.

It will surprise most of the people who knew or heard Foote here, to learn that he was a noted and a notable character in theatrical circles. The majority of those who met the man in this city or read of his eccentricities, were quick to jump to the conclusion that he was a fakir and a grafter. He was neither. He was full of eccentricity and actorisms, and that was all. He really belonged to the West, where he roamed and knocked about for many years. Out there he was understood and loved. He was what a writer in the New York Times Sunday supplement, which devoted two and a half columns of reminiscene and appreciation to him last Sunday, calls "too mad a bohemian" for the Eastern taste.

This writer, who quotes an old actor, one of Foote's early associates, says he was a fine artist and a ripe Shakespearean scholar. He was a lineal descendant of Samuel Foote, Dr. Johnson's friend. Foote had a wonderful voice, and long dissipation never weakened it. It had one of the widest ranges of any actor on the American stage. Foote was conscious of his powers in that direction and always, whatever the weather, wore a soft shirt open at the neck. And he insisted upon every member of his company doing the same.

When quite a young man Foote left the stock company with which he was connected in New York and went West. He worked in the California mining camps for a year or two, making more money by occasional entertainments than with his pick and shovel. Then—in Sacramento—he conceived the idea of touring the mining camps with a company.

He gathered together a little company of six, two women and four men, one of the women being his wife, Annie Plunkett, a talented actress with a high reputation in the profession. The company toured all through the Sierras, travelling in wagons, and camping like emigrants. The repertory included "The Merchant of Venice," "Othello," "Hamlet," "Richard III," "King Lear," and "Hugo," a romantic tragedy written by Foote himself.

The company had no scenery, and the performances were sometimes given in a school house, sometimes in a tiny camp church, more often in the dining room of the camp hotel. They carried trestles and boards for a portable stage. The "stage" was hung with a red baize backing, and cards were hung, in Elizabethan style, to tell the audience what scene was on. None of these things made any difference to the camps, which turned out en masse to see—and enjoy—the plays.

Foote made money, but with his prosperity he never paid any salaries. A loan was another master. He was generous to the proverbial fault, and his company had only to ask for a loan to get all that was coming to them. They would forget to pay it back and Foote never remembered such matters. He was so free with his money—when it wasn't called salary—that he died a poor man, although he made a lot during his life.

When he had not been drinking Foote was a most loveable man. At other times his company was afraid to act with him. He did not do anything ugly, but he was much too strenuous for the comfort of his supporting cast, especially in wrestling or duelling scenes. He was devoted to his wife, and she to him.

Foote's posters always bore his name in the shape of a cross. This emblem has been placed on his tomb. Plainfielders who saw his advertisements in the local papers will remember the design.

NO COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT 'PLAINS

The Various Classes, However, Will Hold a Public Entertainment on June 16.

NONE TO GRADUATE

REV. DR. J. H. PARKS TO ADDRESS THE PUPILS TOMORROW.

Memorial Day Exercises—Delegation of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, to be Present—Parents and Friends Invited.

For the first time in a number of years the Scotch Plains Public School closes for the usual summer vacation without the customary commencement exercises. This is due to the fact that there will be no graduating class this year.

When the custom was started a number of years ago, the event was about the only opportunity that the parents and friends of the school had to hear and see the children in recitation, song and the like, but school laws have been changed and now it is possible for the parents or friends to enjoy a treat frequently. As laws recently enacted compels the schools to observe a number of the holidays in an appropriate manner. For this reason it has been decided that no commencement will be held.

When the school closes on June 16, the several classes will meet in an informal way in the assembly room and a short programme will be enjoyed.

Tomorrow afternoon the pupils will observe Memorial Day. Rev. Dr. J. H. Parks will make the address, while an interesting programme of recitations and songs will be rendered by the pupils. A delegation from Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., will be present. The parents and friends are invited.

EX-ASSEMBLYMAN TO WED

WILLIAM NEWCORN TO BE MARRIED IN NEW YORK ON SUNDAY, JUNE 26.

Many of the friends of William Newcorn, Esq., will be greatly surprised to hear of his approaching marriage to Mrs. Mamie Leventhal, of New York.

Mr. Newcorn seemed a trifle nonplussed when a reporter for The Daily Press asked him this morning if there was anything in the report of his engagement. He had thought it a profound secret and probably counted on stealing a march on his friends by introducing his bride to them before they were aware that there was such a person.

The wedding, which will be private, will be solemnized in New York city on Sunday, June 26.

POSTMASTER GETS $3,100

HE LOST HIS LIFE BY JUMPING CARS

Thomas Porter Lost His Leg Under Coaler's Wheels and Died in the Hospital.

ACCIDENT AT TANKS

THE VICTIM SUFFERED A GREAT LOSS OF BLOOD.

Dead Youth Eighteen Years Old—Popular Among His Mates—Son of John Porter, of West Third Street.

Laying along the New Jersey Central railroad tracks at Greenbrook Tanks, bleeding to death, Thomas G. Porter, the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Porter, of 920 West Third street, was discovered by the crew of a passing train about 10:30 last night and hurriedly brought to this city, where he was removed in the ambulance to the hospital. The lad's leg had been cut off while he was stealing a ride home on a coal train and the great loss of blood argued against his recovery. He was accompanied by several companions, but when they learned what had happened to young Porter, it is said, they ran away and left him alone.

As soon as the lad was received at the hospital everything possible was done for him, but the physicians soon learned that his case was hopeless. He reached the hospital about 10:40 and at 11:45 he died. During that time he was conscious up to within fifteen minutes of the time he passed away. He realized from the first that his condition was serious. His right leg was off at the thigh, there was a lacerated wound of the left leg and an inside wound extending from the chest to the thigh.

Young Porter, together with companions had gone to Greenbrook for a swim, and after remaining there for some time started homeward. It was their intention of returning home on a coal or freight train. As they approached the railroad a coaler came along and Porter was the first to jump aboard. It being dark he was not sure of his position. His feet slipped, and he fell beneath the cars with the result as stated. He was left alone for some time, just how long, no one seems to know, but the crew of another train passing, heard groans and upon investigation discovered the young man along the tracks. The engine was detached from the train and with all possible speed hastened with the injured lad to this city. Upon the arrival of the engine here the ambulance was at the North Avenue station waiting to take the boy to the hospital.

The lad was well-known throughout the city, especially in the West End. He was a member of Hope chapel, and generally took part in the affairs under the auspices of Hope Y. M. A. Besides his parents, he is survived by an older brother, William, three sisters, Mrs. Arthur McVoy, Miss Marion Porter and a younger one, Lizzie.

The funeral services will be held from the home of the parents, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

MRS. T. E. DAVIS DEAD.

Wife of Retired Minister Passed Away This Morning.

The death of Mrs. T. E. Davis, wife of Rev. Mr. Davis, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church, Bound Brook, occurred at 10:40 this morning at her home on West Fifth street, following a long illness attended with intense suffering. Mrs. Davis became a resident of this city soon after her husband resigned the pastorate of the Bound Brook church. She was a devoted Christian woman and actively identified with the W. C. T. U., being president of the Somerset County Union. She is survived by a husband and several children.

New Market's Mayor Departs.

After several postponements, William B. Smith, "mayor" and "leading citizen" of New Market, departed this morning for St. Louis accompaneid by his wife and some coin which came to him as a brother of the late Mrs. Charles L. Fair. The Smiths left New Market on the Lehigh Valley and caught the Black Diamond at Easton. They will stop at Detroit where the mayor is having an automobile built for him.

Wonderful Setting.

Gilbert Murray, of East Fourth street, has just pulled off a noteworthy chicken-hatching. Recently he set twenty hens on as many double-yelk eggs, and Tuesday they hatched out, forty chicks in all.

RECORD OF PLAINFIELD'S NINE

INDIVIDUAL RESULTS OF THE THREE GAMES PLAYED BY THE ALIS TEAM.

Although the Alis team has played but three games this season, a glance at the individual records is interesting. In the aggregate the team has been to the bat 111 times, made 35 runs, 34 base hits, stole 15 bases, made 7 sacrifice hits, put out 81 opposing batsmen, made 27 assists and have a credit of 15 errors.

In the hitting department Roberts leads with a total of six hits. Lauder and Davis are a tie for second place with five hits each, while Cregan and Mehler each have four. McGeoy and Farmer have each made three and Hollywood and Devens have a credit of two each and Griffin has failed to make a single hit.

This shows the individual record to date each player:

NOT TO PAD WESTFIELD TEAM

MANAGER DENMAN BELIEVES HIS COLTS ARE STRONG ENOUGH FOR ALIS.

Manager Denman, of the Westfield team, told a reporter for The Daily Press last night that he does not intend to pad his aggregation for Saturday's battle against Alis on Crescent Oval. He spoke in positive terms and resented insinuations that his regular team would not be strong enough to combat the locals. He expects to win on Saturday and if he does not great will be his disappointment.

This is the Westfield lineup:

Burk, c; Waller, p; Hickman, ss; Burns, 1b; Rochford, 2b; Barry, 3b; Goldberg, lf; Mallen, cf; Connolly, rf.

Two changes are noted in the team, that is Rochford, the heavy-hitting Hoboken player, will take Burch's place at second, and Burns, of the Jersey City Eastern League team, will cover first in place of Tom Carey, who was released.

The Alis lineup will undoubtedly be the same as last week, with possibly the exception of one or two field positions. Today, it was learned, that Manager Hand, of the Scotch Plains team, has signed Griffin, the Alis right-fielder, to pitch for him the rest of the season. Since Davis has been doing such good work, Manager Johnston has not been able to use Griffin in the box and as his strong card is pitching, he would prefer to be with a team that will allow him to pitch. This will necessitate a change in the Alis field. It is quite likely that Devens will take one position, either right or left. Otherwise the team will remain the same. The Westfield team will be accompanied by a large band of rooters, many of whom will bring their hard winter earnings along in the hope of making a strike.

THE SEWING SCHOOL CLOSED

GOOD WORK BEING DONE IN TEACHING THE YOUNG HEBREW WOMEN.

After a successful season the Hebrew Sewing School closed yesterday at the W. C. T. U. rooms. This school was organized on October 15 last with fifteen pupils and the membership has reached thirty.

At the closing exercises yesterday each pupil was given a gingham apron and all garments made during the season. Grateful appreciation is expressed to Mrs. J. W. Yates, Mrs. M. D. Tomlinso, Mrs. R. K. Case and Mrs. Moses Schloss for their assistance. Miss J. H. Pesinger is superintendent of the school and Mrs. William Demaris is the assistant.

Boys' Bicycle Run.

A bicycle run has been arranged for the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. by Secretary Robbie to take place on Memorial Day. The boys will meet at 7 o'clock in the morning at the association building and ride to Newark before the heat of the day. Here they will be the guest of the Newark boys.

Willard Howe's Attraction.

Willard D. Howe's "David Copperfield" will be produced at the Y. M. C. A. Hall June 7. The proceeds will be devoted to the Y. M. C. A. baseball fund. It is a clever adaptation of Charles Dickens' book.

BOARD APPROPRIATES $277,000 FOR COUNTY

Union's Freeholders Estimate That They Must Raise $232,000 for the Coming Year.

SCHEDULE OF EXPENSE

BALANCE IN THE TREASURY NOW AMOUNTS TO $45,000.

Sinking Fund to be Increased by $8,000—Plainfield Second Only to Rahway in Increase of Valuations.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 26—To meet the estimated expenses of the county for the fiscal year just started the Board of Freeholders will have to raise $232,000. The committee on appropriations reported to the Board this afternoon, at a meeting for that purpose, the sums necessary for the various departments of county work, and the total foots up to $277,000. There is a balance of $45,000 in the treasury, which cuts the amount to be raised throughout the county to the figure named above.

That figure is $2,000 more than that asked last year. The advance, however, is practically no advance at all, because the increase in valuations has been such that not a municipality or township of the county will feel the weight of the additional amount. The board looks to Rahway for the biggest percentage of the increase. Rahway has been going through a big boom, and is rated a good bit higher in the valuations. Plainfield is Rahway's second in the increase of valuation, but the figure experts of the board say that neither city will know there has been an increase as far as feeling it goes.

In detail the appropriations voted are as follows: For courts, $42,000, $2,000 more than last year; county jail, $8,500, a $500 increase; for lunatics, $3,500, an increase of $300; compensation and lawful expenses of freeholders and committees and salaries of officers, $13,500, an increase of $500; coroner's fees, $650, same as last year; elections, $20,000, this is a decrease, because there was a special election last year; stationery, $2,000, the same; advertising, publishing and printing, $2,000 no increase; incidental expenses and schools, burial of soldiers and monuments, $14,000, a decrease of $4,000; children's guardian accounts, $1,000, same as last year; for National Guard, $850, same figure; payment of principal of bonded debt, $5,000, this sum must be paid off each year under the law; payment of interest on bonded debt, $35,000, a decrease of $2,000; payment of bank interest on temporary loans, $1,100, increase of $100; sinking fund, $8,000; permanent improvement of public buildings and grounds, $18,000, an increase of $10,000; erection and repair of culverts and bridges, $38,000, same as last year; repairs to county roads, $17,500, same figure; for hospitals, $15,000. This is $5,000 more than last year, the board taking advantage of the law to make a voluntary increase of the assistance extended to the hospital institutions.

There is something of more than passing interest in the $8,000 voted into the sinking fund. It is estimated that this fund, with the accrued interest, will pay off the entire debt on the new costly courthouse in forty years. This plan will make the big debt felt very lightly, if at all.

The "whispering moaning tree in the forest" may induce poetic meditation, but when the tree has been worked up into chairs and tables it should stop whispering and moaning. Some manufacturers turn out furniture that don't stop moaning, it squeaks, and there's very little poetry about that. Powlison & Jones handle the kind of furniture that never squeaks, because it is well made.

The Day of Outings.

The one pleasure which the American public thoroughly enjoys is its outings. Low priced and at popular places and where there may be unrestrained enjoyment in out-of-door sports. Around New York there are many popular resorts but perhaps the most popular for holiday excursions is Mauch Chunk in the mountains of Pennsylvania. The journey is delightful and passes through an interesting country, through the farm lands of New Jersey and then into that busy section of the Keystone State which bristles with industries which are renowned the world over. Mauch Chunk is high in the mountains and the exhilarating atmosphere is a tonic for the hived-up city man. The chief feature of the trip to Mauch Chunk is to make the journey over the Switchback railroad which is a gravity road some eighteen miles in length. The tourist is carried at a rapid rate to the inclines of Mts. Pisgah and Jefferson over which the cars are lifted by mammoth mechanical devices only to continue the romantic journey to the end, ever fascinating and thrilling. On Decoration Day the New Jersey Central will run one of its popular priced excursions to Mauch Chunk, the rate for the round trip to be $1.50, and special train will leave Plainfield at 9:20 a. m., returning train will leave Mauch Cuhnk at 5:30 p. m. This is a trip worth taking and to miss it will be doing yourself an injustice. 5 23 6 c

I felt it more in the morning just before getting up or if I did any stooping or lifting. Notwithstanding the fact that I took all kinds of medicines I never found anything which helped me until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at L. W. Randolph's drug store. They not only removed the pain but they strengthened me in other ways."

AMUSEMENTS.

William Collier at the Criterion Theatre in Richard Harding Davis' new farce "The Dictator," is scoring a big hit. The popular comedian has made an emphatic hit in this play which is sure to be duplicated. He is surrounded by the best company he has ever had.

The genuine comedy triumph of the season is Augustus Thomas' play, "The Other Girl" at the Empire Theatre. It is bright, original, clever and as a fact the stage has never had a better and more popular example of American humor. Every character is clean cut and real. The cast includes Lionel Barrymore, Frank Worthing, Joseph Wheelock, Jr., Frank Burbeck, Ralph Delmore, Elsie and Drina De Wolfe, Selena Fetter-Royle, Richard Bennett and other favorites.

The laugh-provoking qualities of "The Man From China," at the Majestic Theatre, New York, were augmented this week by features and new people in the cast, principal among whom is Master Gabriel, the world famous midget comedian. His thirty-eight inches fairly bubbled over with fun and round after round of applause greeted his every entrance. He played the sacred Chinese idol, hitherto wooden and speechless, but now comically wrathful and filled with revenge over the losing of his little finger, which had fallen a prey to the hammer of the curio hunting vandal, Timothy Tittlebat. Gabriel's many conversations and conversations with Charles A. Biglow, the star of the production, provoked unusual and prolonged laughter.

The spring run of "The County Chairman" in New York will be brought to a close on the evening of Saturday, June 4 at Wallack's Theatre with a record of nearly 250 consecutive performances. That the extraordinary popularity of George Ade's droll comedy is by no means abated is shown by the fact that the autumn season at Wallack's will open with this entertainment as the attraction. The closing night of the current term will be the occasion of interesting events including the distribution of suitable souvenirs. The return of the play to resume its career on Broadway will occasion no changes of importance in the cast. All the actors and actresses who have made hits in this uncommonly well balanced representation will be retained throughout next season.

Mrs. William Shearer, of West Front street, continues to improve from her severe illness

Miss Nellie Mullen, of Bernardsville, has returned home after a visit to friends here.

Mrs. Frank Vanderhoff, of West Front street, continues to improve from a recent operation and will soon be able to get about the house.

—A coat of paint is improving the appearance of Mrs. G. W. F. Randolph's business property on Park avenue, corner of West Second street.

Delhi Won Belmont Stakes.

NEW YORK, May 26.—James R. Keene's Delhi, Odom up and favorite in the betting at 3 to 2, won the Belmont stakes of $14,695 to the winner at Morris park. Delhi, the son of Ben Brush—Veva, was not extended the entire distance of one and a quarter miles, winning easily by four lengths. The Columbia stables' Graziallo was second, with John A. Drake's Rapid Water third. The thirty-eighth running of the Belmont was witnessed by an enormous crowd. The start was prompt, and Odom at once sent Delhi out to the front, followed by Leonidas and Graziallo. This order was maintained down the backstretch. Making the turn at the bottom of the hill Delhi was leading by two lengths, with Leonidas second and Conjurer third. When the field swung into the long homestretch Delhi was leading and, holding his lead to the finish, won easily. Graziallo got the place by four lengths from Rapid Water. Glorifier, at 1 to 3, easily won the Eclipse stakes for two-year-olds. He led from start to finish.

Brooklyn Handicap.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The greatest running race ever seen on the American turf will be run today at Gravesend when the Brooklyn Handicap is decided. Perfect racing weather is in prospect, and at least a dozen thoroughbreds are to face the starter for a purse of $20,000. Never before has the handicap called out horses of as high a class. Irish Lad, from the stable of Herman B. Duryea, winner of last year's handicap; Hermis, owned by E. R. Thomas; McChesney, in the colors of E. E. Smathers; The Picket, from the Waldeck stables; Africander, bearing the Hampton stables' colors, and others who have shown perfect form make up the most talked of group in the list.

Coup by Watermelon's Backers.

CHICAGO, May 26.—Watermelon, owned by S. C. Wagner, was made the medium of a coup in the first race at Hawthorne, which he won in a hard drive with Freesias, another heavily backed long shot. Watermelon was backed from 30 to 1 down to 15 to 1 at post time and was one of the best played of the thirteen starters, while Freesias was played from 10 down to 6 to 1. Triumvir, the favorite, finished outside the money.

Douglas Upholds Golf Title.

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., May 26.—A field of sixty-one players began the annual golf tournament to decide the Metropolitan championship over the Garden City club's links. Findlay S. Douglas of the Nassau Country club, the present holder of the title, played a very steady game and won the medal prize by going over the eighteen hole course in 165 strokes. This is the third time he has won it.

Henry Waite Belied His Name.

CINCINNATI, O., May 26.—Favorites were defeated in the first three races, but in the last three top choices passed the wire first. In the fifth race at a mile Henry Waite ran away three miles while the horses were at the post. A new track record was established over the steeplechase course, Balzac, the winner, going the route in 2 minutes 59½ seconds.

Williams College Won Tourney.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

State Entomologist John B. Smith addressed the New Jersey State Microscopical Society in New Brunswick the other evening on the "Parasite of Malaria," and told how the disease is carried by mosquitoes from the marshes and also mentioned ways and means of doing away with all species of the tribe of mosquitoes.

Dr. Smith said that the malarial parasite is injected into the blood of human beings in the saliva deposited by the mosquito in stinging his victim. Only a small per centage of mosquitoes are malarial, however, but they are responsible for much of this disease which afflicts the people of today. The parasite attacks the red corpuscles of the blood and in that way causes the weakening effects on the patient.

BOOK NEWS.

It is planned to issue on Thursday of each week items of library news. This will frequently take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject.

Foreman and Nine Miners Dead at Williamstown, Pa.

DEADLY FUMES FROM LOCOMOTIVE

Accident Most Peculiar In Mine History—Men Riding Behind Tunnel Engine, as They Had Done For Years, Found Unconscious.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 26.—A telegram received at the Susquehanna Coal company's offices in this city states that Foreman Golden and nine other miners were suffocated by gas and sulphur fumes from a small locomotive in the workings of the Summit Branch Coal company at Williamstown, Dauphin county. The accident was one of the most peculiar in the history of the anthracite mines, and no reason for it can be assigned by the officials. The victims include Michael Golden, general inside foreman of the company, and nine miners and laborers.

The tunnel in which the disaster occurred is one mile in length and is used by the coal company to convey the coal mined in the workings in the Bear valley to the breaker in the Williamstown valley. The men employed in the mines in the Bear valley who reside in Williamstown have made a practice for years to ride to and from their work on the trips of cars that are hauled between the two valleys by small locomotives.

About 4 o'clock in the afternoon General Inside Foreman Golden and about fifty miners boarded a loaded train which was about to be hauled from Bear valley to Williamstown. Everything went all right until about half of the journey was made, when some of the men attracted the attention of the engineer, who at once stopped, and it was found that nearly every man in the party on the cars had been overcome by the gas and sulphur which emanated from the stack of the locomotive and floated back over them.

The engineer at once crowded on all steam possible, and the unconscious men were hurried to the Williamstown end of the tunnel. Here help was at once summoned, and the men were taken to the surface, where a corps of physicians made every possible effort to resuscitate them, but aid came too late for Foreman Golden and the other victims.

The tunnel has been in constant operation for more than forty years, and this is the first accident of any kind that has happened in it. It is perfectly free from mine gases, and the ventilation is so perfect and the air current so strong and steady that besides being used for hauling cars the tunnel has formed one of the intakes that furnish air to the mines. No trouble has ever been experienced before from gas from the small mine locomotives, and the officials are entirely at sea as to the cause of the tragedy.

All the telephone and telegraph wires leading to Williamstown were put out of service by a storm, and Williamstown was cut off until the Pennsylvania Railroad company restored the telegraphic service.

Conductor Shot by Negro.

MERIDIAN, Miss., May 26.—Conductor S. W. Askew of the Mobile and Ohio passenger service has been assassinated by a negro on an excursion train coming to Meridian from Mobile. The murder occurred at Yellow Bluff, Ala., and is believed to have been committed by a negro named Carlisle, who had been put off the train on the down trip. Conductor Askew was shot in the back of the head with a gun loaded with buckshot, a large hole being torn in his head, killing him instantly. Joe Richardson, a brakeman, received serious wounds in his neck, face and shoulders from flying shot. One negro passenger was also wounded.

Mrs. McColl is living at present in Brooklyn with her daughter.

Circus Tent Buried Audience.

FORT PLAIN, N. Y., May 26.—A fierce gale struck this village suddenly while Hargreaves' circus was giving a performance before hundreds of people, and almost in an instant the main tent was flattened to the earth, carrying down poles, seats and tent rigging upon the panic stricken audience. Many of the people managed to free themselves, and many others were extricated from perilous positions with great difficulty. Scores were more or less injured, and five persons were seriously hurt.

TAYLOR MURDER TRIAL.

Prisoner Confesses the Crime, but Claims It Was an Accident.

MONTICELLO, N. Y., May 26.—At the Taylor murder trial here Mrs. Taylor, the prisoner, was on the witness stand four hours and a half. She related in detail the events of the night when she shot and killed her husband, Lafayette Taylor, and cut up his body, but she persisted in her assertion that the killing was an accident.

"He was drunk and abused me and my Ida," she said. "I had a revolver secreted in the mattress of the bed, which I had purchased to protect me and my Ida from tramps and bears. A bear came to our house one night and scratched at the door and frightened us. One night when we were returning from Centerville some one followed us through the woods and turned a dark lantern on us and we ran. I bought the revolver to protect us. On the night that Lafe was shot I took the revolver out and put it in a stand near the bed. He came in and pounded the furniture and knocked the door down. Ida and I went to bed without supper. Lafe commenced searching the room for money and finally found the revolver. He grabbed it and fired at me. I jumped up and took it from him and ran to the kitchen and closed the door. He tried to get in and said if I would let him in he would not harm me. As soon as I let him in he grabbed the revolver and it went off. The ball entered Lafe's head, and he dropped down dead. I was so frightened I must have been crazy. I picked up the ax and cut the head and arm off and put them in the kitchen stove. I did not intend to kill him."

RELEASE OF PERDICARIS.

Consul Gummere Reports the Situation Highly Unsatisfactory.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Consul Gummere reports little progress in the attempt to secure the release of the American, Perdicaris, who was kidnaped from his country home by a band of Moroccan bandits, who hold him for a heavy ransom, near Tangier last week. In a cablegram received from him at the state department the consul says:

"The situation at Tangier is not reassuring. The sultan has sent strong orders to the authorities to act in accordance with the directions of the British minister and myself. The negotiations are proceeding in a highly unsatisfactory manner, though the sultan appears to be trying to stimulate the local officials to active efforts."

An American warship and a British cruiser are on their way to Tangier to take drastic measures against the perpetrators of the outrage.

FREIGHT HANDLERS' STRIKE.

Bloodshed at New York—No Freight For Road Accepted at Boston.

NEW YORK, May 26.—Blood was shed in connection with the strike of the freight handlers employed by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company when John Lane of 603 Water street was shot in the left shoulder while in the prison pen at the Essex market police court. The shooting, which was the outcome of arrests made because of rioting along the East river front, is alleged to have been done by Lawrence Daly of 73 Montgomery street. Lane was not badly injured.

The two men and a third man were brought to the court together by Policeman John Sexton of the East Sixty-seventh street station, who is detailed on strike duty along the East river front.

The men connected with the shooting are striking freight handlers. They were arrested charged with disorderly conduct in assaulting a nonunion man. Policeman Sexton was emphatic in telling Inspector Schmittberger that none of the men had a revolver when arrested.

A Boston dispatch says shippers have been informed by the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad that for the present no freight for New York and vicinity would be accepted. The officials of the road stated that they expected to move the freight now held in that city soon and that shipments might then be received.

An order from headquarters at New Haven not to receive goods billed for New York for immediate delivery, it was added, referred to present business. What the road could do during the week would be announced from day to day.

General Manager Samuel Higgins of the railroad said that the strike was the result of "a most unusual" proceeding on the part of the officers of the union, after an agreement had been entered into last March which it was believed would be binding for a year. He said that the men in striking were obeying the command of their officers and that he did not believe they would have the indorsement of the national body. President Mellen also was in Boston, though not on business connected with the strike.

An effect of the trouble at Boston is an advance in the price of fruit, due to the failure to arrive of 1,500 crates of strawberries. The price in the market jumped from 6 cents a box to 17 cents.

ALABAMA DEMOCRATS.

Montgomery Convention Committee Refused to Report For Parker.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 26.—The Democratic state convention has opened here. Temporary Chairman Gray, on accepting the chair, said, "Thank God, this is not a reorganized Democracy." He then appointed committees on credentials and organization. The resolutions committee refused to favorably report a resolution instructing for Parker. C. C. Whiltson of Talladega was elected permanent chairman. During a recess Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson walked across the stage and was given an ovation.

While no instructions were given, the resolutions adopted recited that at the present time Judge Alton B. Parker is the most available and acceptable candidate for the nomination for the presidency and that the sentiment of the convention is for his nomination. The unit rule was put in force, and an overwhelming majority of the delegates elected favor the nomination of Parker.

HOLDS UP THE POSSE.

Tennesseeans Have Trouble Over a Cow—Two Deaths the Outcome.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 26.—A special from Carthage says one man is dead and another is supposed to be dead as the result of an effort to capture a man charged with murder. Sid Vaden and Dan White had some difficulty on account of the trespassing of a cow on White's growing crops. White told his little son to get a gun, from which he emptied the contents into the back of Vaden as he walked away.

Vaden died instantly. Sheriff Scruggs, with a posse, went to the scene and found White securely barricaded in his home. He refused to surrender, and the officers kept guard over the house all night. Four of the posse made a charge and got inside the door, but the fire from a Winchester compelled them to retreat, leaving one of their number, Robert Overstreet, behind. He is supposed to be dead. White defies the officers and declares he will not be taken alive.

Bank of Nashua Reopened.

NASHUA, N. H., May 26.—The bank of the Nashua Trust company, which was closed Jan. 25, following the defalcation of Treasurer John P. Goggin, was reopened for business today. This action was decided upon after the bank commissioners had completed their examination of the assets and the injunction against the company had been removed upon their recommendation.

Jumped In Front of Train.

CHICAGO, May 26.—W. A. Duncan, a traveling salesman from Syracuse, N. Y., committed suicide here by leaping in front of a Lake Shore and Michigan Southern freight train. Friends of Duncan assert that he was temporarily insane, as he had been acting strangely. A large sum of money which Duncan had a short time before his death is missing.

False Teeth Killed Him.

AUBURN, N. Y., May 26.—William Wheelan, aged twenty-four, swallowed several of his false teeth while asleep. A physician succeeded in extracting the teeth from his windpipe, but he died later from the effects.

VERDICT NOT GUILTY

General Tyner and Harrison Barrett Acquitted.

WASHINGTON POSTOFFICE TRIAL ENDS

Aged Officer, Accused, Broke Down and Wept—Trial Has Lasted Nineteen Days—Jury Out Only Twenty-two Minutes.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Within twenty-two minutes of the retirement of the jury in the case of James N. Tyner and Harrison J. Barrett, tried on charges of conspiracy in connection with their duties as law officers for the postoffice department, a verdict of not guilty was returned. The throng which filled the courtroom throughout the arguments to the jury hardly had time to leave the building before the jury was back, and the foreman announced that a verdict had been reached. General Tyner, expecting a much longer wait, had been wheeled from the room, and his nephew and codefendant hastened to give an order which caused him to return.

General Tyner appeared greatly excited as he attempted to face the jury, and when the verdict was returned he broke down completely. Several of the jurors wept with him, and all of them shook hands with him.

The Tyner-Barrett case was begun on May 2 and has been before the court nineteen full days. A great mass of testimony was offered. The prosecution brought forward an army of witnesses, a majority of whom were former officers of bond investment companies, through which Harrison J. Barrett, the junior defendant, was alleged to have profited after he left the postoffice department by practicing before his uncle, who remained in the department.

The principal arguments made were by A. S. Worthington for the defense and Major General Holmes Conrad, special counsel for the government for the prosecution. The latter directed his efforts almost entirely to an attempt to counteract any influence on the jurors' verdict which might result from sympathy for General Tyner. He told the jury that they had no right to entertain sympathy for General Tyner or the young wife of Mr. Barrett, who was a witness in the defendant's behalf.

Judge Pritchard's charge to the jury was long. He had granted a number of the prayers offered by counsel on both sides and in addition his own charge covered a dozen typewritten pages. Among other things he told the jury that it had had an opportunity to observe the conduct of all of the witnesses and could take into consideration any interest they may have had in giving their testimony. He called like attention to the testimony of the defendants and the weight that should be attached to their statements. The court said in conclusion that the jury might find the defendants guilty as to each count charged in the indictment or acquit them as to one count and find them guilty as to the other or return a verdict of not guilty on both counts. Judge Pritchard emphasized the fact that the jury must not be influenced by prejudice on the one hand or sympathy on the other and said the case should be tried solely on its merits and without regard to what effect the verdict might have on the public mind. He gave a definition of conspiracy and made plain the meaning of "reasonable doubt."

Mexican Pilgrim Died at Sea.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The Hamburg-American liner Prinz Oscar has arrived from Naples. Among the saloon passengers were a party of four German officials on a visit to the St. Louis exposition, Bishop Fernandez and a party of seventeen Catholic clergymen who are returning from a pilgrimage to Rome and the Holy Land, en route for Zamora, Mexico. There was one death in the party during the voyage. Rev. Ambrosi Garcia, a young Mexican priest, fell down a ladder to the deck on Tuesday, peritonitis developed, and he died at sea yesterday morning. His body was brought to port.

Americans In Canal Zone.

PANAMA, May 26.—G. R. Shanton, captain of police in the Panama canal zone, is actively organizing his police force. The electric light and tramway plants and the telephone system in the Panama canal zone have been bought by a syndicate in which American capital is interested. The government has granted the United Fruit company a fifteen years' concession for the operation of a system of wireless telegraphy between Panama, Colon, Bocas del Toro and bay of Limon and the Central and South American nations.

Two Dead, One In Jail.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., May 26.—As the result of a pitched battle six miles west of here in South Dakota Clarence Chilleau is dead and his brother Albert is dying in a Sioux City hospital. John St. Pierre, who confessed he did the shooting, is in jail here. The tragedy was the result of an old feud. All three men are farmers.

Admiral Cooper Wishes to Retire.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Rear Admiral Cooper, commander in chief of the Asiatic squadron, has requested that he be relieved of that command and placed on the retired list in the [illegible]y fall. It is probable that Rear Ad[illegible]al Stirling will succeed him.

Plainfield, N. J., May 26, 1904.

David Rothschild has begun to serve his nine years' term in Sing Sing. The dispatch with which the New York court put that rascal away reminds one of Jersey justice.

Advices from Washington declare that Senator Kean favors Governor Murphy for National chairman. Wouldn't it be more inexpensive to the Republican party to give the Extra-Session-Governor the Vice Presidency?

Buying newspaper space means buying an audience. The man who has nerve enough to make a liberal contract for advertising, must have faith—faith in himself, faith in his business and faith in the newspaper he pays his money to.—Newburyport, Mass., News.

It's just about time for the citizens of North Plainfield to give their Board of Education a good "calling down" for their official actions or rather inactions. For over two years the question of a new school house has been hanging fire and the people are just about as near having the question settled as they were a year ago. At the last public school meeting the voters unanimously passed a resolution, directing the Board to submit three sites, from which a choice could be made. Instead of doing as directed the Board has seen fit to disregard the people and have decided to recommend but one location for the much needed school building. There is one thing for the people to do and that is to rebuke the Board by adjourning the meeting on Monday night without taking any action on the recommendation of the Board.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—A big auto touring car rushed through lower Park avenue yesterday morning at a speed that startled the residents. Near the clubhouse the machine killed a thoroughbred collie dog belonging to one of the householders. The driver of the machine was a stranger.

—"Automobile licenses netted this State $5,066 during the year just ended," says an exchange. "And a careful calculation by one of the Middlesex county road authorities demonstrates that each automobile does more damage to a country road than fifty average wagons.

British Government Protects Life.

Editor, The Daily Press:

A copy of your daily for May 19 has just been sent me. The report of my impersonation of a Hindu woman, which I find in the paper, is, on the whole, very good, but, one statement will give such a wrong impression of the country and of the power of the British Government over India, that I think it best to make a correction.

It is indeed a serious matter for any one in India to break his caste, whether he be of a high caste or a low, and whether he break it by eating with men outside his own caste or through becoming a Christian. And for a Brahmin to break caste is doubly serious. But, the British Government rules and it protects life. Many years ago it put a stop to all taking of life as by hook swinging, or by throwing of one's self under the wheels of the car of Juggernaut, throwing a child into the Ganges—all these practices, and others of a similar nature, were stopped long ago. Therefore, while the relations of a Brahmin who had embraced Christianity might, and do, make him as dead to them through performing his funeral ceremony and burning his effigy, not him, (as was stated in the report) no open violence would be shown. Quiet poisoning might be attempted, but the Government is held in too high regard, or fear, for anything else to be attempted.

Yours sincerely,
Abby Snell Burnell.

DUNELLEN.

The "roasting" that Captain Smith and his men are receiving at the hands of borough ball cranks, for their defeat at High Bridge on Saturday, is in a great measure, uncalled for and the critics should take a few things into consideration and give the matter a rest. Of course, such a defeat as they received is a hard pill to swallow, but, there was nothing but hard luck for the Dunellen boys all the way through. Craig started the ball rolling by missing the only afternoon train for High Bridge and Tune Hewitt failed to put in an appearance. The loss of Craig made it necessary to put Charles Smith on second base, and although Charlie may be a good player in the outfield he is certainly a "wooden man" when playing in the diamond, and six of the runs scored by High Bridge can be charged to his errors. Another thing was the poor showing made by "Billy" Giles at short, it being an "off day" for him, but the fans should certainly overlook that as it is the first "off day" that "Billy" has had for the past two seasons, and he will, in all probability, be back in his usual form by next Saturday. The best of players is entitled to an "off day" once in awhile and "Billy" is only human. The cranks should remember that Captain Smith has had a great many things to contend with, and they should give the team their hearty support in the future instead of a roasting whenever they lose a game.

A most disgraceful scene took place in the heart of the borough during the noon hour yesterday, when two of Dunellen's citizens came together in a bloody combat after a heated argument. The combatants were both employes of the Levering & Garrigues' factory, and were enjoying a day's vacation. Had they been evenly matched the boroughites would probably have passed it over without much comment, but one of the men was short and slight of frame and the other was a Sandow, and the larger man soon had his opponent on the ground where he kicked and beat him unmercifully and before the row ended blood was flying in all directions. Marshal Mohan was sent for but before he arrived the fighters had fled, much to the disgust of the spectators who would have been pleased to see the conqueror arrested and punished to the full extent of the law.

At the meeting of the W. C. T. U., which was held with Mrs. W. J. Hamilton yesterday afternoon, there were twenty-one new members admitted, after which an entertainment took place, the following programme being carried out: Piano solo, Miss Lulu Gise; recitation, "A Similar Case," Mrs. E. A. Craig; soprano solo, Miss Edith Boice; recitation, "Allen Bancroft's Pledge," Mrs. George Schenck. After the entertainment refreshments were served and a social time was enjoyed by all.

While making his usual after supper tour of the borough on Tuesday evening, Marshal Mohan found Hannah Fox in such a condition that she could navigate only a short distance at every attempt and he thought it best to let her sober up in the borough lock-up. She was arraigned before Justice Campbell yesterday morning and fined $3 which she paid.

Memorial Day exercises will be held tomorrow afternoon in the assembly room of the school. The teachers and scholars have arranged an interesting programme, besides this a delegation from the Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., of Plainfield, is expected to be present. The parents and friends are invited to attend the exercises.

The Cottrell fire demonstrated one thing of interest to the local fire department. It has always been claimed that the Excelsior Truck could never make the Spencer hill being pulled by hand. Of these a number have been found to be justified, by reason of illness or other causes.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning May 29.

Topic.—What Christian Endeavor is doing in mission lands.—Luke i, 49-55.

The Christian Endeavor movement has always placed especial emphasis upon the subject of missions. From the beginning of its history the missionary committee has had a conspicuous place among its activities, the principle of systematic and proportionate giving for missions has been advocated, and faithful efforts have been made to give the young people of our churches the best possible missionary information, upon the principle that knowledge will create interest and co-operation. Christian Endeavor missionary literature has been abundant and attractive, and the missionary prayer meetings have been noted for their attractiveness and helpfulness. Thus in the society the missionary spirit has been developed, and here, of course, the work in foreign lands begins. Christian Endeavor could do nothing in mission lands except first the missionary spirit be developed and fostered at home.

The active work of Christian Endeavor in mission lands is carried on through two agencies—(1) denominational activities and (2) by the organization of Christian Endeavor societies in mission lands.

1. Christian Endeavor works in mission lands through its denominational agencies. Christian Endeavor is "interdenominational." It could not and does not ask the societies to contribute mission sympathy and support a non-denominational mission work. Each one of our great denominations has its missionary activities, and the Christian Endeavor societies work through them. Presbyterian societies work through Presbyterian channels, Congregational societies through Congregational agencies, etc. In this way Christian Endeavor has done much for heathen lands. Thousands of dollars have been raised by it, missionaries have been supported on the field and boys and girls educated in the schools. In 1903 the Young People's societies, largely Christian Endeavor, gave $9,897 to foreign missions, an increase of $414 over the previous year. This merely represents what all our societies are doing — giving through their own denominational channels their time, their sympathy, their prayers and their money for the unsaved millions in heathen lands. And may this phase of our work ever increase rather than decrease!

2. Christian Endeavor works in mission lands through the organization of C. E. societies in these lands. Christian Endeavor has invaded practically every mission land, and wherever a society has been organized something is being done for missions—young people have learned of Christ and have been won for Christ. Let us remember that we are bound in fellowship to these Endeavorers across the seas, and let us ever pray for their continued "growth in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ."

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. lxxii, 8-20; Isa. xxxv, 1-10; Zech. ix, 6; Matt. xxviii, 19, 20; Acts. i, 6-14; xiii, 1-3; Rom. x, 14,15; I. Cor. iii, 5-7; Rev. xxii, 17.

The "Man Behind the Gun."

Frederick W. Fisher, chairman of the Buffalo convention committee, is a well known educator of the Bison City and a long time Christian Endeavorer. He is an active member of the Calvary Presbyterian church and is displaying much ability in the handling of the committee that is arranging for what promises to be New York state's greatest convention.

FREDERICK W. FISHER.

Why Be an Endeavorer?

Because it is better to strive, even imperfectly, than never to strive at all.

Because "growth in grace" is largely conditioned on spiritual exercise, and the Christian Endeavor society is a gymnasium for the development of spiritual muscle and fiber.

Because "all life is a school," and the best training school for the young Christian is the Endeavor society.

Because every person ought to improve every opportunity for fitting himself to be of largest service to the world, and the Christian trained in the Christian Endeavor society is better equipped than the one who has not had this drill.

Because by so much more as the college is beyond the district school is the Endeavor trained Christian beyond one not so favored.

Because the Christian Endeavor idea is practical; because the Christian Endeavor way is the Bible way; because Christian Endeavor has proved its right to your consideration by the record of its twenty odd years, and, better than all, because your pastor wants you to be an Endeavorer.

JOHN R. CLEMENTS.

Mission Study.

The mission study class is a great developer of leaders. Says Dr. Saller in the Assembly Herald for February: "The need of the hour is for missionary locomotives, persons who are qualified and stirred to move others rather than more amiable freight cars, persons who can be moved by a certain amount of exertion, but who altogether lack initiative. The study class under favorable conditions, with separate weekly sessions of sufficient length, is especially adapted to develop the former type of workers."

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

May 29: "Christian Women In Non-Christian Lands."—Acts xvi, 11-15; Phil. iv, 3; Rom. xvi, 1-2.

Women's work for Jesus Christ has been in times past and still continues to be one of the most potent influences for the establishment of righteousness and purity on the earth.

In the apostolic age women were prominent in affairs both religious and secular and frequently decided the course of public events. Lydia in Philippi, Phœbe in Cenchrea, Priscilla in Ephesus, Corinth and Rome, are but specimens in zeal, beneficence and holiness of heart of the Christian womanhood of that age. Multitudes of others were equally worthy of honor, though less known to fame. In Paul's salutation to the Christians in Rome, in the last chapter of his letter to them, what stories lie hidden, what experiences covered, under the names of the women there mentioned by name as associated in the work of world evangelization with this tireless apostle to the gentiles!

All subsequent Christian centuries and lands have furnished worthy successors of "Persis the beloved," of Tryphæna and Tryphosa, of Mary and Julia and all those "who labored much in the Lord." St. Brigid, or Bridget, as she is more familiarly known, is not less worthy of honor for her work in Ireland than St. Patrick, and both were as faithful missionaries of Jesus Christ to a heathen people as the annals of the church have known. Undoubtedly the monastic orders preserved the church and education during the dark ages in Europe and made possible our modern civilization, saving the world from the chaos of barbarism. In this work women of holy lives were as efficient as men. Our young people's societies would do well to give some time to a study of the work of women in the church during the middle ages. Heroism and devoted service in the cause of the Master are not limited to early or to recent times. All times have had their Deborahs and Dorcases.

Special attention should be given to the consideration of the work of our women in recent years. The deaconess movement in Germany and America is worthy of careful study. The woman's home missionary work in the south and west and in the congested sections of our great cities and in the sparsely populated country districts all deserves consideration. How much attention the foreign work of our women claims also! In not a few lands the most hopeful feature of our mission work is that which the women are accomplishing. Schools, medical work, Bible reading, zenana visitation and teacher training are reaching the womanhood of countries where womanhood is debased, yet powerful, and where no general betterment of conditions can come unless the women are raised to purity and enlightenment.

In Africa woman is the drudge, the beast for labor and lust. Polygamy, slavery and witchcraft are the cursing trinity which rules and makes it the dark continent. Christian women are enthroning there the Holy Trinity and will rescue motherhood and wifehood and faith by the gospel of Jesus Christ and make a woman out of the black female.

In India the result may be epitomized by referring to the story of Scoboonagam Ammal. Whoever has not read it should do so as soon as possible.

In China the feet of the woman shall be unbound and shod with sandals of peace.

In Korea she shall emerge from seclusion and in meekness and chastity become coequal of man.

"Help these women."

The Strength of Christ.

Our efforts in the strength of Christ constantly remind us of our dependence. Especially is this true in the face of the strong enemies which we have to encounter. He who has a proper view of the strength of these enemies and of the absolute necessity of encountering and overcoming them cannot be proud, but in all humility will throw himself upon the arm of Christ. In all his efforts to escape sin in its guilt and in its destroying power he will feel the need of divine help. This is that working out of our own salvation to which we are exhorted and which brings us to Christ for the knowledge of the truth and for help in everything that pertains to life and godliness. It is working in everything in subjection to and dependence upon Him who worketh in us "both to will and to do of His own good pleasure."—Christian Instructor.

Act For God.

Our Lord gives the answer to a difficulty continually perplexing honest Christians: "How am I to learn to love God? I want to do my duty, but I do not feel as if I loved God." Our Lord gives the answer, "Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." Act for God, do and say the things that He wills, direct your thoughts and intentions Godward, and, depend upon it, in the slow process of nature all that belongs to you—your instincts, your intelligence, your affections, your feelings—will gradually follow along the line of your action. Act for God; you are already showing love to Him, and you will learn to feel it.—Charles Gore.

Just to Believe.

With the heart man believeth under righteousness.—Rom. x, 10.

Just to believe that He loveth,
And His love you will already own;
Just to believe that He careth,
And your woes He has already borne;
Just to believe He'll forgive you,
And His pardon hath then made you whole;
Just to believe He's your Shepherd,
And then you have entered the fold;
Just to believe full and truly
That your debt the Saviour will pay—
Believe it with loving repentance,
And you are redeemed today.

DAINTY HEADGEAR.

Torpedo Toques of White Roses. Purple Straw Hats Popular.

Some pretty hats for girls are of cream leghorn, simply trimmed with a fall of fine lace or hand painted chiffon or gauze and sometimes a bandeau on which rest tiny pink roses.

The torpedo toque is by no means laid aside, and its smartness is undeniable. It is now being made of tiny white roses or lilies of the valley.

Toques of red straw are worn with gray or check silk gowns.

Black or white straw is a favorite mixture. The old fashioned chip hat trimmed with one long black plume and black chantilly draped on the brim is considered very smart.

Straws this year are both light and pliable. Sometimes as many as three different shades are mixed in one hat.

Purple straw and chiffon toques are even smarter than the all flower hat. To match the purple gowns even shoes are now being dyed. They are made of the finest and most pliable leather.

The "flatiron" hat is becoming decidedly popular, the only adornment being a broad band of contrasting straw, drawing the brim well off the sides of the face.

Ribbon trimmings have become more and more popular. The flowered gauze trimmings set with fagot stitching are a most charming addition to a summer gown, while the Louis or Pompadour bows are to be seen on almost everything. For the adornment of the full dress toilet nothing could be more charming than the gold and silver gauze ribbons on which are embroidered flower designs in delicate faded tones.

The picture shows a purple straw hat trimmed with grapes and a shaded green bow. JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE LATEST IN GOWNS.

Horizontal Tucks on Many Skirts. Voile the Popular Material.

The horizontal tucks appear on a good many fine veiling and silk gowns. Five large tucks often appear from the knees downward, and the upper part down to the knees is simply relieved by the fullness at the waist line.

Linen gowns with cut embroidery are among the latest novelties, and some of these decorated with English embroidery have ribbons half an inch wide run through.

Grass green and a rich cherry red will both be seen a great deal on ecru linens and pongee.

Voile is without doubt the popular fabric this summer. Gray voile inlet with ivory lace and mounted on pink mauve or black is charming, and a dress of this veiling will be found both reasonable and useful.

Brown taffeta and pongee tailor mades are to be worn by smart people this summer, combined with an ecru straw hat trimmed with pale yellow roses.

Shoes in a light champagne shade will be much seen this summer, embroidered in the prevailing tones of the costume. Distinctly novel are the tongueless shoes, the stocking showing through the lacing, although lacing is rather a misnomer, for they are fastened by the most lovely ribbons imaginable, terminating in a large bow near the toe. The smartest tongueless shoes have a perforated pattern. Naturally, with the hose so much in evidence, only the very prettiest designs are worn.

The cut shows a bride's dress of crepe de chine. There is a tucked yoke bordered by a lace and net fichu.

BRIDGES FOR ARMIES

DIFFERENT WAYS IN WHICH THEY ARE CONSTRUCTED.

The Pontoon Style the Most Popular and Feasible—Can Be Quickly Put Together Over Narrow Streams.

With an army in the field there must always be engineers whose business it is to understand bridge making. Obstacles such as rivers or ravines must be bridged when they occur on the line of march, and the art of bridge-making is as old as military art itself. Probably there is no bridge known to us now, from a bridge of boats to a trestle viaduct, that was not known to the Greek, Roman or Persian soldiers in their great campaigns.

The construction of bridges by civilians is the work of weeks and months, but their work is of a permanent nature. In military bridging everything must be done quickly. Consequently everything needed must be at hand. The bridging or pontoon battalion must carry with them everything that is needed.

The bridge chiefly made use of in war is constructed of pontoons. The pontoon is a flat-bottomed boat. A number of these are fastened together by balks laid on beams which are placed longitudinally in the center of the anchored boats, on which transversely are laid the planks which make the roadway of the bridge. Another form of floating bridge which is largely used is that known as the cask bridge. Ordinary beer or water casks are lashed together in such a way as to form a very good substitute for pontoons. A third form of bridge is the trestle bridge, but this can only be used when the ravine or river is not wide. Another method of crossing a river is by ferry. Boats or rafts made of boats, barrel pieces, etc., are often used to ferry considerable bodies of troops over rivers. These punts or rafts may be either rowed, poled or hauled across by a rope from bank to bank—this can only be done in the case of a narrow river of not over 50 or 60 yards wide, and then only when there is not a strong current—or they may be hauled across by a hawser passing over the raft on rollers or through hawseholes made for the purpose in its sides or ends. If a wire rope be stretched across from bank to bank, so as to be at its lowest point at least three or four feet above the highest flood level, the ferry-boat may be fastened to it by a short line secured to a large ring, working loose on the wire rope, or to specially constructed running gear provided with pulleys. The boat or craft can then be easily hauled backwards and forwards by a line secured to each bank of the river, no matter how swift the current may be.

One of the most exciting methods of crossing a river is by a flying bridge. The principle of this bridge is the same as that of a kite. In this case the boat or raft is attached by hawser to a stationary boat in such a way as to be kept at an oblique angle to the stream, and the current is made use of to drive the flying boat across.

In making a pontoon bridge it is important to select a site as near as possible to an existing road, as the connection of the bridge with the nearest hard road is often as hard a piece of work as the construction of the bridge itself.

In the Russian army there are in the engineers in war time eight pontoon battalions, consisting of two companies each. Each battalion numbers 12 officers three officials, and 591 non-commissioned officers and men, and has 495 horses. The uniform consists of dark green blouses, with dark green collars and cuffs, the former piped with scarlet, scarlet shoulder straps and dark green trousers. The forage cap is dark green, with a dark green band and scarlet piping. Fur caps are worn in the winter. All dismounted men have dragoon rifles and bayonets and carry 30 rounds of ammunition, 30 more being carried in regimental transport.

It is a pretty sight to see a pontoon battalion at work. In a few minutes the flat-bottomed boats are emptied of the bridging tackle which is stowed away inside. Steadying ropes are adjusted from the banks, and after a few moments of apparent confusion the men get their craft dressed in line, while the deckhands are making and lashing fast to the roadway above.

STRUGGLE WITH A GRIZZLY.

Hunter from Ohio Has Experience in Sierra Madre Mountains Which He Won't Forget.

J. L. Anderson, a tourist from Sandusky, O., had an exciting experience recently while hunting in the Sierra Madre mountains. In telling the Mexican Herald about the matter, before leaving for his home, Mr. Anderson said that he was in northwestern Chihuahua hunting for big game and suddenly encountered a large grizzly bear. The animal started to run, when he fired, only slightly wounding it in the side. The sting of the bullet infuriated the beast, and quick as a flash of lightning it turned and attacked its assailant.

"I fired one more shot," said Mr. Anderson, "but the bullet went wild, and before I could defend myself the bear was upon me with a mad, wild rush. It threw me down, and then began a fierce fight for my life. The claws of the beast severely lacerated my body. It caught my left arm above the elbow and broke the bone. With my other hand I got out my hunting knife but could not stab the animal in any vital place. Death seemed inevitable, but fortunately the contest occurred on the edge of a sharp precipice. The bear lost its balance and rolled over the cliff to a ledge 40 feet below. It almost carried me with it, but I clung to the underbrush and finally crawled away. I did not look to see where the bear went, but got out of that place as soon as possible."

Mr. Anderson is still suffering from the effects of his terrible experience, and it will be several weeks before he recovers.

HONEYMOON TRIP ON FOOT.

Two Loving Mountaineers Walk from Tennessee to Visit Relatives in Indiana.

A bridal trip on foot from Louden county, Tenn., to Crawfordsville, Ind., is an innovation in the honeymoon line. William Hurst and his bride, who made the novel bridal tour, spent one night at the police station at New Albany, Ind., and departed on their journey northward.

"You see, me and Lucindy was married last Sunday night," said the bridegroom. "She had relation in Indiany, near Crawfordsville, and we just vowed that w'd go and visit 'em. It 'pears like times is better up here, and if I can git work we'll stay. We had no money, so we thought we would chance it a-foot."

The couple were Tennessee mountaineers. The bridegroom was tall, slender and stoop-shouldered. He wore a blue check shirt, black sack coat and a pair of blue cottonade trousers that terminated midway between the knees and the tops of his brogan shoes. The bride was dressed in a blue calico dress and wore a fascinator over her head.

Strategy of a Collie Dog.

A remarkable addition to the list of stories indicating animal intelligence comes from Ithaca, New York, the seat of Cornell university. A collie belonging to Prof. W. F. Durand and a bull-terrier belonging to Dr. L. Coville had long been enemies and had fought many battles, in which the terrier was usually victorious. On January 8 the foes met again near the edge of the Fall Creek gorge, where the precipice drops 100 feet vertically. The collie, finding itself overmastered, ran to the verge of the cliff. The terrier followed and, according to eyewitnesses, the collie circled about until, seizing an opportunity, it deliberately pushed its enemy over the edge. The terrier was dashed to death on the rocks below, and the victor, after peering down at the body of his fallen foe, trotted away with head and tail aloft.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL, PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

SHELL PORT ARTHUR

Japanese Bound to Seize Czar's Fortress.

EIGHT WARSHIPS BOMBARD IT.

Dainy Expecting Attack at Any Moment—Russians Ready to Make Exit—Docks Are Not Destroyed. Japanese Army Advancing.

LONDON, May 26.—A Chefu report says a portion of the Japanese fleet has bombarded Port Arthur. Eight large warships circled before the entrance of Port Arthur for one hour, firing broadsides at intervals of ten minutes.

At Dainy everything is quiet, but an attack on the part of the Japanese is expected hourly. The military and civil officials of Dainy are ready to leave. Only a few civilians remain.

The attempt made about a fortnight ago to destroy the docks and piers at Dainy was not successful, and after the receipt of the news of the loss of the Japanese battleship Hatsuse Lieutenant General Stoessel, commander of the military forces at Port Arthur, ordered that the docks and piers be not destroyed.

The Japanese are in force at Pitsewo and Kinchau and are ready to march down either side of the peninsula toward Port Arthur.

A Mukden dispatch says that, according to the latest information obtainable, the Japanese have resumed their forward movement. Several columns are advancing, though the bulk of the invading army is still near Fengwangcheng.

There are persistent reports of a bloody battle having taken place between the Japanese army advancing along the railroad from Pulantien and the Russians near Kinchau, on the Liautong peninsula, resulting in the defeat of the Japanese with great loss.

Small parties of Japanese scouts have been seen northeast of Mukden at a considerable distance, but no important body of the enemy has been located in the vicinity.

St. Petersburg advices say that telegraphic communication with Newchwang is again interrupted, and private messages for points south of Liaoyang are refused here at the telegraph office. The nature of the interruption with Newchwang is not known, but the cause for refusing messages south of Liaoyang is the complete absorption of the lines for military purposes.

The general staff is inclined to believe that it will require some time for General Oku to prepare for active offensive operations against Port Arthur. Siege guns are considered an absolute prerequisite, as the water at Kinchau is too shallow to permit heavy warships to get within effective range.

A Liaoyang dispatch says a wounded Cossack, who has arrived at the village of Sayaolentsi, reports that a fight took place north of Takushan in which the Japanese ambushed a sotnia of Cossacks and nearly wiped them out.

The Cossacks were patrolling to the north of Takushan for a distance of eighteen miles when they fell in with three squadrons of Japanese cavalry, who retreated. The Cossacks followed and fell into an ambuscade, a body of Japanese infantry being concealed behind a small hill.

Commander Beckromesheff ordered his men to draw their sabers and cut their way out when his horse was shot under him. He had just time to order the sotnia to scatter when he fell wounded.

The Japanese then closed in on two sides, firing volleys at close range. The two remaining officers fell, and the sotnia retreated with the loss of three officers and thirty men.

Twenty Injured at East Liverpool.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., May 26.—Twenty persons have been injured, some seriously, in a wreck on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road, near here. The engineer of the train had just resumed work after two years' layoff from injuries received in another wreck.

RAWLINS, Wyo., May 26.—A westbound Union Pacific train, known as the overland flier, has been wrecked near Hallville. The entire train left the rails, one car turning completely over. All the passengers were badly shaken up, but none was seriously injured. A broken rail caused the wreck.

Boys' Fatal Canoe Trip.

FATHER CLIFFORD ON VICTORIAN PROSE

Scholarly Priest Delivers a Polished and Absorbingly Interesting Address.

CHARMS HIS AUDIENCE

GREAT ADMIRER OF NEWMAN, FROUDE THACKERY AND PATER.

Dwells on Macaulay — Pater, a "Latinist of the Latinist"— His Hearers Were Enthusiastic.

On "The Makers of Victorian Prose" Rev. Father Cornelius Clifford delivered a scholarly and polished lecture at the Casino last night. While not large, the audience was highly sympathetic and appreciative, and the lecturer was followed with close attention from his opening sentence to his closing word. Father Clifford spoke in an easy conversational manner that possessed a distinct charm.

Father Clifford dwelt at considerable length on Macaulay, whom, in spite of his urbane disclaimers, he did not seem wholly to admire. He admitted that he, Macaulay, shared with Mill in the distinction of having taught the ablest journalists of the period how to write and how to view the facts of history; but he was not a safe guide in the formation of taste for the same reason that made him an uncertain master in tracing the true causes of events. He was too obviously in love with the common place and the pseudo-picturesque.

The speaker's sincerest encomiums were reserved for Newman, for Froude, who was held up as a master of style but not of impartial judgment in matters of historic love, for Thackeray and for Walter Pater. He warned his readers, with just the faintest touch of urbane irony, that Pater's prose they could not hope to appreciate at its highest until they had soaked themselves in the classic tradition that had made Pater what he was, "a latinist of the latinists," and learned, like him, to sit for a long space at the feet of teachers as various in temperament as Newman, Lamb, DeQuincey, Carlyle and Pascol.

A more extended account of the lecture will be published tomorrow.

In case the animal is disqualified, the winner of the next succeeding prize will be entitled to take the prize awarded for such disqualified horse. In addition to the cups and prize money, the usual ribbons will be awarded to the first, second and third in each event. There will be two races during the show, the Watchung and the Hillside. The Watchung is for ponies not over 14.3 hands, catch weights, half mile. This is a sweepstakes of $10 each, the total amount to go to the winner. The Hillside is a hurdle race for four-year-olds and upward; one and a half miles over nine flights of hurdles. This is also a sweepstakes of $10 each, the total amount to go to the winner. In each event colors must be worn by riders, who must be amateurs.

The horses entered in the roadsters classes will be judged as road horses that are driven regularly on the road. Their manners, conformation and style of going will be considered, not their pedigrees or records. Paces will be barred. In class No. 1, roadsters, any height, to be shown to wagon, another cup is offered. A third cup is the prize in class No. 3, a horse, any height, and best appointed road rig. The following scale of points will govern in judging class, No. 3: Horse, sixty per cent.; general appointments, including wagon, harness, robes, blankets, whip, style, and the like, forty per cent. In judging pacers, conformation, style of going, manners, and as they are and appear at the time of showing in the rig, will be considered. A cup is offered in class No. 4, for pacers, any height, to be shown to wagon.

All animals entered in the horses-to-harness classes must be serviceably sound for the purposes for which they are shown and must have good manners. Conformation and quality will count fifty per cent. and action and style will count fifty per cent. In each of the eight classes of horses in harness the prize for first is $40 and for second $10. Class No. 5, is for horses over 14.2 hands and not exceeding 15.2; class No. 6, is for a pair of horses, over 14.2 and not exceeding 15.2; class No. 7, horse, over 14.2; class No. 9, horses to be shown before a woman's appropriate vehicle, with woman to drive; class No. 10, pair of horses, same as No. 9; class No. 11, horse, 14.2 and not exceeding 15.2. Suitable for a runabout, to be shown before a runabout; class No. 12, tandem, the wheeler to be of any height, but no tandem to be admitted in which the leader exceeds the wheeler in height.

A first prize of $40 and a second prize of $10 is offered in the four-in-hands, class No. 13, horses to be of any height, to be shown before a coach, drag or break. In class No. 14, combination harness and saddle horses, the animal is to be first shown to an appropriate vehicle and judges as a horse suited for harness purposes; the horses to be unharnessed in the ring and to be judged and shown under saddle. Class No. 15, is for ponies in harness, and all ponies in this class must be serviceably sound, have good manners and be shown before an appropriate vehicle, for ponies

READY FOR BATTLE ON OVAL

PLAINFIELD AND WESTFIELD TEAMS TO MEET TOMORROW AFTERNOON.

Nothing now remains for a fine exhibition of the National game tomorrow between Alis and Westfield in their first clash of the season, but a fine day. Manager Johnston and Manager Denman have each decided on their lineup, which shows on paper, that little or no padding is to be done. There will be the greatest interest in this game not only because it is the first meeting this year, but by reason of games that each team have played thus far.

The supporters of Alis cannot see how Westfield can win. They contend that inasmuch as Alis defeated Aeolian 8 to 0 and Aeolian defeated Westfield 10 to 3, the locals should not have much trouble in winning tomorrow's game. On the other hand it must be remembered that Maurer pitched for Aeolian against Alis, while Doerscher did the trick against Westfield. Another point advanced in favor of Alis is that the team is composed of heavier batsmen and should be depended upon to hit Waller at will. This will depend somewhat on Waller's condition. Westfielders claim that the red-head boy is due to pitch in his old-time form and he may puzzle Captain Lauder's bunch. At all events the game will be a hummer from start to finish no matter who wins.

The only change in the Alis lineup is in right field. In place of Griffin, who will pitch for Scotch Plains, Murray, of Jersey City, will be seen. He is a hard hitter, a fine fielder and it is said can also twirl the ball, if necessary.

The teams will lineup this way:

Alis — Roberts, ss; Lauder, 3b; Oregan, 2b; McGeoy, of; Murray, rf; Mehler, 1b; Farmer, c; Hollywood, lf; Davis, p.

Westfield — Burke, c; Wialler, p; Burns, 1b; Rochford, 2b; Heckman, ss; Barry, 3b; Goldberg, lf; Mallen, cf; Connolly, rf.

The game will be called promptly at 3:45 and Umpire Merity will handle the indicator.

ANOTHER GIRAUD AVE. SPAN

FREEHOLDERS ORDER BRIDGE FOR THE RACEWAY.

At the special meeting of the Board of Freeholders yesterday, Director Hubbard appointed all the standing committees. They are practically the same as last year, changes being few and insignificant.

One thing of interest in connection with the committee appointments was the re-appointment of the present Giraud avenue bridge committee to consider the matter of constructing a new span across the raceway near the avenue bridge. This bridge has been inadequate for traffic usage for some time. The committee was re-appointed upon a motion by Freeholder Westphal, of this city, the chairman.

COUNTRY YOUTH A BIG SWINDLER

Postoffice Inspector Arrests Lad Who Received Piles of Mail at Fanwood.

GET-RICH-QUICK GAME

HIS ALLURING OFFER TO UNSUSPECTING INVESTORS.

Taken Into Custody at Berkeley Heights and Acknowledges His Guilt—His Method of Operation.

Charged with using the United States mail for fraudulent purposes, Charles Lester Murphy, a twenty-one-year-old youth of Berkeley Heights, was arrested at his home yesterday by Postal Inspector Meharey. Before United States Commissioner Whitehead in Newark, he acknowledged his guilt and waived examination. He was held in default of $1,000 bail to await the action of the United States Grand Jury.

Murphy is a raw country lad, and looks like the last person in the world to engage in a swindling scheme that involved the sale of mining and manufacturing stocks. He was working on the farm in his bare feet when arrested, and the Postal Inspector at first could hardly believe that he had the right man.

Murphy's scheme was to send alluring letters to people on a mailing list that he had purchased from one of the concerns selling such things, offering stocks of various kinds. He promised profits of fifty to one hundred per cent. on each share. He offered the stock of the Murphy-McMichael Company, and the Lunar Oil Company, mythical corporations, and of the Marconi Wireless and Western Union Companies.

Most of his letters were sent to people in the West and South. P. J. Robb, of Salem, O., made the formal complaint that resulted in Murphy's arrest. He sent Murphy $75 for some "Lunar" stock, which never arrived.

Attention was first called to Murphy by Mrs. Bettman, of the Fanwood postoffice, where most of the young swindler's mail was sent. She noticed the sudden increase in his mail, and the various nature of the cards printed on the envelopes he sent out, and notified the United States officers. They watched the lad's operations for several months and collected the evidence upon which action was taken.

Murphy told Inspector Meharey that the idea for the scheme came from the stories of such operations in the newspapers. He said he had received over $500 within a few weeks.

LAWN FETE FOR BABY CAMP

BENEVOLENT BAND, KING'S DAUGHTERS, HOLD OUTDOOR AFFAIR.

Under the auspices of Benevolent Circle, King's Daughters, a lawn fete for the benefit of the baby camp on the mountain was held yesterday afternoon. The affair took place at the home of Mrs. Frank Sprague Martin, of Netherwood, the president of the Circle.

The lawn was prettily arranged with settees and tables, and the porch and awnings were lavishly decorated. Flowery Japanese lanterns hung from the trees, the whole effect being very much en fete. Special features of the affair, which supplemented the usual refreshment tables, were pony rides for the children and a Brownie show. Practically all the forty-three members of the Circle worked to make the fete a success.

There was a large attendance and the affair passed off most delightfully. Financially, as well as socially, it was a great success, and the camp fund will be materially swelled as a result.

The camp will be opened in a week or so. It will make an auspicious beginning, starting under better financial circumstances than last year.

PUPILS' RECITAL ATTRACTS A CROWD

Miss Aimee Louise Emmons Presents An Enjoyable and Diversified Programme.

HELD AT THE CASINO

PUPILS HEARTILY APPLAUDED BY ADMIRING FRIENDS.

Drills, Pantomime, Songs and Recitations — Miss Myra Emmons Acts as Accompanist—The Teacher Congratulated.

Unqualified success attended the recital of the pupils of Miss Aimee Louise Emmons, the elocutionist, at the Casino last night. Friends and relatives of the pupils attended the affair in large numbers, and all of them enjoyed it thoroughly. There was a long and diversified programme, and the manner in which the numbers were presented reflected a very great amount of credit upon Miss Emmons and her methods of training. Prolonged applause greeted every number, and after recital Miss Emmons received congratulations and compliments from all sides among the audience.

In the order presented, the programme was as follows: A scarf drill, in which the Misses Frances Rittenhouse, Margaret Vandeventer, Amy Winant, Arline Brown, Anna McCullough, May Smith, Laura Woolston, Florence Johnson, Frances Mosher, Helen Ryder, Marion Wean and Ruth Wean took part. They were costumed in white, with gold trimmings, and drilled with bright yellow scarfs. A feature of the drill was a duet dance by the Misses Rittenhouse and Vandeventer.

Miss Jessica Hill sang a solo, "Swan Song." A pantomime, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," was acted by Miss Louise Davis; the words of the hymn were sung from behind the scenes by the Euterpean Glee Club. "A Little Quaker Sinner," a recitation, was delivered by Miss Amy Winant; Miss Helen Ryder rendered "Princess Lovely Locks," and Miss Frances Mosher rendered "How Did They Know," both recitations.

Lawrence French appeared in a dumbbell drill. "Legend of the Organ Grinder," a recitation, was delivered by Miss Anna McCullough. Another recitation, "What She Said," was rendered by Miss Marion Wean. Miss Ruth Wean posed to a number of poems read by Miss Arline Brown.

An Athenian drill, with six figures, scored a great hit. The Misses May Smith, Jessica Hill, Laura C. Woolston, Anna McCullough and Florence Johnson took part, clad in Greek costume.

"The Fairies' Party," a recitation, was delivered by Miss Frances Rittenhouse; "Mattie's Troubles," was recited by Miss Margaret Vandeventer and Miss Forence Johnson recited "Cicey Croak." A monologue, "A Heart-rending Affair," was rendered by Miss May Smith; "Mice at Play," a recitation, was delivered by Miss Arline Brown. Pantomime, "Lead, Kindly Light," was posed by Miss Hill, the Enterpean Club singing from behind the scenes.

The programme closed with a comedy, "The Burglar Alarm," in which four of the girls took part: Misses Woolston, Davis, McCullough and Johnson. The parts were cleverly enacted.

Miss Myra Emmons acted as accompanist at the recital.

HOME FROM LONG TRIP.

Mrs. C. W. Eoff and Daughter Return From the West.

Mrs. Charles W. Eoff and daughter, Miss May Eoff, of Crescent avenue, reached home at 5:42 last night, after a delightful nine weeks' pleasure trip. They were accompanied by Mrs. Eoff's cousin, P. M. Johnston, of the firm of Johnston & Johnston, of St. Elmo, Ill., the third largest contractors in the world, and the entire trip was made in Mr. Johnston's private car.

The party visited Corpus Christi, Texas; Mexico and returned by the way of St. Louis. Johnston & Johnston have been building a railroad in Texas, 250 miles thus far being constructed, and another contract for 175 miles additional trackage has just been signed. While in Texas the Vanderbilts were there in a private car inspecting the road with a view of purchasing it.

BIG CROWD AT H. S. CANTATA

THE LEGEND OF BREGENZ SUPERBLY RENDERED BY THE PUPILS.

Training of the most skillful and painstaking kind was evidenced by the singing of the chorus of High School pupils in their programme at the Seventh-day church last night. In "The Legend of Bregenz," an adaptation of Adelaide A. Proctor's poem of the same name, the chorus of girls supported, in the best possible maner, the solo and duet work of Miss Marie Newman and Miss Mary Collier who were heartily applauded.

G. Morgan Stricklett's interpretation of the numbers on the programme which fell to his share was so well appreciated as to earn for him several encores. The solos by Mrs. Thomas McDonald, C. L. Lewis and Mr. Stricklett were the subject of considerable favorable comment among the homegoing throng. While speaking of the general merits of the performance of the vocal music, it is only proper to mention the exceptionally fine accompaniment furnished by Mrs. C. L. Lewis. Miss Mabel Maxson and Miss Jessie Utter, organist. Charles L. Lewis, as conductor, displayed admirable control of the voices under his command.

The following young men acted as ushers: F. K. Anderson, Jose Tweedy, Samuel Reed, Stewart Freeman, Richard Fenno and Charles Titsworth.

BVT.-MAJ. TELLS OF FIGHT

REV. DR. HUBBELL'S TALK AT TRINITY MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

Patriotism and gallantry marked the monthly sociable of the Men's Association, of Trinity church, last night. The members entertained their wives and women friends with a programme that was all of the flag. The affair was well attended and greatly enjoyed. Music by a four-piece orchestra and an address by Rev. Dr. W. C. Hubbell, were the features of the programme.

Dr. Hubbell's address was the chief number of the evening. He delivered a highly interesting account of the battle of Cold Harbor, the more interesting and absorbing because it came from one of the participants of the great conflict. Cold Harbor has been called "the unwritten battle of the war," and Dr. Hubbell's account is probably the best that has been given about it. He is in position to write fully and accurately because he was a brevet major.

Dr. Hubbell painted the twelve days' fighting in graphic word pictures. His hearers saw the Unionists fail in their last attempt to turn the Confederate flank, and understood how the question of marching directly from the Rapidan to Richmond was answered in the negative by that failure.

Six patriotic airs were played by the orchestra. Before the address, "Marching Through Georgia" was rendered and after it came "Maryland, My Maryland." The orchestra was composed of Mrs. G. W. Saums, piano; E. P. Wheeler, flute; Edward Young, cornet, and Irving Beninger, violin.

The committee in charge consisted of H. J. Martin, chairman; Edwin Bohan, O. W. Dunham, G. W. Hoagland, E. F. Sheppard.

FISK AND TILNEY TAPPED

YALE'S EXCLUSIVE ORGANIZATIONS HONORED TWO PLAINFIELDERS.

Yale's tap day was celebrated yesterday and the announcement of the elections to the senior societies were made in the customary manner. A local interest is attached because Charles W. Fisk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, of West Seventh street, was the ninth man tapped for Scroll and Keys, while Robert Tilney, 3d., also of this city, was the ninth man tapped for Skull and Bones. Election to either one of these societies is considered high honor, as only fifteen men are tapped for each annually.

FOUR NURSES GET DIPLOMAS

Graduating Exercises of Muhlenberg Hospital's Training School for Nurses.

CHAS. J. FISK PRESIDES

Dr. Norman H. Probasco Makes An Address—Prayer Offered by Rev. E. M. Rodman—C. E. Brooks Presents Pins—Other Features.

Four women, having completed the three years' course at the Muhlenberg Hospital Training School for Nurses, were graduated from that institution last night with the customary honors. The exercises were held in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church and were attended by physicians, graduate nurses, members of the Woman's Auxiliary Board and friends of the hospital.

The programme was one of interest and appropriate to the occasion, consisting of selections by the Plainfield High School Banjo and Mandolin Club, tenor solo by George W. Smith, accompanied by Howard Case; prayer by Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector emeritus of Grace church; addresses by Charles J. Fisk, president of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital; Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church and the presentation of diplomas and pins by Mr. Fisk and Charles E. Brooks.

The graduates were Mrs. Harriet J. Tabor, of Elmira, N. Y.; Miss Emily H. Hill, of Augusta, Ga.; Miss Helen R. Boice and Miss Alice M. Rand, of Plainfield. They together with the superintendent of the hospital, Miss Wildey, and her assistant as well as the other members of the training school occupied seats on the platform. When they entered the room hearty applause was given them.

After Dean Rodman offered prayer, there was a selection by the banjo and Mandolin club, followed with a short address by President Charles J. Fisk. He reviewed the early history of the hospital, stating that twenty years ago it was founded by Dr. Clark and W. R. Cock. They called in Rev. E. M. Rodman for consultation. The first meeting was held in the vestry of Grace church, where with the aid of Dr. Burlingham the initiative was taken. In 1875 the hospital was incorporated and soon afterward the Woman's Auxiliary was formed. The first year $145 was raised for the institution. The next year $1,000 was subscribed, the third year $500 and the fourth year $3,000 was secured. This money was raised through the holding of picnics, excursions, fairs, etc. In 1881 the hospital was completed and opened on Thanksgiving Day.

Last year, Mr. Fisk reported, 446 patients were treated at the hospital, there were 325 operations and 800 persons visited the dispensary. Of the number one hundred were private patients, two hundred were pay-patients and 146 were charity patients. He then spoke of the work in building additions to the old hospital, the work of starting the new one until at present the city has a plant that cost $100,000, and most of this money has been subscribed by the people of Plainfield. It costs $20,000 a year to maintain the present hospital, and of this sum about $12,000 is received from private sources and the county. Mr. Fisk said that if every person in the city would contribute $1 a year, the running expenses would be met easily. He added that while the hospital was started by Episcopalians it was now strictly interdenominational.

Mr. Zelie was the next speaker and he said at the outset that it must be refreshing to have some one come in and talk about something they know nothing about. He said that professions belong to humanity and those who have adopted them are simply holding them for the others who are to follow. Continuing he said that while every profession was being criticized more or less, the one of trained nursing is too new to be effected in that way and everyone appears good natured about it. He then cited the various professions, ministers, physicians, journalists and lawyers and about each one he made some pleasant remark.

He spoke of the fact that since coming to this city and in making calls he frequently would learn that those

VICTORIAN PROSE; SUBJECT OF LECTURE

Extended Report of Father Clifford's Intellectual Treat at the Casino.

QUALITY OF MAKERS

A PROSE AS WONDERFUL AND PERFECT AS IN PRECEDING AGES.

Great Writers of the Time—The American Prosemakers—The Elizabethian Era—Interesting Talk.

"There is a very suggestive hint thrown out in a remark in one of Walter Bagehot's essays to the effect that an author's personality tends to separate itself from the personality of the man. The remark has more in it than strikes the casual ear. Most of us, who have thought about the facts of the case at all, have recognized that between Shakespeare, as we know him in his wonderful plays and Shakespeare as he probably lived his life, there was a vast psychological gap which the student in literature today has vainly tried in each literary generation to bridge over. There is a mysterious effluence that goes out from the creative spirit of the man and incarnates itself in the Shakespeare that each one of us imagines for himself. Literary personality has, indeed, its phases; and these may stand for disparate ideals in the field of art; and, in similar wise, it may be contended that the style of a period tends to separate itself from the master voices of a period and take shape as a dimly apprehended yet instinctively known something which we call the accepted prose utterance of the time. We all recognize, for instance, what is meant by the prose of the period of threcydides. We can discern in a not unlike fashion what is meant by the Elizabethan point of view in the choice and distribution of words marshalled in obedience to that subtler law of harmony that dominated the prose of Lord Bacon, of Mulcaster, of Sir Philip Sidney, of the translators of the English Bible. Most of us, if challenged, could give some account, too, some definite statement, which would fitly express for us what it was that went to make up those literary types. So, if I venture to speak to you this evening about the Makers of Victorian Prose, I do so because I wish to concentrate your attention upon certain qualities in those makers, which have helped to create for us a style which is as different as the types that came before it, as the Georgian Age is different from the Age of Queen Anne, or the Age of Queen Anne from the Age of Elizabeth.

"Why this should be so is not a question, which need detain us now; but the fact is one that strikes the most elementary student of literature. The style of a period is something apart from something appreciably distinct from the separate, individual styles that enter subtly into its making. One will find it, perhaps, in its entirety in the second rate writer; he will not find it in the first rate writer. Yet that mysterious, not wholly abstract something which we call the prose of a period has no tangible existence apart from the separate singular and elect individuals whose utterances contributed, all unconsciously, to its gradual upbuilding.

"It is not the least remarkable of the many remarkable things about the Age of Queen Victoria, that it has given us a prose as wonderful in its way, as perfect in everything that goes to make a classic type of prose as any of the preceding periods, connected curiously enough with the name of a reigning woman. If one looks at the history of English literature in the past, one finds that three great epochs stand out, before all others, to know these periods is to be well read in the literature of the Age of Elizabeth, in the literature of the Age of Queen Anne and in the literature of the Age of Queen Victoria. It is to be familiar with the Age of Sidney and of Lord Bacon, with the Age of Swift and of Addison, and derivatively, of course, with the intervening Age of Goldsmith, Burke and Johnson. That practically brigs us to our own time which is the Age of Macaulay, of Froude, of Newman, of Carlyle, of Mill, of Thackery, of Dickes, of Sir Arthur Helps and of those lesser lights like Kinglake, whose gifts writing we still enoy while we essay to trace the remoter sources of them to the masters at whose feet they sat.

"Most of us will agree that we may, for convenient purposes of division and analysis, take the war of 1870 in France as a crisis in the history of Victorian prose. That war shook Europe with expectation; it gave us a new and united people in Germany, a new world-power in the world. Making this war, therefore, our marking point, we shall find that the Victorian age, including a period of over sixty years, easily falls into two distinct literary generations, of tihrty each. We shall find these two generations made up largely of writers of English prose as sharply divided from one another in their characteristics as the Age of Victoria is sharply divided from the Age of Queen Anne and much more so, of course, from the "spacious Age" of Queen Elizabeth. That certainly is a most wonderful fact to dwell upon. The names which are inseparably connected with the literary glories of Queen Victoria's reign in England are not the only shining instances of that galaxy that I have mentioned, but we have a newer and a later school which has sprung up since 1870 and 1880. Today we have not yet done marvelling over the achievements of Stevenson and Pater, of Thomas Eardy, of George Meredith, of John Richard Green, of Mathew Arnold.

"These men, we shall find, filled the most disparate and ethically opposed walks of life. One of them is a man of affairs, a stateman and orator; the world knows him today as an historian and an essayist, Thomas Babbington Macaulay. Another is a recluse in his way who yet lives constantly before the world's gaze, Thomas Carlyle. Still another is a theologian, a logician and a dreamer who seems deliberately to have turned his back upon the world, and who comes before the world's notice, not because he loves it, but because he is dragged back upon its stage. That is Cardinal Newman. Another, also a recluse, during the early half of his life is that James Anthony Froude, who has learned his rare art of speech in the schools of Newman and of Carlyle. Another is a shy, austere, solitary type of man, the thinker, John Stuart Mill.

"If I have named no American writer, it is not because I wish to imply we here in the United States were without representatives in this great group of English prosemen; but English prose is after all, a derivative of the great English speaking race. It is to the glory of the mother country, that she continues to furnish spokesmen and representatives, who furnish in turn the lasting ideals of this new classical prose which we shall do well to keep us in a world increasingly ruled by a slip-shod spoken press.

"I should like to claim for Hawthorne the honor and distinction of being himself a true prosemaker of his period; but Hawthorne's influence, in spite of his lucid and incomparable style, was never very notable even in his own country. It is a somewhat melancholy fact that Hawthorne is more regarded abroad than he is here at home. What we say of Hawthorne is only another instance of that supreme indifference which was manifested a generation ago—and some would say, even yet—to those prophets of art whom chance or fortune sends us.

"Poe is only half read here in America. It was reserved to a French critic to show how great a genius died when the author of the Prose Talks passed away.

"To go back, by way of illustrations to the Age of Elizabeth, we have the prose of Sidney; highly musical and ornate, but at the same time, what might be called in the language of the period, an intensely 'quaint' style. The schoolmaster who is gently held up to ridicule in 'Love's Labor Lost' was not entirely a creation of Shakespeare's brain. I do not know if any of our Plainfield school teachers are present this evening, or if they can be said to have even a pedantic interest in Mulcaster. He was a charming personality of the Age of Queen Elizabeth, who seems to have impressed himself upon the literature of his time. It needed a genius like Shakespeare's amiably to satirize him, yet Shakespeare's presentment of the man is not entirely a just one. Mucaster had his way about the capabilities of an English prose, and the claim that he makes for it has a curious modern note about it."

LITERARY.

The Red Book for June is a fascinating offering of fifteen short stories, beautifully illustrated, and seventeen photographic portrait art studies, all bound in a cover of unusual beauty, designed by Frederick J. Mulhaunt. The stores are clever, readable and seasonable in the extreme.

Fortunate is it for us that the lines upon which the reform of direct taxes must proceed have been so clearly marked out, and that some of our commonwealths have already taken pronounced steps in the right direction. The taxation of real estate by and for the local governments exclusively, the practical exemption of credits and chattels in individual hands, and the relegation both of the administration and the proceeds of corporate taxation to the State governments, foreshadow the financial reform to which we may some time attain.—Winthrop M. Daniels, in the June Atlantic.

—Minnie Saffron has brought suit in tort against Annie Pugh in Justice Mosher's court. Papers returnable June 2 have been issued.

The Day of Outings.

The one pleasure which the American public thoroughly enjoys is its outings. Low priced and at popular places and where there may be unrestrained enjoyment in out-of-door sports. Around New York there are many popular resorts but perhaps the most popular for holiday excursions is Mauch Cuhnk in the mountains of Pennsylvania. The journey is delightful and passes through an interesting country, through the farm lands of New Jersey and then into that busy section of the Keystone State which bristles with industries which are renowned the world over. Mauch Chunk is high in the mountains and the exhilarating atmosphere is a tonic for the hived-up city man. The chief feature of the trip to Mauch Chunk is to make the journey over the Switchback railroad which is a gravity road some eighteen miles in length. The tourist is carried at a rapid rate to the inclines of Mt. Pisgah and Jefferson over which the cars are lifted by mammoth mechanical devices only to continue the romantic journey to the end, ever fascinating and thrilling. On Decoration Day the New Jersey Central will run one of its popular priced excursions to Mauch Chunk, the rate for the round trip to be $1.50, and special train will leave Plainfield at 9:20 a. m., returning train will leave Mauch Cuhnk at 5:30 p. m. This is a trip worth taking and to miss it will be doing yourself an injustice. 5 23 6 o

CAUGHT AT THE PASS

Russian Force of 15,000 Men Defeated.

KINCHAU CAPTURED BY JAPANESE

Army of the Mikado Now Advancing on Dalny—Fighting at Kinchau Was of the Most Desperate Character.

LONDON, May 27.—A report from Shanhaikwan says that the Russian commander, thinking that the Japanese had retired from Fengwangcheng, sent 15,000 Russians from Haicheng and Liaoyang toward Fengwangcheng. They were surprised by 30,000 Japanese in the Tatung pass. The Russian casualties were 4,000, and over a thousand Russians surrendered. The report does not state the Japanese loss.

Coincident with the Japanese advance in the direction of Liaoyang there has been a concentration of all the available Russian troops between Liaoyang and Maotien pass, and the fortifications of Liaoyang are being feverishly hurried.

The railway between Tatschitsia and Liaoyang is still intact, but every preparation has been made for its immediate destruction in the event of the necessity for a retreat to Mukden.

According to many reliable late Tokyo reports the Japanese have stormed, captured and occupied Kinchau, which is about thirty-two miles north of Port Arthur, and are now advancing on Dalny.

Japanese spies had ascertained where the Russians had thirty guns for the defense of Kinchau and where numerous mines and wire entanglements at points where a Japanese attack was expected had been placed.

After the occupation of Kinchau by the Japanese the Russians retired in good order to the heights further south, which were attacked by the full Japanese force and carried after a stubborn resistance.

The Japanese also attacked Nanqwanling, on the narrowest part of the Kwangtung peninsula, and drove back the Russians by main force.

The attack on Kinchau, the dispatch adds, was begun at dawn, and by noon Kinchau was in the hands of the Japanese, who occupied the castle.

The fighting was of the most desperate character. It is believed the casualties were heavy.

A St. Petersburg report says the general staff is not in a position to confirm or deny the Tokyo report that the Japanese have occupied Kinchau. The latest official information regarding fighting in that vicinity was conveyed in Lieutenant General Sakharoff's telegram, which said that the Japanese had lost 700 men on May 18.

The impression here is that Kinchau would prove a hard nut for the Japanese to crack and that its reduction would need a siege train and call for careful approaches which would occupy the enemy for a long time.

The opinion of the best authorities is that if the Japanese rushed Kinchau by a frontal attack, unsupported by heavy guns, which it is not believed they possess, the capture of the place must have been effected at a tremendous loss to the attackers.

Advices from Liaoyang say rumors have been received there of a change in the plans of the Japanese. It is said that they have temporarily abandoned their northern advance and will concentrate on Port Arthur. As soon as that fortress is captured it is their intention to proceed against Liaoyang.

A St. Petersburg report says Viceroy Alexeieff has reported to the emperor that dispatches from Rear Admirals Wittsoeft and Grigorovitch say that the enemy has bombarded Port Arthur from Ingentsi bay.

The Japanese again attempted to block the roadstead of Port Arthur with mines, and from shore observations it is believed that some steam launches and two torpedo boats were sunk.

The Russians have cleared eleven of the enemy's mines from the roadstead.

A Jap Soldiers' Missionary.

SEOUL, May 27.—Rev. Honda, the first Japanese Christian missionary to Korea, has arrived here. He is accompanied by two assistants, who were sent by the Methodist Episcopal society of Japan. Their object is to establish churches and to travel through the Japanese lines, working among the soldiers with the endeavor of establishing intimate relations between Korean and Japanese Christians.

Allen Squier, of the drawing office of the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant, attended the Brooklyn handicap yesterday.

John Alster, of the Standard Surgical Instrument Company's plant, is entertaining Brooklyn friends over Decoration Day.

John Ayers, of the Rushmore Dynamo Company's works, is convalescing at his home on West Second street from a severe attack of rheumatism.

Robert Larmour, of the Potter Press Company's plant, who mashed his finger while working in New York city two weeks ago, is still on the sick list. The injured digit is not even slightly improved, and it will be some time before he will be able to use the hand.

Frank Newman narrowly escaped losing one of his fingers while at work in the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant yesterday. While Newman was grinding a tool on a dry emery wheel, the tool slipped, and the index finger of his left hand was caught between the guide and the wheel. As it was however the nail on the finger was completely torn off. The injury was dressed at the shop.

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be stripped of personalities, and must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Pleasure for the Poor.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Will you allow me through your columns to call attention to the fund for trolley rides which has been started this summer as in two previous years? The object of the fund is to purchase tickets to many in this place who have few means of recreation, and many discomforts in their homes during the hot summer months. It is true we have not the slums so marked in large cities, but even here the contracted quarters of the poor, when every thing pertaining to family life is confined to a very limited space, must necessarily entail suffering, greatly increased when sickness comes to the family. These tickets for rides are in charge of the Relief Association for distribution, which is carefully supervised by the general secretary of the Organized Association. Also, tickets are given out by recommendations of the city nurse. Care is taken that they shall be given where most needed; viz.: To women and children deprived of the support of the head of the family by death or desertion; to sick children whose mothers may not be able to give the time to a day at the Baby Camp; and to the old people who greatly enjoy the recreation.

Last summer, 500 or more tickets were distributed, and one had only to notice the eager and happy faces of the little children as they boarded the car to realize how much pleasure may be given by a small effort on the part of those more favored in their conditions in life.

The appeal comes most forcibly to those who are planning trips to the seashore and mountains and across the ocean. Also, we are reminded of the question asked centuries ago, as applicable now as then: "Who maketh thee to differ, and what hast thou that thou didst not receive?"

Contributions to this fund may be sent to Mrs. Henry Lapsley, treasurer of Relief Association, 816 First place.

Elizabeth Tiffany.

In another column is published a timely communication on free trolley rides for the poor. Give it your attention.

The horse show is an assured fact. Now let it be a sure success. Nine silver cups, $915 in cash and a couple of fine saddles are the prizes. Pretty good for a starter, eh?

Complaint is being made of the acts of miscreants who confine their wrongdoing to stealing flowers and plants from graves in the various cemeteries of the city and borough. Severe punishment should follow the detection and arrest of the mean rascals.

DUNELLEN.

Between now and Monday night the Dunellen ball team hopes to make itself "solid" with the ball fans again and make up for its defeat at High Bridge on last Saturday. Tomorrow afternoon they will cross bats with the Marion A. C. team, of Newark, and although this team has never appeared in Dunellen before it is understood that they are strong and the local boys will have to put up a strong game in order to beat them. The Williamsburg A. A. team, of Brooklyn, will be the opponents in both the morning and afternoon games on Monday. This team played two games with the Dunellen boys last year and it was an even break, each team winning a game. Captain Smith has been looking for a couple of good outfielders and he hopes to land them before Monday's games.

With "Ruth" Bogardus in the box and "Deanie" Giles behind the bat, the Dunellen F. C. boys defeated the Mono A. C., of Plainfield, in an interesting game by a score of 8 to 6, yesterday afternoon. The feature of the game was a home run drive by "Sandow" Lourie. The batteries for the Mono boys were Nischwitz and Conover.

A. H. Burdick is slowly recovering from his recent serious illness.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Tomorrow's game between the local ball team and the Aeolians should be one of the best exhibitions of the National game given on the local diamond this season. Manager Hand has signed Griffin, who has been playing with Alis, doing outfield work and change pitcher. Griffin is considered one of the best pitches in the semi-professional ranks and will surely keep the organ-makers busy. The local line-up will be as follows: Allen, c; Griffin, p; Baldwin, 1b; Enright, 2b; Cruaius, ss; Williams, 3b; Taylor, lf; Flannery, cf; Montross, rf. Game will be called at 3:45.

upon whom he intended to call had been taken to the hospital. By the time he reached the hospital he was informed by a nurse that the patient had been discharged the day before. This he considered very quick work. In conclusion Mr. Zelie referred to professions in the higher sense and he incited a stronger desire among those present to attain the higher plane.

In introducing Dr. Norman H. Probasco, as the next speaker, who would represent the medical fraternity, Mr. Fisk said that every year the physicians throw dice to see who shall speak, and this year the lot fell to Dr. Probasco. He was called the "club man" because he was the bacteriologist at the hospital. Dr. Probasco then read a paper in which he congratulated the graduating nurses and gave them excellent advice as they are about to continue their profession in the world.

President Fisk then in a few well chosen words presented the graduates with their diplomas. This was followed with the presentation of the pins, the insignia attesting to their qualifications to do trained nursing. In conclusion the graduates received gifts of flowers in profusion. They were presented by the various physicians in attendance on behalf of relatives and friends.

After the exercises all adjourned to the Sunday-school room below where ice cream and cake were served and the graduates received the congratulations of their friends.

Fire at Mr. Milne's Home.

In response to an alarm of fire sent in from box No. 156, corner of Cedar and Harrison street, North Plainfield, the borough fire department was called to the home of John C. Milne, 31 Harrison street, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. A draft carried the flames from an oil stove to some inflammable material, resulting in about $400 damage to the kitchen and upper part of the house. The department went out on the second round of the box and had the fire under control within twenty minutes.

J. P. Gibson, 1008 Putnam avenue, has purchased a beautiful Mathushek & Son baby grand piano for his wife as a birthday present, the piano being shipped from the New York factory to the Plainfield branch, 310 West Front street and later taken to Mr. Gibson's home on Monday.

THE WORLD OF FASHION.

Loose Bolero Costumes—Some Black and White Check Materials.

Among the spring styles for street wear the loose bolero certainly leads. It is made with or without sleeve seams, and in the former fashion it gives the effect of a loose cape partly tacked to form the sleeves. These loose boleros are decorated with strap trimmings and tiny buttons. They are worn with very full skirts either laid in box plaits or inch wide tucks. In both cases these flare from the knees downward.

Black and white checked materials in wool, linen and silk are among the smartest suit materials. They are trimmed with buttons either in green or steel, and they are worn with ecru straw hats trimmed with black and white or with grass green toque plumes. The parasol matches.

Pongee coats are ultra smart, especially when shirred in quite full and trimmed with touches of green.

Changeable taffeta in opalescent shades is charming under artificial light. Many of these changeable silks are made into evening wraps, and a favorite model has a circular yoke trimmed with the old fashioned pinked out ruches. Others have shawl effects of fine lace and the ever fashionable lining of accordion plaited chiffon.

The picture shows one of the latest street costumes. It is made of red mohair trimmed with bands of passementerie and tiny black velvet ribbon. The hat is of ecru straw trimmed with lace. JUDIC CHOLLET.

COATS FOR SUMMER.

All the Pale Shades Used—White Cloths and Pongee Lead.

A well known Parisian has in her wardrobe a three-quarter length coat of oyster gray. It is cut circular shape and gauged with a cape effect of silver gray chiffon velours. This is lined with a still paler shade of gray chiffon and edged with festoons of brussels point.

Many race coats are in cloth in shades of zinc, ivory and apricot. These are much braided with light flat silk braid and silk ornaments to correspond.

The kimono shape is the most useful and universally becoming for coats. In many cases for summer wear these coats are unlined; in others they have a lining of shot silk.

The hood shaped cape is a feature of many smart coats, where it appears of different material.

White coats share with those of pongee popular fancy this summer. They are beautiful made of fine cloth and having a pelerine collar edged with bold braid and hanging tassels. Shantung silk is trimmed with black velvet and quantities of gold and silver braid.

Parisians this season are curiously devoted to bronze and to black and white effects for street wear.

The cut shows a black peau de cygne coat trimmed with fringe and Persian embroidery. JUDIC CHOLLET.

PICKET THE VICTOR

Brooklyn Handicap Won by American Derby Winner.

IRISH LAD'S COLORS LOWERED.

One of the Greatest Races Ever Run. Favorite and Hermis Dingdonged Whole Distance—Winner Came With a Rush at the Wire.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Turfdom of the east bowed to the west at Gravesend when The Picket lowered the colors of the popular Irish Lad in the Brooklyn handicap. While the latter colt was beaten by only the breadth of a hand, it is due to the winner to say that if the race had been one-quarter of a mile longer the western wonder probably would have finished several lengths in front.

He was perfectly ridden from beginning to end and at the crucial moment moved up on the rail and seventy yards from the finishing line poked his nose in front of the tiring favorite. Frantic cheers which had been ringing from the throats of nearly 40,000 onlookers died away when it was realized that Irish Lad had gone down to defeat.

Hermis and the favorite, away from the barrier closely together, set a terrific pace to the head of the stretch. They had run for three-quarters of a mile like a team, and upon swinging into the homestretch Hermis died away. Proper, the California candidate, rushing up from the rear under a vigorous ride by Lucien Lyne, took third money by a head. The handicap was worth $20,000, of which $2,500 went to the second horse and $1,500 to the third.

A great outpouring of turf devotees witnessed the eighteenth running of the handicap. Hours before the time set for the first race the grand stand, clubhouse and the big field stand were pretty well filled. The ladies were out in unusually large numbers, gay in their summer toilets, and society was also well represented. Reports of sensational time made by The Picket in his workouts brought him many supporters, but the rank and file was loath to put full confidence in his ability under the conditions with which he was confronted.

As the time for the handicap, which was the fourth event on the programme, drew near the name of Irish Lad, from the stable of Herman B. Duryea, could be heard on all sides. The winner of last year's handicap and of the Metropolitan this year had grown into immense popularity, and bets continued to pour in upon the favorite until the horses appeared in front of the grand stand on their way to the post.

Starter Fitzgerald lined them up back of the barrier and sent them away in splendid order. Irish Lad, on the rail, led his field, with The Picket second and Hermis third. Helgesen, on The Picket, eased his mount a trifle, and when the racers passed the grand stand Hermis and Irish Lad had hooked up side by side for their heart-breaking struggle which was to continue nearly a mile. The Picket, running easy in third place, made a nice pace for the balance of the field. The Thomas colt and the favorite struggled in vain each to master the other. Across the circular track from the grand stand and three-quarters of a mile from the starting point they were running like one horse.

In this manner they swung round the far turn and made for the last one, which headed them into the stretch. Shaw, on the favorite, and Redfern, on Hermis, were bringing out every ounce of speed in their mounts, while Helgesen was drawing The Picket together for the final rush to the goal. He closed a gap of two or three lengths and before they had reached the last quarter pole was close upon the tiring leaders. Hermis had run his race and dropped back slowly. The Picket, close to the rail, worked his way alongside Irish Lad, who was tiring rapidly, and as the fliers rushed past the pole seventy yards from the finish he poked his nose in front of the Duryea colt. Lyne, on Proper, who had moved up from tenth place at the half mile to fifth position, urged the Jennings candidate alongside Hermis, which fell back to fourth place.

A scene of excitement which has seldom been equaled on the race track prevailed during the brief space of time which elapsed after the struggling thoroughbreds had passed the three-quarter mile post. Cries from thousands of throats urging on the favorite and shrieking the name of his jockey rent the air.

When Hermis fell back upon entering the stretch the cheers seemed to redouble in volume, and for a few seconds when it seemed almost certain that Irish Lad would repeat his victory of last year 40,000 people screamed his name, men threw their hats into the air and embraced one another out of sheer delight at being fortunate enough to have witnessed the grand struggle. They did not realize how closely Helgesen had brought the pet of the Waldeck stables nor did they observe that Shaw, on Irish Lad, was not as close to the rail as he might have been.

When the western horse was called upon he responded nobly. Through a gap barely wide enough for him to pass he crawled past the Candlemas colt, and in the last few jumps his muzzle showed in front. The shouts of joy died away in the throats of the vast assemblage as though the onlookers had been suddenly paralyzed. The Picket was going away at the end, and it is safe to say that had the route been a trifle longer he would have won with a safe margin. Proper was third, two lengths behind Irish Lad and a nose in front of Hermis. McChesney and Africander and Claude were at the end of the procession.

The time for the race, 2:06 3-5, was not a record breaker. This was thought to be largely due to the wind which blew down the stretch and against which the field had to struggle both at the start and at the finish. Nevertheless it was a grand race, honestly run, and the winner, with his six pounds advantage over Irish Lad, fully deserved the prize.

The Picket is owned by the Waldeck stable of Louisville, Ky., controlled by Jungbluth & Middleton. He won the American Derby last year at Washington park, Chicago.

Another stake on the programme was the Expectation, worth $6,000. Newton Bennington's Song and Wine led from beginning to end, beating Czarahpine two lengths. Veto, from the stable of James R. Keene, was third. Reliable, the favorite, won the first race. Stuyve, a strong second choice, captured the second. Witchcraft and Diamond, both favorites, won the fifth and sixth races respectively.

Zinda Got the Debutante.

ST. LOUIS, May 27.—T. P. Hayes' filly Zinda, coupled in the betting with Violin, won the Debutante stakes at Delmar park. Violin was third. Zinda took the lead at the start and won easily by two lengths. All Black, off seventh, came with a rush at the end and got the place from Violin. The stake is worth $2,140 to the winner. Scepter and Martius were the winning favorites.

English Challenge Accepted.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 27.—Manager Elton Parks of the Yale Athletic association has announced that the challenge for an athletic meet in London between Oxford and Cambridge and Yale and Harvard had been received by both American universities and that it had been accepted. The acceptance was made known here late last night.

Lady Savoy at Latonia.

CINCINNATI, May 27. — The Clipsetta stakes for two-year-old fillies was the attraction at Latonia. The event went to Lady Savoy, from the stable of William Gerst. She won easily by two lengths. Intense beat Daisy Dean six lengths for the place. The distance was five furlongs, which was covered in 1:01⅘.

Schreck and Santora Win.

ST. LOUIS, May 27.—Mike Schreck of Cincinnati knocked out Jim Scanlan of Pittsburg at the West End club last night in the fifth round of what was to have been a fifteen round bout. Nick Santora of Chicago knocked out "Sport" Sullivan of New York in the first round of a six round preliminary.

The revolutionists are before Navarette, where another battle will be fought. The government troops are waiting for re-enforcements. The United States cruiser Detroit and the gunboat Newport are off Monte Cristi.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

ATTRACTIONS LISTED FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Baseball, Golf, Tennis and Horse Races Among the Events Scheduled Here.

THE G. A. R. EXERCISES

ALIS TO CROSS BATS TWICE AT CRESCENT OVAL.

Play for Various Cups on Hillside and Park Courses—Races at Raritan Driving Park—Championship Tennis Tournament.

Memorial Day will be a busy one in this city, a number of events of pleasure for young and old having been planned. The veterans of the Civil War, for whom the day was set apart, will appropriately observe the time. In the morning they will visit the various cemeteries at an early hour to decorate the graves of the dead soldiers. At 10 o'clock there will be the usual parade as already outlined in The Daily Press. In the afternoon there will be exercises in Reform Hall consisting of patriotic songs, an address by Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of the First Baptist church, and exercises by the veterans together with an instrumental and vocal programme of music Co. K and the High School cadets will join the parade and music will be furnished by the Independent Fife and Drum Corps. The Woman's Relief Corps will assist at Reform Hall.

In the line of sports there will be plenty doing for everyone. Baseball will have the first call for the crowds. Alis will play two games. In the morning at 10:30 the opposing team will be the Rahway Field Club, a fast bunch of players, with Mertens as twirler. In the afternoon at 3:45 the Seventh Regiment, N. G. N. Y., will appear. This team recently played West Point a 4 to 4 game and they have been putting up a fine article of baseball. At Scotch Plains in the afternoon at 3:45 the locals will meet the Celluloids, of Newark. A good game is assured here. In addition there will be several minor games about the city and vicinity.

For members of the local golf clubs there will also be plenty of sport. At the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club there will be all-day play for the Holiday cup and Greens' committee tankard and there will also be a reception at the clubhouse in the afternoon with music. Another attraction will be the continuation of play in the tennis tournament in the East Jersey Lawn Tennis Association. In the evening there will be dancing at the club. Trolley cars will be run under fifteen minutes headway and stages will carry persons from the end of the trolley line to the clubhouse.

The Park Golf Club has planned an attractive schedule for the day. There will be play for the Holiday cup, together with putting and approaching contests for men and women. During the afternoon there will be social features at the clubhouse.

Another attraction that will take some persons out of town will be the annual Milburn road race.

At Dunellen the local baseball team will play the Williamsburg A. A. team morning and afternoon.

The day will be generally observed by the merchants, who will close their stores. This will necessitate householders making provisions today for a sufficient supply to carry them over until Tuesday. In addition to the events already mentioned there will be smaller social events. No doubt some will attend the race-meet to be held at New Brunswick under the auspices of the Raritan Driving Association and there will be considerable interest in the annual shoot of the Independent Gun Club.

There will be no books circulated at the Public Library during the day. The reading room will be open from 2 until 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

The druggists have agreed to keep their stores closed between the hours of 1 and 6 in the afternoon.

RICHARD P. ROBISON WEDS A CAMDEN GIRL

Freeholder's Son Now the Husband of Miss May Browning, Her Pastor Officiating.

A QUIET CEREMONY

MR. AND MRS. ROBISON TO RESIDE IN NEW YORK CITY.

Bride Formerly a School Teacher—Groom Employed in Metropolis—Honeymoon at Atlantic City.

Richard Porteous Robison, son of Freeholder and Mrs. John Robison, of Scotch Plains, was married last night at 6 o'clock to Miss May Browning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Frank Browning, at the bride's home in Camden. The ceremony was witnessed by a large gathering of relatives and friends from New York, Plainfield, Philadelphia, Camden, Scotch Plains and Fanwood. Rev. Mr. Lyall, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated.

The Mendelssohn wedding march was played by Miss Ella Schultz. The bride was given in marriage by her father. An altar had been erected in the parlor under a canopy of flowers and ferns.

The bride's gown was of white crepe de chine trimmed with Duchesse lace. Her veil was caught up with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The parlor of the home was adorned in white and green; a combination of flowers and palms.

After the ceremony a reception was held. During the festivities Mr. and Mrs. Robison slipped away for a short wedding trip, their destination being Atlantic City. On their return they will reside in New York city. The many handsome presents received by the bride included cut glass, silverware, furniture, pictures and bric-a-brac. The bride has been for several years past a teacher in one of the public schools in Camden. The groom holds a position with the American Lithographic Company, of New York.

TO COMPLETE BRIDGE TODAY

THAT IS THE ASSURANCE GIVEN REGARDING GIRAUD AVENUE SPAN.

After many months of delay and acrimonious disputes between the Freeholders and the contractors, the Giraud avenue bridge is on the verge of completion. The Dover Boiler Works, which is in charge of the contract for iron work, put a force of men on the last stage of the job on Thursday, and promise to have the contract completed by today.

So much trouble and contention has been evolved from the delay on the bridge that the freeholders of both counties are delighted at the prospect of getting the matter off their hands for good and all. The public, which has been deprived of the proper use of the thoroughfare while the freeholders engaged in monthly tilts with the contractors, will undoubtedly be as delighted as the officials.

OPEN-AIR PRODUCTION OF SHAKESPEARIAN PLAY

Pupils of the Hartridge School Give a Midsummer Night's Dream to Pleased Audience.

SOMETHING NEW HERE

PERFORMANCE TAKES PLACE ON L. V. F. RANDOLPH'S ESTATE.

High Praise for Members of the Cast—The Music and the Dancing Features of the Show—Reception Follows.

But for the fact that Ben Greet has taken away the novelty of outdoor performances, the production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by the pupils of the Hartridge School, yesterday afternoon, might be considered somewhat unique, but be as it may the comedy was given in a way clearly showing that young people can be taught to correctly interpret the meaning of a Shakespearian play. The performance was given on the estate of L. V. F. Randolph, president of the New York Consolidated Petroleum and Stock Exchange, in East Front street, near Farragut road, and some three hundred people witnessed it. The lawn on the Plainfield side of the brook was the stage, the scenery being the small stream of water and its North Plainfield bank.

There was not a single hitch, the production being carried along as smoothly as if the players were giving a 100th souvenir performance As for the color scheme of the costumes, it was admirable. In fact the costumes blended in excellent harmony and were well set off by the background of green. Particularly noticeable were the little fairies in their flower dresses of white and gold, with caps and wings. Their dancing on the green was so graceful that it brought forth enthusiastic applause from the spectators, who were seated in a semi-circle before them.

One of the most effective scenes was that in which the three artisans appear. They were impersonated by the Misses Ellen Burke, Hetty Marshall, Anne Waldo, Blanche Buttfield, Margaret Gibbs and Ruth VanVliet. Miss Nellie Haile was the dignified Theseus and her acting was spirited. Miss Frederica Mead in her costume of white and gold was certainly a picturesque Hippolyta and Miss Dorothy Burke as Egeus was one of the best in the cast. The part of the scornful Demetrius was taken by Miss Katharine McCutcheon and that of Helena by Miss Lillian King. Miss Mary Runkle was quite graceful as Hermia and Miss Ellen Burke inimitable as Bottom.

The others in the dramatis personae were: Lysander, Miss Verna McCutcheon; Philostrate, Miss Dorothy Stiles; Snug, Miss Blanche Buttfield; Flute, Anne Waldo; Snout, Miss Margaret Gibbs; Starveling, Ruth Van Vliet; Oberon, Richard H. Depew, Jr.; Puck, Miss Helen Besler; Pease-Blossom, Miss Mildred Brownlee; Cob-web, Miss Gladys Chase; Moth, Lawrence Healy; Mustard-seed, Charles Hyde.

The music, a special feature of the performance, was rendered under the direction of Dr. Leonard Waldo, of New York, who played cello. Otto Schill, of Newark, was first violin, and the Misses Lamson, Randolph and Anderson second violins. Miss Dorothy Waldo played the viola and Julius Block the horn. Mrs. Charles L. Lewis was at the piano. After the show, the members of the faculty and the pupils held an informal reception.

Miss Katharine Lord, one of the instructors in the school, acted as manager for the affair and she coached the pupils for their parts. Miss Seward's assistance was invaluable. The children were trained for the dances by Mrs. Charles Hazeltine, and the chorus work was under the direction of Miss Julia J. Ketcham.

Among the audience were Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Ackerman, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Beaton, A. B. Beers, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Besler, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bornann, Mrs. W. T. R. Chase, Dr. Frank F. Clawson, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Cruikshank, Mr. and Mrs J. W. Graff, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Depew, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Carle, Mrs. Charles W. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Fox, Mrs. A. D. Fredricks, Mrs. J. B. Drayton, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. D. Ginna, Mr. and Mrs. F. deLacey Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Iredell, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Joy, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. King, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Mellick, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. F. Paddock, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Philips, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robley, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Fetsuka, Mr. and Mrs. Deuse M. VanVliet, Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Hartridge, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Carlton, Hon. and Mrs. G. F. Seward, Wm. V. Schwill, the artist of New York; Mrs. Riardon, Mr. and Mrs. Snoden Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. John Brisben Walker, Miss May Moen, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Hartridge, Mr. and Mrs F. T. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. McCutcheon, Mrs. Frederick G. Mead, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Runkle, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Ryce, Mrs. White, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. VOLUNTARY TESTIMONIALS FOR DR. THIERS' "STOMATINE."

Dr. C. R. Thiers, of Grove street, has received many voluntary testimonials recounting the highly medicinal values of the mouth tonic "Stomatine," from all parts of the country, but none that he values more than the following:

Dr. Chas. R. Thiers, Dear Sir:

I feel prompted to express to you my true appreciation of your preparation "Stomatine." I have used it for years but did not realize its fullest worth until last August while sojourning in the White Mountains.

I became dangerously ill and later developed a serious mouth and throat trouble due to my condition.

Listerine and many other prescriptions usually given for such cases proved of no avail. Later I was removed to St. Luke's Hospital, New York city, and while there my daughter sent me a bottle of "Stomatine," knowing it would relieve me, having used it herself with wonderful benefit for ulcerated sore throat. I used "Stomatine" without the knowledge of my physician, at first, and to the amazement of my private nurse, my mouth cleared and healed with marked rapidity. It was afterwards used with equal success for typhoid fever cases while I remained in the hospital. Its healing effect was a great surprise to physicians in charge who were congratulating themselves upon the effectiveness of their own remedies when the cure was solely due to the use of "Stomatine." I feel words are inadequate to express the comfort and benefit that "Stomatine" has given to me and others that I know.

(Mrs.) A. Willis.

19 Prospect place, Plainfield, N. J.

"Stomatine" is prepared in Plainfield, and has been on the market for a number of years. During that time its healing properties and neutralizing effects have made it well known, and invaluable to thousands of families. No mouth and gum tonic ever invented has had such a sale as "Stomatine," and the popularity thus far attained has been secured without any advertising except that spread by its delighted consumers.

RUSSIA, THE TOPIC OF MR. HONEYMAN'S TALK

Tourist Delivers a Lecture Before Young Men's Brotherhood of First M. E. Church.

MOSCOW'S BIG STORE

DWELLS ON CUSTOMS AND TRAITS OF THE PEOPLE.

First Presbyterian Church Quartette Furnishes Music—Clifford Braider, Organist—The Speaker's Fund of Knowledge on Subject.

It was a small but appreciative audience that heard A. V. D. Honeyman's lecture on "Russia" in Vincent chapel, last night. The lecture was given under the auspices of the Young Men's Brotherhood, of the First M. E. church, it being the last public meeting for the season. In addition to the talk by Mr. Honeyman, the quartette from the First Presbyterian church, Mrs. Stephen H. Tugwell, alto; Miss Etta Raybert, soprano; Elmer Cutting, tenor, and R. Wilson Derby, bass, accompanied on the piano by Clifford Braider, organist, sang two selections.

Mr. Honeyman spoke of the mixed and peculiar people to be found in Russia, there being so many races. He referred to the very long winters continuing up to April 15, when within two weeks afterward the warmest summer weather begins. He said, by way of comparison, that Russia is one and a half as large as the United States and yet there are 28,000 miles of railroads there. The speaker referred to Peter the Great and his influence on the people. It was he who started the school system and gave the people a language.

Mr. Honeyman said that St. Petersburg represented the new Russia and Moscow the old, and he then compared the two places, showing how vastly different they are in important customs. He said that in Moscow they have presumably the largest store in the world. The building, three stories high, covers twenty acres and contains a thousand different stores.

A peculiar custom among those people is that they smoke before breakfast and they use cigar-holders fourteen and fifteen inches in length. Another old custom adhered to is the wearing of the high top boots.

The speaker said the country is noted for peddlers and they all make a good living. In explaining why so few Americans tour Russia, Mr. Honeyman said that it costs a person to travel in Russia and live at the hotels twice as much as it would at the Waldorf-Astoria. Meat is very high there and it adds greatly to the cost of living, which is nothing extra at that.

In conclusion, Mr. Honeyman related many amusing incidents in connection with his visits to Russia, giving his audience a clear idea of the peculiar customs which have governed that country for many years. At the close of the lecture a vote of thanks was given to the speaker and a social time with refreshments followed.

HIGHER LICENSE PETITION REFUSED?

Judge Schenck Returns All Borough Applications Without Comment.

NO INCREASE LIKELY

NORTH PLAINFIELD COUNCIL'S PETITITION PROBABLY TURNED DOWN.

No Formal Announcement Yet—Possibility That Desired Increase May Come Next Year.

Because Judge Schenck, before whom the application was laid, has sent all the borough liquor licenses to Collector George Brown with no word as to an increase, actual or expected, the North Plainfield officials believe that the increased license fee will not be ordered.

Judge Schenck has made no formal announcement one way or another. When Borough Counsel Reed closed his argument for the increase, at the time the matter was laid before the County Clerk several weeks ago, the court said it would take the matter under consideration and announce a decision later. The borough officials, in the light of Judge Schenck's action on the pending licenses, are inclined to feel that no further announcement is necessary. If the court decides in favor of the increase they will be greatly surprised.

No comment whatever was made by Judge Schenck in sending the licenses to Collector Brown's office. It may be that the Judge will order the increase to take effect next year, but the borough authorities and the citizens interested in the increase are doubtful if even that will be done.

The bride, who is a graduate of "The Castle," at Tarrytown-on-the-Hudson, enjoys the friendship of a large number of people. Dr. Pittis is one of the best known of the practicing physicians in this locality.

NEED OF A RACEWAY BRIDGE IS OBVIATED

City Takes Action That Makes Giraud Avenue Span Unnecessary.

THE RACE TO BE FILLED

CONVENIENT DUMP FOR DIRT CITY ALWAYS HAS ON HAND.

Filling In Work Held Up Hitherto by Kick of One Property Owner, Who Blocked the Freeholders' Action.

While the Board of Freeholders was voting the consideration of a new bridge across the raceway at Giraud avenue Thursday afternoon, the city took action that made the erection of a span unnecessary. It was formally announced from Street Commissioner Gavett's office, to the county authorities, that the municipality had decided to use the raceway as a dirt dump, which would result in the filling in of the race and make a bridge a superfluity.

The raceway has not been used for years, and some time ago the Board of Freeholders desired to do away with the necessity of a bridge by filling it in. But the opposition of one of the property owners along the race prevented that action. He demanded that if the Freeholders fill the water course at the street it put filling in its entire length.

Inasmuch as the Board had prepared outlet pipes at the dam, which would prevent any flow of water to the streets, the Board regarded this opposition and the resulting demand as unjust, and, having no authority to hire horses or buy dirt, even had there been a desire to yield to the complaining owners demand, the bridge committee decided to keep the race bridged.

The street committee, however, recently took the matter under consideration and decided to cut the Gordian knot. The city always has a lot of dirt to dispose of, and the raceway would make a desirable and convenient dump. So the committee voted to use it for that purpose, and it is now only a matter of a short time before the race will be filled in from the roadway back.

The outlet pipes mentioned above will serve to protect the street and properties adjoining from the overflow water. As long as the water is carried away properly the property owner who has held up the Board of Freeholders can make no legal complaint to the city for filling in.

It is expected that the Giraud avenue bridge committee, which has the raceway matter in hand, will formally recognize the obviation of the smaller span when the new avenue structure is inspected next week, and report back to the Board accordingly.

AMUSEMENTS.

True to tradition, the cool and cosy Casino is again setting the pace for late spring and summer attractions in America. The attendance at the performances of "Piff, Paff, Pouf" at that playhouse is even bigger than it was for "Florodora" and "A Chinese Honeymoon" for the same month two and three years ago. This is indeed a record to be proud of and proves the wisdom of F. C. Whitney, the owner of "Piff, Paff, Pouf," who insisted on having unlimited time for his show at the Casino. It is also a justification of his so-called recklessness in engaging an all-star company to interpret the lines of Stanislaus Stange and William Jerome and the music of Jean Schwartz. Certainly no musical comedy ever had four such clever and popular players at the head of its cast as Eddie Foy, Thomas Q. Seabrook, Alice Fisher and Grace Cameron.

LITERARY.

The Metropolitan Magazine for June is an especially seasonable number, dealing, as it does, with out-door subjects. It brings to its readers a taste of ante-vacation pleasure in its suggestion of the golden days of leisure in field, on mountain top, upon the sea and along the shore. Pictorially the number is a panorama of peoples and places, the illustrations showing life in its subtlest refinement and at its lowest ebb.

It is estimated that only about eighty-five million dollars, which is approximately five per cent. of the annual income of our railways, goes to foreign investors. There are not far from one million owners of railway stocks and bonds. Of the remaining ninety-five per cent., $1,684,447,408, forty per cent. is divided among the owners of the stocks and bonds, and sixty per cent. among 1,189,315 employes. Counting the families supported by the holders of securities and employes, over ten million people share in the railroad earnings —From "Success."

The contents of the June issue of the Popular Science Monthly include the following articles: "The Total Solar Eclipse of August 30, 1905," Professor W. W. Campbell; "Copernicus," Dr. Edward S. Holden; "On the Significance of Characteristic Curves of Composition," Dr. Robert E. Moritz; "The Physiographic Control of the Chattanooga Campaigns of the Civil War," Frederick V. Emerson; "The Value of the Teeth as a Means of Identification," Dr. Alton Howard Thompson; "Thorium, Carolinium and Berzelium," "Immigration," Dr. Allan McLaughlin; "The Royal Prussian Academy of Science and the Fine Arts," Edward F. Williams; "Developments in the Respiration Calorimeter."

Miss Gertrude Schmidt, who was injured a few days ago on East Front street while riding a bicycle, and who has been under treatment at Muhlenberg Hospital, is greatly improved.

THE CHRISTIAN churches at Constantinople, Turkey, and Yokohama, Japan, have long used the Longman & Martinez Paints for painting their churches.

Liberal contributions of L. & M. Paint will be given for such purpose wherever a church is located.

F. M. Schofield, Harris Springs, S. C., writes, "I painted our old homestead with L. & M. twenty-six years ago. Not painted since, looks better than houses painted in the last four years."

W. B. Barr, Charleston, W. Va., writes, "Painted Frankenburg Block with L. & M., shows better than any buildings here have ever done; stands out as though varnished, and actual cost of paint was less than $1.20 per gallon. Wears and covers like gold."

These Celebrated Paints are sold by Woolston & Buckle, Plainfield; H. C. Meyer, Scotch Plains.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

Owing to last winter's severe cold the hedge surrounding James Parker's grounds on Grove street was so greatly injured that it has been cut down near the roots. While the removal of the verdant wall destroys, in a measure, the privacy of the grounds, the artistic effect on the landscape is greatly heightened, and the neighbors and travelling public have a picturesque view of the beautiful lawn, fine shrubbery and ornamental beds included in the landscape gardening of the rare grounds. It is like the removal of a vail from a beautiful face which reveals all its charm and attractiveness more clearly.

It is settled that Congressman William M. Lanning, of Trenton, will be appointed as the late Judge Kirkpatrick's successor on the bench of the United States District Court. United States Senators Kean and Dryden have sent the Congressman a joint letter informing him of their agreement upon him; and Senator Kean has gone to Washington to tell the President, who had given them their choice between Senator Cross of Union and Mr. Lanning. Congressman Lanning is 53 years old and has been a practising attorney since 1880. From 1887 to 1891 he was a Judge of the City District Court of Trenton. He was elected on the Republican ticket to represent the Fourth District of New Jersey in the Fifty-eighth Congress —Paterson Daily Press.

The Day of Outings.

The one pleasure which the American public thoroughly enjoys is its outings. Low priced and at popular places and where there may be unrestrained enjoyment in out-of-door sports. Around New York there are many popular resorts but perhaps the most popular for holiday excursions is Mauch Chunk in the mountains of Pennsylvania. The journey is delightful and passes through an interesting country, through the farm lands of New Jersey and then into that busy section of the Keystone State which bristles with industries which are renowned the world over. Mauch Chunk is high in the mountains and the exhilarating atmosphere is a tonic for the hived-up city man. The chief feature of the trip to Mauch Chunk is to make the journey over the Switchback railroad which is a gravity road some eighteen miles in length. The tourist is carried at a rapid rate to the inclines of Mt. Pisgah and Jefferson over which the cars are lifted by mammoth mechanical devices only to continue the romantic journey to the end, ever fascinating and thrilling. On Decoration Day the New Jersey Central will run one of its popular priced excursions to Mauch Chunk, the rate for the round trip to be $1.50, and special train will leave Plainfield at 9:20 a. m., returning train will leave Mauch Chunk at 5:30 p. m. This is a trip worth taking and to miss it will be doing yourself an injustice. 5 23 6 o

BLOCKADE DECLARED

Japan Proclaims Entire Coast of Liautong Shut Up.

SWEPT MUSCOVITES FROM KINCHAU

Russians Made Desperate Defense of Nanshan Heights, and Storming Cost Japs 12,000 Men—St. Petersburg Admits Defeat.

LONDON, May 28.—A dispatch from Chefu says:

"Japan announces that the entire coast of the Liaotung peninsula lying south of a line between Pitsewo on the east and Pulandien on the west is in a state of effective blockade by the Japanese navy. The declaration states that the blockade will be maintained.

"The Japanese government has evidently refrained from declaring the peninsula in a state of blockade until now because it is held in international law that a blockade to be effective must be maintained by land as well as by sea.

"The United States has always maintained that a proclamation or ideal blockade of an extensive coast, not supported by the actual presence of a naval power competent to enforce its simultaneous, constant and effective operation on every point of such coast, is illegal throughout its whole extent, even for ports which may be in actual blockade.

"The government blockade proclamation by Japan throws the burden of proof on vessels attempting to run the blockade."

Advices from Tokyo say the Japanese army has swept the Russians from Kinchau and in a desperate night attack stormed the almost impregnable position of the Russians on Nanshan hill, west of Talienwan (Dalny). The battle raged in the hills all through the night, and fragmentary telegrams from the Japanese headquarters report that the engagement is still in progress and that the Japanese are still pursuing the Russians south from Nanshan and the head of Talienwan bay.

The Russians had made elaborate preparations to check the Japanese movement south on the Liautong peninsula toward Port Arthur. They had fortified the high ground on the south shore of Talienwan bay.

On the south shore of Talienwan bay their works extended to the east and the west. The extreme Russian right was at Hushangtao and the extreme left at Nanshan hill. This hill was the strongest part of the line. A series of batteries, strongly emplaced, crowned its crest, while rifle pits extended around its sides. Mines had been placed lower down on this hill, and around the base on the northern and eastern sides were stretches of well made wire entanglements. Another line of defenses, also protected with wire entanglements, extended from Yenchiatung, near the head of Talienwan bay, due north of Liuchiatien, which lies south of Kinchau, but all were of no avail against the impetuous attack of the Japanese infantry.

The Japanese losses during the fighting at Kinchau are said to be 12,000 men killed.

The Japanese troops fought bravely for sixteen hours under an extremely heavy fire before clearing the Russians from the southern heights after a brave resistance. The Muscovites made several attempts to retake the hills, but after much loss of life retired finally from the narrowest part of the peninsula which had been held so long.

The Japanese troops are now within twelve miles of Port Arthur. The Russians suffered heavier casualties in the big fight than the Japanese, who have taken many guns and other material and a few prisoners. A further surprise is predicted, as Japan is now increasing her efforts in all directions.

Subsequent reports received indicate that the storming of Nanshan hill was a very bloody affair. The Japanese first centered their fire on the Russian batteries, in which work they were aided by four gunboats from Kinchau bay. They succeeded in silencing many of the enemy's guns.

The Japanese made a series of rushes, but they were in vain. The deadly rifle and cannon fire of the enemy checked them repeatedly.

Finally the Japanese reformed and stormed the crest of the hill. The Russians held to their position doggedly, and it was only toward night that the Japanese finally gained possession of the ridge.

A Japanese officer of high rank said: "The Japanese in attacking Kinchau and Nanshan hill had to fight against great odds. The Russians were in full command of the strategical advantages afforded by nature, and these advantages were augmented by the newest inventions for defense. The forts on Nanshan hill were armed with heavy guns. The Japanese had only field guns, heavy guns being unavailable on account of the difficulties of transportation.

"Our army deserves great credit for having driven the Russians from this stronghold. It was a feat previously considered to have been impossible.

"Our losses have been heavy, but we have gained the strongest point barring our way to the investment of Port Arthur."

A Seoul report says that a body of 600 Russians, with seven guns, preceded by fifteen scouts, has passed Songchin and advanced to Tanchion. It is further stated that some hundreds of Cossacks, with six guns, are at Kapsano. Panic among the inhabitants is rampant, and the country people are fleeing south and west.

It is generally believed that General Oku has succeeded in cutting off a portion of the Fourth Russian sharpshooters division under Major General Fock when the heights between Port Arthur and Kinchau were taken, and that the capitulation of this body is expected. The Japanese captured many guns at Kinchau.

The general staff at St. Petersburg, in view of the foreign news of the capture of Kinchau, has admitted that there is little now to hinder a Japanese advance on Port Arthur itself and that the actual siege of the Gibraltar of the east had now begun in earnest. The staff insisted, however, on the ability of the fortress to hold out.

A Seoul dispatch says Koreans in the Kinchayon district, south of Songjin, have destroyed the local telegraph office and several miles of wire. They had petitioned previously that the line be removed, asserting that its presence constituted the only reason for repeated Russian expeditions into the district. No official action was taken, and finally the Koreans resolved to destroy the line themselves.

Edwin V. Morgan, the recently appointed United States consul at Port Dalny, has arrived at Seoul. He came by way of Fusan, traveling overland.

LEFT HOME AGAIN.

Society Lady Found After Week's Absence Quietly Slipped Away.

NEW YORK, May 28.—After being in her own home less than twenty-four hours Mrs. Herman Le Roy Jones, who disappeared for a week and had the whole New York police force on the que vive, again disappeared, but was found and brought home. Discovered in a furnished room house and taken to the Jones residence, she spent the night with her husband and child, only to walk out again while no one was watching her.

Very shortly after breakfast it was discovered that Mrs. Jones was not in the house. No one had seen her go out, but a thorough search of the premises showed she had again gone away.

The child, Le Roy, gave the alarm by going downstairs to the servants' quarters and crying:

"Mamma has gone away again!"

One of the maids rushed out into the street. She saw a woman ahead of her that looked like her mistress. Two other servants joined her, and she started to run after the woman, who was hurrying down University place toward Fourteenth street. At Fourteenth street and Broadway the pursuers caught up with Mrs. Jones.

"Where are you going, ma'am?" asked one of the servants.

Mrs. Jones appeared confused. "I was just going round to the drug store," she said, after a minute's hesitation.

She was finally induced to return to her home on being threatened with arrest.

WAR ON COTTON WEEVIL.

Guatemala Ant Destroys Insects Preying on the Plant.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The department of agriculture announces that an ant has been found in Guatemala that is an effective enemy of the boll weevil. It will be immediately introduced into the cotton states. The greatest significance is attached to the discovery, which was made by O. F. Cook, the botanist in charge of the tropical agricultural investigations of the bureau of plant industry.

The ants, like the Indians, probably came from the dry, open interior plateau region, where the center of the aboriginal cotton industry of Guatemala is still located. To establish the fact of such an origin for this useful insect would greatly increase the probability of its successful introduction into the United States.

Although the cotton seems to be especially adapted to attract the ant by means of its numerous nectaries, the insect is not, like some other members of its class, confined to a single plant or to a single kind of prey. It attacks and destroys insects of every order, including the hemiptera and even centipeds. On the other hand, it does not do the least injury to the cotton or to any other plant.

Colonel Sheats Died a Pauper.

DECATUR, Ala., May 28.—Colonel C. C. Sheats, one of the most noted characters in Alabama's history, has been found dead in a hovel here. Colonel Sheats was a member of the secession convention in this state and voted against Alabama going out of the Union. He was at one time United States minister to Denmark and was elected governor of Alabama just after the civil war, but was not allowed to take his seat. Formerly he was very rich, but died a pauper.

Germans "Blockade" Newport News.

There are now here four ships, comprising the American Atlantic squadron of Germany. These are the flagship Vineta, the gunboat Panther and the cruisers Gazelle and Falk.

Acquitted of Schafer Murder.

BEDFORD, Ind., May 28.—After being out three and a half hours the jury in the trial of James McDonald, charged with the murder of Miss Sarah Schafer, has returned a verdict of not guilty. It was decided beforehand that the courthouse bell would not be rung when the verdict was returned, fearing that a mob might be formed.

GUEST OF HONOR HAD TO PAY

President's Daughter at St. Louis Fair Charged Admission Fee.

ST. LOUIS, May 28.—Miss Alice Roosevelt, daughter of the president was the guest of honor at the world's fair grounds. She was accompanied by a large party of friends, including Mrs. and Miss Catlin, whose guest she is during her visit to St. Louis.

The first point of interest visited by Miss Roosevelt was the Illinois state pavilion. She arrived just as the dedicatory exercises were completed and attended the reception. Later she was the guest at a luncheon in the directors' room of the west pavilion restaurant.

Owing to a mistake, the daughter of the president, to whom it was intended to extend the courtesies of the world's fair, was forced to pay the regular admission fee. Instructions had been given to gatekeepers to admit "Miss Roosevelt in an automobile," but as she approached the gate in a phaeton the guard considered that it was his duty to demand admission fees.

Considerable excitement was caused on the Pike by the running away of a horse ridden by Captain C. H. Conrad, Jr., of the Third United States cavalry, adjutant of the Jefferson guards, who was thrown and severely bruised.

Jewey Cook Nearly Put Out.

BALTIMORE, May 28.—Joe Gans, the lightweight champion pugilist of America, defeated Jewey Cook, reputed to be the lightweight champion of England and the welterweight champion of South Africa, last night before the Eureka Athletic and Social club. The men were to have boxed fifteen rounds to a decision. Gans did the fighting throughout the bout and floored the Englishman three times, Cook taking the count on each occasion. He quit in the eighth round after right and left swings to the jaw which nearly put him out.

Allen Avon Surprised Hawthorne.

CHICAGO, May 28.—Allen Avon, quoted at 50 to 1 in the betting, romped home an easy winner of the fifth race at Hawthorne. The Bradley horse was overlooked in the betting by everybody except a few persons connected with the stable. The feature event at a mile and a half was won by Potheen, the 3 to 2 favorite. Lacy Crawford was second and Black Wolf third. The other winning favorites were Silver Skin in the first race and New Mown Hay in the last event.

Ascension Won Patchogue Stakes.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Ascension, at 15 to 1, won the Patchogue stakes, about six furlongs, at Gravesend. Major Pelham, heavily played for the place, was second and Astarita, the second choice, third. Astarita made the pace to well into the stretch, where she stopped, and Ascension and Major Pelham closed, and the former won driving by a head. Three favorites won.

Ice Water Was Frozen Out.

ST. LOUIS, May 28.—Mattie H., backed from 15 to 1 to 10 to 1, won the Delmar feature, a six furlong handicap for all ages. Ice Water, played for a good thing, was a head behind the winner and Elastic a head back of Ice Water. Platoon was the only winning favorite.

Harvard Lacrosse Team Won.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 28.—Harvard defeated Cornell at lacrosse in the stadium by a score of 11 to 4. The visitors excelled in stick work, but the Harvard players dodged neatly, especially in the second half.

Travis In Twelfth Place.

LONDON, May 28.—At the golf tournament here Walter J. Travis, the American champion, tied for twelfth place with a score of 169. E. M. Byers, American, did not return his card.

HANDLERS' STRIKE.

President Curran Brands Corporations as Robbers.

ARE NO HONEST MILLIONAIRES.

Head of Freight Handlers' Union Counsels Moderation — Railroad Charged With Arming Strike Breakers With Revolvers.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Branding corporations as robbers and declaring there was no such thing as an honest millionaire, as they could never get that amount of money without robbing some one, Lawrence J. Curran, president of the International Freight Handlers' union, addressed a meeting of enthusiastic striking employees of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company at Lenox lyceum, in East Broadway.

Almost 250 men were present at the meeting. In the course of his address Curran also hinted that money had caused the leaders of the Truck Drivers' association to sign a year's agreement with the employers.

Curran began by counseling moderation and urging the men not to use violence. If the men owned revolvers or knives he advised them to leave them at home and avoid trouble. He had talked a considerable time about the strike, its cause and its outlook, when he branched off to the subject of corporations and millionaires.

After speaking of George F. Baer, president of the Reading railroad, as "Divine Right Baer," Curran said:

"Mr. Rockefeller is a very generous man, a man who has given hundreds of thousands of dollars to the Chicago university. I have been out to the university many times, but I never saw any workingmen there.

"J. P. Morgan is another generous man. He goes to Europe and buys a painting for $160,000 that no one has ever heard of or seen or cares to see. He would better give the $160,000 to the laboring man in wages. It would do him more good, and then he would save the reputation he has lost among us.

"Corporations are robbers and crush the poor man. There is no such thing as an honest millionaire, as one man cannot get that amount of money without robbing some one."

Curran declared the main object of the New Haven company was to crush the Freight Handlers' union, adding that the company would not be satisfied until the union had been killed.

"The railroads tried that same game among the freight handlers of Chicago two years ago," the speaker continued, "but they failed. The union won, and unionism was never stronger in Chicago than it is today. The New Haven officials say they are handling all their freight, but if that is the case I would like to ask them about the 2,200 cars that are sidetracked because there is no one to unload them."

As a result of the shooting at the Brooklyn bridge by Italians who had been taking the places of the striking New Haven freight handlers action may be taken by District Attorney Jerome to indict certain officials of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad's marine department. Five of the Italians who were arrested had new pistols on them. These were Smith & Wesson revolvers of an inexpensive kind, but the fact that they were new and that each man seemed to have one led to an investigation.

The men when questioned said that the pistols were furnished to them by their bosses at the Fall River and Stonington piers in order that they might protect themselves if attacked by strikers. When a brick was shied at them they did use them, with the result that Park row took on the atmosphere of a western bad town in about a minute.

Fall River Line Open.

BOSTON, May 28.—The New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad officials announce that the Fall River line has been opened up for the receipt of all freight, except perishable. This opens all the lines of the road between Boston and New York, both rail and boat, to freight traffic, with the single restriction that nothing perishable will be accepted.

A Trust Company Trust.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Representatives of some fifty trust companies doing business in various parts of the state have met here and organized the Trust Companies' Association of the State of New York. Articles of association were adopted, and these officers were elected: President, George W. Young, president of the United States Mortgage and Trust company, New York; vice presidents, Otto T. Bannard, president of the New York Security and Trust company; Theodore F. Miller, Brooklyn Trust company, and Grange Sard, Union Trust company, Albany.

Methodists Clear the Way For Union.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The Methodist Protestant conference has completely cleared the way for union between itself and every one of the four denominations with which negotiations are pending by the adoption of a supplemental report from its committee on union. If two-thirds of the members of the various conferences vote for union with the Primitive Methodists the union will be consummated so far as the Methodist Protestants are concerned.

Forger Pleaded Guilty.

TROY, Kan., May 28.—J. E. Marcell, cashier of the defunct Highland bank, which failed last winter, has pleaded guilty to one count in each of the five charges of forgery pending against him. Marcell's forgeries are alleged to have amounted to close to $300,000.

Senator Kean wishes it understood that he had no scrap with the President. Of course he did not. Who could imagine the Senator in a political fight?

The first of the series of battles on the diamond between Plainfield and Westfield takes place at Crescent Oval this afternoon. May the best team win—and the best team is Plainfield.

The Democrats seem to have forgotten all about such a trifling thing as a platform. They're hunting for their Moses now and when he's found they'll get to work on a set of commandments.

The timid merchant looks at his space in the paper and finds it hard to see how it is worth very much. He can't go with that ad into the thousand of homes each day and see it do its work. The fact is, the space is not the thing he pays for at all. Space is only the medium through which he conveys an impression of his goods and his store to thousands of possible customers each day. He can't reach them any other way. The merchant who doesn't advertise doesn't reach them. The real value—the intangible thing he really buys—is an effect on people's minds.—Ex.

Hank Anderson, who has been employed at the Pond Machine Tool Company's works for the past sixteen years, was given notice to lay off yesterday.

Martin Thompson, of Bound Brook, is suffering with a mashed hand which he received while driving a pulley on a shaft at the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant yesterday. The injury was dressed at the shop.

William Stagard, of the borough, had the forefinger of his left hand badly lacerated while at work at the Aluminum Press Company's plant yesterday. The lad was brushing chips from the tool while the lathe was in motion, and his finger caught between the tool and the revolving casting. The injury was dressed at the shop.

A movement in favor of a general reduction of 10 per cent. in the wages of cotton textile operatives of Fall River, was set on foot at a meeting of the Fall River Manufacturers' Association Thursday. The executive committee was instructed to secure signatures binding the thirty-five corporations represented in the association to abide by a cut down in the schedule. The operatives, of whom 25,000 would be affected by a change in the pay schedule, are uneasy, and there is much strike talk, but should a cut be made it is thought the mill hands would eventually accept it.

ADVANCE OF METEOROLOGICAL SCIENCE IN THIS COUNTRY.

Weather Forecasting by No Means a Matter of Guesswork—How the Floods Are Foretold with Accuracy.

Even the most credulous people are beginning to look askance at the weather predictions to be found in the family almanacs and turning to the government weather bureau for their information as to when it will rain, snow, hail, turn cold or warm, clear or cloudy. To be sure the almanac man professed to be able to tell a year in advance what the weather would be at a certain time, which is more by far than the weather man at Washington claims to do, but the almanac has been wrong so often and the government weather man right so often that people are rather inclined to accept the latter's decision and await his bulletins.

Chief Willis Moore.

Weather forecasting is a distinctively American science, though our government was the fourth to attempt such prognostications. Previous to the organization of our weather bureau as a part of the war department in 1870 three European nations had undertaken something along the same line, but they went about it much as the almanac man does, and with about the same results. The development of meteorological science has come almost entirely from America, and though the advance of the past 34 years has been truly wonderful, those best qualified to talk say the science is as yet in its infancy.

The forecasts given to the world through the Washington bureau are by no means a matter of guess work, but are the result of the most careful scientific observations at the 175 regular observation stations throughout the United States, and in addition the stations connected with the Canadian service. With these observations placed before them every morning, with an absolute knowledge of local conditions throughout every portion of the country, knowing the direction and velocity of the wind at all these points, it is but a matter of scientific detail to determine the converging point of the winds and so locate a storm center. The weather man does not claim to be infallible, he may be mistaken in how far a storm will travel, or in the amount of precipitation which will accompany it, but the value of the service is not lessened because of these facts.

It would be hard to estimate the saving in dollars and cents that accrues to the people of the country each year because of the weather and flood forecasts. The latter are told even more accurately than the former, and along our main water courses are invaluable to commercial interests especially. The method of forecasting coming floods is interesting. Take, for instance, conditions at Pittsburg. In the small tributary streams that feed the two rivers which unite there, there are small instruments which tell every variation in the amount of water flowing through them. A computation of the rise of water in these small streams, even though it be but a quarter of an inch in each, indicates a definite number of feet rise in the rivers at Pittsburg. It is also possible to determine just how long it will take for this rise to develop, at what time it will reach its highest point, and when it will begin to subside. It is estimated that the knowledge of the approach of the flood of this spring saved the commercial interests of the city not less than $3,000,000.

GENERAL FORECAST ROOM OF THE WEATHER BUREAU.

Some very important observation stations are located outside of the boundaries of the United States. This is especially true of northwest Canada. More importance attaches to the reports of the Canadian observer at Medicine Hat as a rule than to the United States observer in Montana. Medicine Hat, though by no means a severely cold point, being warmer than Montana points, is the starting point of the winds that eventually mean blizzards to the central states. Canada is steadily pushing her observers to points further north, and, as the United States receives reports from these observers twice each day, the facilities for increased efficiency are improved to that extent.

WESTERN EXPRESS SERVICE

Development of the Pacific States Materially Aided by the Wells-Fargo Company.

Thomas Sherman says that in 80 years California went through the same progressive changes that in England required 1,000 years to accomplish, states London Success. The history of the last half of these eventful years of the Pacific coast would in no small part be the history of the great Wells-Fargo Express company. After its establishment in 1852 the company rapidly absorbed all other lines of the state and was the banker, mail carrier and errand runner for every city, camp or cabin in California.

Henry Wells and William G. Fargo were veterans of the express service before we find their names coupled in that union as closely identified with the west as are the quartz and granite of her hills. Wells was Harnden's agent in Albany in the first branch establishment there, and in 1834 he with others planted the first express office of the "west." This was at Buffalo—an outpost then four days and three nights from New York, almost as far as California is to-day. Fargo was express messenger for Wells on this Buffalo line. In 1845 Wells, ever lured toward the west, ever tracking the frontier, pushed out his express to St. Louis, Chicago and Cincinnati. On account of his fine tact and iron resolution, Fargo was chosen as manager of this unique and adventurous enterprise. Here in this unjostled space, with his convoy of boats and wagons, he won a large experience in his work.

Wells, ever fertile in ideas and quick to give them shape, now set on foot a letter express at one-fourth the price charged by the government—six cents instead of 25. Immediately the government was hot on his track. He was haled into court again and again, but was always victorious. Then the audacious expressman proposed to the assistant postmaster to take charge of the entire mail service of the United States.

"Zounds, sir!" cried the zealous postmaster, his ear to the ground, "such a proceeding would throw 16,000 postmasters out of office. It would never do!"

Wells' request was declined by the wary officer, but his protest against high postage went on sounding through the nation, and the next congress, by the leverage of public opinion, was forced to divide the government rate by four. So to Henry Wells, leading the host of reform, we owe one of the great forward steps in our civilization.

BLOODY WARS OF ANCIENTS.

When Defeat in Battle Meant Utter Annihilation and No Mercy Was Shown.

In ancient times when men fought with battle-axes, swords, spears and with bows and arrows, it was necessary that armies should come to very close quarters in order to get within range. An open field was usually chosen, within which both armies lined up in mass form to oppose each other. Then men entered the fray like a lot of ravenous wolves, writes Hudson Maxim, in Woman's Home Companion. The battle was decided less by skill than by sheer brute force and the power of numbers. Defeat then meant annihilation. There were no means for covering retreat. When the battle began to turn, the enemy was already at the heels of the vanquished and in a position to cut them down without mercy, while yet frenzied with the fury of the fight. It was not infrequent that half the numbers engaged were killed. One hundred thousand Persians fell in a day before Alexander. Hannibal slew at Cannae, 216 B. C., 48,000 Romans out of 60,000. In the great battle in the Valley of the Marne, in October, 451 A. D., between the combined Romans and Goths, and the Huns under Attila, the allies slew the invading barbarians at the rate of 100,000 a day for three days. That was the bloodiest battle in history. That bloody job stands preeminent as an instance of justifiable homicide. It saved Europe from savagery and rescued civilization.

It is estimated that Caesar's wars cost more than 2,000,000 lives. His war bulletins did not report a long list of wounded and a short list of slain. They were death lists—so many killed. The number of wounded was insignificant.

When firearms were introduced tactics were changed, and armies were no longer hurled bodily upon each other, staking everything upon the issue; but for a long time the firearms were primitive and would not shoot very far, and the tactics were but a modification of the older and simpler methods of hand-to-hand fighting.

Unpardonable.

"In what family were you last employed?" asked Mrs. Fields-James.

"In the family of Mrs. Boscommon," replied the applicant for a position as governess.

"May I ask why you left her?"

"Her superficiality and lack of general information rendered my position untenable. She was unaware of the distinction between an anachronism and an anomaly."—Chicago Tribune.

A Husband's Meanness.

"Jones says he doesn't believe the dodo is extinct and—"

"That's right! It hasn't been half an hour since I told you mamma was coming to visit us, and now you are throwing out slurring insinuations! You're a brute!"—Houston Post.

Natural Inference.

"Say, pa," queried little Johnny Bumpernickle, "what's a fortification?"

"A fortification, my son," replied the old man, "is a large fort."

"Then," said Johnny, "a ratification must be a large rat, isn't it, pa?"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Summer Vacations

They Are Not Always What They Seem

"Of all the great frauds the summer vacation—accent on the vacation—is the worst," remarked the overworked little woman with her mouth full of pins and her skirt covered with basting cotton.

"Why, I'm sure you'll have a lovely time at the Hotel Grandly," murmured the visitor enviously.

"My dear," remarked the little woman, as she nervously joined together the sleeves of the green gingham she was making, "don't say a thing. I am completely worn out getting myself and the two girls ready. I'd give anything if I could just pack the whole family off, pull down the shades and have a real vacation rest right here in my own home. You see," she went on frankly, "we haven't anywhere near the means to warrant us in going to the Hotel Grandly, but I'm doing it for the girls. They are eighteen and twenty respectively, you know, and—er—it is important that they meet the right people. I've sewed myself nearly to death for the last three weeks, and Jessie, poor girl—that's my oldest—has been bending over the sewing machine four nights out of the seven until midnight. She looks like a ghost. You see, there have to be just so many neat little summer wash dresses that take so much time to make and look so sweetly simple. And then I have to have two or three confections of black and white chiffon, and they have to have just so much trimming. It doesn't matter whether it's becoming, of course, but it has to be there so that people won't think that I had a cheap dressmaker. And then the dear girls' muslins—lots of tucking and ruffling on those this year—and one or two silk gowns and evening gowns, of course. Oh, it's simply awful, and then when we get there we'll be packed three in a room on the top floor, with no closets for our clothes and no place for me to lay my old bones in comfort. And there'll be the usual backbiting and slander and heart burning, each woman trying to outdo the other, and every other day my daughters will come to me in tears because some other girl has prettier clothes and is cutting them out with the eligible men."

"And there aren't any real men, anyway, at those big hotels," commented the visitor sympathetically.

"Dear, no. That's true enough. I wonder where they all go to!"

"Up where they can have a good time, you bet!" was the inelegant reply of her eldest son as he entered the room. "Goodness, mother, what a muss of clothes, and how tired you look! Catch me going to the old Hotel What's-It's-Name! The woods for mine, and a fishing tackle and no sight of a petticoat for three weeks! It beats all how women have nervous prostration from their social duties and then trail off where they can get more nervous prostration by way of vacation instead of going somewhere where they could get strong and stunning looking again!" And he strode out whistling.

"Well, I don't think much of that Mrs. Bobbetts. There she goes off with those children of hers to the mountains for three months and leaves Bobbetts to slave in town, with a closed house and meals where he can pick them up. Bobbetts isn't strong either."

"I'm not a bit surprised. Bobbetts has been sacrificed to the children from start to finish."

"Well, that isn't so bad as Mrs. Flitaway. She has managed to get another doctor's prescription to the effect that she needs a change of scene, and Flitaway is almost bankrupt getting her ready for her trip abroad."

"And what about Flitaway himself?"

"Ah, don't worry about him. He'll console himself with a first class vacation right here in this town."

"And what's going to become of Miss Foxy this season?"

"Humph! Miss Foxy deserves her name, all right. She says she can't afford to go away. Has to stay in the hot city all summer, poor girl! That means she'll have Flitaway and your son, when he's not away on his fishing excursion, and all the other men besides dancing attendance on her."

SQUEEZED BY PYTHON

Keepers Have Great Fight With Zoo Reptiles.

WOULD NOT TAKE THEIR MEDICINE

Thirteen of the Big Snakes Had Died Under Peculiar Circumstances. Survivors Objected to Treatment and Turned on Guards.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Attacked by angry pythons in a locked cage in the monkey house at Central park, three of the zoo keepers, after a hard fight, managed to escape, but not before Head Keeper Peter Shannon and William Snyder, the elephant man, had been squeezed in the coils of a twelve foot snake and Jacob Cook, keeper of the monkey house, had been bitten on the thumb.

The cage is only ten feet long and five feet wide, and when the keepers began work the pythons, angry at being aroused, began to hiss. One of the reptiles left the water and started for a tree. Others began to unwind themselves from trees and dart at the keepers. Three of the snakes had been given medicine, and the others had become greatly excited.

Recently two of the thirteen pythons at the menagerie died under peculiar circumstances, and Superintendent John W. Smith had an autopsy performed. He found that the snakes had died of worms, or paent, due to the dead rats and mice with which they had been fed. It was decided to give them an antiparasitic medicine.

Keepers Cook, Shannon and Snyder entered the cage, locking the doors after them. Of the eleven snakes some were swimming about in the two tanks and others were coiling about in the two trees in the cage. All are eight to twelve feet long.

Keeper Snyder was armed with a long syringe filled with the medicine. Keeper Shannon would catch one of the pythons by the neck and Cook by its tail, so that the snake could not coil about the men and crush them, and then Shannon would open the mouth with a stick and Snyder would force the medicine down the snake's throat.

Cook reached the snake and grabbed him by the neck, but too far back. With a movement quick as lightning the python curved its neck and struck at Cook's hand. The keeper gave a yell.

"Help, help!" he shouted. Cook could not throw off the snake at once, but Snyder seized the tail and pulled it away so that it could not constrict. Things began to get exciting in the cage then.

In the meantime Snyder, who had hold of the tail of the python, had to let go and drive back several snakes that were attacking him.

As he stepped back the tail and a part of the body wrapped themselves around his leg and began to squeeze.

Shannon then grabbed the tail and pulled the elephant keeper out of the coils without any bones being crushed.

Freed, Snyder seized the tail again, and Shannon took his stick and pried open the python's jaws and released the thumb of Cook.

Then with the python fast they squirted medicine down its throat, bundled the snake into a sack and tackled the others.

Cook, with a handkerchief about his thumb, seized some of the other snakes, and then amid the chorus of angry hissing and darting of serpents' heads the men made their escape from the cage.

Great Damage by Flood.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 28.—The inundated districts in Greeley and Nance counties have experienced what is regarded as the worst flood ever known in that territory. Thousands of head of stock were drowned, and it is believed four persons lost their lives either from drowning or being struck by lightning. Ranchmen all over the district were suffering. Trains were tied up from washed out tracks, and some of the smaller towns have been without mail since Tuesday. Twelve inches of rain fell, overflowing every creek and small stream in the two counties.

Great German Victory?

BERLIN, May 28.—Captain Dannhauer, cabling from Windhoek, says that Lieutenant Colonel Vonestorff, having learned that the Hereros were trekking westward to Waterberg, hurried to Otjomasu by forced marches, surprising the enemy, which had entrenched there. At first the Hereros offered a brave resistance, but later they fled in all directions, leaving six dead. The German losses were two.

Mystery of Deaths Unexplained.

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 28.—Twenty witnesses, called before the coroner's inquest over the victims of the Williamstown mine tunnel disaster, testified that the deaths were due to an accumulation of gas from a small locomotive. None was able to explain the cause of the accumulation, and the verdict rendered relieved of blame both mine owners and officials.

Visit St. Louis For Education.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—The steamer Siberia, which has arrived here from the orient via Manila and Honolulu, carried fifty Filipinos chosen by a board of observation by the Philippine commissioners. They will visit the St. Louis exposition and also inspect many parts of the country, the object of their trip being chiefly educational.

Edward Gets Austrian Title.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

R. G. Dun & Co. Report Traffic Disorganized by Strikes.

NEW YORK, May 28.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Retail trade is stimulated by seasonable weather, and the industrial outlook is brighter on the whole, although several adverse factors have appeared. The big dry goods auction sale opened with an unexpectedly large attendance, and good prices were secured.

Inaccurate impressions have prevailed regarding the extent of idleness among railway employees. Even if the most extreme estimate is accepted it is only about 7 per cent of the entire force, and in a normal year 2 per cent are idle in summer, so that the excess above the average is only about 5 per cent.

Traffic is badly disorganized by strikes on New England and lake transporting lines, and it is unfortunate that some labor leaders do not comprehend the untimeliness of these controversies. Railway earnings thus far reported for May fall 3.7 per cent short of the same time last year.

It is increasingly difficult to find encouraging indications pertaining to the iron and steel industry. Purchases are small and frequently effected at further concessions, although it is difficult to find definitely lower quotations, except for pig iron, which now averages from $5 to $7 a ton cheaper than at the corresponding date last year.

Increased activity occurred in option trading at the leading commodity exchanges. Cotton was advanced by the support of prominent New Orleans operators, aided by unsatisfactory reports of crop conditions.

Grain declined in response to favorable weather, although reports were by no means uniform, and excessive moisture has retarded corn planting. Exports of cereals continue to make poor comparisons with normal seasons.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for May aggregated $5,995,175, of which $2,500,786 were in manufacturing, $2,155,078 in trading and $1,039,311 in other commercial lines. Failures this week numbered 226 in the United States against 206 last year and 17 in Canada compared with 7 a year ago.

Grand Chief Engineer Dropped Dead.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 28.—T. S. Ingraham, first assistant grand chief engineer of the International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, dropped dead at his desk at the convention in this city from apoplexy. A remarkable coincidence in connection with Mr. Ingraham's death is the fact that Former Grand Chief P. M. Arthur of the brotherhood died suddenly of apoplexy while attending a meeting of engineers at Winnipeg last year.

Convict Cursed the Court.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., May 28.—Paul Roberts cursed the court when sentenced here to five years for robbery. He was wanted at Sioux City for complicity in the Luton bank robbery. Frank Gunn, who was arrested on the same charge in St. Paul, was sentenced to four years.

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

There will be a special meeting of the Children of Mary, of St. Mary's church tomorrow afternoon.

John K. Alenjian, an Armenian student as Rutgers College, delivered an interesting missionary talk at Warren chapel last night.

Rev. Dr. W. O. Snodgrass will address the Y. M. C. A. meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Charles L. Lewis will sing. Mr. Lewis is the baritone of the Lotus Glee Club. The Y. M. C. A. male quartette will sing also.

A curious and amusing mixture of early piety and worldliness came to light in a city school-room one day when the teacher had asked the children to write on their pads of paper some thing about the profession or occupation in which they would like to engage when they became men and women. One little girl wrote briefly but effectively, "I would desire to be a lady rider at a circus if it was the Lord's will." Another little girl with equally mixed ideas wrote, "Missionary, but if not that, millinary or clerk in candy store."—June Lippincott's.

"That the Rev. Possessed of a strong personality, a courteous gentleman, a splendid preacher, and an indefatigable worker, Dr. Richards is continuing with increasing efficiency the scope of the church's work."

HIPPOPOTAMUS IS DOOMED

Noted African Explorer Says He Causes More Deaths Annually Than Lion and Leopard Together.

The hippopotamus is doomed.

The regulations drawn up some time ago to control big game hunters in the Soudan are to be revised shortly, and the "hippo"—whose hunter and killer was taxed when the Soudan was first opened up—the 'hippo," as aforesaid, is doomed to "a sort of" extermination.

"Because," said Sir Harry Johnston, the noted African explorer, in conversation, "it's all very well for people to talk about extermination in regard to the 'hippo,' but it will prove a very difficult matter to get rid of him. There are vast marshes in Africa to which he can and will resort, and from which he will only be driven at last by a well-organized, well-equipped and determined body of men.

"I am perhaps a little fanatical with regard to the preservation of lower animal life," went on Sir Henry, "but I should not carry my passion for it so far as to let a lion loose in England. And the 'hippo' in the rivers of Africa is as dangerous as the lion would be on dry land. Let the lion alone, and he lets you alone—especially has he a terror of a white man's face—but the 'hippo' causes more deaths annually in Africa than the lion and the leopard together. He constantly attacks boats from which he has received no offense, killing or mauling their occupants, and he destroys fields and gardens by the score. What he does not eat he sits on."

WALKING STICK CUT LONG.

Fashion Also Decrees Its Return to Earth—No Longer Carried as a Battering Ram.

The fact of the return of the walking stick to earth is a very remarkable one, for it must be approaching 15 years since walking sticks were used, and not worn or merely carried, says the Court Journal. With the disappearance of the "crutch" the walking stick left the ground. At first it was carried in the right hand, considerably nearer the ferrule than the "top," and, held in this position, was flourished in a most dangerous manner. Before long the hand traveled more amidships, when the action, from flail-like, became a ramming one. Then suddenly the stick was thrust under the left arm, where it remained some years. The advent of the curved or crook handle had its inevitable result. Instinctively man wants to hook it upon something, and, finding his left arm close at hand, straightway hung it up and created a fashion after the unconscious manner of his kind. Why the walking stick has once more come to the ground, thus to discover the perforated condition of the West end pavement, it is at present impossible to say. It will no doubt be remarked, however, that the king has for a year past generally been seen using a walking stick of rather more than usual length, and all sticks are now cut long.

HOME OF AN EXILE

REGINALD VANDERBILT'S FARM IN RHODE ISLAND.

Why the Young Millionaire Does Not Return to New York—Wanted as a Witness Against Gamblers.

It is said that an invisible line, that dividing two states, separates young Reginald Vanderbilt from an unpleasant hour or two in a New York court room. Not that young Vanderbilt is accused of any crime for which the law would punish him, other than to force him to testify against a New York gambler who is said to have robbed him of a fair slice of his $10,000,000 fortune. To escape that ordeal, Reginald Vanderbilt has gone into voluntary exile, and now proposes to live permanently upon his Rhode Island farm, located some six miles out of Newport.

Reginald Vanderbilt.

"Sandy Point Farm" is a model agricultural establishment. From a society standpoint its greatest disparagement lies in its newness, for it is strikingly new, but in all other respects it is a marvel of what money can do. To reach it one must drive through a foot or more of mud, or several inches of dust, as the weather may be wet or dry, for a good part of the way, but once you strike "Sandy Point Avenue" your transportation troubles are over, for this is a well made boulevard built by young Vanderbilt. The great farm house, a splendid villa of white stucco and wood in colonial style, with a pillared porch and small paned windows, sets back some distance from the heavy stone gateway. At the door you are met by a liveried butler, who would seem more in keeping with a Fifth avenue mansion than a Rhode Island farm house. Back from the house aways are located the barns, the carriage and automobile houses, and other structures that go to make the perfect farm settlement. They are in keeping with the magnificence of the estate.

Here an army of servants are employed; here every luxury which money can buy is at the hand of the young master and mistress and the small daughter which came to them in a six-room flat in New York some months ago. With $10,000,000 at his command, there is practically but one thing Reginald Vanderbilt cannot secure, and that is free access to New York city. There the minions of the law lie in wait to serve him with a summons to appear as a witness against Canfield. To save himself from telling what he knows of that man's establishment—if anything—he will stay away from New York.

District Attorney Jerome has spared no efforts to secure the testimony of this young millionaire in his fight against Canfield. He has kept detectives in Newport to watch his expected secret visits to New York; he has appealed to him through family and friends to return to the city and tell what he knew, but these were without avail until the courts declared the New York law could not force witnesses in the case to testify on the ground that the law did not give the witness immunity from prosecution should his testimony incriminate himself. To remedy that the district attorney drafted a new law and literally forced it through the legislature. Now he is waiting for Reginald Vanderbilt to step across the line into New York state to supoena him as a witness. But Vanderbilt has not yet been caught napping, and through his secretary he announces that "he expects to live at Sandy Point Farm permanently. He has no present intention of returning to New York."

In other words, Reginald Vanderbilt will submit to exile from all the gaieties of the metropolis rather than be forced to "squeal" on the man who is said to have "separated" him from one twentieth of his fortune of $10,000,000 in a single evening.

ALIS LOSES FIRST BATTLE WITH WESTFIELD

Three Errors in Ninth Inning Quickly Changes Victory to Defeat.

BRILLIANT EXHIBITION

M'GOEY, CREGAN, DAVIS AND FARMER CARRY OFF HONORS.

Two Thousand Fans Attend Opening Game for County Championship—"Red" Waller Gets a Day Off—Thatcher in Box for Westfield.

With bright prospects for winning one of the finest exhibitions of baseball here this season, Alis went down ignobly before Westfield and two thousand fans on Crescent Oval, Saturday afternoon. It was one of those heart-breaking contests that should have been won by the home team. After Davis had pitched a superb game, holding the visitors down throughout, victory was quickly turned to defeat through two errors by Roberts and another by Mehler. Up to this time Alis had the game 5 to 3. Then Westfield through a combination of three errors and a two-base hit by Brown, of the Jersey City Eastern League team, chalked four runs and won the game by a score of 7 to 5, much to the great disappointment of the big crowd of Alis supporters.

This is the detailed score of the game:

Earned runs—Cregan 2, McGoey, Brown, Hickman, Burke, Thatcher. Two-base hits—Mehler, Hollywood, Hickman, Connolly, Thatcher. Three-base hits—Cregan, Farmer, Thatcher. First base on balls—Off Davis, 2; off Thatcher, 3. Struck out—By Davis, 5; by Thatcher, 3. Left on bases—Alis 4, Westfield 8. Double plays—Davis, Mehler and Roberts. Passed balls—Burke. First base on errors—Alis 0, Westfield 5. Hit by pitcher—McGoey, Devens. Time of game—Two hours and fifteen minutes. Umpire—Merity.

Westfield scored one run in each of the third, fifth and sixth innings. Davis was as steady as clock-work and he was backed up by Farmer in faultless style. In the ninth inning, after Thatcher fanned, Goldberg reached first on Mehler's error. Then Barry got the initial bag on an error by Roberts, who let the ball get by him, and the "Kid" repeated the offense with a ground ball hit by Rochford. With three men on bases, Brown connected with the leather sphere for two bases, bringing Goldberg, Barry and Rochford across the plate and later scoring himself, a total of four runs.

Alis scored one run in the second inning, two in the third and two in the eighth. Thatcher, who was given one trial by the Brooklyn National League team, and was subsequently released, was the slab artist for Westfield, "Red" Waller having been told he could have the day off. Denman said it was the first time "Red" had ever failed him, but it was generally believed that it was not intended that he should pitch. However, Davis pitched as good, if not a better game than Thatcher.

McGoey, Cregan, Davis and Farmer carried off the honors for Alis, while up to the ninth inning Roberts played an errorless game. He keenly felt his misplays, as did also Mehler. Cregan and Farmer gave Thatcher a solar plexus for three bases, while Mehler hit for two bases. In the fourth inning McGoey made the star play of the season. Hickman sent a

The members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., together with the Woman's Relief Corps attended divine services at Reform Hall, Sunday night. There was a large attendance of veterans and Corps members to enjoy the fine patriotic discourse by Rev. Dr. L. E. Livermore, of the New Market Seventh-Day Baptist church. It was an eloquent address and the speaker presented the divine side of patriotism, showing that the veterans should fight for God as well as their country. During the service there was special music.

POSTMASTER DUNN BURIED

FUNERAL SERVICES OVER REMAINS OF PROMINENT SCOTCH PLAINS MAN.

Funeral services of the late Norman Dunn, of Scotch Plains, were held Sunday afternoon from his late home on Park avenue. Parks, his former pastor, had charge of the sad obsequies. Rev. Mr. Shott delivered the eulogy.

During the service, "Asleep in Jesus," a favorite hymn of the dead man, was feelingly sung by Elmer E. Runyon. The floral display of sympathy nearly covered the casket. ## INVESTIGATING CLIME'S TALK

NATIONAL GUARD STAFF OFFICER SECURES AFFIDAVITS AS TO SPEECHES.

Harry Valentine, of Trenton, a staff officer of the Second Brigade, N. G. N. J., was in this city yesterday gathering facts concerning what took place at the recent dinner of Co. K, when Lieut. Col. J. F. Clime, of Burlington, made a speech criticising the New Jersey Legislature, and Col. Dennis F. Collins, of Elizabeth, also spoke in a similar manner.

It is understood that Col. Clime denies that he said anything derogatory to the legislators and further claims that his speech was incorrectly reported. While here Mr. Valentine secured several affidavits from persons who were at the dinner, verifying statements as to what occurred. The result of his investigation will be reported to headquarters.

REMEMBERED FIGHTERS WHO PRESERVED UNION

Survivors of the Civil War and Young Militia Men Decorated Graves of the Dead.

DR. CHAMBLISS' ORATION

THE SPEAKER SOUNDED A WARNING AGAINST DEMAGOGISM.

Chorus of Fifty Children at the Reform Hall Exercises—Ceremonies at the Cemeteries Closed With "Taps."

Led by the Independent Fife and Drum Corps and with Company K, Second Regiment, N. G. N. J., as a guard of honor, the old soldiers who fought in the bloody struggle for national integrity during the early sixties, visited the local cemeteries yesterday and decorated the graves of those of their comrades who are buried there.

Fully as impressive as the services in the cemetery itself was the sight of the stalwart young National Guardsmen presenting arms in salute of the older generation of fighters as the latter passed into the cemetery to strew flowers on the graves over which they fired a parting salute of three volleys. The ceremonies at the graves were appropriately closed by the sounding of the bugle call "taps."

Exercises were held in Reform Hall in the afternoon by the G. A. R., in which a chorus of about fifty children, trained by Mrs. John Manley, took part and which included post services of the G. A. R., songs and recitations and an address by the Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Choosing for his subject "Voices from the Dead," Dr. Chambliss in his peculiarly sympathetic manner, described the origin of Memorial Day, first set apart by order of Gen. John A. Logan, who had seen the women of Alabama in 1866 laying flowers on the graves of the soldiers without regard to whether they had worn the blue or the gray.

Coming to his subject proper, he said that every man is heard from again after he dies, not once or twice, but continually and perhaps forever. How happy it would be for some men if their remains could be shut down under the lid of a coffin. But a blessed thing for others, that it never can be so.

"There is no other entrance into the glory of any victory," said Dr. Chambliss, "but the gateway of suffering. The history of our country from Valley Forge and the Brandywine to the Rapperhannock and the death-bed of a martyred President proclaiming the truth. Even that flag which is loved and reverenced through all the world—is it not a beautiful and deep sign to us, almost an ordinance of God to us, that whether for nations or for men, stripes are first, blood-red perchance, and only afterward and through them—stars of glory.

"He who will not suffer for principle has no principle. He who will not suffer for love—love of man, love of country, love of God, does not know what love is. To sink self, to bury self—that is greatness, that is glory. Because no other country in the world has so many national cemeteries and so many patriot graves as ours, the American citizen today ought to be the noblest type of manhood on the earth.

"Another voice from the graves of the heroic dead is this: Keep that which one have committed to you. Let the time never come when it shall be said, 'They died in vain.' Remember that the true glory of a nation lies not in the splendid misery of victorious war, but in the dissemination of honorable happiness, the encouragement of righteousness and the suppression of vice; that it form the polution of demagogism and all political villainy, to preserve its institutions of educations and religion in their republican purity and simplicity, to subdue and stamp out the mighty monstrous vices that stalk over the land, defying God and destroying souls; in a word, to hold fast the inheritance one have received, consecrated by the blood of a thousand battlefields."

Anglers' Paradise.

South Plainfield pond has been the anglers' paradise for the last few days. Suckers and catfish have been so thick that when the water was low the fishermen could pick them up from the mud by hand. And the finny easy marks have been bigger than usual. Yesterday one man got a ten-pounder.

Mrs. Edgar and B. Berry Capture First Game of Third Set in Finals When Stopped by Downpour of Rain—Play on Thursday.

Play was begun Saturday in the mixed doubles tennis championship of the East Jersey Lawn Tennis Association on the courts of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. The entry list was unusually strong and the pick of the women experts repesented in the league participated in the contests. There was a large gallery present on Saturday and yesterday, the play being watched closely. The Hillside Tennis and Golf Club and Park Club were well repesented and made excellent attempts to win their matches.

Mrs. Edgar and B. Berry of the Ilderan Outing Club of Rahway, in their match with Miss Helen Lockwood and W. Gennert of the Danforth Tennis Club, the last match of the first round, had things by no means all their own way as this proved to be the most closely contested match of the day. All three of their sets went to deuce, the second set going sixteen games.

Fourth round: Mrs. Edgar and B. Berry, Ilderan Outing Club, Rahway, beat Miss A. R. Robinson and H. S. Eddy, Seawaren Land and Water Club, 6-3, 6-2. Miss Miller and E. W. Mulford, Roselle Casino, beat Miss Amy Mitchell and W. Lockwood, Danforth Tennis Club, 6-4, 6-3.

The sudden advent of a thunder storm interrupted the finals when Mrs. Edgar and B. Berry, of the Ilderan Outing Club, Rahway, had taken one set from Miss Miller and E. W. Mulford, of the Roselle Casino, by a score of 6-0, and lost one 6-3. The first game of the third set had just been decided in favor of Mrs. Edgar and her partner when the rain put a stop to further play. This deciding set is slated to be played off at 4 o'clock Thursday, June 2.

Phenominal play has been done by Mrs. Edgar throughout the tournament and the praise of her game is unanimous. Her pluck and steadiness have pulled her out of some very doubtful looking deuce sets and will without a doubt make for success in this last and most closely contested match of the series.

APPEALS FOR HOLIER LIFE

REV. MR. TODD'S STIRRING ADDRESS AT TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH.

Rev. A. F. Todd, the veteran preacher of Dunellen, produced a strong impression upon the congregation of Trinity church at the close of the service Sunday night with a short talk on his conversion sixty years ago and an exhortation for the holy life

He recalled his conversion in vivid language, and reviewed his life in the Christian service. His appeal for a better and holi r life stirred his hearers strongly, and the effect of his words was noticeable. Coming from a man so venerable, in such an unexpected way the appeal will not be likely to pass from the minds of the auditors without affecting them to a greater or less extent. Mr. Todd pronounced the benediction, by request of Dr. Schenck.

The Rahway Field Club, bidders for the Union County championship, was defeated by Alis on Crescent Oval, yesterday morning, by the score of 8 to 4. The Rahwegians put up a good fight, but were outclassed. Griffin pitched a fine game for Alis, striking out eight men, while Mertens struck out seven. Quinby played his old position at second in fine style, Oregan going to right field and Hollywood to the bench. The game was interesting throughout and was witnessed by a good sized crowd.

This is the score by innings:

Batteries—Griffin and Farmer; Mertens and R. Potter.

A record-breaking holiday crowd witnessed the afternoon game between Alis and the Seventh Regiment, N. G. N. Y., which had to be called at the end of the fifth inning on account of a heavy shower. When Umpire Merity called the game the score was 3 to 3. The National Guard boys gave the locals a good stiff game, Claude Edwards, formerly of the Plainfield High School, occupying the box for them and holding Alis down to two hits, while the visitors made five. Barnes, formerly of Alis, played right field for the visitors and made a two-base hit. Davis and Farmer were up to their usual game.

Scotch Plains.

The Scotch Plains baseball team put up one of the prettiest games of the season Saturday afternoon against the Aeolians, considered one of the strongest teams in this section. Until the ninth inning the game was tie, 2-2. Two base hits, which should have been fielded, netted the organ makers two runs and the game as Scotch Plains was unable to score in their half of the ninth. Montross, who did the box work for the locals, pitched one of the greatest games he has ever twirled.

|---|---|
| Aeolian | 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 2—4 |
| Scotch Plains | 0 0 1 0 2 0 2 0 0—3 |

Decoration Day afternoon the Scotch Plains and the Celluloids, of Newark, put up one of the prettiest exhibitions that the most ardent fan could desire. Smiling Jimmy was again at the helm and pitched great ball. Only two errors were made by the home team and these were not costly. Not a man crossed the plate for the visitors and Parker's pitching kept the home team guessing.

Following is the score by innings:

sky scraper toward Hollywood, but McGoey realizing that Hollywood would not get it, started after the sphere. After a long run he made a desperate leap and picked the ball out of the air with one hand while the crowd went wild with delight.

Farmer made another star play in the second inning. He got a pass to first, stole second and third, and while Devens, who also got a pass, was stealing second, Farmer came home, tallying the first run.

In the third inning, Cregan put the ball out of reach for three bases, and was followed by McGoey with a single. Then Mehler hit for two bases, scoring two runs. The other two runs were made in the eighth inning. Cregan made a safety. McGoey did likewise, but was caught stealing second. Mehler then tapped Thatcher for a single, stole second, while Farmer got a pass. Devens was hit with the ball and Hollywood sacrificed, scoring, Cregan and Mehler.

Captain Lauder was considerably off his game. In one or two instances his coaching was disastrous and he did not exhibit his usual snap. Many insits that Manager Johnston should not have allowed "Billy" to play with his sprained ankle, which affected his work generally.

Hickman playing short for Westfield, marred the pleasure of the game somewhat by resorting to questionable tactics. He was roundly hissed several times.

MRS. HOWE 85 YEARS OLD

MOTHER OF MRS. FLORENCE HOWE HALL OBSERVES HER BIRTHDAY.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, mother of Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of this city, observed her eighty-fifth birthday in Boston on Thursday, as is her custom on these anniversaries, in her own family circle.

With her are Mrs. Laura E. Richards and Mrs. Maude Howe Elliott, her daughters, and her two granddaughters, daughters of Mrs. Richards.

There were numerous callers during the afternoon at the Beacon street house and quantities of flowers were sent to Mrs. Howe.

Celebrated Her Sixth Anniversary.

In honor of the sixth anniversary of her birthday, Blanche McVoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. McVoy, of Sandford avenue, entertained a number of her young friends at her home yesterday afternoon. The affair was in the nature of a lawn party and the little folks had a merry time playing games and romping on the lawn. During the afternoon refreshments were served. The little Miss received a number of useful and pretty gifts to mark the occasion as one of the most pleasant in her life.

Summer Boarders!

There is in New York City one daily newspaper which has made tremendous gains in popular favor during the past five years. Its net cash paid circulation is over 100,000 copies daily throughout every section of New York City (including Brooklyn), larger than that of any other recognized resort medium. This newspaper's readers are among the wealthy, and well-to-do, intelligent people—those who can afford and do take extended vacations in the country during the Summer. It carries more resort advertising than any other morning newspaper, so the public naturally look to it for information as to where to go.

An advertisement in its columns is, therefore, exceedingly valuable and sure to produce results. This paper is

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

The men and the horses of the borough fire department are rapidly taking front rank in the mechanical part of their work. Lieutenant Campbell has trained the team to respond to the bell with the speed of veterans, and the men, by constant practice, have learned to reach their posts and get away from the house in time as good as that made in the best city departments. The recent series of alarms, false and real, have demonstrated to the citizens that the new department is as fast and expeditious as its warmest supporters promised, and a general comment to that effect is being made.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

The trolley party to Riverside Park yesterday proved a most enjoyable outing for those who went, the only thing to mar the day being the thunder storm of the late afternoon.

A number of people went from here to attend the strawberry and ice cream festival held at the First Baptist church in Somerville yesterday.

A detail from Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., of Plainfield, visited the Samptown cemetery yesterday and decorased the soldiers' graves there.

Peter Leimpeter, of Pittsburg, has been visiting for some days at the home of his brother, Edward Leimpeter, of Fronts treet.

Arrangements are under way for the observation of Children's Day at the Presbyterian church on June 12.

Mrs. D. P. Vail, of New Brunswick, has been visiting at the home of her son, F. Percy Vail.

The first of a series of evangelistic meetings was held last night at the Presbyterian church.

Satisfactory progress has been made in the repairs to the Burke residence on Prospect avenue.

Mrs. Albert Apgar and daughter, Grace, are visiting in Lancaster, Pa.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The threatening weather of yesterday detained many at home who had planned to spend the day at pleasure resorts near by. The usual programme of the day was held in the village cemetery, the graves being decorated by a delegation from Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., and the local firemen during the morning. The local ball team played but one game of baseball, this being held in the afternoon at 3:45. Galvin's Park opened for the summer with a free programme of music, vaudeville and dancing. The town in general observed the day in a fitting manner, business at the several stores being suspended, while from the homes of many the stars and stripes were flung to the breeze.

Griffin, who it was expected would do the twirling in Saturday's game against the organ makers, failed to show up. Smiling Jimmy Montross went in and pitched a great game, striking out eight of the organ makers and allowing but eight base hits, it was no fault of Jimmy's that the visitors pulled out a victory in the ninth inning. Had Williams been in his usual form the locals would have won the game. Billy reported sick to Manager Hand, but as there was no one to take his place he went into the game.

The new cars adopted by the trolley company when the express service was started several weeks ago, are being put in service on the local accommodation cars. The change is one appreciated by the public for two reasons: More comfortable; no end seat hogs.

A strawberry and ice cream festival is to be held Saturday afternoon from 3 to 9 on the lawn about the church. This is the first of the season and will no doubt be liberally patronized.

Glenside Park has opened for the summer season, several families have already arrived while others have engaged cottager and will begin to enjoy life in the country shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Owens, who have been spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Hand, have returned to their home in Brooklyn.

Miss Mamie Mercoirs, of West Fourth street, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mercoirs, of Grand street.

The members of the gun club enjoyed a holiday shoot Decoration Day morning on their grounds near Green brook.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Robison have returned from their wedding trip and started housekeeping in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Stiliger and children, of Booklyn, spent Decoration Day with Mr. Stiliger's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ryno, of Park avenue, have been entertaining relatives from Plainfield over Sunday.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Dayton entertained their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Avery, of Brooklyn, yesterday and Sunday.

Mr. [and Mrs. William Voorhees, of Brooklyn, have returned after a few days spent in town with Mr. and Mrs. O. Thorn.

Clarence Pullen, of Newark, is visiting his aunt, Mrs. P. C. Johnson and his grandfather, James H. Jones.

Mabelle Cubberley has returned home after a three days' visit with Miss MacMurray, of Jersey City.

The cemetery was visited Sunday and yesterday by many who decorated the graves of their friends.

Miss Nellie B. Manning entertained her friend, Miss Williams, of New Market, over Sunday.

Albert Manning is building a water breaker along the pond bordering on his lot.

Trinity's Improvement Fund.

In response to an appeal for subscriptions to the fund for the enlargement of the school room, the classes of Trinity Reformed church Sunday-school pledged liberal contributions Sunday afternoon. The pledges were made by class, and a total of $375 was promised. Several classes were not prepared to name the amount they would give, so that the sum named is less than the full amount to come from the scholars.

Children's Picnic in the Woods.

More than 100 children of the Infant Society of St. Mary's Sunday-school were taken for a picnic in the woods by the Sisters attached to the church Saturday morning. Perfect weather and a complete commissariat made the outing a complete success.

He Got Off Easy.

Patrolman Morris Higgins arrested James Wilson, colored, on West Third street early Saturday evening, for stealing coal and trespassing on the Central Railroad's property. He was discharged yesterday morning.

Increasing Church Roll.

Ten persons were added to the membership of Trinity Reformed church Sunday morning, at the regular communion service. One of the ten was admitted on confession.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fulton, of Brooklyn, spent Sunday and Memorial Day with Mrs. Fulton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Mills, of West Front street.

HAVANA, May 31.—Joseph R. Wyckoff, a lawyer of Havana, has returned from the United States, having organized a company, he says, to raise the wreck of the battleship Maine under an agreement to pay the Cuban government $5,000. The intention is to sink a coffer dam, raise the hull and repair it sufficiently to tow to New York for exhibition.

COSSACKS DEFEATED

General Oku Reports Russian Army Retreating.

JAPS CAPTURE RAILWAY TRAINS

Strong Detachment Has Driven Back 2,000 of the Czar's Famous Cavalry at Aiyangpienmen and Occupied It.

LONDON, May 31.—A Tokyo report says a strong detachment of Japanese troops has attacked and defeated 2,000 Cossacks at Aiyangpienmen, northwest of Fengwangcheng. The engagement began at half past 10 o'clock in the morning. The Japanese after defeating the Cossacks at Aiyangpienmen occupied that place, and re-enforcements have been sent forward to support them.

General Oku, in command of the Japanese forces operating against Port Arthur, reports that the Russians have abandoned Chenkochenpau, Huangshan and Liushutun. No Russians have been seen east of Chenkochenpau.

General Nakamura's detachment, which occupied Liushutun on Friday, captured four Russian guns.

From Chinese sources it is learned that the Russians have four lines of defense between Nanshan and Port Arthur.

General Kuroki reports a number of outpost affairs and the capture of eight Russian scouts.

The Japanese have captured a quantity of powder and fifty-six railroad cars at Liushutun.

A report says that Japanese troops, after an engagement with the Russian forces, in which the latter were defeated, have occupied Aiyang, a village to the north of Kuantiencheng.

There are at present no Russians at Hamheung, on the eastern coast of Korea. The troops which were there have marched to the south. The Korean soldiers who were sent to Hamheung have been withdrawn.

It is reported that General Kuropatkin has issued a report showing the Japanese have advanced from Kwantien to Saimatsa.

Murderer Had Made All Preparations.

CANAAN, Conn., May 31.—Sherman Deeman, aged twenty-four years, shot and killed his wife here and afterward attempted to commit suicide. He fired a bullet into his own breast above the heart, but will probably survive the injury. Deeman came into this place from West Cornwall in search of his wife, who had left him because of his alleged abuse. As he entered the house of Henry Ives, where he knew his wife's sister was working, he saw his wife and immediately shot her, death being almost instantaneous. He then ran out of doors and shot himself. In his pockets the officers found two 32 caliber revolvers, a razor and a bottle of carbolic acid.

"Blue and Gray" at Florence.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 31.—A special from Florence says the G. A. R. and the Florence Blue and Gray Memorial association held joint exercises at both the Confederate and national cemeteries there, a custom that has been observed for the past five years. After services at each of the cemeteries flowers were placed on both Confederate and Union graves. Former soldiers of both armies were among those taking part.

New Turn In Dreyfus Affair.

PARIS, May 31.—The ministry of war has caused the arrest of an officer who is understood to have been connected with the Dreyfus affair. The officer, who is held in close confinement in the fortress of Mount Valerian, is said to be charged with using considerable sums of money during the court martial at Rennes in order to secure the conviction of Dreyfus. All official information concerning the case is withheld.

Bridgeport Man's Body Found.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 31.—The body of Henry Laughlin of Bridgeport has been found in a barn on the outskirts of the city. There was a terrible gash on the right cheek extending from the eye to the lip, but the medical examiner says that death resulted from apoplexy. He thinks the man received the wound in a fight. The body had been in the barn for several days. The police will investigate.

Twelve Plunged Into River.

SALIDA, Colo., May 31. — Twelve persons have been plunged into the Arkansas river here by the breaking of a footbridge on which a crowd had gathered to witness the ceremony of casting flowers on the water in memory of the country's naval heroes, and the wife of the Rev. Warren Thompson was drowned. Some of the others were unconscious when rescued and were revived with difficulty.

Prince Pu Lun at Niagara Falls.

BUFFALO, May 31.—The Chinese prince, Pu Lun, and his party have visited Niagara falls and also made an inspection of the plant of the Niagara Falls Power company. The prince descended into a wheel pit in one power house and crossed into the pit of another power house through a tunnel. A visit was also made to the Canadian side of the falls.

Was Pushed or Fell Into River.

BRANFORD, Conn., May 31.—During a quarrel among Italian laborers on a wharf at Rogers Island Joseph Thiltana, aged forty years, was pushed or fell into the water and was drowned. Search is now being made for Rocco Leposta, with whom Thiltana is said to have been scuffling. Leposta disappeared after the tragedy.

INEXPENSIVE FURNITURE.

A Suggestion For Beautifying the Cottage In the Country.

"Why not go to the secondhand shop?" ventured the wise woman.

"Oh, I haven't much money to spend. I simply can't afford any furniture at all. I don't know what I shall do for our little country cottage."

"I didn't mean to have you buy antique colonial mahogany, my dear, but do you realize that one can pick up old chairs for so small a price as $1 apiece?

"Well, let me give you a hint. Buy some cretonne at 25 cents a yard and some gilt tacks and recover them yourself. It's the easiest thing in the world, once you try. Of course, the tufted chairs are a little harder to do, but those with plain seats and backs can be done in three-quarters of an hour. You don't have to rip a thing—just tack the new pieces on over the faded old ones."

Her friend took her advice, and the picture shows the attractive result. The woodwork of this particular room was white and the cretonne in old rose and yellow figurings. The pictures on the wall are merely attractive prints, most inexpensively framed.

R. DE LA BAUME.

SAVE YOUR STRENGTH.

If You Must Economize, Economize on Something Else.

"Never mind! I chased all over town, but I got that ribbon 5 cents cheaper a yard down at Slashem & Halvethem's bargain sale!"

As the speaker finished she sank into a chair completely exhausted, and the next day Dr. Brown had to be called in to relieve her neuralgia, price $3.

"Yes, we'll live in the Vere de Vere apartment house," remarked Miss Foolish to her chum. "It's really more than we can afford to pay, but we'll get our own breakfast and economize on that." Result, nervous prostration for Miss Foolish and a term with the complexion specialist for the other young lady.

"I'll save a dollar a week by going to my meals at the boarding house four streets away," announced Miss Economical. But Miss Economical wondered why on earth she was so tired at the end of the first month.

"No, I can't afford so many dresses," remarked the girl who was going away for the summer, "but of course I must have them, and so I'll just economize a bit by making all the skirts myself." Result, she appeared so homely and worn out when she reached the hotel that no one would look at her even in her best gowns.

"My goodness!" cried the busy mistress of a large house. "Spare myself by eating my breakfast in bed? Why, I couldn't think of such a thing. I'd feel as if I were wasting time. No; I don't suppose I would be, but I'd feel that way." And at the end of the year she had to go away for a long rest.

Women, save your strength. Economize on clothes if you must, but not on food and the necessities of life. Don't be afraid of being lazy occasionally. The hardest workers are those that understand the value of sparing their strength in small things, and in the end they accomplish most simply because they have the actual strength to work.

Glorifier Won Hudson Stakes.

NEW YORK, May 31.—L. V. Bell's Glorifier, 4 to 5 favorite, won the Hudson stakes for two-year-olds, the feature of the card at Gravesend. Diamond, an added starter, was second and Veto third. At the lifting of the barrier Diamond went to the front and led to the stretch, with the favorite second. When straightened out for the run home Gannon sent Glorifier to the front and won cleverly by three-quarters of a length. Caller, favorite, won the Empire State steeplechase easily by eight lengths.

Auto Races at Hartford.

HARTFORD, Conn., May 31.—Nearly 8,000 people attended the first automobile race meeting at Charter Oak park. There was no excitement over the contested events, as there were no close finishes. It was Newkirk's first experience on this track and he rode on the outside. His time was 6 minutes 59¾ seconds. Eddie Cannon Bald rode an exhibition mile in 1 minute 26¾ seconds.

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO HEIRS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

M'LANE A SUICIDE.

Mayor of Baltimore Shot Himself Dead Yesterday.

NO KNOWN REASON, POSSIBLY INSANE

Married Secretly Two Weeks Ago to the Beautiful Mrs. Van Bibber. Monumental City Is Dazed by Tragedy.

BALTIMORE, May 31.—The mayor of Baltimore, Robert M. McLane, while his bride of two weeks was asleep in an adjoining room, shot himself last evening in the head and died an hour later. So great is the excitement at the McLane home, 29 West Preston street, that no information can be obtained. Mrs. McLane is prostrated. Coroner Hazen has taken charge of affairs at the house.

Immediately after the shooting Dr. A. Trego Hertzer, Dr. William D. Green and Dr. Van Bibber, the latter a brother-in-law of Mrs. McLane, were called in, but the wound, directly behind the right ear, was of such a nature that their services were of no avail.

If the shooting was accidental, there is considerable mystery as to how the wound was inflicted. The foreman of the grand jury says that there is nothing to investigate.

The bullet entered the right temple and, crashing through the head, escaped in the rear of the left ear. Mrs. McLane and other members of the household rushed to the mayor's assistance, but he did not regain consciousness after he fell to the floor and expired within an hour, a number of physicians who were immediately summoned having at once expressed the opinion that the wound was necessarily fatal.

No cause can be assigned for the act by the members of Mr. McLane's family. Since the fire of last February he has been kept assiduously at work administering the affairs of the city, besides endeavoring to direct the rehabilitation and rebuilding of the burned district. This, together with criticisms by his political opponents, is thought by many to have caused a temporary aberration of mind.

Coroner Benjamin F. Hayden has signed a certificate giving suicide as the cause of death.

Police Commissioner Preston, City Marshal Farnan, Secretary Kinsey and Captain Ward held a conference at the central station after the shooting, but none would make any statement.

Since the great fire which swept this city Mayor McLane has been criticised considerably for what some called his lack of firmness in dealing with the problem of rebuilding the fire swept district.

Various interests have been at loggerheads as to what course should be pursued in handling the situation, and some held that the mayor failed to exercise the rights vested in him as the city's chief executive.

Mayor McLane, who had been in office a little less than a year, was about thirty-six years old.

The McLanes are prominent socially in Baltimore. On May 14 the mayor went away to Washington secretly and was married to Mrs. Mary Van Bibber, who is as well known in Maryland society as her husband.

The ceremony was performed, with the sexton and two workmen as witnesses, in St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church.

When asked why he had been so secretive about his plans he explained that he had gone away from his home city to elude reporters, who for several weeks had been "shadowing" him.

For several years the mayor had been attentive to Mrs. Van Bibber, who was about his own age, and while the manner of their marriage was a surprise their friends had predicted the event.

She is a very beautiful woman. She entertained very much at her home in Preston street, and she was well known at Narragansett Pier, where she spent several seasons.

During the great fire Mayor McLane took personal charge of the fire fighting and afterward of the relief work. When offers of money were made after the first great shock to the city had passed he sent out word that Baltimore did not need the contributions and was able to care for herself.

VARIOUS GAMES IN AND ABOUT THE CITY BRIEFLY REPORTED.

Accompanied by thirty or more supporters including several of the faculty, the High School baseball team went to New Brunswick yesterday and showed the Rutgers Prep. something of the Plainfield article in ball playing. Smith and Davis made a fine showing as the battery for P. H. S.

After one run by P. H. S. in the first inning, neither side scored until the eighth inning when the New Brunswick boys got two men over the plate. This advantage proved short-lived however as the same thing was done in the ninth by the High School team, making the final score 3 to 2. Van Vechten umpired the game satisfactorily.

The Cedarcroft baseball team defeated Short Hills at Short Hills, on Saturday afternoon, by a score of 12 to 10, and yesterday morning they defeated the Millington Field Club at Millington, 12 to 11 in a ten-inning game.

Westfield A. O. U. W. defeated Clinton Avenue A. C. by a score of 9 to 6 on Saturday afternoon. The score:

Batteries — Whitley and Nelson; Ronecker and Maier.

The Dunellen baseball team played an interesting game with Marion A. C. on the local grounds Saturday, although they were defeated by a score of 11 to 8. The game was lost on errors by the home team. A feature was a three base drive by Ettlinger in the ninth with two men on bases.

The score by innings:

Marion A. C.... 1 2 2 0 3 0 0 3 0—11
Dunellen..... 0 0 0 0 0 2 1 2 3— 8
